WORRIED TO DEATH.

Sudden Demise of Alice Townsend, the Burlesque Star Actress.

GRIEF OVER THE LOSS OF HER CAR.

attached. The matter was not settled for a week, and Mrs. Jack worried considerably about it. She played with the company at the Academy until Wednesday night, when she had to retire to her room. On Thursday she was too ill to appear, and was confined to her bed. She grew weaker day by day, until yesterday afternoon, when she expired.

HISTORY OF HER HOME. The car which caused the trouble and which her husband says was the cause of her death, was purchased for her by her husband. About a year ago, while playing at the Academy, her husband said he would buy her a little home in Allegheny. He visited a real estate agent and the couple went to look at the house. The lat-ter was up on a billy street in the lower part of ter was up on a billy street in the lower part of Allegheny City and they did not like the house. After trying other places, Mr. Jack gave the house up and decided to purchase a car, which his wife could call her home.

While in Chicago he purchased a Pullman sleeping and parlor car for $11,000, and his wife made her home in it. It was firted up with all the conveniences for comfort. At one end was a kitchen, where the meals of the couple were prepared. The remainder of the car was divided off into dining and sleeping apartments. The interior was handsomely furnished and decorated by the little actress and was made as attractive as any home in this city. and decorated by the little actress and was made as attractive as any home in this city. When her home was seized by the Sheriff she worried herself until she became sick.

Mrs. Jack was born in Cynthiana, Ky., August 12, 1880. She was raised and educated in Louisville and made her first appearance upon the stage in Canada with Max Strakosch, when she was 16 years of age. Since then she has been singing in comic opera and burlesque, She was married to Sam T. Jack, January 25, 1880, while the latter was manager of the house at which she was playing in Boston.

COULDN'T STOP THE SHOW. An attempt was made by Mr. Jack to stop the performance of the show at McKeesport last Wednesday, 7 might. The company is playing at the Opera 26, 27 and 28. House at that place, but the messenger sent to stop the show, got there a few minutes too late. stop the show, got there a few minutes too late. A telegram was sent, but as usual with short distance telegrams, it was not delivered until after the messenger sent after it had appeared. Not hearing from McKeesport, Mr. Jack sent the clerk at the American House, Mr. Ford, to stop the performance. The clerk got there at 10 minutes past 5, just as the curtain had gone up. The news of the death of Mrs. Jack caused great sorrow among the members of the company.

A curious circumstance in connection with her death was the stoppage of a clock, which she had purchased but the day before. She sent out for the clock to have it where she could look at it and tell when to take her medicine, sok at it and tell when to take her medicine. It was noticed by her husband and the people about the hotel that the clock stopped about the same minute she expired.

the same minute she expired.

The dead woman had a national reputation, and was known all over the country by her stage name-Alice Townsend. She was a half sister of Alice Stokes, and a sister of Lee W. Townsend, the advance agent of Stuart Robson.

HELD ON TWO CHARGES.

A Young Man Bound Over to Court by Alderman McKenna.

The hearing in the case of Harry C. Stowe on a number of charges made by Mrs. Rebecca came up before Alderman McKenna yesterday, wealth. J. E. O'Donnell, Esq., appeared for the defense. The girl gave her age as 15 years that has sold at $1 35—our price, $1.

Jos. Horne & Co.'s and said that she had lived at Mrs. Stowe's and said that she had lived at Mrs. Stowe's house from October 21, 1887, up to the 14th day of this month, when she ran away. She described in detail the indignities to which she had been subjected. A cross-examination of an hour and a ball failed to shake the main points of her story. She said she had kept silence because she was threatened with a relation of some actions of hers, which she refused to explain.

The monotony of the hearing was broken by a very vindictive spat between Mr. O'Donnell and 'Squire McKenna, the former alleging that the magistrate was trying to crush him, and the conversation was more forcible than polite. The hearing ended by the defendant being held WILL ORGANIZE TO-DAY.

First Meeting of the Corporators of the Academy of Sciences. The corporators of the Academy of Sciences will meet at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon for the purpose of organization. Notices to that effect have been circulated to that effect throughout the two cities by Mr. C. C. Mellor, Secretary of the council pro tem Dr. W. J. Holland being Chairman Pro Tem of the body.

Temporary organization will be effected, and while a Committee upon Nominations is doing its work, addresses will be made by Rev. M. B. Biddle, John A. Brashear and other interested gentlemen. The importance of the occasion will draw out a large attendance, without doubt.

"From the South comes the demand of 2,000,000 of men—the Farmers' Alliance—that the National Government shall assume control of the railways. From the same Alliance in Kanasa comes a Macedonian cry for deliverance from railway bondage. The whole Northwest is rent with a railor adwar, that means annihilation to the weaker lines. Rome burns, and ever and anon wiping the tears from his eyes was her husband, Sam Jack, manager of the company. At the foot of the bed stood several thentrical people who had played with the dead woman. The body was covered with a sheet, but the husband removed it every few moments to take a look at the dead woman's face.

Mrs. Jack died yesterday afternoon at the hotel, of nervous prostration. She had been suffering for the past ten days under a severe mental strain, caused by the trouble on her car at Youngstown. Her husband canceled a date there, and the car, which was the property of Mrs. Jack, was attached. The matter was not settled for a week, and Mrs. Jack worried considerably about it. She played with the company at what if he gear and many the circulars are letters written by Henry C. Meader, the well-known broker of Cincinnati, criticising the acts of the amendment. He says:
