SCOURING THE WARD FOR SIGNATURES.

classes the rates were reduced 10 cents, and or the last three classes 5 cents per 100 pounds below the all-rail or winter rates.

While in the city, Mr. Shane, who is still: Pittsburger, was interviewed in regard to the statement published in different papers last The Thirteenth warders' protest against being left out of the License Court push has week to the effect that the New York, Lake reached a stage in which the Honorable Erie and Western was carrying sugar in car-load lots from New York to this city for 12 cents, or 3 cents less than the tariff rates. This Court which made that section of the city an arid waste, unmoistened by spirituous liquors, is respectfully, and by resolution would be a violation of the inter-State law; that is, if it was true, but it is not, Mr. Shane requested, to rescind its action, and confer the boon of liceuse upon a suffering community. The adjourned meeting was held last night in the Center avenue schoolhouse, that is, if it was true, but it is not. Mr. Shane denied positively that his road was cutting rates and exhibited the proof to show that he knew whereof he spoke.

When the publication first appeared that his road was cutting rates, Mr. Shane wired for a copy of the original manifest, made in New York, and he had it with him in his valise yesterday. The copy of the manifest read as follows: "Way bill No. 4248, car N. Y., L. E. & W. No. 22,166, from Jersey City to Pittsburg via Youngstown and the Lake Erie Railroad, January 28, 100 barrels of sugar marked H. & E., weight 35,177 pounds, consigned to S. S. Marvin & Co., rate 12 cents, lighterage 3 cents, freight $42,21, lighterage $10,55." with Mr. C. Thompson as chairman, and about 80 taxpayers present. The Chairman thought that at least three saloons were necessary in the ward. A motion was made by Secretary Lloyd that a committee weight 35,177 pounds, consigned to S. S. Marvin & Co., rate 12 cents, lighterage $2 cents, freight $42 21, lighterage $10 55."

"As you will observe by the copy of the manifest." Said Mr. Shane, "the rate including the lighterage was 15 cents. I think the trouble was caused by a clerk in the Lake Erre effice, who did not make the matter biain in the freight bill. It is customary, however, to deduct the lighterage from a freight notice. The lighterage is charged on account of the refluery from which the sugar was shipped being on the New York side of the river. In making out manifests it is the custom to show the charge separate from the freight charges on the bill. It there is a fight going on in the sugar business it is between Claus Spreckles and the Sugar Trust. The railroad companies are not in it at all. Whoever wrote the article in the first place should have known better. The cause of such a furore being raised about the matter is on account of our line being a long road into Pittsburg. It is not an unusual thing for us to get shipments from New York and bring them to this city via Youngstown. Every day we have them and we get a good share of the sugar business to this city. I can take you over to the Lake Erie office and show you that the through rate was 15 cents. The divisions of the freight on the shipment were: Lighterage, $10.55; New York, Lake Erie and Western road, $33.24; Pittsburg and Lake Erie, $52.76, I do not know whether, any of the Pittsburg roads have reported the matter to the Inter-State Commission or not, and we do not care. Our way-hills are open for inspection, and I deny positively that we cut the rates."

In recard to the general outlook Mr. Shane said: "The reduction to take place on the 17th gives general satisfaction to the from manufacturers of this city. The indications are for a prosperous season, and I think there will be another boom in the iron market." on resolutions be appointed. Charles T. Rice, George H. Appleton and Robert Chambers, Jr., were appointed as the committee. While they were deliberating, addresse on the subject were in order. Emil Spahr, who was refused license, commented upon the subject at length. He said he did not believe that the Judges of License Court had said there were no fit applicants from the ward. It the Court had said that, the opinion was due to malicious informa-NO POLITICS IN IT.

People said last February that certain reopie said last February that certain people would not get a license if they did not vote a certain way, but he had not then thought they would be mean erough to do as was done. As to character some of the applicants stood head and shoulders above some of those who tried to have them knocked out.

Mr. Kinney said the ward went "west" last June and that such discrimination would only breed speak-easyism. Mr. Lloyd professed ability to get liquor anyhow if he wanted it and said that he did not like to see people compelled to play sneak to secure liquor. He said that since the refusal of licenses three new speak-easies had got into motion.

Dr. Yates remarked that a few nights ago his wife was taken very ill with cramps and nearly died because he had to go clear to Sixth street for liquor. He thought it an outrage that a ward like this should be so discriminated against, Mr. Goldman wanted any Probibitionists present fired out, but none were discovered after a careful scanning of faces.

