

INGALLS HAS IDEAS

On Almost Every Subject Which He is Not Afraid to Express.

ALL'S FAIR IN WAR AND POLITICS.

Cleveland Will Once Again be the Democratic Nominee.

CONGRESSMEN ARE PAID ENOUGH NOW

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, April 12.—Messrs. W. L. Crown and David Lewesley, the clever Washington correspondents of the New York World, aided and abetted by a United States Senator, have secured something entirely unique in the way of an interview. Senator Ingalls is a hard man to interview. Some months ago Lewesley endeavored to talk to him, but the Senator would talk on nothing but shaving and shaving soap. In the most charming manner, innocently mentioning a particular brand of soap.

Lewesley dished up the interview verbatim, and the next the Senator heard of it was a full-page advertisement by the soap manufacturers giving the interview and a portrait of Ingalls shaving himself. The "check" of the thing endeared Lewesley to the Senator, and within the last week he has not only permitted the young man to interview him on nearly every subject under the sun, but posed for about a score of photos for use in illustration, placing himself in all manner of elegant and characteristic attitudes.

SHOCKING HIS COLLEAGUES.

The liberal use the able Senator from Kansas has allowed the World men to make of him for to-morrow's edition, will certainly shock the dignity of the Senate as it never has been shocked before. Following are specimens clips of the interview. Of the destiny of the United States he says: Our destiny is continental. The Monroe doctrine is written on every map of the United States. The tendency to absorption is irresistible. The process will be peaceful, but our Northern boundary must be the Arctic circle, and our Southern the Isthmus canal.

OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION HE HAS THIS OPINION:

Harrison's administration has been much more successful than Cleveland's was at the end of his first year. Cleveland satisfied nobody, and was openly and transparently denounced by his party organs. It is a great mistake for a President to suppose that by neglecting his friends he can propitiate his enemies. Cleveland got no support from the Republican party by allowing Republicans to remain in office, and he alienated many Democrats. The most formidable error of Harrison is in regarding himself as bound to follow a previous precedent. Cleveland saw his blunder a year too late to enable him to recover. Most men are human, and prefer that reform should be tried on their enemies rather than on themselves, and if President Harrison acts on this line he will have no trouble. It is too early to predict what the verdict will be on the present administration. Two years hence will be soon enough. He has had a rocky time so far, but has acquitted himself with dignity, courage and prudence. His temperament is dispassionate, and he is not sympathetic nor responsive, but his ideals are high, and I am confident he will grow constantly in public estimation and approval.

A PESSIMISTIC VIEW.

Here is a pessimistic view of Government and politics which will certainly get the Senate in hot water. With the possible exception of the two terms of Washington there has not been an absolutely free and impartial expression of the deliberate will of the people in any Presidential election since the foundation of the Government. I doubt if there ever will be. Patronage will allure the ambitious, force will gild the timid, demagogues will gild the credulous, fraud will rob the weak, money will buy the mercenary. The purification of politics is an iridescent dream. Government is force. Irresistible battie for supremacy. Parties are the armies. The disquietude and the colder rule have in a political campaign. The object is success. To win the antagonists and exploit the party in power is the purpose. The Republicans and Democrats are as irreconcilably opposed to each other as were Grant and Lee in the Wilderness. They use callosities instead of guns, but the struggle is an unrelenting and desperate one, and the result sought for the same. In war it is lawful to deceive the adversary, to hire Hessians, to purchase mercenaries, to mutilate, to kill, to destroy. The commander who lost a battle through the activity of his moral nature would be the derisive and best of history. This modern cant about the corruption of politics is fatiguing in the extreme.

A DEVOUT AGE.

