LIVELY TIME AT THE RACE.

Moore and Dan Herty Continue to Make a Great Struggle.

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Manager Hecker's National League Colts deteated the Syracuse Stars vesterday quite easily. Daniels pitched well. The struggle among the pedestrians at the Central Rink still continues in presence of large crowds, The annual meeting of the Pittsburg Cricket Club was held and officers elected.

The local colts had a sweet revenge yesterday for what the Syracuse Stars did to them on Monday, and admirers of the National League will feel more proud of the youngsters this morning. There were between 300 and 400 people in Recreation Park to see the game, and in some respects it was an enjoyable one. The weather was warm, but the diamond was very muddy on account of the rain which fell in the morning. The muddy diamond accounted for some of the bad infield work of the visitors.

The youngsters won the game on its merits. and outplayed the Stars at every point. The work done by the former was, indeed, a great improvement on that of Monday. La Roque showed up to much better advantage, and Roat made one or two very brilliant pick ups. A LITTLE FLURRIED.

Roat gets a little flurried, however, at a tight place, but experience will improve him on this point. He promises to be a good player. Youngman really did first class, and it is not too much to say that he did work yesterday just as brilliantly as the best second baseman who has been in the city. Routcliffe and Hemp also did very well. The former made a great running catch, and Hemp accomplished a bril-liant stroke by fielding the ball in great style and by a remarkable throw to the plate, retir-ing a man who was trying to score from second on a very long single hit. Altogether, the youngsters did well

Daniels pitched a great game, and he is more of a favorite than ever. Had he remained in th box, it is not too much to say that the visitor would have only secured two runs. He pitche five innings and Gray relieved him. Gray wa nwfully nervous and showed it by his wildner He gave three men their bases on balls and hi two with a pitched ball. Added to this wer four single hits, and the whole combined ser in seven runs. Gray, undoubtedly, was in to great a hurry, and had he taken a little more time he would have steadied himself much sooner than he did. When he did get down t work the Stars couldn't touch him

A MODERATE DISPLAY. The visitors put up only a moderate game. Two of their regular infielders were absent, and Dealy and Elv filled their places. Lyons, the pitcher, was in left field and did wretched work. However, the Stars' pitchers were marks for the local young men. Morrison nitched two innings and then Ramsey became the victim. The game, excepting Gray's mistakes in the sixth inning was well played, in-deed, by the local team. Umpire Zacharias d well.

The home players went first to bat and after The home players went first to bat and after Sunday had been retired, Hemp got his base on halls. Hines' sacrifice saw Hemp to second and a double by Miller over the center fielder's head sent in the run. In the third inning Sunday led off with a single to center field and singles by Hines and Miller sent hun home. In the fourth inning Routchiffe led off and got his base on balls. He was put out at second, however, on Youngman's grounder to Battin. Datiels got his base on balls and Sunday made a successful bunt, though it might not have a successful bunt, though it might not have been intended for a bunt. Youngman scored on the bit and Daniels got to third. Hemp knocked a grounder to Dealy, who fumbled it, and Daniels scored.

SOME MORE SCORING.

Miller opened the fifth inning and got his base on balls. A single by La Roque sent him to second and he stole third, La Roque getting to second. Routcliffe struck out and then Youngman banged out a single to left, sending in Miller and La Roque. Youngman went to second on the throw in and Youngman scored on Roat's single. In the sixth inning Hemp led off with a two-bagger and got to third on a wild pitch. Hines was retired at first and Hemp scored on Miller's single to center field. Hemp scored on Miller's single to center field. La Roque sent out a double to left field and Miller stopped at third. Routcliffe went out on a foul fly to Briggs, but Youngman again made a timely hit, sending home Miller and La Roque. The seventh inning brought five more runs, but only one was earned. The others were secured on fielding errors, a wild pitch and a base on balls. The last run was made by Hines getting a base on balls, stealing second and third and Lyons' muff of La Roque's fly.

The visitors didn't carn a run, but the fatal base on balls had most to do with their run-getting. As stated above, Gray made a nervous display in the sixth inning and seven runs were red, which brought the visitors within one of tieing the score. This caused the opponents of the National League to cheer lustily. Fol-

KEEPING IT UP.

The Six-Day Pedestrians Still Making Things Very Warm-A Great Struggle Between Herty and Moore -Howarth a Little Tired.

Although the warm weather somewhat inter fered with some of the pedestrians yesterday, there was still any amount of excitement at the Central Rink race. The large crowds still keep up, and the contest is just as close as ever it was. Of course, the contestants are gradu-ally getting less vigorous, but the manuer in which 10 or 11 of them ran yesterday was surprising.

There is still much speculation as to who will be the winners and it is almost as difficult now to predict the victor as it was last Saturday. The race for first place seems to be at present between Moore, Herty and Howarth, but there are others who are liable to create a surprise. Moore and Herty were going well all day yesterday and Howarth toward evening became a little tired. The struggle between Herty and Moore, however, was a great one, and it will likely be greater still before the end is reached. The Oil City map was about seven miles in front of Herty almost the whole day, and he trailed Herty like a shadow. His idea was to retain that lead as iong as possible. Herty was in third place during yesterday morning, but shortly after noon he took second place. Howarth, who had been off the track a while, reappeared just to find Herty at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon taking the second position. Howarth gradually fell back, and at 9 o'clock in the evening he was about 4 miles behind Herty. The latter is anxious to win, and so is Moore, and they are both strong men and also plucky. Herty, however, was the favorite last evening.

There will also be a struggle for the other positions. Noremac, whose feet are not very good, is all right otherwise, and he is battling for a good position with a good prospect of getting there. Connors is running gamely, and will also get beyond the limit if all goes well. John Hughes is also almost certain to get over the limit, and so is Horan. Notan became very much exhausted yesterday afternoon, and was compelied to take a long rest. Golden has a compelled to take a long rest. Golden has a very sore foot; so sore is it that the majority of people would, under its affliction, remain at home and nurse it. It is in a bad condition in deed, but he struggies on. Altogether the contest will be a desperate affair.

There were numerous ladies present yesterday, and they were very enthusiastic about the contestants. Guererro was playing the clown act during the day, giving imitations of American-Dutch variety artistes and performing with the skipping rope. This is more congenial to Guererro than trying in earnest to defeat the class of men in the race. He is exceedingly amusing, however. Old Norman Taylor was loudly cheered during the afternoon when he reached his "century." The veteran really is a wonder, and even at his age he can show remarkable speed. Day somewhat weakened, and many of his friends were not disappointed at the fact. Hegelman, too, became exhausted so much that he had to take a long rest.

Herty, Moore and Howarth left the track at Il o'clock. They each had a warm bath and Moore returned at 12:20. Herty was 20 minutes later and Howarth did not reappear until 1:30. Herty who will try to cover 100 miles per day, was in great form when he reappeared and soon gained a mile on Moore. The latter was troubled with a bleeding at the nose. Following was the score at 2 o'clock:

DAN MANNING'S SON

Elected Mayor of Albany by a Decidedly Vigorous Majority.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ALBANY, April &-James H. Manning, ed-ALBANY, April & —James H. Manning, editor of the dullest paper in the country, was elected Mayor of Albany to-day over his Republican opponent, Howard N. Fuller, by a majority of 7,246. The total vote was: Manning, 13,552; Fuller, 6,316; Manning's majority being 830 greater than Fuller's full vote. This, too, in the face of a falling off from the entire city vote at the last Mayoralty contest of over 1,000. The present Democratic Mayof two years ago received a majority of only 2,700. The Democrats gained largely in Republican districts and have elected 17 out of the 19 Aldermen, a gain of four over last year.

The Republicans in all the 17 wards of the city elected only one supervisor. They have also lost in the country districts of the county, so that the board will probably stand 20 Democrats to 11 Republicans. The result shows it to have been a red letter day for the local Democrats, and indicates a total demoralization of the Republican party at the State capital.

CONFINED ABOARD THE MONITORS.

SOME FORGOTTEN DOCUMENTS FOUND.

Some interesting war history has been made public at Washington. It includes official papers issued by Secretary Stanton, regarding the apprehension and treatment of those implicated in the assassination of President Lincoln. Extraordinary restric-have never before been made public.

The first order was from the Navy Department to Commodore J. B. Montgomery, commandant of the yard, and dated April 15, 1885, the day of Mr. Lincoin's death. It read as followed.

THE OFFICIAL ORDER. "If the military authorities arrest the mur-derer of the President and take him to the navy yard, put him in a monitor and anchor her out in the stream, with strong guard on vessel, wharf and in navy yard. Call on commandant of marine corps for guard. Have mandant of marine corps for guard. Have vessel immediately prepared, ready to receive the criminal at any hour, day or night. He will be heavily ironed and so guarded as to prevent escape or injury to himself."

Two days later the department notified the commandant that "the War Department wishes special attention called this afternoon to order of Saturday, 15th inst. Keep a boat in constant readiness and have a guard at the gate, that the prisoner can be safely got on board."

The first prisoners were received at the nave

gomery:

"The Secretary of War wishes Atzerott separated from his brother-in-law, Ritchie, by putting the former in another vessel, unbeknown to the other prisoners; also, that a ball and chain be put on each ankle of Payne."

On the following day the commandant re ceived directions which showed that Secretary of War Stanton proposed to neglect no pre caution toward preventing any sort of con munication between the prisoners. These di-rections were as follows:

'The Secretary of War requests that the prisoners on board ironclads belonging to his department for better security against conver-

a part of this joint order. The writer compiains that the body of Booth was suddenly and unexpectedly removed by Colonel Baker to a tug and taken away before the marine officer had any opportunity to report the proceedings to the commandant. The box prepared for it was left on the Montack, and Commandant Montgomery reported that it was ready for delivery when called for. Other correspondence shows that the navy officers at the yard felt that they had not been properly treated by the higher authorities, and were disposed to criticise the military authorities for the "informal and unmilitary" way in which Booth's body was taken from their custody, without any written authority for so disposing of it having been shown to any officer of the yessel. The orders leave no doubt of the great fear which beset Secretary Stanton that the prisoners would escape, or be rescued, and this fear seems to have extended even to the dead body of the assassin.

W. J. Minnick, who was confined in the Dixmont Hospital for a period of a week or more, adjudged by several physicians to be insane, made his first appearance on the streets of Braddock yesterday. Mr. Minnick talks of bringing suit against both the doctors who had charge of the case, who, he says, persecuted him.

WASHINGTON, April 8 .- During the exciting times immediately following the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, the prisoners who were arrested in connection with that affair! were confined on board of United States monitors anchored in the Potomac river, opposite the navy yard. A history of the Washington Navy Yard, written by Chaplain Henry B. Hibben, which has just been issued as an executive document by the Senate, contains the orders given to the commandant of the navy yard as to the care of those important prisoners, and these orders reveal one or two leatures of their treatment, which, it is believed,

The first prisoners were received at the navy yard that night, and the following day Commodore Montgomery reported that Mike O'Flaherty and Lewis Payne had been delivered during the night and were confined on board the monitor Saugus, in double irons and under a strong guard.

April 20 two more prisoners were received at the navy yard. They were James Andrew Atzerott and Ernest Hartman Ritchie, his brotherin-law. April 23 the Assistant Secretary of the Navy sent this order to Commodore Montgomery:

head of each and tied around the neck, with a hole for proper breathing and eating, but not

self-destruction."

Tothis order, which is now brought to light for the first time, Commandant Montgourery replied on the same day:

"The hoods were made, and have been applied as directed. The prisoners are in all respects entirely secure."

Ned Spangler was taken from the old Capitol Prison that any and confined on one of the monitors. Three days later, April 27, the Commandant reported to the Navy Department as

"David C. Harrold, prisoner, and the re-mains of Wilkes Booth were delivered here at 1:45 this morning. The body of Booth is chang-ing rapidly. What disposition shall be made of it? It is now on board the ironciad Montauk."

Later in the day the commandant was banded an order signed by Secretaries Welles and Stan ton, directing him to permit Surgeon General tain other officers and civilians, including a photographer, to go on board the Montauk and see Booth's body. The order also directed that, the following day by Commandant Montgom-ery shows that he had no chance to carry out a part of this joint order. It is an absolute fact that many suffer, and indeed too many are daily hoodwinked by patent medicine and quack treatment, and they give way to foolish advice and leave a regular schooled and reputable physician to resort to all kinds of patent nostrums in vain to find health and strength, when they could really be assured that there is more nourishment in one bottle of Klein's Silver Age than in a carload of the stuff they call "invigoratora." It is, too, a fact not to be passed by, the indorsement of well-known physicians, who cheerfully indorse this excellent and pure stimulant.