The committee returned and reported the following petition as the result of their labors: people would not get a license if they did

"To the Honorable Judges, etc.; "The undersigned, all of whom are citizens of the United States and residents of the Thirteenth ward, Pittsburg, do respectfully petition your honorable court to reconsider the cases of the several applicants for license to sell liquor at retail in the Thirteenth ward, and to grant license to those applicants whom your Honors shall esteem most worthy of the same.

"Your petitioners have no interest in this matter further than a desire to promote the best interests of the community in which they live, and your petitioners believe that several licensed houses in the ward are an absolute necessity for the following reasons, which they respectfully submit to your Honorable Court: The undersigned, all of whom are citizens of REASONS FOR THE REQUEST. "First-The Thirteenth ward is one of the largest wards in the city, both geographically and in population. During the last four years the vote of its population has completely changed and three or four licensed houses are changed and three or four licensed houses are, in the opinion of your petitioners, absolutely necessary to accommodate the citizens of the ward and public in general.

"Second—During the past year there were no licensed houses to sell liquor at retail in the ward, and as a result the ward has been completely overrun with places where liquor is sold illicity. illicitly.
"Third—As a result of the illicit sale of liquor, it is believed that drunkenness is much more prevalent than formerly. In addition there are no restraints on the sale of liquor to minors, habitual drunkards and that class of men whose families are suffering for the necessaries of life. Fourth-It has been a common sight during the past year, especially during the summer months, to see groups of half-grown boys drink beer on vacant lots and on the public streets and alleys, and many young men have formed habits of drinking to excess, who, on account of their minority, would not be able to get Owners of the Big Kentucky Tract.

Colonel W. W. Helm, the Louisville lawyer, who is trying to discover the heirs to a large tract of iron and coal land in Kentucky, is at the Seventh Avenue Hotel, where he will remain until Friday. The Colonel says his work has been more satisfactory of late, and he unearthed several heirs in Virginia, and a few are living in Allegheny. There will be a meeting of those interested some time this week.

of their minority, would not be able to get liquor from a properly conducted saloon.

"Fifth—It has become a practice in this ward for young men and boys to combine and buy beer and whisky in large quantities, and drink it in clubrooms especially procured for that purpose, both on week days and the Sabbath.

"Sixth—Your petitioners believe that no one conversant with the facts will dispute the statement that there has been more liquor sold in the Thirteenth ward (illicitly and by brewers' agents) during the past year than there in the Thirteenth ward (illicity and by brewers' agents) during the past year than there was during a similar period when the ward contained saloons, and it is confidently believed that the sale of intoxicating drinks, as at present conducted, is doing vastly more harm to the community than was ever done by the licensed saloons.

earthed several heirs in Virginia, and a few are living in Allegheny. There will be a meeting of those interested some time this week.

In speaking of his work Colonel Helm said: "It is surprising how many patents Virginia has issued on lands lying in Kentucky before the State was organized, and they are even issuing them now. The fellows who live in the mountains on unclaimed lands are natural born lawyers, and they live on law suits. It's an easy thing to swear falsely before a county judge, and the patent is obtained. Some of these patents extend back to revolutionary days, and makes it difficult to clear up the title. NO APPLICANT INDORSED. "Seventh-It is not the intention of your pe titloners, by filing this petition, to indorse any particular applicant for license, but to show to "Kentucky some day, I think, will be a good oil State. Recently they have discovered a fluid in Barren county that has the odor of the rose. The sediment when it is thrown into water bursts into flame, and it must be either potassum or sodium. At any rate it has some your Honorable Court how a large number of the citizens of the ward regard this matter, and your petitioners believe that should your Honorable Court reconsider its action in reference to the Thirteenth ward applicants and grant several licenses our ward will be able to show a better record during the coming year or sobriety and good order than it has during the past year. "Should your Honorable Court reconsider its

of their license."

A hearty approval greeted the resolutions, and committees were appointed to canvass each voting district of the ward to secure signatures in the shape of a petition to the License Court. It was also resolved to secure an attorney to present the petitions. No time will be lost in reaching their Honors with the petitions. nterest allowed at 4 per cent.

