. THE NEW COUNCILS MEET.

And the Pittsburg Standing Committees are Announced

ALLEGHENY'S HELD OVER A WEEK

"Happy are the dead whom the rain rains on and happy the bride whom the sun shines on," is an old adage, and the weather fully bore out this proverb yesterday. Early in the morning the heavens wept over the men who went out of office, and in the afternoon the sun shone with refulgent brilliancy on the opening of the new adminis-

The new groom who is to keep Miss Pittsburgh curried down and always in the race with the cities which are in her class, H. I. Gourlest took her for better or worse at noon yesterday. On the desk of the incoming Mayor reposed a basket of roses commingling the white and the red to show that no war of the roses exists, and that his well-wishers congratulate him upon his accession to the highest office in the city's gift.

Controller Morrow, who also leaves office on the same day, reassumed it by the unanimous vote of both parties and he also found a handsome basket of flowers upon his desk, which, after the donors and their friends had inspected it, was sent to his daughter now home on an Easter vacation

OUT OF A JOB FOR AWHILE. The Assistant Controller, John S. Davis,

The Assistant Controller, John S. Davis, is at present, like a good many others, out of a job, and will be until the next meeting of Councils, when the Controller's list of appointments will be officially reported. There is but very slight opposition to his appointment, and no candidate has yet come into the field against him so that his calling and election may be regarded as sure for the next term.

The organization of Councils was the first thing to occupy civic attention, and Select isranch opened up with 29 members on the floor, among whom the newly elect were: A Frauenheim, of the Fifteenth ward; James Foster, of the Tenth: Hugh McCurry, of the Twenty-eighth: Adam Binder, of the Eighteenth, Frauenheim succeeds James H. Gillespie, Foster succeeds R. J. Haslett, McCurry succeeds George N. Monroe, Binder succeeds W. W. Nishet and Henderson succeeds H. T. Watson, H. P. Ford was nominated for President by John S. Lamble, and unanimously elected, after which Dr. Evans, of the Twenty-third ward, read the oath of office to the incoming President, who responded briefly, thanking the body for its renewed confidence in him. The old runes were adopted, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Warmoastle, Koating and body for its renewed confidence in him. The old rules were adopted, and a committee consisting of Messra. Warmcastle, Koating and Robertson was appointed to notify Mayor-Elect Gourley that a joint session of Councils would be held at 12 noon.

In Comman branch George Holliday, of the Thirty-fifth ward, was nominated by R. B. Carnaban and unanimously elected as President. R. B. Carnation then administered the oath of office to Mr. Holliday. The members in both branches were then sworm in, and lots for seats having been been drawn the branches were ready for the joint session.

THE INAUGURAL CEREMONIES. At about 12:15 P. M. all was in readiness for the inauguration and both branches met. Controller Morrow sat beside President Ford of Select Council, and Chiefs Bigelow and Brown stood up as wall flowers to decorate the occasion with their presence. Captain R. C. Elliot, with his hearty laugh and pleasant repartee was unavoidably detained by business of a pressing with his hearty laugh and picasant repartee was unavoidably detained by business of a pressing character and could not attend.

The inauguration ceremonies were of the stereotyped order and rather brief. Ex-Mayor McCailin thanked the members of Council for the courtesy and kindness shown him during his term of office, and introduced his successor in office, Henry I. Gourley, to whom the oath of office was administered by H. P. Ford, President of Select Council.

The Mayor-elect then made his salutatory address, in which he reviewed the progress of the municipality, and although suggesting comony in some of the departments, he on the whole found Pittsburg as well governed as any city in the country. He quoted the passage in the charter, which gives the Mayor supervisors power over the various departments, and referred to the Mrs. Schenley and Carnegie gifts.

and referred to the Mrs. Schemey and Carnegos gifts.

Councilman A. C. Robertson called the attention of the Mayor-elect to the fact that he had omitted the question of free bridges to the Southside from his address, and afterward remarked that it was strange he should neglect the subject, as it was one of the issues upon which he was elected.

