He appears a bright boy, the Pennsylvania Railroad for combination railroad and admission tickets, by which the fare will be largely reduced, or else they will try to get an electric railroad built to connect with the traction roads from the city. If the latter plan is adopted novelties will be attached to the cars and operated by electric motors to attract the patronage of sightseers. A music box in each car is one of the ideas suggested, and a musical bell scale is another. The scenery for the "Last Days of Pompeii" is vast in extent. It was painted by John Rettig, of Cincinnati.

MORE STREET RAILWAYS.

Several New Charters Granted at Harrisburg Yesterday.

That there were some few streets which escaped notice by the Pittsburg street railway projectors was evidenced by the granting of several fresh charters at Harrisburg yesterday to the same incorporators who had secured the former privileges. That one of the streets was only 400 feet long showed close attention was being paid to details. The first line on the list was the Exchange Street Bailway, 400 feet long, capital $1,000.

DISFIGURED FOR LIFE.

A Woman Struck With a Lighted Lamp in an Old Avenue Row.

John Peters, a Greek, visited Miss Emma Day, as he states, at No. 26 Old avenue, last night, and in the subsequent conversation over a debt of 50 cents, was struck by her with some heavy instrument on the back of the head, and retaliated by striking her in the face with a lighted lamp. The woman, who presented a very badly injured face in testimony, says the dispute in question was with another woman, and she endeavored to separate the combatants, she endeavored to separate the comparate, with the usual reward of a peacemaket. Dr. Moyer, who dressed her injuries, said of keeping a speak-easy. She was held for court, and in default of $1,000 bail was sent though very serious, and would disfigure her The woman is only about 26 years of age, but already well known to the police.

THE PROGRESSIVE CLUB.

Delegates Will be Sent to the Working Girls' Convention.

The Progressive Club, of the Southside composed of working girls, will meet next Monday evening to elect delegates to the New York Convention, to be held in a short time. The delegates will be the President, Miss Haller, and Mrs. R. H. Jones. The club expects to soon get into new quarters, when a house warming will be held.

A MISSING SON.

Anthony G. List is Informed of the Death of His Father.

Louisa List writes a letter to Inspector McAleese inquiring for Anthony G. List, her son, who, she said, was employed in the Lewis block some four years ago. She incloses printed resolutions of respect for the memory of his tather, who died in February at "Brunn on the Mountain," in Lower Austria. The father's name was Joseph List.

Coffin, the granddaughter of the late Judge Coffin, declared a lunatic came before Justice Cullen and a jury in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn to-night. Miss Coffin has been confined in the Long Island Home, a private asylum at Amity. ville, L. I., for more than a year, and the proceedings which were instituted by her mother were for the purpose of having a committee on the person and estate of her daughter appointed. Miss Coffin was not produced in court, such a step being de clared by the asylum dangerous and likely to imperil her life. Lawyer W. J. Court-ney, who appeared for Mrs. Coffin, said Miss Coffin had from $58,000 to $60,000 in trust in Cincinnati, Justice Cullin finally said, addressing Dr Carpenter: "You will have to produce this
