

AN AID TO SCIENCE.

Dr. E. A. Munderf, of the Southside, Makes Another Discovery.

ED COFFEY'S KNIFE PLAYS A PART.

It is Possible to Detect an Old Blood Stain on Iron or Steel.

SOME MEDICAL TEXT BOOKS LAID OUT

Dr. E. A. Munderf, of the Southside, has succeeded in making a discovery that is of value to science. Some months ago Ed Coffey committed suicide in the Allegheny County Jail, by cutting his throat, Governor's Clerk Mark Donley presented Captain Stewart, of the Third police district, with the knife used by Coffey. Captain Stewart was loth to believe that Mr. Donley was playing a joke on him, although the knife answered the description of the one found in Coffey's cell. There were a few stains on the blade, and upon the suggestion of Inspector McKelvy the knife was placed in the hands of Dr. Munderf for an examination.

Text books on medical jurisprudence have held for years that it was almost impossible to detect old blood stains on iron and steel, owing to their being chemically altered and destroyed. The blood becomes so disorganized that it is nearly impossible to get the proper microscopic proofs. As blood deposited on iron or steel with dry slowly and became putrescent, the probability of discovering the chemical elements is greatly lessened.

When a blood clot dries rapidly, whether exposed to warm atmosphere or done for the purpose in view, that of obtaining certain crystals, the probability of finding those crystals, secondly, is that when the dried blood clots come into the possession of an experimenter, they are not only old and mixed with foreign matter, but have dried under conditions that are unfavorable for the detection of the needed crystals. Mr. Coffey's knife, for instance, simply preserved as a relic, no thought was bestowed upon the purpose of a future analysis. To prove the presence of blood stains on it, it was necessary to overcome these adverse conditions which interfered with a successful examination. The knife was taken from its handle, in and out of pockets, exhibited as a relic, having been associated with one of the darkest tragedies of the annals of crime in Allegheny county, there would necessarily be a peculiar difficulty in the way of proving that the stains on the blade were blood. The minute portions of blood had to be transferred to perfectly pure slides, and subjected to chemical reactions, and the results further studied under the microscope, with 300 diameters applied.

DR. MUNDERF'S INTERVIEW.

In speaking last night of the result of the analysis and his success in demonstrating the possibility of discovering whether stains on iron or steel is blood or not, Dr. Munderf said:

"The possibility of detecting the nature of old stains, supposed on circumstantial grounds to be composed of blood, is of great interest to scientists. There can be no question but that the methods now used by various observers will insure gratifying results when the conditions governing their application are at all favorable. As scientific methods they have been too long and thoroughly tested to set them aside as valueless. There are instances where their application has been used by various observers, in cases of extraordinary difficulty, not only in a way flattering to the individuals who made the proposition to them, and of what we would call. They have not notified us as yet, and even when they do this might be some hitch in the agreement. So far nothing at all has been accomplished." Mr. Schultz said that as far as one-cent fare was concerned that had not been considered and there was no grounds for the report.

ALMOST LIKE MAGIC.

"There is, indeed, something of the air of magic hanging around the means occasionally employed, in these instances, to bring the truth to light. And where the reaching of that truth depends upon some imperceptible particle coming from them, and a subject to changes that go far to destroy its characteristic shape and structure, as in instance, an old blood stain, the novelty of the task increases."

"In the examination of old blood stains, the first point of inquiry is: From what animal belonging to the great mammalian group does the spot of dried blood come? The method of care in deciding this point is evident when we bear in mind that several domestic animals have blood cells very similar in size and appearance to those of man, and hence it is imperative among them to accomplish a task that has not as yet satisfied the relentless demands of scientific precision in all cases."

In blood dissections there is a minutely another mode of procedure which may be made use of, whether the blood stain be new or old, one that is the formation by properly selected chemicals applied to the suspected substance, of certain typical crystals that are thus constructed by chemical reactions set up in the coloring matter. But if the blood crystals are exceedingly minute and are known as haematin crystals, and for their detection require the use of the microscope. But if the blood stain happens to be old and deposited as a simple speck of discoloration, in no wise resembling blood, on the blade of a knife, the difficulty in the way of the discharge of the task are increased. It is a well known fact that blood deposited on iron and steel, will undergo changes that prevent the formation of even haematin crystals, and hence leaving the worker little or no chance of resolving the speck into blood.