Of the religion which is above churches and creeds the Senator says: The age is essentially devout and religious. The mind has been largely emancipated from superstition and from creeds and has entered upon an excursion that cannot be foretold, but that is certain to be momentous. The authority of the church has undoubtedly been greatly weakened and impaired, but this does not imply that religion is retrograding. As the age advances it clothes God with higher attributes. The gloomy and inextinguishable God of the Puritans has disappeared. He has been succeeded by a Supreme Being of infinite mercy, tenderness and goodness; a law-abiding, law-abiding legislator, subject to limitations and restraints imposed by his own perfection. There was a profound truth in the declaration of Oliver that if there were no God it would be necessary for man to invent one. This is a dip-pant and irreverent, perhaps, but true, God is indispensable. Man perceives this, and the higher his development the more distinct is his perception. The popularity of Ingalls and his school is not an indication of public indifference to the religious spirit of the time, its receptivity, its earnestness, and does not require unusual facilities for knowledge about what can never be known. No age has ever been so profoundly religious as this. The search for eternal truth and another Christ will come and another revelation be made.

ALL THEY ARE WORTH.

It is often remarked that Congressmen are very poorly paid. Senator Ingalls is of the opinion that $5,000 a year is about as much as the average Congressman is worth. He says: It is impossible for the Government to compete with private employers in compensation for special services. Legislation is not an exact science, and does not require unusual facilities nor extraordinary attainments. The ordinary business of Congress can be successfully conducted by the consideration of the lawyer. It affords opportunity for the exercise of the highest powers, but good, solid common sense and industry are the essentials. The Government should only pay what is necessary to secure such services as are requisite for the performance of its work. Salaries should be sufficient for decent support. Politics has been the favorite pursuit of men of ambition and energy in all ages, and will probably continue to be for all time to come, but no one is compelled to dedicate himself to the public service. It is voluntary, and if the conditions are unsatisfactory there is no obstacle to retirement. While it would be agreeable to receive more money, my impression is that if salaries were doubled expenses would be doubled, and the result would be about the same. Probably a majority of both Houses receive as much now as they could care in any other capacity for the same amount of work.

Being asked if he thought Mr. Cleveland would be nominated by the Democrats in 1892, the Senator answered: Oh, yes, Mr. Cleveland will be the nominee in 1892, even if New York should be divided or split. The States are not so numerous. He will be first and the rest nowhere. Democrats never had such an ideal exponent and representative. He is a clear, hearty, ponderous, wooden-plated, laboriously written out and committed to memory, his stolid and shallow sense and industry are the essentials. He is patriotic, and what he calls his "solemn sense of duty," impress the average Democrat with a feeling of reverence like that which a "Chinese laundryman feels for his joss."

OLD ESTABLISHED STORE,

COR. TENTH STREET AND PENN AVENUE, ap13

THE WORLD IS KAUFMANN'S MARKET.

THE BOUNTEOUS PRODUCTS OF BOTH HEMISPHERES ARE DISPLAYED IN THEIR MAMMOTH STORES.

IN THEIR endeavors to supply their customers with the best possible goods for the least possible money, Kaufmanns search and ransack the fashion centers of the globe. The Jobbing and Importing Houses of the East, whence all other Pittsburg dealers draw their supplies, play no role in Kaufmanns' commercial career. Why should they? Why should Kaufmanns deal with middlemen and pay middlemen's profits. If they were hampered financially and lacking in enterprise they might. But, backed by lots of cash and grit, Kaufmanns choose to be their own Jobbers and Importers. The middleman's profit they thus save is given to their customers. See! Chief among the many countries which have contributed their quota to Kaufmanns' gigantic spring stock are the following:

England. From the land of "Roast Beef" we have some of our finest Dress Suits and Spring Overcoats: West of England Cloths, Crombie's Goods, Carr's Meltons, Bradford Cassimeres, Huddersfield Worsteds, Covert Cloths and many more, cut into the most fashionable garments. Prices of these Suits and Spring Overcoats range from $20 to $30. Then, John Bull supplies us with Mackintosh Waterproof Coats, which we sell from $15 up; further, with Hats (Victor Jay & Co., Christy, Martin, etc.), the Derbys which are so extensively worn by young men, at $2.50, $3 and $3.50. Last, but not least, we handle piles of English Neckwear: Silk Puffs, Tecks and 4-in-hands. They're very popular, too. Prices, 50c and 75c.

