MONEY IS NO OBJECT

To Many Applicants for Whole- sonse of a man who said that he intended to essale Liquor Licenses.

IF ONLY THEY CAN SELL.

The Capital for Their Business Will be Forthcoming.

NO REHEARINGS TO BE ALLOWED

The License Count yesterday disposed of 88 cases, finishing the Fourteenth ward. Ten of the applications were withdrawn. Judge Ewing is laying the basis for refusal of a large number of wholesale applicants. Downtown the applicants are nearly all old men at the wholesale business, but in the outside wards a majority of them are new. These new men were nearly all saloonkeepers before the Brooks law era, and almost without exception they must confess that they violated the law. Such violations are sufficient for a refusal of license, within the lines of the Supreme Court decision of last summer, and many of these new applicants in the sections of the city devoted to retail stores and residences will doubtless be re-to sign such a bond, it being his official daty to see that liquor dealers do not violate the law. Casually, Judge Ewing asked one of the ap-plicants, Mr. Hevl, if there were a house on Penn avenue between Eleventh and Twelfth streets for which there is not either a retail or wholesale application. Mr. Heyl did not think there was such a place.

NEW TO THE BUSINESS.

Heyl is a cigarmaker, new to the liquor business. Holmes is a steel worker, asking for a bottler's license. Neither Heyl nor Holmes bottler's license. Neither Heyl nor Holmes seemed to combrehend the nature of the business into which they proposed to enter, and were unable to tell the court how they expected to get trade. Judge Ewing said that he was slow to believe that they were not simply the representatives of other parties.

Michael Jordan was refused a retail license. Last summer he took orders and delivered beer in the country districts for Spencer & Liddell. Kraus' trade during nine months past was $22,00. Kenna is an old blacksmith who has lived 43 years in the Ninth ward. Albert Mauning failed to appear.

Thomas McCann's name got put into the Ninth ward list, although the house for which he applies No. 1529 Penn avenue, is in the Tenth ward. He was heard at this point. He applies for a bottler's license. One of his bondsmen and the man who drew his petition. James Stewart, is employed by spencer & Liddell. Judge Ewing suspected McCann of being simply an agent of that brewing firm. "This is a palpable fraud on the court," he said. "You don't know some of your own bondsmen."

bondsmen."

Paske has been Peter McGee's bookkeeper.
He was born in Pittsburg. Ramlack is agent for the Pabst brewery, of Milwaukee, and Saeltzer handles Schlather's Cleveland beer.
George Schmitt deals in the Anheuser-Busch beer, of St. Louis, his trade amounting to $60,600 a year.

John Stewart was refused a retail license.
He claims to be worth $100,000.

SEVEN IN THE TENTH.

There were seven applicants from the Tenth ward: Edward Brothers, No. 1633 Penn avenue; John H. Fuchs, No. 44 Sixteenth street; Felix Henle, No. 1521 Penn avenue; Daniel Hagarty, No. 1601 Penn avenue; Thomas McCann, No. 1529 Penn avenue; Felix Tschudy, No. 33 Fifteenth street, and William Voltz, No. 1609 Mr. Fuchs said he would have to pay no rent has been given a retail license in the Ninth ward.

The Eleventh ward, on the hill, furnished 13 applications, as follows: Herman Ferst, No. 467 Fifth avenue; John Fuchs, No. 802 Wylie avenue; Samnei H. Gilson, No. 559 Wylie avenue; George Gotthart, No. 457 Wylie avenue; George M. F. Hopf, Wylie avenue and Kirkpatrick street; Martin Haller, No. 333 Webster avenue; Daniel K. Kelly, No. 190 Center avenue; Paul Locuner, No. 382 Webster avenue; Frederick Mügele, No. 365 Fifth avenue; T. B. Ryrie, No. 257 Wylie avenue; John B. Schmitt, No. 461 Fifth avenue; Joseph Uhimann, No. 102 Dinwidtje street, and Albert Voelger, No. 469 Fifth avenue.

No. 461 Fifth avenue; Joseph Unimann, No. 102
Dinwiddge street, and Albert Voelger, No. 469
Fifth avenue.

In the Twelfth ward there were 17 applicants—Samuel Abrams, No. 2806 Penn avenue; P. Byrnes, No. 2501 Penn avenue; Michael Dorris, No. 2715 Penn avenue; George W. Feld, No. 2610 Penn avenue; George W. Feld, No. 2610 Penn avenue; George W. Feld, No. 2610 Penn avenue; Henry Heck, No. 2612 Smallman street; George W. Kuipschild, No. 2737 Penn avenue; Robert Laddell, brewer and bottler, Nos. 2411 and 2413 Smallman street; Elmer Mc-Clafferty, No. 2721 Penn avenue; Mrs. Ellien Mc-Clafferty, No. 2721 Penn avenue; Mrs. Islien Mc-Clafferty, No. 2721 Penn avenue; Mrs. Islien Mc-Cormack, No. 2614 Penn avenue; Mrs. Islien Mc-Cormack, No. 2639 Penn avenue; Mrs. Kate Ryan, No. 3008 Smallman street; John Shea, No. 2625 Jones avenue, and James Tuite, No. 3048 Smallman street.

Before ordering the noon recess Judge Ewing said that the honest dealers were the men who suffered by the overcrowding of the business. Except in the business center of the city, a wholesale dealer could not obey the law and make money.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION. After noon the Twelfth ward was continued. Hunt was refused a retail license. He confessed to violations of the law while he kept a saloon prior to 1888. Heck was naturalized in 1888. He is a wholesale tobacconist: a cousin to Harry Heck, the saloonkeeper on the Diamond, who is one of the applicant's bondsmen. Knipschild, during the year, has had a trade, in his neighborhood, of nearly $40,000. He has sold to relliworkers and women, in the main. sold to milliworkers and women, in the main. Ex-Mayor Liddell said that the dissolution of the partnership of Spencer & Liddell will take place on April 30. Mr. Spencer retires because of his age. McDonald is an employe of Spencer & Liddell. He has only $290. "but my friend, Jim Neeson," he said, "will back me up in whatever I want. It's his house."

At this point the Court jumped six applications and took up the Thirteenth ward. "for reasons which will appear later," said Judge Ewing. The Thirty-third street and Brerston avenue, Mrs. Bridget Coyne, Shaffer and Flora streets; Samuel French, Brackenridge and Morgan streets; Joseph Hoffman, No. 625 Wylle avenue; Herman Ketterer, Herron avenue; Harry T. McCaffrey, No. 229 Thirty-third street; William G. Pohl, No. 213 Thirty-third street; Joseph Boellman, Soho and Wardeworth avenue.

Coyle has been refused a retail license. Mrs Coyle has been refused a retail license. Mrs. Coyne keeps a little grocery store. Prior to the Brooks law she sold whisky on a heer license. She asks for a bottler's license. French, in 1887, kept a saloon on a $100 license. Hoffman is a fishmonger. Hefnagle is a young grocer who was born in Allegheny county. He began to attend bar for his father when he was 12 years old. Ketterer, who had a license until may 1, 1888, admitted that after that beer was delivered at his house by Ochse, who drove a milk wagon. The beer, he said, was for his own

MADE HIM WINCE. To Mr. Larkine Judge Ewing said: "What would you think of the truthfulness or the sonse of a man who said that no intended to es-tablish a wholesale grocery out on Millwood avenue?" Mr. Larkins winced, but he said he thought that even such a trade as that might be built up in that neighborhood. At any rate, he does not expect to sell his goods in the neighborhood of his house. He is by trade a he does not expect to sell his goods in the neighborhood of his house. He is by trade a locomotive engineer. In dismissing him. Judge Ewing said: "Do not think that the Court is deceived by your statements. I know very well that it is not intended to conduct a legitimate business in such a locality as that."

Joseph Spielman was sturred up by Attorney Christy. He has a beer bottling house on Soho street. He denied that he had ever sold beer to be drunk on his premises. Winn S. Smith was called, and testified that he had recently bought two bottles of beer and drank them in Spielman's cellar. Spielman told him to take them outside, but the weather was cold and Smith did not feel like doing that. Spielman said he did not know that Smith was an habitual drunkard. Thomas Anderson and Thomas J. Marphy were called to testify against Spielman, but they answered not.

The Twelfth ward was then resumed. Mrs. McClafferty admitted Sunday selling in 1887. Mrs. O'Brien admitted that she had been selling beer, as well as cigars and tobacco, during the year. Mrs. Ryan kept a saioon prior to 1888; sold whisky on a $100 license and sold on Sunday. John Shea kept a liquor shop until 1888, and his record was the same as that of Mrs. Ryan. Judge Ewing had a good bit of fun at Mr. Shea's expense, asking him about his customers, the kind of whisky he sold and the demand for beer in his neighborhood. Tuite said he pronounced his name Chute. "Why, how did you ever get that name in Ireland?" asked Judge Ewing. The applicant answered, "It is descended from France."

WHAT HE HAD DONE, Spielman being recalled, Thomas Anderson testified that he had bought beer of Spielman fused.

One Soho applicant yesterday wished to swear "on the Book." There was no Bible in court, and he had to swear by the uplifted sometimes be would not, according to his humor. Anderson said he had bought a half-

Judge Magee was not feeling well during the afternoon, and left Judge Ewing to run the grind alone.

Judge Ewing announced that wholesale licenses would be heard to-day, retail licenses would be heard to-day, retail licenses would be heard to-day, retail licenses to-morrow, wholesale licenses again on Friday, and the retail applicants from the boroughs on Monday.

NINTH WARD APPLICANTS.

Court started with the Ninth ward. It has 17 wholesale applications, as follows:
Emil J. Bartlick, Nos. 123 and the Fenn avenue, both wholesale and bott er's license, P. Bertoni, No. 1144 Penn welcule; Andrew Hise, No. 1144 Penn; William A. Heyl No. 1119 Liberty; Ghory, Son Hise Ty, John Kenna, No. 1807 Liberty; Alberty; John Kenna, No. 1807 Liberty; John Kenna No. 1807 Liberty; John Ken

Large, the veteran attorney, who had become weary with sitting in court during the hot afternoon, popped up and asked bluntly: "Will Your Honor entertain a petition for a rehearing?" Judge Ewing looked at Mr. Large quizzicaily, and said: "We do not expect to rehear a single case. We did the best we could. We may have made some mistakes, but I don't think we could improve matters by rehearings." Mr. Large bowed and retired, assign. That is not a large bowed and retired, but I don't think we could improve matters by rehearings." Mr. Large bowed and retired, saying, 'That is what I wished to find out."

James Madden applied for a retail license, but did not appear. He was unable to give a reason for not showing up then. Judge Ewing said he thought the fact that Madden held a United States retail license was sufficient explanation. Madden denied that he ran a speakeasy, Melville, who bottles, said he put up and sold pint bottles of beer.

McKeefrey is on the speak-easy list, but he said it was a mistake. He admitted Sunday selling in 1887. McLaughlin, luckly for him, never was in the liquor business.

O'Donnell, when called up, said that he swore by the Hook. "We have no book here," said Judge Ewing; "Call the next."

Stephen Sweeney is now an employe of T. D. Cabey, the wholesale liquor dealer. Prior to 1888 Philip Sweeney sold whisky on a $100 license, sold on Sunday and sold to miners.

O'Donnell was recalled and, waiving his scruple, took the oath by the usual method. He said he was naturalized last September. James Woods rather surprised the Court by saying that he had $10,000 in his house. Magnus Waltz withdrew. Frederick Weicht closed the Fourteenth ward and the day. Court adjourned at 6:15 P. M.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Cured by Cuticura

About two years ago I was attacked with an infammatory disease on my face (petyriasis), which was very troublesome, being extremely itchy and painful, giving rise to the production of small bran-like scales. My general health was affected by it. I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, CUTICURA, and CUTICURA SOAF according to directions, and experienced a change from the very first day; they worked wonderfully, and by their continued use for about five months I was completely cured, I have unbounded faith in the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I regard the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as the very best blood purifier; a trial will convince any one. The CUTICURA SOAF is the best in the market, and cheap at twice its present price. I shall use no other for the toilet and bath. With the prevalence of skin diseases among ne as a people (and they are the most difficult to deal with), I regard the CUTICURA REMEDIES of more important and intrinsic value to the world than any other medicine now before the public. I am, with deep gratitude.

WISE MEN

Wouldn't think of going to any of scores of Cheap John Tailor Shops that line our streets and thoroughfares, because the clothing turned out by such second and third-rate tailors is made only to sell (not to wear); their work being nothing but common busheling, and the fit of their garments a "total wreck" in nine cases out of ten.

The toniest, exclusive tailor, on the other hand, has good goods (no better than ours, though, for we have the best) and he'll probably fit his customer, but no more perfectly than we can, while his price will be twice, if not thrice, what ours is.

Why not, then, come right here and leave your measure? You'l consult your own interest by so doing. At any rate, call and see our stock of Imported Woolens, samples of our work and prices. If you're open to conviction, you'll agree with us that we lead in madeto-order garments quite as much as in ready-made.

If you leave your measure, you can rely on a prompt execution of your order. We employ MORE and BETTER TAILORS than any other store in the city, and, consequently, turn out work on shortest possible notice.