ONE OF THE TESTS.

"In order to solve a question as to a certain point, discoloration on the blade of a large blade of a dark handled pen-knife, placed for that purpose in my hands, with the statement that it was the knife of a suicide. With great care and the use of the microscope quantity of debris was obtained from the discolored spots, transferred to perfectly clean glass slides and submitted to the proper chemical tests. The first two experiments failed. The third experiment, submitted to some changes in the matter of the blood with the haematin crystals under my observation. This blood contained in its midst three hairs cut short off by a razor, showing that the suicide had probably been recently shaved. The knife was placed in my hands for examination by Captain Stewart and Inspector McKelvy, and they stated that it had been used on himself by Coffey. The knife answered the description of the one found in Coffey's cell. There were a few stains on the blade, and upon the suggestion of Inspector McKelvy the knife was placed in the hands of Dr. Munderf for an examination."

FUTURE HOME OF THE DISPATCH.

A Model Modern Newspaper Establishment Now in Process of Construction on Diamond Street—The Work Being Rapidly Pushed.

This cut, made by the Pittsburg Photo-Engraving Company from a preliminary drawing furnished by James T. Steen, the architect, will give some idea of the building now being erected upon the property on Diamond street, immediately adjoining the building on the corner of Smithfield street, now occupied by THE DISPATCH business office. The building will be of cut stone, entirely fireproof, and fitted up with every necessity and convenience for the publication of a newspaper to-day. The pressrooms, in half-basement, will occupy an area of over 4,500 square feet, and will be filled with the most improved presses and apparatuses. The second floor will be given over to the editorial and reporter staff of the paper, with large stereotyping rooms in the rear, and the entire third floor will be used as composing room. In the construction of this building, compactness has been aimed at, and it is expected that thereby much time—that important factor in newspaper work—will be saved, all the departments being so conveniently situated.

Kelevy, and they stated that it had been used on himself by Coffey. The knife answered the description of the one found in Coffey's cell. There were a few stains on the blade, and upon the suggestion of Inspector McKelvy the knife was placed in the hands of Dr. Munderf for an examination.

NOTHING BUT TALK SO FAR.

The Mt. Oliver and Suburban Railways Not Yet Consolidated.

A report was erroneously circulated yesterday that a conference was to take place in the afternoon between the directors of the Suburban Rapid Transit Railway Company and those of the Mt. Oliver Incline Railway Company with a view to consolidation. The former runs out the Brownsview road to Carrick, and the latter connects the incline with Mt. Oliver and Allentown. When Mr. C. J. Schultz, President of the Suburban Rapid Transit Railway, was seen by a reporter, he said: "It is also reported. We have not been notified of any meeting, and have not seen any of the Suburban people for a week."

Mr. Joseph Keeling, one of the heaviest stockholders in the company, then said: "The suburban people have made several propositions to us, but we have rejected them. Finally we made a proposition to them and of what we would call. They have not notified us as yet, and even when they do this might be some hitch in the agreement. So far nothing at all has been accomplished."

Colonel Snodden Presents the President With a Historical Case.

Seymour L. Rau, a young Republican politician of the Quaker City, is stopping at the Duquesne. He feels proud over the fact that last Thursday he presented President Harrison with a historical case as a gift from Colonel A. Loudon Snodden, the United States Minister to Greece. The case was made out of the osken yolk that held the belt on Independence Hall in 1776. Colonel Snodden had it neatly carved and polished, and a beautiful gold head put on it with an inscription giving a short history of the stick.

Mr. Rau exhibits an autograph letter from the President, in which he acknowledges the receipt of the stick, and desires him to higher rate. It has also been quietly cutting rates. "It is done of course by verbal agreement, and nothing ever appears in writing on the Inter-State Commerce Commission could act."

It is thought rather funny by some that freight for Omaha should be taken by way of Cairo, many miles out of the route, especially when the published rates are supposed to be higher.

IN AMERICA ONCE MORE.

Two Well-Known Pittsburgers to Arrive Home From Europe This Morning.

Henry Laughlin, of Jones & Laughlin, and Dr. T. M. McKenna, a well-known Penn avenue physician, will arrive in Pittsburg this morning from Europe. They landed in New York yesterday. Both gentlemen have been in Europe since last summer.

