Trinity and St. Peter's Will Have to Consolidate.

rid of Mr. Maxwell. For some time matters have been growing so had that but few of the restry still attend the church and the congreion was constantly falling off. The case was inly laid before Mr. Maxwell. His only hope plainly laid before Mr. Maxwell. His only hope of success was that a new beard of vestrymen would be elected who would favor him. The vestrymen soon showed him that such hopes had no foundation, and requested his resignation. After considerable bargaining Mr. Maxwell finally agreed to resign if the vestry would pay him $5,000 and flx up the rental for his house on Western avenue. Last Monday evening the bargain was closed an by July, or earlier, a new rector will be in Trinity.

A DISPATCH reporter called at Mr. Maxwell's house in Allegheny last night, but he refused to be seen. A. E. W. Painter, a member of the Trinity vestry was then called on. He affirmed the report that Mr. Maxwell had resigned, but refused to say anything further.

the report that Mr. Maxwell had resigned, but refused to say anything further.

T.C. Jenkins, however, when seen, said he would not talk, but afterward relented. He said: 'It is hard to tell who will be Mr. Maxwell's successor. The position would not seem to be an enviable one at present. I think Mr. Maxwell has been shamefully treated. The whole hasis of the complicated troubles in the church was John H. Shoenberger's bequest. WOULD LOSE THE MONEY.

"The vestry did not want to lose the $100,000, but they could not take it, make the pews free and hold services daily. It would require two rectors to do the work. At present the income of Trinity is only $8,000 a year. If the powrenting system is abolished the receipts will not be over $5,000. It would be impossible to not be over $5,000. It would be impossible to accept such a gift, and the only way to do it was to consolidate Transity and St. Peter's. St. Peter's would not come in unless their rector could be bead man. Their only hope was to get Mr. Maxwell out of the way, and he was requested to resign. He refused, and they could not force him to leave. As for the amount paid him to resign I have nothing to say.

"It is now probable that the two congregations will be united. The concregation of St. Peter's will sell their church and come to Trinity, and Mr. Mackay will be rector of the united congregations. I have no idea who will be the assistant."

AN ANGRY UNCLE.

He Wants His Nephew Taken Out of Morganza on Ugly Charges. A weird tale of woe was received by Humane Agent O'Brien yesterday from a man named Palmer, in Ruffsdale, Westmoreland county He wanted to have his nephew taken out of Morganza. He said the boy was an orphan and had been making his home with him. Some time ago his guardian, Dr. Howard, took him time ago his guardian, Dr. Howard, took him away, and in a short time after that hat him placed in Morganza. He accused the doctor of perjuring himself to get the boy there, and says his nephew was one of the best boys living, and was very obedient. The man said he had been sick and could not attend to the matter, and asked the Humane Agent to get the boy out. Mr. Offrien says the case does not below out. Mr. OBrien says the case does not belong to his line of work; that the only thing for the man to do is to get his nephew out on a writ of babeas corpus.

The man then put his hand to his bip pocket as if to draw a revolver, Miller grabbed him, and a desperate fight ensued, during which both men were badly bruised from the interchange of blows.

Miller finally overpowered his assailant and had him sent to the Twelfth ward police station. The man gave his name as John Mackey, an engineer on the Pennsylvania Railrond. He explained that he thought Miller was a different party, and that his assault upon him was a mistake. large man stepped up to him and said: "I have

BUILDING FALLING OFF.

The Report of the Inspector of Buildings for February.

The report of the Inspector of Buildings for February was filed yesterday and shows a big falling off in edifices erected in the months preceding, although there is a large increase over the February report of last year.

There were according to the report, 154 buildings erected in February, of which 116 were frames, 35 bricks, 1 ironclad and 2 iron, the estimated cost of whole number being $183,139.

The increase over February, 1888, is 59 in number of buildings and $82,499 in estimated cost, Local Dislike of the Torry Bankrupt Bill -Its Present Shape Called Very Faulty -Hard to Get a Competent Register for the Small Fees Allowed.

