The Oatmeal Trust Brings Handsome Profits to Producers.

CHICAGO'S MOVE ON BUCKET SHOPS

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH. TUSSDAY, April 1, 1890.

The upward movement of wheat and flour, which was noted in this column a few weeks ago, has been arrested, and the drift for a few days past has been in the other direction. The output of flour at Minneapolis last week was 183,720 barrels, against 18,275 barrels for the corresponding week of last year.

The current number of the Minneapolis Milled output of orders and will suspend operations for a city, with a capacity of 1,500 barrels per day, is out of orders and will suspend operations for a time in order to make some necessary repairs and improvements. The London correspondent of the same paper reports European wheat and flour trade very dull. The quantity of wheat affoat in Europe, according to this correspondent was, at the lat of March, 24,000,000 bushels, against 18,000,000 bushels at the same time a year ago.

The unknown quantity in the European wheat markets is the Bussian supply. If supplies from that source should come up to hearth estimates all hopes of advance in prices here will be blasted. The Russian yield is the problem which baffles speculators at this date.

Outmeal Trust.

In May, 1887, the Consolidated Oatmeal Company was organized under the laws of Illinois with a view to control this important industry and furnish better profits to the manufacturers than they had been receiving for some time past. There were, at the time the trust was formed, some 20 mills in the country engaged in the manufacture of oatmeal. About one half entered into the syndicate at the start, and the balance have been frozen out or bought out, so that the Consolidated Oatmeal Company is now practically monarch of all it surveys.

Before the trust was formed the price of oatmeal to the wholesaler was $3.50 per barrel. Now it is $5.40 per barrel. The consumer pays at the same rate as before the organization of the trust, namel, $9.00 per barrel, or se per pound. The manufacturers have succeeded in more than doubling their profits at the expense of the wholesale dealer.

Douglas & Stuart, oatmeal manufacturers, of Des Moines, Ia., reaped a profit of $100,000 in one year on the advance brought about by the one year on the advance brought about by the trust. Schumaker of Akron no doubt did much better than this. Since the Consolidated Oat-meal Company organized, according to the Chrcago Tribusc, which recently contained a full page article on the subject, the profit of the mills in the syndicate have been $2.977,000 over and above the legitimate gains of $2.570,000. It thus appears that the trust has succeeded in more than doubling its revenues, and while consumers have not suffered so far, the middleen are especially very sore over the curtail-sent of their profits.

The Maye Against Bucket Shope The first effects of the action of the Chicago rd of Trade against bucket shops was felt in this city to-day. There are seven or eight grain quotations are concerned their communications with the Chicago Board of Trade are cut off for the present. The movement is evi-dently intended to force speculators in grain to deal directly with the Chicago broker. The expense of private wires or direct mes-sages from Chicago will be too great for a suc-cessful bucket-shop trade.

tors in grain and flour heretofore only Speculators in grain and flour heretofore only needed to step into the various bucket shops and could there learn the situation in the Western metropolis any minute. The feeling among our operators in this line is that there will soon be found a way to get around the difficulty, and while quotations for the present may be withheld, it will not be for long. Chicago brokers have undertaken a big contract and a few days will demonstrate their ability to deliver the goods.

There are two classes of people so for as I have been able to observe in the South. One class, which is growing smaller, have their heads filled with classics, ideas of aristocracy, etc. The other class busy their minds about phosphates, iron mines, cotton mills and other enterprises. It is needless to say that the latter class are the better citize and are the most important factors in the construction of the New South."

the Speculative Market. APRIL FUN AMONG THE GRAIN DEALERS

The remainder of the property formerly owned by Captain Thomas Snowden, comprising three acres of ground and a good dwelling, situated in the borough of Wilkinsburg, was sold by James W. Drape & Co. yesterday, to William C. Lyne for $21,000 cash. It will be occupied by the purchaser as a residence.

A large deal in rural real estate was closed up yesterday, but the bare fact was all that could be obtained. The tract comprises about ton coal road, between Wilkinsburg and Edge wood. The price paid approximates $1,500 an acre. One authority said it would be laid out in lots, while another was confident it was for a manufacturing plant-perhaps the ice factory referred to a few days ago. The ground is admirably adapted for either purpose.

Another important transaction brought to a head yesterday was the sale by Henry A. dent of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company, of vacant lot on Second avenue, between Wood and Market streets, having a frontage of 30 feet and running through to First avenue, for $25,500. They also sold a lot adjoining the above, 30 by 80 feet, with a two-story dwelling, for $12,-000, being $400 a front foot, making the aggregate of both transactions $37,500. The probability is that the purchaser will improve the

There was a good deal of April fooling at the Grain Exchange vesterday. The members are nostly middle-aged and dignified, but a few of them are young and fond of fun, and exercised their penchant at the expense of their seniors. One of the victims was Mr. McMasters, the flour dealer. He was summoned to the tele-phone, where he expected to receive a large order only to be told that it was April 1. He gracefully admitted the sell in an address which brought down the house. A number of thers were deceived in the same way. On the whole, the session was productive of more

The new gas well of the Pennsylvania Company, near Cauonsburg, shows very high pressure. Some think it the best gas well in Washington county. Its full capacity will not be known until the pump is started.