Much of the time was spent in the South of France. Then Mr. Laughlin went to Paris and Dr. McKenna went to London and took a special train to the study of the microscope. It was in the study of the microscope that he discovered the cause of the disease. He studied there for three months.

Local Shippers Object to Some Freight Rates.

A Meeting of Pittsburg Freight Agents to be Held To-morrow—Little Change in Rates Expected—Some Western Roads Quietly Cutting.

The Pittsburg Freight Agents' Committee will meet to-morrow morning, to arrange for the new lake and rail rates for the upper ports. Navigation to St. Paul, Duluth, Marquette and other points in the upper iron and copper regions was resumed last week. The lakes are now free from all vestige of ice.

It is believed by the agents that the rates of last year will be restored, at least no radical change one way or the other will be made. The system of basing the rates has been changed, and this may make some difference. But it is believed that the rates will be restored, at least no radical change one way or the other will be made. PHILADELPHIA FOR HASTINGS.

The Delegation May Stand 22 for the General, 17 for Delamater.

James Reilly, a Democrat and business man of Philadelphia, passed through the city last evening en route to Chicago. In speaking of the political situation in the Quaker City, he said: "Mayor Fittler would like to stand in with Senator Quay and support his man for Governor, but he dare not do it. I have discovered lately that Quay's popularity with the people is very much on the wane, and Mayor Fittler can't afford to ignore their wishes. He aspires to be a United States Senator, and has no desire to associate with the voters."

"The attack of Lew Emory on Delamater and the disposition shown to revolt in Western Pennsylvania if the Meadville man is nominated has set the Philadelphia people to thinking. I firmly believe that if Delamater is chosen that he will not be elected."

A Republican politician from Philadelphia rebuffs in a similar manner. There are 39 delegates in the Quaker City, of which only 22 are in favor of Delamater. McManes 5. These delegates will go for Hastings, giving him a majority in Philadelphia. It is believed the delegation will stand 22 for Hastings, 17 for Delamater. Major Monmouth is said to be even more popular in the Quaker City than the Crawford Senator.

Pure Water.

The importance of having better and more healthful water for drinking and cooking purposes is attracting the attention of all who live in the more thickly settled portions of this country.

It is an established fact, which is now recognized and acknowledged by the well-informed people everywhere, that living germs taken into the system—most generally through the medium of drinking water—are the causes of such diseases as Asiatic cholera, cholera morbus, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, yellow fever, etc. Scientists, physicians and inventors have for years combined to secure some means of extracting these and kindred impurities from water without changing its chemical properties. L. Pasteur, the great savant, with the assistance of his associates, in his laboratory in Paris, France, was the first and only one to adopt a practical means to accomplish this result, by inventing the celebrated Pasteur germ-proof filter. This invention has been in practical use in Europe for three or four years, and in this country for more than two years. It has been subjected to the severest tests by physicians, chemists and medical and scientific associations, and in every case, sustained its reputation of being a perfect water filter.

It is the only filter that is sold on the broad guarantee of furnishing water about as pure as the water from the spring, and is entirely free from disease germs and all organic matter held in suspension.

MR. STAYTON SCORES.

He Makes a Home Run in the First Inning, to Wyman's Goose Egg.

THE LATTER'S PLEA A DEMURRER.

Judge Ewing, the Umpire, Orders the Mayor to Answer by Saturday.

NO TROUBLE TO GET BALLOT BOXES

In the Court of Quarter Sessions yesterday, Judge Ewing on the bench, the matter of the contested Mayorality election in Allegheny was considered. Huxley and Bennett, Mayor Wyman's attorneys, filed his answer to the contest of his election by J. Stayton. Mayor Wyman's counsel based themselves on the claim that the act under which the contest is made is unconstitutional, holding that the act of the General Assembly to reduce the charter of Allegheny and the acts amendatory of March 31, 1870, gave exclusive jurisdiction to Allegheny courts. They further held that the act of May 18, 1874, on which the petition is based and on which rests the power of the Court, is inoperative; that it does not comply with the directions of section 17, article 8, of the Constitution, and is in direct conflict with section 18 of the same article.

