GONE TO HELP WARD.

Manager Hanlon Leaves for New York to Testify.

EFFORTS TO SIGN DUNLAP.

Foley Writes an Interesting Letter on Boston Baseball.

Manager Hanlon goes to New York to testily in the Ward case to-day. He talks on the matter. It is stated that local League club officials are in Philadelphia trying to sign Dunlap. Foley writes an interesting letter from Boston. Carroll offers to fight McAuliffe again for $10,000 a side. More young local ball players arrive.

Manager Haulon, of the new local club, left the city last evening for New York to testify in the Ward trial, which is expected to be heard to-day. Mr. Hanlon was accompanied to the depot by a few of his players, and everyone in the party expressed the greatest confidence in the result. Mr. Hanlon particularly was certain that the result of the trial would be just as previous results have been. During a conversation he said: "I think this will be the last of the court method of fighting, and if the National League can make no better success in the season's conflict than it has done in the courts, its name is Dennis. Our object is to prove that this so-called reserve rule was never intended by either party to operate outside of clubs conolled by the national agreement. I will testify to that effect, and I have some definite evidence to give. Arthur Irwin will also make this point very clear by his evidence."

ABSOLUTE CONFIDENCE. "If the decision should go against you, what will the new League do ?" "Why, if there was the least probability of such a result I might try and give a definite answer to that, but the decision will not go against us. That is just as sure as we live. But suppose for a moment that it does go against us. What then? Why, we would just go ahead as we intend to do now. If it were possible to prevent Ward from playing with the new League, that would not stop our work. The new League is in the fight to stay, no matter what the result of the Ward case is."

Messrs. Scandrett and Nimick, of the old local club, did not return home last evening. but they will be here early this morning. A gentleman in a position to know of their where abouts said last evening: "The two local magnates, and, I think, Mr. O'Neill also, stopped over at Philadelphia to-day. I understand that when they went away they intended to try and sign Fred Dunlap before they returned.

HOT AFTER DUNNY, "I think they are trying to do business with thing is certain, and that is they will sign Dunlap if he will play for less, and much less, money than be received last year, Everybody knows that he was overpaid last year, but the reserve rule did that. I am also inclined to think that Mr. Nim-ick as looking out for one or two old players and may get them." Manager Hecker is of opinion that the local should at leas get two good players from Indianapolis club. He would be content i Russe and Hines. Mr. Hecker will urge Nimick to try and get Hines at any rate.

CONFLICTING NOTIONS.

Boston Enthusiasts Have Various Views About the New Schedule. BOSTON, March 20.-There was a diversity of opinion at the Hub over the policy displayed by the League magnates in the rearrangement of the schedule at New York to-day. The baseball "cranks"-those who care only for the game and don't care a rap who the players are, so long as they put up a good game of ball are in great distress because of the large number of conflicting dates. They would be glad to see a game every day, and would have divided their attentions without any feelings of favoritism. They cannot very well be in two places at the same time, and they are kicking night because there will be 58 games which they must lose.

taken up the bats in defense of one side or the other—there is great rejoicing. There is a strong feeling in this city over the break, and this feeling is intensified by the work of the Schedule Committee to-day. The League sympathizers are overjoyed at the prospect of a bitter right. They are confident that the Brotherhood club will be forced out of the Reid.

The Brotherhood people have all along avowed a desire to submit the question of superiority to the public, and to-night they ex-press themselves as satisfied with the outlook. press themselves as satisfied with the outlook. But it has been admitted by several that the action of the League to-day was a severe blow to the financial success of the club in this city. They needed all the money they could command to pay the "stars" who are now under contract, and they could only meet that expense by securing a liberal patronage. The average attendance at the games last year was about 3,000 in round numbers. It would require a large percentage of these figures to may expenses, and by dividing the attendance the profits of each side were necessarily lessened.

BRUNELL'S OPINION. It is now a question of good ball playing alone. It is now a question of good ball playing alone. Those who are blinded by prejudice toward either side are so few in number that they are not worth considering. The club which plays the best game of ball—and that includes the average playing of opposing clubs—will secure the greater attendance.

"I am well satisfied so far with my pitchers Schmitt, Baker and Jones have all done well in their practice, and I feel confident that Daniels will be all right from the start. But even when we start in to play it will not be fair to criticise the work of the team for some time. Our dayers are not only mostly young men, but they have never played together. It will, therefore, take a mouth or two before they can get down to their best work. By that time I feel confident that we will have an excellent team. I also think that I will be able to hold team. I also think that I will be able to hold my own in the box. One thing is sure, however, and that is we will have as good an outfield as there ever has been in Pittsburg. Let nobedy make a mistake on that point. We have four good outfielders."