The Torry bankrupt bill, under considera tion by the Judiciary Committee of Con-gress, is beginning to excite considerable attention among business men. Some people will recollect that a few years ago there MACKAY TO BE THE RECTOR was a bankrupt law, and that it was popularly supposed that under its benign operation some rascals made a good bit of money,

They Could Not Take the $100,000 and Keep Mr. Maxwell.

JENKINS TALKS ON THE TROUBLE,

Episcopalian circles are again stirred up ever the latest move in the Trinity Church by the latest move in the Trinity Church troubles. Hector Maxwell has resigned and he was paid $5,000 for doing it. His resignation will take effect on or before July. It is expected that the Rev. W. R. Mackay will be his successor, and will preside over the united congregations of Trinity and St. Peter's.

The inside of the big fight at grand old Trinity is just beginning to come out. The latest explanation of it is that the vestry feared they would lose the $100,000 bequeathed to Trinity by the late John H. Shoenberger. The conditions of the bequest queathed to Trinity by the late John H. Shoenberger. The conditions of the bequest were such that they could not afford to accept. The will said the pews at Trinity must be free and services must be held there every day. Then all that was left was to unite the parishes of Trinity and St. Peter's. The vestrymen tried it, but it is said they struck a song at every turn. The congregation at St. Peter's was wedded to its pastor, and Rector Maxwell would not accept a position under Rector Maxwell would not answer the purpose required. There seems to be a loud call on the part of business men for a bankrupt law, and it seems strange that legislative wisdom is not equal to the framing of one. The one under discussion was born in St. Louis.

Mr. Flood, of Arbuckles & Co., voices busined at leasily there is but little safety in trading with them. When you get beyond the limits of your State you are at the mercy of debtors. It seems that the doctrine of protection to home industry is deeply rooted in all the States, and when a business man goes wrong if he pay his home debts he is absolved by his neighbors from turpitude, no matter how his creditors in other States fare. Consequently when you get after a rascal outside your State you generally find that he has confessed judgment to his relatives and friends and has patriotically kept his money in the viginity where he looks for and cets more and the confessed by the part of t and has patriotically kept his money in the vi-cinity where he looks for and gets moral sup-

PARALIZED IN COURT.

James Borlio, One of the Old-Timere Stricken While on the Stand.

A rather strange circumstance happened yesterday afternoon in the License Court, Among the applicants for a retail liquor license in the Twenty-third ward were James Borlin and his son. Mr. Borlin is a patriarch in the hotel business. In the good old days he kept one of the most reliable taverns in Greensburg In those days the tavern was a gathering place of the political wisdom of the county. Law yers, jurers, litigants and witnesses "put up" with Mr. Borlin, and he was known all over Westmoreland county. His reputation was that of an excellent host. He was himself a well-posted man in all the political gossip of his day, a good talker, and could make the winter enings pleasant for all comers in the general om of the tavern. John Covode and Edgar Cowan, when they were the political prophets for the good people of Westmoreland toasted their shins at times before Mr. Borlin's generous fire.

A few years ago he removed to McKeesport, where he kept a hotel opposite the Baltimore and Ohio depot. Until one year ago his house was a tempprance notel. In April, 1889, on account of his good reputation and the general character of his house, he was granted a liconse by Judge White. Yesterday afternoon the old gentleman was in apparently good health. About ten minutes before his name was called he was attacked by a fit of illness. When summoned to appear, he walked feebly to the bar with his son. He was able to stand, but when addressed by Attorney McKenna he found himself unable to utter a word. His son, seeing that something was wrong, stepped in being that something was wrong, stepped in be-tween his father and the lawyer and answered the questions. The old gentleman was suffer-ing with an attack of paralysis. When the exon was concluded Mr. Borlin was assisted to the Second avenue electric line and conveyed on a car to the home in Glenwood. It is thought that with rest and quiet he will soon

Coal Miners Complete Their Organization

and Elect Officers.