It was further represented that the election boxes, which the Court was asked to remove from their present abiding place, are in the possession of the Mayor of Allegheny City in plain view of the public, and in a position where it would be impossible to tamper with them unobserved; and further, that the Mayor of Allegheny is in possession of the turkey of the prison. Finally the respondent joins in the prayer of the contestant that the boxes shall be removed, as he, the Mayor of Allegheny, is in possession of the real custody of the station, and is willing to avoid even the appearance of evil.

THE ARGUMENTS MADE.

W. J. Brennan, Esq., attorney for Mr. Stayton, opened the ball by asking for the return of the ballot boxes. The case was handed to Judge Ewing, and Mr. Bennett made an argument in its support. He held that the constitution of 1873 did not repeal the special act of 1870, relating to contests, so far as it applied to Allegheny. The act of 1870 gave Allegheny City Councils exclusive jurisdiction over election contests like those presently pending in Allegheny. He changed the jurisdiction to the courts, but provided that the Legislature should by subsequent acts designate in what courts suits should be brought, and expressly specify how they should be tried, etc. The Legislature had passed an act describing what courts should be held in Allegheny, and provided a form of bringing suit, but there stopped, the only further stipulation being that the case should be tried in conformity with general law. Judge Ewing's reception of the document and argument was not particularly cheering to the incumbent or his counsel. In fact, the Mayor of Allegheny, who had a plea of non-jurisdiction. Should anyone be in the dark as to the definition of the term demurrer, it may suffice to say that it is a pleading which is made by a party to the jurisdiction of the court or the sufficiency of the measure proposed for redress—in effect, asking: "What are you going to do about it?"

PLEA OF THE DEFENSE.

Mr. Bennett held that the old law was repealed and that the new one was inoperative until made complete—in short, that there could be no trial.

Mr. Brennan and Colonel J. W. Echols unnumbered themselves to reply, but Judge Ewing saved them the trouble, stating that he was convinced that the law was valid, and made an order dismissing the plea of non-jurisdiction, and giving Mayor Wyman leave to amend his answer, by seeking the Court House for the boxes, and by filing a bill. The answer was entered yesterday, but the special plea was filed instead.

The attorneys for the contestant rely implicitly on the constitution of 1873, and the constitution, in pursuance of which the Legislature passed an act classifying contests, and in one of the four they feel confident that they will prevail.

Relative to the claim that some of the boxes would be needed to hold special elections in some wards of Allegheny, Mr. Brennan said there were in the Court House that could be borrowed for the occasion, and that there need be no expense entailed.

A Chance to Make Money.

Mr. Editor—I bought one of Griffith's machines for plating with gold, silver or nickel, and it works to perfection. No sooner had I received it than I had more spoons, knives, forks and jewelry than I could plate in a month. The first week I cleared $31.30, the first month $167.83 and I think by July 1 I will have $1,000.00 and give my farm considerable attention, too. My daughter made $27.40 in four days. Any person can get one of these machines by sending $3 to W. H. Griffith & Co., Zanesville, O., or can obtain circulars by addressing them. You can learn to use the machine in one hour. As this is my first lucky streak, I give my experience, hoping others may be benefited as much as I have been. Yours truly,

A PROFITABLE SORROW.

West Bellevue Borough Bringing Forth Fruits Meet for Reputance—Sun and Wind at Work, Also—Needs of Good Roads, and Their Economy.

Some months ago West Bellevue, or at least a portion of its citizens, thought it better to abandon a boundary road than keep a sidewalk in repair, and a fence was set so as to destroy the walk. This interfered with the comfort of a good many people contiguous, and a colored man carried the matter into Court. It was suspected that N. W. Shafer, Esq., had headed a party who had secured the African's entrance into the woodpile. The borough was disposed to fight the matter to the end, but has found it envolved with great pocket peril.

Some time ago the sidewalk fell, and three women came near being killed, and one woman wants the borough to say what it proposes to do to compensate her for a broken leg.

It seems to have dawned on the borough council that, though it is rather late to lock the door, it had better be locked late than never, and though the cause of preventive has not been applied in time, a part of the pound of cure may be saved by action now. Accordingly, orders have been issued for the repair of the walk, and those who have been complaining are felicitating themselves that they may soon have a walk which they can use without danger of leg or neck fracture.