Speaking of Couway Manager Hecker said: "I wish the public to understand how Couway has regard the old club. His conduct shows him to be even more ungrateful than Beckley. Last year he only pitched two rames and received between $2,000 and $3,000. After the first month or so of the season he recuested that he be paid only half salary as he could do no work. The directors did this when they had every reason to take his name from the pay roll entirely. During the season he went away from the city for three or four weeks and nobody belonging to the club heard from him or knew where he was. Still his pay went on. His desertion shows how be appreciates the generosity shown. Why, the Pittsburg club has been victimized by these prominent players in the most shameful manner."

FOLEY'S BALL GOSSIP. The Boston Writer as Usual Says a Few

Interesting Things-Boston Brotherhood Grounds Described-Some Opinions About Beckley's Lust Jump.
[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON, March 22.-We have passed St. Patrick's Day in safety and the baseball war still tages away as fierce and vindictive as ever. The Boston and New York teams of the Players' League, spent St. Patrick's Day on board a ship bound for Savannah, but we fail to learn whether any of the boys saw as many snakes as did the patron saint of Ireland. We are informed, however, that the irrepressible and versatile King Kelly led the march "aboard ship," so it is quite likely that the wine was passed around. Tom Brown and young Catcher THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY swett arrived in this city on Monday last, and much to their disgust they found that the boys had started South, so they immediately started by rail for Savannah.

by rail for Savannah.

The Boston League team are all here with the exception of Ganzel, Bennett, McGarr and Hardie. Ganzel and Hardie will be here in a few days and Bennett and McGarr will show up next week. The players will practice at the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasum until the first of April, when they will begin out-door exercise. The League club will probably open the season with a picked nine on Fast Day, April 3. At the Brotherhood ground the Bostons and Brooklyns will cross bats in an exhibition game, providing the grounds are fit to play on. A member of the Boston team of '88 was up to see me the other day, and he gives this description of the grounds that will be occupied by Captain Kelly's men:

THE BOSTON GROUNDS. The grounds are large and spacious but it will be a very cold spot during April and a part of May. It is facing the harbor, and jingo how the wind does blow at times! In the warm sum mer months? Oh, just delightful; nothing could be better! But I don't like the locality, and, honestly, I consider the Boston grounds a perfect paradise along side the Congress street affair. It is on what they call the dump, and perfect paradise along side the Congress street affair. It is on what they call the dump, and you smell stale swill, raw cowhides and other odors that are really nauseating. I have no doubt but what the place can be beautified, but bless your soul its going to take a long while. There were at least 150 men at work there, and the fence is nearly all up. They are driving spiles for the grand stand, and you ought to see how they fly down into the mud. I saw a two-horse team crossing the field, and the horses sunk to their knees in mud. With good weather and plenty of rolling, it may be possible to play there by Fast Day. I think the club would have been much better off had they secured grounds on Huntington avenue, which is near the League grounds. I heard they had an offer for a ground there, but preferred the grounds which are now being fitted up."

Tim Murnane, who is with the Boston and New Yorks in Savannah, says that all the players are opposed to taking back Beckley and Miller. But Julian Hart, Secretary of the Boston club of the Players' League, gave a local reporter a beautiful "swelling up" the other day. "If the boys take back Miller," said the volatile Hart, of spring bed fame, "he will probably be transferred to Brooklyn, as many of the Pitsburg players object to his playing on the team. The feeling against Beckley is not so strong, and if ho is taken back he will probably cover the initial bag the same as last year. Several players sent letters to the Cleveland meeting—deserters who wanted to get back. One fellow offered $500 to be reinstated, while another one was willing to play the season for nothing if he was forgiven."

Think of a poor, penitent ball player giving up $500 to be taken back when he is now safely anchored in the League! And think of the self-sacrifice of another good Christian ball player who is willing to play for nothing, save board and shaving money! Mr. Hart says that Glasscock's name heads the blacklist; that the name is written in large black letters, surrounded by hieroglyph large red letters across the center of the bowl. Long John Reilly, of Cincinnati, who is an artist by profession, is supposed to be the originator of this beautiful design.

THE HOOSIERS' BLUFF. In this city most all baseball enthusiasts be Mr. Nimick to try and get Hines at any rate.
Mr. Hierker's contention is certainty a reasonable one. If any team in the League needs one or two old players Pittsburg does. The young men, no doubt, are of the most promising kind, but one or two reliable and experienced players would not only be an aid to them but would be of great assistance to Manager Hecker. Of course Rusic is not a really experienced player, but he is something more than an untried man. At any rate Pittsburg is of much importance to the National League and it is not only fair, but would be highly expedient for the League to put as strong a team in this city as possible.

Brush can see that he is not wanted; the way the Schiedule Committee gave it to him in the neck plainly shows that. They shoved Indianapolis in Washington for Decoration Day, which was bad enough to begin with, but to saddle Washington on to Brush at Indianapolis on Fourth of July—well that was carrying "the coals to Newcastle" with a vongeance! I think the Brotherhood schedule a very poor one, and lieve that the League will start out with eight coals to Newcastle' with a vengeance. I think the Brotherhood schedule a very poor one, and I think the Players' League club of this city will get the worst of it with 48 conflicting dates. Ward's team plays here on Fast Day; then they open the season here with four games, beginning on the 21st of April; then they are saddled on to Boston again for two holiday games on the 17th of June—Bunker Hill Day. This is going it a little too strong, and it would be better to have New York or Philadelphia here on Bunker Hill Day, as it would insure a big crowd. But the Triumvirs are laughing up their sleeves when they think that the Buffalo Players' club will be stacked up against them on Decoration Day for two games. As a matter of fact Kelly's team has not a first-class attraction to play with on any of the holidays.

them on Decoration Day for two games. As a matter of fact Kelly's team has not a first-class attraction to play with on any of the holidays. Al Johnson's Cleveland team is booked for here on Labor Day, which will be the best day of all for the Brotherhood clubs if the Knights of Labor support the players the way they say they will. It is a great day in this town. All the barrooms are closed, and the people have nowhere to go except to a few out of town plonics given by the carpenters and other soccities connected with the Knights of Labor. The Boston and Indianapolis teams played two games here on Labor Day last year, before over 18,000 spectators.

Anson's colts are the surprise of the season, and their five consecutive victories over Byrne's team has showed their stock away above par. Harry Wright's team, too, made the Brooklyns very tired, while big Sam Thompson found the Brooklyn pitchers the softest mark he had ran up against for a long while. Hoosier Sammy lined out a single, double, triple and home run, which gave him a real nice appetite for supper. Anson's men will open up before an immense attendance at Cincinnati, one writer, from Porkopolis, going so far as to predict a 15,000 crowd. Anson will also be a big card at Brooklyn on Decoration Day, for Brooklynites are just beginning to realize that the Chicagos are quite a ball club, CHARLES J. FOLEY.

stood at the official notice, showing our play good ball. There are several, however, whose reputations for solviely are not of the best, and if they resume last year's tac ics they will lose whatever support they would have had through personal friendship. On the whole, it looks as though the League had a little the best of the situation.

MORE COLTS ARRIVE.

A Chicago Battery for the Old Club—Hecker and Conway,

Two more young players for the local League club arrived in the city yesterday. They were Dave Bennett, a pitcher, and George Zeigler, who canght Schmitt last season. Both hall from Chicago. Bennett was in the City League of Chicago last season. They come here on trial. During a conversation last evening Manager Hecker said:

"I am well satisfied so far with my pitchers.

In a few days there will be an Allegheny County League club also. The game has never before created such in-terest here as it has this year. Better men at the back of the Tri-State League could not be found here, yet some complain that their lease on the Evans grounds is far too short. Four noneved men are to take the associat n and Miller (the latter an able sid) will go to Akron, O., to-morrow to attend the Tri-State League meeting, at which the schedule tor the season will be prepared.

BRUSH'S ALLEGED SCHEME.

Brotherhood. INDIANAPOLIS, March 23.-It was learned to-day of a slick trick that President Brush attempted to accomplish on the League. When he foresaw what the action of the secret meeting of the magnates in New York would be, he made up his mind to take his club with its 19 players into the Brotherhood. His visit to Cleveland soon after the recent League meeting was to lay the scheme before "Al" Johnson, ing was to lay the scheme before "Al" Johnson, and his trip to Chicago the first part of this week was for the purpose of consulting Secretary Brunnell. It, is stated that Brush was in consultation with Brunnell for two days, and begged to be allowed to come into the Brotherhood. Brush's proposition was rejected by the Brotherhood people, and there was nothing for the Indianapolis President to do but go to New York and consent to the surrender of his players, or be forced out of the League. The Chicagos put up an equally fine game, and a throw by Duffy from center field to the plate, was a feature, but the big batters could not get on to Bakely hard enough to overcome the other side's batting. SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.-Light-weight Jimmie Carroll said this afternoon in the Secretary's room of the California Athletic Club that he was not satisfied with the result of last night's battle with Jack McAuliffe, and would challenge the New Yorker to fight him to a finish, Queensberry or London, for $10,000 a side, 133 pounds limit. Carroll's former back-ers, Messrs. J. Spreckles, Charles Sutra and ers, Messrs. J. Spreckies, Charles Sutra and others, are still willing to pin their faith and dollars to the plucky veteran, and, as Dick Roche said this afternoon that he would back McAuhiffe for $10,000 a side against any man in the light-weight class, another meeting is among the probabilities.