Ireland. From the land of "The Shamrock" we have scores of good things, all of which bring the brightness of the beautiful Isle with them. We have Suits made of real Irish Blarney and Shannon Tweeds, and such Suits! They'll wear like leather. Among them are numerous handsome mixtures that look as if they might be full of wit. Prices for these Suits: $18 to $27. Then we have hundreds of first-class Suits turned out from woollens woven by the combination of looms which that sturdy son of the Green Isle, Michael Davitt, represented during his last American trip. (In this connection we're glad to note the recent revival of "wool" interests in Ireland, a fact which we have from undoubted authority.) Irish Linen! We have it in fine, beautiful Handkerchiefs and lots of other furnishings; and Irish Linen, you know, is the best in the world.

Scotland. The land of the "Thistle" turns out goods that are dependable. Scotch Cheviots, Bannockburns, Heathers and Scotchies effects, in striking and quiet colors. What Suits these Scotch goods make, and how well they wear. Nor are the prices very high. Why, we sell Men's Scotch Cheviot Suits, in light and dark-plaids and mixtures, at $15, $18, $20, $23 and $25. Boys' Scotch Cheviot Suits, fashionable materials, cut in the latest styles, at $3, $4, $5, $6, $7 and $8 for Short-Pant Suits, sizes 4 to 14; and $7, $10, $12, $15 and $17 for Long-Pant Suits, sizes 10 to 19. Of course, our competitors who buy from the jobbers and importers can't name such low prices. Then we have beautiful Scotch Kilt Suits for little Boys, ages 2 to 6, at $2, $3, $4, $5, $6 and $7. Beautiful Highland Plaids in our Custom Tailoring Department, all direct from the Scotch looms.

Germany. The strong and sturdy land of stability, where flows the beautiful Rhine. We have lots of durable and tough goods from "Fatherland" that wear like a German Nail. Men's Suits made of F. and H. Worsteds, Schnabels Goods, Aix-la-Chapelle (Aachen) Tricots, etc., in dark, genteel colorings. Prices of these Suits: $15 to $25. Direct from Berlin, the great fashion rival of Paris, we receive thousands of Ladies' and Misses' Jackets, Cloth Capes and Long Garments, made of excellent and fashionable materials: Twills, Broadcloths, etc. Here are prices as only Kaufmanns can name: Berlin Jackets from $4 up to $15. Berlin Capes from $2 up to $6. Berlin Newmarkets from $5 up to $20. But this is not all. Chemnitz (Saxony) supplies us with Half Hose, 15c per pair up. Crefeld (Prussia) contributes Silk Scarfs of every description; 39c up. Bielefeld Linen Collars at 15c; Cuffs at 25c.

France. The gay city of Paris is still the home of that fickle Goddess—Fashion. The prettiest and most gorgeous garments in our Cloak department have been imported from the French capital. We show French Spring and Summer Wraps in a truly beautiful and very extensive variety, lace, silk, cloth, etc., at $6, $9, $10, $15, $18 and $20. French Shoulder Capes, made in a most artistic and tasteful manner, all kinds and styles, from $2 up to $20. French Dresses for Ladies, Misses and Children, made by the most celebrated fashion originators. We sell them at astoundingly low prices. French Corsets: Several of the best makes are here. Then a goodly portion of our Children's Clothing comes from the land of Lafayette; further, Men's Wide Wale Suits; also Kid Gloves, etc. There's no discount on French taste.

America. The "Land of the Free", etc., is last, but in reality, always first of all with us. The big bulk of our choice stock is manufactured within Uncle Sam's domain. Textile fabrics from New York and New England equal and in some cases even excel those of Europe. The same rule holds good of Hats, Furnishing Goods, Trunks, Satchels and Shoes—particularly Shoes. We now show Men's Suits, made of good Domestic Cassimeres, Worsteds, Cheviots, Wide Wales, etc., at $7, $10, $12 and $15. Boys' Suits, in same materials, from $2 to $8. Ladies' Spring Wraps, Jackets and Capes, made after the latest French designs by New York manufacturers, from $2 up. Good American Jerseys from 49c up. We needn't mention prices of our Shoes, Hats or Furnishing Goods. You know that America makes the best—that we have the best—that we sell it at bottom prices.