The first official paper signed by Mayor Gourley was an order refunding a portion of Mrs. E. S. Omohundro's taxes. The Controller had been explaining some of the minor duties the Mayo has to perform when the order came in, and in order to demonstrate clearly what he had been trying to explain the Controller carried the diftrying to explain the Controller carried the different documents necessary to keep such mattens straight into the Mayor's office. The new Mayor was very nervous and signed his name slowly but legibly and gave a sigh of relief when he was through with the various papers.
The Police Magistrates, Gripp, McKenna, Hyndman, Leslie and Succop, were sworn in by Mayor Gourley yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at the Mayor's desk, which was decorated with a beautiful basket of flowers contributed by Clerks McCleary and Ostermaier, and as soon as it was ever the magistrates shook hands with the Mayor and departed.

pled by His Contestant. At high noon yesterday James G. Wymau appeared in Common Council ELY BROS., 56 Warren chamber between Messrs. Cruikshank and Bader, whom he defeated at the primaries for the purpose of receiving the oath of office from President Hunter, of Common Council. The new Mayor was resplendent in Prince Albert suit, and walked briskly forward to the desk with the room crowded by his friends, Cheers were given as the President of Common Council arose to administer the ironclad oath. There was an undercurrent of anxiety on the part of

Mr. Wyman's friends, who were afraid that Mr. Stayton would carry into execution his threat of arresting Mr. Wyman as soon as the oath had been taken, but nothing of the kind

GENTLEMEN-For the second time I appear before you after taking upon myself the oath of of-fice of Mayor of your city. I am well aware of the responsibilities and duties about to be imposed upon me. I shall earnestly endeavor to fulfill the upon me. I shall earnestly endeavor to fulfill the same honestly and impartially. It is my special desire to give the people of this city the best police protection possible. I propose to execute your laws and ordinances without lear or tavor, and keep a vigilant eye upon all questions pertaining to the welfare of the taxpayer generally. Further promises i will not make, but prefer to let the public judge my future record. To my predecessor, ex-alsyor Pearson, who is about to retire. I extend my best wishes for his welfare and success. ***

I herewith appoint John R. Murphy Chief of Police, Henry Hunneshagen Mayor's Clierk, and James Steele Detective, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of John R. Murphy. I thank you for past courtesies."

Mayor Wyman then administered the oath of Mayor Wyman then administered the cath of office to John Murphy, Chief of Police, and James M. Steele, who succeeds Mr. Murphy as detective. Then the Mayor retired to his office and was numerously seen for the balance of the day by sundry nervous policemen and officials generally, who are anxious to retain places under the new regime.

BEGINS TO CREEP OUT. The inner history of the Langhorst affair is beginning to crop out. It was learned last night that County Detective Langhorst was to have been Chief of Police under Mayor Wyman, by a square out-and-out agreement between Hon. J. S. Rutan, W. B. Rodgers, Esq., and the Mayor. Mr. Langhorst went on this basis, and is now in the political tureen. His friends are now hunting meataxes, and swear all sorts of venezance.

now hunting meataxes, and swear all sorts of vengeance.

J. R. Stayton was seen last night, and asked why there had been no attempt to obstruct Mayor Wyman's assumption of his seat. He said: "My attorneys advised me not to do as I had intended—make an information this afternoon for porjury against Mr. Wyman, based upon his taking the oath of office. But if it is imagined that there will be no future step taken in the matter, it is a mistake. The fire will fly soon enough to suit Mr. Wyman. As to the custody of the ballot boxes, my attorneys think that anybody would as soon fool with a rattlesnake as meddle with those boxes."

Mayor Wyman was subsequently seen, but made light of the possibilities of there being trouble in the future. "If I have done anything for which I deserve arrest," said the Mayor, "I am right here where everybody can find me."

The Fifth Ward Wyman Club presented the Mayor with a fine picture of himself framed in an Americau shield, a very handsome piece of emblazonry.

NO COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED.

NO COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED. Charles W. Dahlinger, of the Fourth ward of Allegheny City, will be Chairman of the new standing Committee on the Carnegie Free Library. Mr. Dahlinger is a bright young man who has made a mark in Councils and his choice pleases all sides.

President Hunter, of Common Councils, stated that three-fourths of the Allegheny Councilmen desire to be placed upon the Library Committee, but that he had not determined upon any member as yet but Mr. Adam Ammon, Chairman of City Property Committee. Mr. Ammon has taken a singular interest in the library, and is entitled to a place upon the committee.

in the library, and is entitled to a piace upon the committee.

Mr. Hunter said that the entire list of standing committees of Councils would be revised by himself and Mr. Lindsay, and that the announcements would be made next Monday. The status of City Property Committee will be but little affected, but very considerable changes are expected upon the other committees. Some disappointment was felt at the failure to announce the list of committees last night, but both chairmen will have to do some work before the lists are completed.