General Secretary J. W. Hays, of the Knights of Labor, was in the city several hours yesterday on his way home from Cincinnati, where he attended the regular meeting of the Executive Board. He spent the forenoon at the office of D. A. No. 3, chatting with Master Workman Ross and other local officers; took dinner at the Central Hotel, and left for home at 4:30 o'clock. Secretary Hays did not have any special business to attend to here. In a general conversation with a reporter of THE DIS-PATCH he said the progress of the order in all sections is most satisfactory and encouraging. The country districts especially are increasing rapidly. New assemblies are springing up everywhere and the order is growing. In the ramous District 49, of New York, things are moving along rapidly. This is the district where Master Workman Maguire is the district where Master Workman Maguire and Mr. Quinn distinguished themselves during a prolonged strike some years ago.

Speaking about the eight-hour movement now being agitated by the Federation of Labor. Mr. Hays said he had very little fears that there would be a strike. The manner in which he discussed the affair indicated that he took very little stock in it.

Mr. Hays is pleased with the prospects of the bakers for securing shorter hours. They have bakers for securing shorter hours. They have succeeded in reducing the hours from 18 to 12 and it was decided at the Detroit meeting to ask for ten hours after May 1. Mr. Havs is of the opinion that they will succeed, as affidavits can be secured from physicians showing that bread is unbealthful if used inside of 12 hours brond is unbeathful if used inside of the local after baking.

Mr. Hays had a conversation with Homer McGaw while in the city. The Secretary did not say what was discussed, but it is thought that the subject was Mr. McGaw's expulsion.

The next meeting of the Executive Board will be held in Philadelphia in June.

WROUGHT IRON PIPE KINGS.

The Regular Meeting of the Associati Renffirms Old Prices.

The regular meeting of the Wrought Iron Pipe Manufacturers' Association of the United States was held in the Duquesne Club, on Sixth avenue, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was largely attended, there being representatives present from almost every mill in the country. There were present about 35 manufacturers in all.

The most important matter that was discussed was the scale of prices. There was a strong disposition on the part of some of those present to increase the prices, but after a lengthy consideration both prices and discounts of last month were reaffirmed. The discounts upon these prices are as follows: Butt weided black, 47½ per cent; butt weided galvanized, 40 per cent; lap welded galvanized, 47½ per cent; lap welded galvanized, 40 per cent; lap welded black, 60 per cent; boiler tubes, 2 to 4 inches and smaller, 45 per cent; boiler tubes, 2 to 4 inches, 52½ per cent; boiler tubes, 50 per cent; boiler ent. The general reports showed that most of the The general reports showed that most of the mills throughout the country are running to their fullest capacity and have orders ahead. The business generally is improving.

Following the meeting yesterday the manufacturers atte dinner as the guests of the Duquesue Club. The next meeting will be held at Middletown, Pa., where the delegates will be the guests of Col. James W. Young, President the American Thee and Iron Company.

J. H. Dilks, western manager of the Chester Tube Works, was at the Anderson yesterday. Mr. Dilks was returning home from a trip through the oil country. The operations would be extensive now, but the roads are so bad that all work has practically ceased.

THE TARIFF IS NEEDED.

Pittsburg's Iron and Steel Tonnage Heavley

Than Ever. A. M. Byers was at the Union Dopot last evening seeing Mrs. Byers off for the East, Talking about the tariff, he said: "It is true that at present it doesn't make any difference whether we have a tariff on iron and stee whether we have a tariff on iron and steel or not, but we haven't any assurance that present conditions will continue. As long as prices continue high in England we can compete with them, but if a period should come, as it did several years ago when cheap pauper labor is employed by them, then we would need strong duties to protect us. It is best to be on the safe side and maintain a stiff tariff.

"I think the volume of business to be done this year will be large. Prices are lower than they have been, but the mills of Pittsburg are turning out daily a heavier tomage than they ever did."

