In to-day's debate in the Under Haust the Free Conservative speakers declared their intention of meeting some of the demands of the Centerists. An article which appeared in the Freisinge Zeitung from Herr Richter, leader of the Germans attacking Prince Bismarck, has raised a crop of corcurrent rumors which are of absorbing interest here. The Freisings affirmed that the ex-Chancellor, unable to support three weeks of political abstinence, summoned the editor of the Hamburger Nachrichten, who dined at Friedrichsruhe on Tuesday, and that

COACHED BY PRINCE BISMARCK.

the Nachrichten made a series of attacks upon Chancellor Von Caprivi, sneering at his speech in the Landtag and advising the Deputies to maintain a loyal adherence to the ex-Chancellor's policy. The Freisinge inferred that Prince Bismarck meant war through the press and Parliament against General Von Caprivi, thereupon the Post (Conservative) de-nonuced the article as insulting to the Prince, denies that the Nachrichten is inspired and expressed regret that that journal is in sympathy with Bismarek. The truth is that Bismarck summoned th editor of the Nachrichten to consult in regard to the getting of a capable literary man and a reliable confident to assist him in ar ranging and compiling his memoirs. The day after the interview, Dr. Lucanus, Chief of the Civil Cabinet of the Emperor, was sent to Friedrichsruhe.

A CURIOUS COINCIDENCE.

This coincidence gave rise to the report that Lucanus was charged to demand the delivery of documents relating to the Emperor's doings at the time of the death of his father. The North German Gazette announce that Bismarck's commission as a cavalry general has been made out in the name of Prince von Bismarck, Duke of Lauenberg. The ex-Chancellor has not yet used the ducal title. The subscribers to the fund for a national monument to Bismarck include everybody of note in politics, finance and society.

The bill avers that the contracts of June 8 and June 17, 1887, are complete in them-selves, and were so at the time, and that said agreement to arbitrate was at all times regarded as continuing. The defendant denies that since the execution of this agreement the Reading has endeavored faithfully to carry out the provisions. TWO MINE ACCIDENTS. o that the Reading will get a western c nection at any cost. There is, therefore, no object in letting the South Penn be abandoned when this will serve no purpose.

ALL ARE DELIGHTED.

Information received by Mr. Baer from the southern tier of counties, through which the South Penn is already graded, says that the neonle there hail its advent with delight and are ready to give all possible en-couragement. It will also stimulate railroad operations in the East. The Pennsylvania now has a line running from Phil-adelphia through Reading to the coal regions. The recent completion of the Allentown terminal, at the cost of $1,000,000, gives the Reading two routes from New York to this city. One by way of Philadelphia and the other by way of Allentown, and from this city they take the same line at Harrisburg to join the projected South Penn. Since the revival of South Penn talk, the Pennsylvania has its engineers surveying for an opposition road to be built from this city to ebanon, and thence to Harrisburg. REASONS FOR CONFIDENCE.

Railroad men here have every confidence hat the South Penn will be built. The Vanderbilts, they say, have more than a few millions invested in the bonds of the road, hances are he will lose the sight of both of which bring them no return, and they and the Reading, under Corbin's management, are very friendly. The Beech Creek Rail-road, which is owned by the Vanderbilts, and the Reading, are worked almost like one system. They have their representatives on the South Penn Board, and there is a strong, overwhelming sentiment all over Eastern Pennsylvania that there should be a com peting line to Pittsburg from this region.

ncidents of a Day in Two Cities Condense for Ready Reading.

THE funeral of Mary, wife of D. Allen, of Smithfield street, will take place from St. Paul's Cathedral, where solemn high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning. Mrs. Allen was one of the oldest residents of the city, and was well-known as a charitable and Christian woman, who had endeared herself to a large circle of friends. THE Criterion Club, of the Southside, has leased the two upper stories of the Hassel barth building, on South Twelfth street, and will fit them up beautifully. The second floor will be used as a clubroom, and the third as a eception room. HERRMANN, the prestidigitatur, will soon
