

The Dispatch. ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 8, 1856. Vol. 34, No. 72.—Entered at Pittsburgh Postoffice, November 16, 1887, as second-class matter. Business Office—Corner Smithfield and Diamond Streets. News Rooms and Publishing Office—75, 77 and 79 Diamond Street. Eastern Advertising Office, Room 4, Tribune Building, New York.

TERMS OF THE DISPATCH. POSTAGE FREE IN THE UNITED STATES. ALLY DISPATCH, One Year, $1.00. WEEKLY DISPATCH, One Year, $1.00. WEEKLY DISPATCH, One Year, $1.00. WEEKLY DISPATCH, One Year, $1.00.

PITTSBURGH, MONDAY, APRIL 21, 1890. THE BUSINESS OFFICE OF THE DISPATCH has been removed to Corner of Smithfield and Diamond Streets.

EXTENDING TRANSIT SCHEMES. The rivalry between the traction roads...

MR. CLEVELAND'S JUSTIFICATION. It is editorially stated by the New York World that it finds upon investigation that Mr. Cleveland did not utter the coarse and vituperative parts of the interview...

PITTSBURGH'S VITAL STATISTICS. The vital statistics furnished by the Health Bureau contain some points which might be made instructive and valuable.

THE SILVER COMPLICATIONS. The silver question has been pending for some time and while there is no material advance toward framing any definite policy...

QUALITY, NOT COUNTRY. The testimony of Mr. Powderly with regard to the importation of foreign workmen, the other day, contained one singular feature.

A SURPRISED IMMIGRANT. He is present with a $5 Gold Piece by the Superintendent of Immigration.

THE BLUE RIBBON BRIGADE. All Iowa is going wild over Francis Murphy and his blue ribbons, and the great temperance apostle is being dined and exalted because he has induced 20,000 people to sign the pledge...

A SOUTHERN PROJECT. A project is on foot for the Southern States to get up next year an exposition in one of the Northern cities, showing the products of Southern mines, factories and farms.

A VITAL ADMISSION. With regard to the admission of the Republicans to the Montana Senate...

ships, the Philadelphia Press, in commenting upon the vote of the Senate on Wednesday, indulges in unexpected, and what will be considered by some of its friends reprehensible, frankness. It says "neither side had a perfectly clear title," and then proceeds to argue at length that the title of the Republican claimants was not so badly damaged in the squabble of the Montana grabbing for political advantage as the title of their opponents.

It is one of the indications of the way in which judgment can be blinded by party interest, that so intelligent and longest journal as the Press can think that argument satisfactory, or conceive it possible to award high political position to claimants whose title is in any respect defective.

THE BOYCOTT OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

WE observe that some of our esteemed contemporaries making superior comments on the fact that the stars of Italian opera are very fond of money. Singular, is it not? The citizens of this country being wholly above all that.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

PERSONAL Gossip About Noted Authors—A Frenchman, French of name and of birth, is in the process of being featured in the Popular Magazine.

MRS. MAGARET BELMONT, author of "John Ward, Preacher," and of "Florida Days," and who has a serial story now running in the course of the Boston Herald, is thus described in a paragraph from The Epoch.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE CRITIC'S REVIEW. Personal Gossip About Noted Authors—A Frenchman, French of name and of birth, is in the process of being featured in the Popular Magazine.

MRS. MAGARET BELMONT, author of "John Ward, Preacher," and of "Florida Days," and who has a serial story now running in the course of the Boston Herald, is thus described in a paragraph from The Epoch.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE BOYER OF ENGLAND BY PORTUGAL appears to have resulted in Portugal keeping three-fourths of its stock of port wine, while the British keep on drinking manufactured port, and never know the difference.

THE NEXT CANDIDATE. Evidence of Rapid Destruction of President McKinley's Name—Representative of the People, Not of the Politicians, Wanted as Chief Magistrate.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—It seems it is never too early to begin a canvass for another Presidential nomination as soon as one candidate is past. Harrison and the President six months before Republicans began to predict that he would not be in the field for the nomination in 1892, though nothing had occurred on which to base such a prediction.

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD. Some of the Features in Yesterday's Nominations Edition of The Dispatch.

Yesterday's DISPATCH was a hummer. It consisted of 20 pages, and contained all the telegraphic news from all parts of the world up to the very latest moment of going to press.

