TENTH ON THE LIST.

Where Pittsburg Stands, as Compared With Other Large Cities,

IN ITS ANNUAL MORTALITY RATE.

Interesting Statistics in the Report of the Health Bureau.

THE PAST YEAR FREE FROM SCOURGE

Superintendent Thomas Baker, of the Bureau of Health, has completed his report for the year ending February 1, 1890. It includes the reports of the Register of Vital Statistics, Sanitary Inspector and the Meat and Milk Inspector, and all have been submitted to the Chief of the Department of Public Safety. The whole report of that department is now complete and ready for printing in book form.

The financial statement of the Bureau of Health shows that for the year 1889-90 it original cost. For a splendid bargain call had an appropriation of $20,000 but $2,000 at the music store of J. M. Hoffmann & had an appropriation of $39,500, but $3,000 was transferred by Councils to the Police Bureau, leaving $36,500, of which $36,498 62 was expended for the maintenance of the Health Bureau. The receipts of the bureau, turned over to the City Treasurer, were $2,377 20-considerably less than previous years, owing to the duction of the fee for cesspool permits made by the last Legislature.

A place is given in the report to the municisituated at Bedford avenue and Francis street, Thirteenth ward. There has been but little use for the building during the past year, but it is kept in first-class condition, having re-cently been repainted and partly refurnished. It is regarded as the best hospital of its kind in this State.

Among the improvements suggested for this branch of the bureau are a new ambulance wagon, the old one being nearly worn out and very cumbersome, and a couple of fire extinguishers. Mr. Baker also recommends the erection of two or more small buildings on the large hospital grounds, isolated from the big building, for the accommodation of destitute persons suffering from other infectious diseases. He states that he has had considerable trouble to provide for this class of cases, as ale trouble to provide for this class of cases, as he Department of Charities will have nothing the Department of Charities will have notating to do with them, no matter how destitute the patient may be, and the appropriation does not admit of their being taken to hospitals, even if they would accept them, which, in cases of crysipelas, is extremely doubtful. ONLY THREE OF THEM.

There have been but three cases of smallpox in the city during the year past, two of them rison's than the common ones do elsewhere. resulting fatally. One case was of an oil driller ought here suffering from a fatal type of the Allegheny. disease contracted at Petrolia. He was taken to Mercy Hospital, where he died, and the attending nurse contracted the disease and died

During the year $4,288 50 was expended in vaccinating unprotected persons by physicians appointed by the Bureau of Health with virus furnished by the same bureau, and the physicians were paid, under a State law, 50 cents for each successful vaccination. This work is done under a set of rules, one of which requires careful inquiry as to the circumstances of the person to be vaccinated to see if he is an object of charity. Mr. Baker thinks this is unnecessary and hamners the physicians, who must take son to be vaccinated to see if he is an object of charity. Mr. Baker thinks this is unnecessary and hampers the physicians, who must take oath that they have performed their duty account to be vaccinated to see if he is an object of the same of the same object of the same object oath that they have performed their duty according to all the rules.

The garbage furnace comes in for a share of notice, and its work for the year past is highly commended. Mr. Haker advocates the establishment of three such furnaces in the city, on the Southside, East End and Lawrenceville. The report of Chief Sanitary Inspector James M. McEwen, shows 8,248 buisances abated, and $145 visits made by the sanitary police to persons suffering from infectious diseases. Some very interesting figures are presented in the character of the local distribution of contagions diseases. The general impression is that the character of the local distribution of contagions diseases. The general impression is that the East End district of the city is very healthy, while the old city, comprising the first 12 wards, is very unhealthy. The figures furnished by the physicians returns, so far as contagious diseases are concerned, show the contrary to be the case. The first eight wards of the city and the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-fixth wards are shown to be the most healthy portions of the city. to be the most healthy portions of the city. The old wards are getting well sewered, and waste water and other disease-breeding matter is carried off to the river. On the Southside, the territory surrounding it very rapidly. Further up the river toward Smithfield street bridge, the formation of the land is such that most of the waste and fifth is conveyed rapidly to the river. The ordinance now pending in Councils providing that property holders shall connect with public sewers will afford great relief to all parts of the city from a

INSPECTOR M'CUTCHEON'S REPORT. The report of Meat and Milk Inspector George W. McCutcheon shows that meat, poultry, game, fish, eggs, milk, fruit and vegetables, the market value of which was estimated at $13,216 65, were condemned and confiscated as unfit for food during the year. In addition, 1,305 head of hogs, 42 head of cattle, 56 calves and 4 sheep were condemned and slaughtered. Suits were instituted and fines Right from the manufacturers. Here at The imposed against six persons for adulterating nilk, and against one person for selling diseased cattle. In concluding his report Mr. McCutcheon calls attention to the Mr. McCutcheon calls attention to the large number of slanghter houses in the city without sewer connections. Especially during the heated term they become very offensive and nuisances of the worst kind. Herecommends that all such places should be required to connect with the public sewers at once. Another source of complaint and annoyance is the existence of many dairies in the thickty-populated portions of the city. It is suggested that Councils pass an ordinance limiting the dairies to certain sparsely-settled localisies. Mr. McCutcheon further directs attention to the large number of cattle, sheep and hegs received daily at the Central stockand hegs received daily avent central stock-yards, and which should all be inspected upon arrival. This would require the presence of an inspector at the yards during at least five days in the week, which his present duties would not allow the present inspector to give. Dr. J. Guy McCandless, City Physician and Register of Vital Statistics, presents a very complete and exhaustive array of taband hogs received daily at the Central stock-Register of Vital Statistics, presents a very complete and exhaustive array of tabulated figures in his report. He congratulates the city upon the low death rate maintained during the year, notwithstanding there were special reasons for alarm, owing to the contamination of the water supply in the midst of the heated term by the Johnstown flood, and consequently to the fact that many families resorted to the use of spring water which, in most instances, was contaminated from contact with cesspools and leaking sewers.

THE CITY'S DEATH RATE.

The total number of deaths during the year was 4,286, equal to an annual death rate of 17.85 per 1,000 inhabitants (based on a population of 240,000). There were 3,335 cases of intections diseases reported during the year, with 678 deaths, equal to 15,8 per cent of the total mortality. This was labs per cent of the total mortality. This was an increase over the previous year, but less than any preceding for 15 years. They were located as follows: Old City, 775 cases and 182 deaths; East End, 183 cases and 319 deaths. Measles caused 66 deaths, being about the average of the past 16 years, prevailing most extensively in the East End. Whooping cough caused 57 deaths, being about the average of the past 16 years, prevailing mostly on the Southside. Diphtheria caused fewer deaths than for the past 16 years.