The number of completed wells for March was 522, an increase of 40 over February. The total production of these new wells is 7,994, a decrease of 2,490 barrels as compared with February. The dry holes brought his amounted to 88. February's quota was 71, making an increase of 27 dusters for March, There are now 645 wells drilling and and 426 rigs.

The Fleming Oil Company's well, on the Toothman farm at Fairview, W. Va., is through the second pay streak with no benetical resolts as to production. It is doing ten barrels a day and being tubed for pumping.

The Ivory farm well at Westview is making about 125 barrels a day, and Guffy & Co.'s Tree farm well at Coraopolis is pumping 25 a day.

STILL IN THE DUMPS.

Trading in Shares Show No Improvement, but Values a Little Better-Easy Money a Disappointment to the Shorts.

NEW YORK, April L.-The stock market today, was again most intensely dull, the trans-actions in listed stocks being slightly smaller than those of yesterday, while those in the unlisted department showed a slight increase owing to the greater interest taken in sugar, The market, however, could scarcely be called a market any time of the day, though there was a gratifying improvement in the tone of the ealings, and marked firmness was shown both in the first hour and toward the close.

Neither side of the two factions in the market showed any disposition to trade, and notwithstanding that there still exists a large short interest, caused by the selling of stocks during the past month in anticipation of a stringency of money toward the first of April, there was no attempt to cover. To-day money did loan a little closer and as high as 6 per cent | $4 05. was obtained for loans, but the rate at the close was down to 4 again. The higher rate was only temporary, and the probability is that a materially easier tone will be shown to-morrow,

There was little in the way of features, but the so-called active stocks were extremely dull and there was no full stocks, except in Sugar. in which the sales reached 5,000 shares. Missouri Pacific has regained its dividend, but its movements, as was true of all other prominent shares, were confined to the smallest fractions. The only movements of importance were as usual in the specialties, and Peoria, Decatur and Evansville developed strength late in the day, rising to 23 from 21. Tennessee coal, on an extremely light business, scored nearly as large a gain. Among the strong stocks of the day were Lackawanna, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Lake Shore and Reading.

The close was dull, but firm to strong at the lest prices reached, though only slightly higher test prices reached, though only slightly higher than those of the opening. Almost everything is slightly higher than last evening. Peoria, Decatur and Evansville rose 2 and Tennessee Railroad bonds were comparatively active the saies of all issues aggregating $1.017,000, the saies of this amount was evenly divided. The Railroad bonds were comparatively active the saies of all issues aggregating $1.017,000, though this amount was evenly divided. The market displayed a firmer tone, in sympathy with stocks, and most of the final changes are advances. Evansville and Terre Haute firsts rose to 120, 2 per cent, Mobile and Ohlo sixes to 116, and Peoria, Decatur and Evansville firsts 22 to 102.

The Post says: In regard to the course of prices during this month, of course a great deal will depend on the temper of speculation in London, and that will to a large extent be influenced by the aspects of political affairs in Germany. In the absence of any news having an immediate reference to the business of the railroads, speculators are now turning their atan immediate reference to the business of the railroads, speculators are now turning their at-tention to the foreign situation, and it is not improbable will, from time to time, find some-thing in it which will bear exaggeration enough to affect the stock market. But for the present London appears rather disposed to buy than to sell American stocks. Speculation in any kind of securities is very dull in London at present, seil American stocks. Speculation in any kind of securities is very dull in London at present, but money is growing very abundant there. This larger supply of money will most certainly revive soeculation. Notwithstanding the extraordinary duliness of business on the Stock Exchange during the whole of March, it will doubtless surprise a good many to find that there was a pretty general advance in prices throughout the mouth. The advances were large, while the declines were small, except on a very few.

There has been so little speculation, in the usual acceptance of that term, on the stock Exchange, that this advance of prices must have been caused almost exclusively by what is called "investment buying," viz: buying by people who have the capital to pay for the stocks and put them away until there is a much higher range of prices. This has left comparatively few stocks on the market and makes speculators cautious about selling them short. So far as can now be foreseen, there is nothing that is likely to induce the investors to sell their stocks at present prices. Activity is, therefore likely to return only when the public their stocks at present prices. Activity is, therefore, likely to return only when the public loosens and relieves it. It prevents cough-ing by producing a free expectoration, and by allaying the inflammation and irrita-tion of the throat. It is the only preparation in common use that produces an expulsion of mucus from the sir cells of the lungs, renders the mucus less tenacious and easier to expectorate, and opens the secretions. It completely undermines a cold. It is especially adapted to children, as it contains no injurious substance. It is a great favorite for croup, and has never yet failed. 50 cents per bottle.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy does not dry up a cough but