Candidates Already Disposed of. The determination to kill Cleveland inspires the most novel methods.

An Example of Political Amnesia. The determination to kill Cleveland inspires the most novel methods.

An Innovation Proposed. What is the use of sticking to the old crowd?

JOHNSTOWN OFFICIALS ELECTED. The New Police Force to be Composed Entirely of Democrats.

CLEVELAND SET RIGHT. The World Decries That He Used the Language Credited to Him.

AMERICANS ON PARADE. The Mechanics Arranging the Details of the Fourth of July Celebration.

UNIFORMED KNIGHTS RECEPTION. Knights of St. John's First Public Installation of Officers.

IF WE KNEW. Could we draw back the curtains that surround each other's lives?

FIRST OF THE SEASON. It is reported from Hyderton that two men, while working in a stone quarry in that vicinity, killed a large rattlesnake.

DEATHS OF A DAY. GEORGE ZIVKMAN. Another tragic death in the ranks of the old soldiers of Allegheny county by the death of George Zivkman.

SUPPRESSING SUNDAY LABOR. A Movement to Arrest All Persons Working on the Sabbath.

DEATHS OF A DAY. GEORGE ZIVKMAN. Another tragic death in the ranks of the old soldiers of Allegheny county by the death of George Zivkman.

SUPPRESSING SUNDAY LABOR. A Movement to Arrest All Persons Working on the Sabbath.

DEATHS OF A DAY. GEORGE ZIVKMAN. Another tragic death in the ranks of the old soldiers of Allegheny county by the death of George Zivkman.

OUR MAIL POUCH. One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

One of Henshaw's Letters. To the Editor of The Dispatch:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of the 19th inst.

CURIOUS CONDENSATIONS. The Government telegraph service of Great Britain transmits to the newspapers the average of 1,387,700 words a day to newspapers.

A natural curiosity in the shape of a hip bone of a mastodon, weighing perhaps 90 pounds, was found at Alachua, Fla., a few days ago.

Five thousand bunches of bananas were tossed over to the merrals from a Nicaragua steamer the other day to lighten the ship in a severe storm.

Two Russian club members of Mount Ararat found in perfect preservation a mummy their monster which was left there last year. It registered 40 years zero.

A "semiquintessential" has been coined by the Brooklyn Times to describe the celebration which Southold and Southampton, L. I., are preparing to hold.

A couple of ladies from Eldred, Pa., were sitting in a passenger coach with an umbrella raised to protect themselves from the water which the old coach roof failed to keep out.

An Kent Island, Md., farmer placed twin orphan lambs in the care of female Newfoundland, whose pups he had sold, she took kindly to the lambs, and treated them with much maternal affection.

While on the way to a fire the horses attached to Creole steamer No. 3 of the New Orleans Fire Department, ran away and overturned a large boiler, damaging the machine but hurting no one.

Some workmen excavating at Nauvoo, Ill., discovered an old well 1,000 feet deep. It was explored, and it is believed to be a relic of the prehistoric age. It is to be connected with subterranean passages.

Pio Pico, the last Mexican Governor of Arizona, now nearly 90 years of age, is a patient sufferer from rheumatism and is confined to his bed. Nothing remains of the great wealth this old man once possessed.

Rev. Dr. Bridgman, pastor of one of New York's fashionable churches, has adopted the Geneva gown as a pulpit dress and says he will expect whoever may later on adopt his pulpit in exchanging shall do so.

On leaving a car at Bradford an Olean man noticed a small object on the floor near the door, which proved to be the end of a man's finger. It was a fine specimen, and the finger nail was perfect. How it came there is a mystery.

William Grizzard, a well-known citizen of Greenville county, Va., had been plowing and drinking whisky for a drink of water. While driving through the spring he had a fit, his horse fell into the water, and he was drowned.

Nancy Luce, who erected marble tombstones over the graves of two pet chickens, at West Point, Martin's Vineyard, is dead. "Nancy" had been a devoted hen raiser with her butternuts in her lap and wrote verses in all sorts of languages.

H. H. Lewis, of Frederick, Md., while clearing the rubbish from his garden, accidentally found a gold ring, with the name of Roger Motter inscribed thereon. This ring was the property of his father, and is now in a good state of preservation.