E. Hooth, an Omaha sport, signifies his willingness to back Jack Davis, a promising young heavy-weight of the Nebraska metropolis, to the extent of $3,000 against the winner of the Wilson-Choyneski battle next Wednesday night. McAuliffe's hands are something appalling to gaze on, but outside of this and slightly swollen lips there are no signs of punishment worth mentioning to-day. The back of Carroll's head where it hit the floor when knocked insensible bears a good-sized goose egg, and is very sore. His right eye has a mouse under it, and his lips are considerably swollen up. He has little to say about his defeat, except that he lost through over-confidence in the forty-seventh round.

Mr. Schenck had originally entered Congress in 1843, at 34 years of age, and, after a distinguished service of eight years, was sent by President Fillmore as Minister Plenipotentiary to Brazil. After his return he had taken no part in political affairs until now. His reappearance in Congress was, twerefore, significant. He was at once placed at the head of the Committee on Military Affairs, then of superlative importance, and subsequently was made Chairman of Ways and Means, succeeding Mr. Stevens in the undoubted leadership of the House. He was admirably fitted for the arduous and difficult duty. His perceptions were keen, his analysis was extraordinarily rapid, his power of expression remarkable. were such a scarce article as they are to-day It may be doubted, yet is a fact, that more than 500 miners could find steady work on each side of the Yough, between Scott Haven and Mc-Keesport, because any number are being advertised for daily. This scarcity is made all the more strange from the fact that the mines in these regions have been in full operation almost continually for the last eight mouths. There has been no short nor prolonged general strike at any time in this period, while there was a long idleness in the Monongahela regions, which usually results in many of the miners going to the railroad works, and generally caused too great an influx of men along the Youghlogheny. Operators in these regions are complaining daily, and even the small works are sending out word that they can accommodate 50 to 75 more men.

Many are wanted at Scott Haven, Alpsville, Osce-la and Lake Shore, and each need at least 50 more men and cannot get them. N. J. Bigley wants 100. They are in fact needed badly at all points along the Yough. 500 miners could find steady work on each side

Garfield, would take a nomination. Lieutenant Governor Lampson, who was onsted by the present Legislature, may become a competitor for the nomination. Ex-Senators Ford and Woolcott are also said to be candidates. The Democrats will hardly put up a candidate. It would simply be a waste of time.

The Twentieth district is Republican. Congressman Wickham is now in this district and is serving his second term. Ex-Senator Ely, State Representatives Layton and Braman have been named in connection with the nomination. Either would be a good candidate. The Democrats have not as yet hit upon anyone to make the sacrifice.

The Twenty-first district was cut out to be Democratic, but there is considerable doubt as to the fit of the garment. Congressman Burton, Republican, is on his first term, and it is believed he would dike to make the race again. If a candidate he would doubtless receive the nomination. Thomas L. Johnson, a believer in Henry George, is the probable Democratic candidate, but ex-Congressman Foran may rise up against him. In that event there would be fun. This comprises the Congressional districts and the most prominent candidates at this time, but there is no telling what the nominating harvest may bring forth. The gerrymander may inure to the benefit of the Democracy, but that is a debatable question. The people may sit down heavily on the work of the "rippers."

CONSUMPTION,

I checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee. "Several years ago I was severely ill.

The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the research day "Lames Birchard. to the present day."-James Birchard, Darien, Conn. "Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. His mind was clear and bright to the very last. His three daughters, Mrs. Bates, an old friend, and Miss Sedgwick were with him at the time of his death.

The General, with his wife and two daughters, lived in a large and fashionable house on Thomas Circle, just across Fourteenth street from the residences of Senators Morrill, Allison and Payne. babe were instantly killed yesterday by an explosion of nitro-glycerine near Stone, a small station south of this city. Barr's horses were also killed, and his wagon torn into splinters.

The explosion dug up a circle of ground about 60 yards in diameter, tore the windows from the house in which the dead woman was sitting with her child, and wrought general havoc. No traces of either the man or horses are to be found excepting small pieces of flesh hanging upon the trees remote from the spot where the explosion occurred. The detonation was heard miles away.