It is admitted that the condition of the highways in a country is the gauge of its civilization. Allegheny county does not rank high, though it be intelligent and wealthy. Pittsburg paid enormous damages for accidents on the road, before a barrier was erected on Grandview avenue to have paid its cost a score of times, and some of the townships have paid enough in this way to have built several miles of macadamized roads.

The sun and wind are at present the best roadmakers to be found in this section. The mud is drying so rapidly that in a few weeks the late misery will be forgotten, and like the Arkansas man with his leaky roof, many people will not awake to the need of action until the fall rains set in, when, as usual, the Supervisor will have spent their appropriation on mud politics, and the granger will think "swear words" on Sunday every time his buggy wheels go into a chuck-hole on the way to the sanctuary.

Machinery for Plate Glass Plants.

Mr. A. J. Sweeney, of the firm of A. J. Sweeney & Sons, made the following statement to a DISPATCH correspondent to-day: "Referring to a statement made in an interview with Mr. Hartup in THE DISPATCH, of Friday morning, I would like to say that the statement is correct. We are a large firm in the country manufacturing machinery for plate glass manufacturing, and we have built more machinery for plate glass manufacturing than the St. Louis firm has, and probably more than any other firm in the country, having built the grinding machinery and casting tables, etc., for the Standard Plate Glass Works, at Butler, Pa., for the Howard Glass Works, at Hazleton, Pa., and for the Allegheny Glass Works, at Cochrans station, Pa., and the grinding tables for the Diamond Plate Glass Company, at Kokomo, Ind."

"We have ample facilities for the building of the machinery of any kind which would be needed in the erection and operation of plate glass manufacturing plants."

KEECH'S

FURNITURE TRADE!

Has been large beyond all expectations this spring. Every day shows a big increase in our sales, and this right in the face of the bitter complaints about poor business on the part of many furniture dealers. Logic offers but one argument to account for this state of affairs, and here it is in plain Anglo-Saxon: Our Superior Goods, Our Matchless prices. We will keep right on, too, to supply the Housekeepers of Pittsburg with Furniture of all kinds at from 20 to 25 PER CENT BELOW ALL COMPETITION.

PARLOR SUITES,

Library Suites, Bed Room Suites, Dining Room Suites, Folding Beds, Bed Lounges, Mattresses, Bedding, Sofas and Divans, Cabinets, Secretaries, Office Furniture, Odd Parlor Chairs, Center Tables, Dining Room Chairs, Extension Tables, Book Cases, Chiffoniers, Wardrobes, Hall Stands.

KEECH'S

CARPET BUSINESS

Has been unusually lively this spring. So large, indeed, have been our sales that they would have left nothing but empty shelves in every other house in our line in this city, but in our immense stock the effect is hardly noticeable. There is nothing old, nothing shoddy, nothing shabby in our Carpet Room, but everything looks as fresh as a daisy, as lovely as a rose. This is the result of our quick sales and our consequently continuously changing stocks. The same also may be truthfully said about our Drapery Department. We have

BODY BRUSSELS,

Tapestry Brussels, Gobelins, Velvets, Moquettes, Ingrains, Three-Plys, Rag Carpets, Matting, Oil Cloths, Linoleums, Mats and Rugs, Lace Curtains, Plush Curtains, Chenille Curtains, Portieres, Window Shades, Lambrequins, Curtain Poles.

REFRIGERATORS.

We have calroads of them, and each single one is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction. Further, they all have the latest cooling and ice saving appliances, which in itself is quite a reason why you should buy from us. Other merchandise to be found in our House Furnishing Goods Department are:

Ice Cream Freezers,

Water Coolers, Tinware, Wooden Ware, Stoves, Ranges, Queensware, Crockery, Lamps, Cutlery, Silverware, Bric-a-brac.

BABY CARRIAGES.

If a count of our Baby Carriages to be taken the result would undoubtedly show that we show more than double (probably treble) the number and variety displayed at any other house in this city. But, what is still more important, we show none but thoroughly reliable goods and name bottom prices.

IN OUR CLOAK DEPARTMENT

We now show a beautiful variety of Spring Wraps, Spring Jackets, Spring Capes, while in our Clothing Department we exhibit a handsome line of Men's Spring Suits and Men's Spring Overcoats.