A victim to epilepsy was found dead in a field in a little pool scarcely two inches deep, at Bellefontaine, O., on Wednesday. It is supposed that he fell in, with his mouth open, and that he was drowned before recovering consciousness.

Jacob Edwards, of Hume, Fauquier county, Va., was playing with his brothers when one of them threw a grain of corn into his mouth. The grain lodged in his throat, and the doctors were summoned, but not in time to save his life. He died on the 19th inst.

A 14-year-old boy living near Eastport, Md., started from his home at 6 o'clock in the morning, walked to Eastport, had three large teeth extracted, one filled, attended to several other matters, and returned home at 3:30 P. M.

The method employed in inflating the census in Lyons county was quite ingenious. It consisted in the use of a figure made up by the Assessors by inflating a figure before the true number. For instance, a family of 3 was made to show on the rolls as 3 1/2, a family of 5 as 5 1/2, and so on.

A family living near La Grange, 40 miles from Louisville, Ky., are sick with what is called "corned potatoes," and one of the victims died. The doctor was called, but the condition. The physicians claim that the germ of the disease was borne on the late tornado from a neighboring district, probably hundreds of miles away.

Just before the hanging of Ben Eley, a Birmingham, Ala., on Friday, the Rev. Charles Parsons, of the same city, was ministering to the spiritual wants of the condemned man, addressed the crowd, saying he was a Christian, and that he was a good man. His last words were: "I am a Christian, and I am a good man."

The negroes of Macon are preparing to attend a large excursion to Millidgeville this week. The object of this is to hold a religious convention for 30 days to make the funeral of the late negro inmate of the insane asylum at Macon, who died the past year. It is expected that at least 1,000 negroes will attend from Macon.

An old negro, living in Dalton, named Gibson, claims to be 140 years of age. He says he remembers distinctly prominent historical occurrences of more than a century ago. The old man is still in very good health, and is able to do all the work of a man of 40. He is the oldest man now living in the State of Georgia.

The Irish bark Countess of Duffin left Londonderry to ballast for Apalachicola, Fla., November 21, 1889, and arrived there on the 21st of February, 1890. She was a fine specimen of a bark, and was a fine specimen of a bark. She was a fine specimen of a bark, and was a fine specimen of a bark.

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement. The vessel was a fine specimen of a bark, and was a fine specimen of a bark.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?

Gilthroy—I've no doubt of it. I see the shadow of the strawberry shortcake looms up no bigger than the shadow of a mouse.

Burly party—Are you aware, sir, that you deliberately placed your umbrella in your coat?

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?

Gilthroy—I've no doubt of it. I see the shadow of the strawberry shortcake looms up no bigger than the shadow of a mouse.

Burly party—Are you aware, sir, that you deliberately placed your umbrella in your coat?

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?

Gilthroy—I've no doubt of it. I see the shadow of the strawberry shortcake looms up no bigger than the shadow of a mouse.

Burly party—Are you aware, sir, that you deliberately placed your umbrella in your coat?

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?

Gilthroy—I've no doubt of it. I see the shadow of the strawberry shortcake looms up no bigger than the shadow of a mouse.

Burly party—Are you aware, sir, that you deliberately placed your umbrella in your coat?

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?

Gilthroy—I've no doubt of it. I see the shadow of the strawberry shortcake looms up no bigger than the shadow of a mouse.

Burly party—Are you aware, sir, that you deliberately placed your umbrella in your coat?

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?

Gilthroy—I've no doubt of it. I see the shadow of the strawberry shortcake looms up no bigger than the shadow of a mouse.

Burly party—Are you aware, sir, that you deliberately placed your umbrella in your coat?

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?

Gilthroy—I've no doubt of it. I see the shadow of the strawberry shortcake looms up no bigger than the shadow of a mouse.

Burly party—Are you aware, sir, that you deliberately placed your umbrella in your coat?

When the passengers on board the steamship City of Paris thought they were soon to descend to a watery grave, it is no wonder they were in a state of great excitement.

Politician—Talk about enthusiasm. Why, every time we raised our hats the band struck up!

Man in the Crowd—Gee! It must have been that hat band!—Yes!—Gee!—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Hostler McGinnis—Do you really think that we are going to have real spring weather now?