A SUPPLY IN SIGHT.

English Soda Ash Once More Coming in Large Quantities.

James A. Chambers, the window glass manufacturer, went East last evening. Speaking of the scarcity of soda ash Mr. Chambers said: "With the settlement of the English strikes it won't be long until there will be plenty of ash in the country. The trouble is that our IRON PIPE MANUFACTURERS MEET. foreign supplies have been cut off. The sods ash is used most extensively in the flint and ash is used most extensively in the flint and bottle industries, and they have been hampered a little by the scarcity. In the manufacture of window glass soda sulphoste is being used, so that this trade was not affected much except in a few cases. At Jeannette we always keep a large supply of soda ash ahead, and small strikes therefore do not interfere with our RUSSIAN IMMIGRANTS IN THE CITY work.

"Americans are beginning to manufacture the ash at home, and before long we will make enough to supply our own markets. The factory at Syracuse is turning out large quantities, and is a success. We expect also to make our ash at Jeannette."

The Vote in on the First Ballot for Mr. Morenus' Successor. The voting sheets of the first ballot of the election for a President of the Window Glass Association have about all been received, and the votes will be counted Saturday night, by the council of L. A. 300.

The contest is said to be exceedingly excit-ing. The two candidates that are really in the fight, are Patrick Clarey and John P. Eberhart.

It is said that these two are running very close. It is thought that Eberhart has carried the Pittsburg district. If this is correct and the other districts come in in corresponding proportions, Eberhart can be regarded as the winner. winner.

MOVING DAY COMING.

It Will be on Hand With Its Sad Realities, Alas, Next Monday.

SOME PEOPLE PREPARING TO FLIT. Number of the New East End Houses Are

Ready to be Occupied. NOT MANY SENTIMENTAL PEATURES

Pittsburg and Allegheny are preparing to move. Monday and Tuesday of next week will see the streets lined with moving wagons and trucks upon which will be loaded and lost various pretty and ugly articles of household value and non value. What a dreadful siege moving is anyway, and how happily the pater familias escapes all the worry and torment attendant upon changing the family residence by leaving as early after breakfast on the interesting days as possible, and returning in the evening just in time to avoid coming back the next day. His duty is done when he orders the moving force and the superintending of the entire affair is left to the mater, and a great tax to Christian virtues it is, too. The woman who successfully controls her temper while enduring the trials of spring moving can proudly boast of her observance of Lent. A SENTIMENTAL FEATURE

Possibly, however, the disagreeable features of moving are blessings in disguise, were it otherwise the period would be a very sentimental one, for no matter how desirable the change of home may be, there are always fond change of home may be, there are always fond memories that cling round the last place, and each particular room and corner of a room has some endearing recollections clustered about it, so that the leave taking would probably tax the emotional part of a housewife's nature, and there would be a wholesale weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth, were it not that she is kept so busy with the practical and unsentimental.

were arrested by Officer Smith on Second avenue, at Frankstown, last night for starting a fight in the boarding house of Michael Welsh Thanks to Whom Thanks Are Due. We are informed that a letter purporting to have been written by Commissioner Mer-rill, of Massachusetts, regarding a late advertisement of ours containing an extract from a former letter of his, is being circu-lated in this community by agents of competing companies.

We adhere to our original position, and will be pleased to show the full text of the letter of Commissioner Merrill from which we quoted to anyone calling at our office. We also take this opportunity to thank our competitors for so thoroughly and favorably advertising us at their own expense, as th sales of our policies have never been larger than since the now famous letter of Commissioner Merrill to President Beers.

IMPROVING THE SEMINARY.

The Managers of the U. P. Theological Institution Raise $43,000 for Repairs-The Graduating Exercises Last Night-A Long List of Full-Fledged Ministers.

The Board of Managers of the United Presbyterian Theological Seminary met yesterday. The report of the Endowment Committee shows that $43,000 had been Presbyterian Incological Seminary met yesterday. The report of the Endowment Committee shows that $43,000 had been raised to improve the seminary and to endow the new professorships. Rev. O. J. Thatcher, Professor of "Church Government," was nominated to occupy the chair of "Ecclesiastical History,"

A special committee appointed to consider the advisability of extending the length of the seminary term, reported that they deemed it better to add one more month, making the term eight months. A number of those present thought that one more month was too much. A resolution was then passed that the General Assembly be notified to decide how long the extension should be.

The commencement exercises were concluded last evening in the First U. P. Church, Union avenue. The first graduate to deliver an essay was W. W. Lawrence. His paper was devoted to historic evidence of the authorship and transmission of the books of the New Testament. J. P. Knox followed with an address on "The Governor Among the Nations." "The Apocoypha" was the subject of the paper of R. A. Kingan. J. S. Hill spoke of archeology and the Bible, referring to archeological discoveries, traditions handed down from generation to generation, etc., to prove the truth of the Bible.

R. L. Hay took for a subject "The Maccabees," reviewing briefly the history of the Maccabean period. S. P. Barackman spoke on "Covenant Relations of Children." R. P. Allen spoke on the "National Argument for Immortality." J. A. Alexander was the last graduate to speak and gave a history of the "House of Omri."

Rev. Dr. Young, president of the faculty, presented the graduates with their diplomas, and the exercises were concluded.

The Board of Managers also met last night to wind up the business of the day. The first year students were moved into the second year class, and the second year students into the third year class. The fellowship of $300 attached to the student standing highest in the first year class was awarded to J. E. Wishart, son of the Rev. Dr. Wishart, of Monmo

NO "REMOVAL SALES."

No "Bargalas to Clear Warerooms." There is one music house in this city which never needs to resort to those cheap tricks of the trade in order to find sale for their pianos and organs and other musical goods, and that is the old-time music firm of H. Kleber & Bro., 506 Wood street. Their goods are always fresh and first class, unlike many other dealers whose wares, like tainted poultry on a Saturday evening, have to be got rid of at any price. The lively demand for the Steinway, the Conover and the Opera pianos and the Burdett and Vocalion organs insure to the buyer fresh, new and unhandled goods, and hence it is that wise and well-posted buyers deal at Kleber's first, last and all the time. All the great musicians and amateurs use Kleber's pianos exclusively. Without exaggeration, what the Klebers cannot furnish is hardly worth having. No inveigling "dollar-a-week" tricks are permitted at Klebers'. They sell their instruments lower and on just as easy terms of payment as do those who have to use clubs to bring their customers to terms. Klebers have the monopoly of the foremost instru-ments made in this country, and they warrant them for almost a lifetime. Don't fail to call on Kleber & Bro. and see their splendid new spring stock; 506 Wood street is the place.

PUSEY & KERR, 116 AND 118 FEDERAL STREET. PLAYING IN TOUGH LUCK.

An Ex-Baptist Preacher Finds Himself Injured by Sickness. A very respectable looking old gentleman walked into Central station last evening and asked for a place to lie down, saying he was very ill and weak, and had no money to pay nis James S. Philips, D. D., and said he was an exminister of the Baptist church and his home, Berlin Heights, O.

He is 55 years of age, well dressed, has long gray beard and hair, and has been employed lately solling a patent natural gas burner, as he savs, for the benefit of some church mission in Ohio. He would give no further account of himself, as he wanted no newspaper publicity, but said he had never asked for charity before, His illness was apparent and Dr. Moyer was called to attend him. The doctor found him suffering from something like Bright's disease, but said his condition is not daugerous. The old gentleman will be sent to the hospital this morning.

BACK TO GAS AGAIN.

The Oil is Said to Have Stopped Flowing in the Griffith Well. Oil scouts at the Seventh Avenue Hotel last evening reported that the Griffith well, in Mc-candless township, had ceased flowing and was now a small gas well.

An attempt was made to get more oil by agi-tating the opening, but the well failed to re-spond.