President Hunter, of Common Council, threw some doubt upon the matter last evening by an enigmatic statement that no committee had been appointed. It isknown, however, that the above names are correct. It is an open question whether the Board of Control library will be turned over to the new committee. There is a hitch in the assistant librarian patter. The Board of Control wants Librarian Benny taken care of, while a mysterious "bargain" is said to be in existence which will postpone the choice of an assistant librarian at a salary of $1,500 indefinitely. Under present arrangements there is a sum of $27.50 to expend for new books every week. An appropriation of $15,000 for the library, as indicated in the original ordinance, could not be at once diverted toward new books, as the salaries of the library employes are to come out of the annual appropriation.

THE TRUSTEES IN A DILEMMA served. Volunteering with the First City Troop of Philadelphia, Mr. Randall served faithfully in the ranks with this command in the Gettesburg compaign, so that he had justly earned the title of a comrade. Called to Congress during the exciting years of the close of the late war, and continued there on duty for a quarter of a century, Mr. Randall's every speech and vote was in accord with loyalty and love of country. All legislation now in existence in aid of the worthy defenders of the nation's flag, whether on the fields of Mexico or in defense of the Union, met his heartiest and cordial support. Mr. Randall's sturdy patriotism and independence of party was perhaps never more conspicuously exhibited than in his continued advocacy of and voting for the passags of the soldiers' dependent bill in the has Congress over the Presidental veto; as also by his abic and successful efforts to place upon the pension relis of the nation the names of the widows of Generals Grant and Logau.

NEW FIELDS FOR IT The Westinghouse Co. Going Into the Electric Road Business.

Encampment No. 1, of the Union Veteran Legion, the Randall Club and the ITS CAPACITY TO BE INCREASED. A Sturdy Competitor for the Edison and

Thomson-Houston Trust. NOT ENOUGH PLANTS IN THE COUNTRY

It was stated more than a year ago in THE DISPATCH, but vigorously denied at the time, that the Westinghouse Electric Company was planning to go into the street railway business. The plans are about to be materialized, and in a short time another industry will be added to Pittsburg's big list. Just what the plans of the company are, even the highest officials are not at liberty to say, and the particular reason why the company will begin operations at once is not known. Whether, too, a new company will be organized for the purpose, or how much the capital stock of the present company will be increased, are questions which have not been determined. "This much you can say," said a high afficial of the electric company yesterday; there is more money in the railway business than in any other branch of the electric industry. The demand for electric appliances for street roads is enormous, and the production does not begin to equal it. There are practically only two companies, the Sprague and Thomson-Houston, in the business. TO BEGIN AT ONCE. "We will begin to make the motors at once. To do this our capacity will have to be increased. Whether or no we will make the appliances at the works in Newark, or here, or build a new plant at Wilmerding, has not been determined, but in any case Pittsburg will be benefited, and we will give employment to a large number of additional men."

"But the supposition is general," ventured the interviewer, "that the Thomson-Houston and Sprague Companies have combined with a capital stock of $50,000,000. Wouldn't it take some cash to fight so much meneral." capital stock of $50,000,000. Wouldn't it take some cash to fight so much money?"

"Oh, no," he replied. "You know a flea can worry an elephant; besides I am not sure that these companies have joined their forces."

The fact remains, however, that the Edison and Thomson-Houston Companies have combined with the capitalization already given. The combination was effected more on account of the railway feature than the light business. The Edison Company controls the Sprague patents, and the Thomson-Houston Company has its own patents. These are the only two companies in the electric road business, and they found they often ran counter to each other. To avoid jangling the big trust was formed, and it is now definitely known that the Westinghouse Company was never even asked to join.

PLEASED WITH THE OUTLOOK. The officials of the latter concern are pleased with the outlook. The trust leaves them only one firm to fight rather than two, and the Pittswith the outlook. The trust leaves th burg people feel sure they hold the key to the burg people feel sure they hold the key to the situation. This is the principal reason why the local company is going into the railway business so promptly. There is no time to lose, and the demand for a storage battery, necessarily doing away with the overhead wires, is on the increase. The Westinghouse Company has throughly tested the Tesla motor, and it is satisfied.

Mr. George Westinghouse, Jr., has been in the city for a week or more making his arrangements. At one time it was thought a car establishment would be built, but the probabilities are that some of the existing carmakers will get the contracts. The Westinghouse Company will furnish the electric appliances only, and as it doesn't cost much to make a motor or put down rails in a city, the prospect is that in the near future even small towns will boast of their electric roads. Within a year the boom in the business has been unprecedented, THE DOCTORS MUST DECIDE.
