A Herr's Island drover reported that markets vere better to-day than they have been for many weeks past. He said: "I sold out my attle a little too early, for if I had held on I and have much better prices. Beeves that had sold for $4.70 would have brought $5 by anon. The yards were cleaned up better than I have known them for a long time. I knew of one bunch of cattle sold to an Alleghen burcher at $5 @, which was the highest price paid thus season. A few of this grade were in the hands of retillers, and were quoted at 5c in carload lots. Cows and calves were dull and slow, at barely last week's prices. The top price at Chicago this morning was $4.30. There was a very large run of sheep and lambs, the total being from 20 to 30 loads. Last Monday there were less than 10 loads on the market. The quality of offerings to-day was as much below late average as quantity was above. Wheat Active and Lower, With Many Fluctuntions-Corn Strong and Oats Wenk-Pork Moves Up, but

Drope Back Again. CHICAGO-A good speculative business was transacted in wheat to-day, and the feeling was insettled, with prices subject to numerous fuctuations within a moderate range. Prices averaged lower and the general tone was easier, the bullish feeling of Saturday not being so marked notwithstanding some bullish influences were developed. The opening was lo lower for May and about 3c lower for July.

May declined 3@1c more, then advanced 13c, receded and closed 13c lower than Saturday.
July declined 36c below the opening figures, then rallied 13c, receded 13c and closed 14c lower than Saturday.

At Herr's Island receipts of cattle were lighter than they have been for a week or two past, and the average quality was better. Demand was not active, for the reason principally that prices were advanced 5c to 10c per cwt by drovers. This advance was, however, fairly well sustained.

Prime Chicago beeves, weighing 1,500 to 1,600 lbs, brought $5.25 to $5.50; medium weights, 1,350 to 1,450 lbs, $5.05 to $5.20; do, 1,200 to 1,400 lbs, $4.55 to $4.95; prime light weights, 900 to 1,100 lbs, $4.30 to $4.60; common to fair, thin and rough steers, $3.45 to $4.05. Fresh cows were slow at a range of $25.00 to $40.00 a head, and calves ditto at 3½c to 4½c per lb. A few bulls sold at 3c to 3½ per h, the only butchering stock from surrounding counties on sale.

JOKES OF A PROMINENT OFFICIAL

As anticipated would be the case, the real market commenced the week with depressing effect on values, which receded 4c from outside figures.

Mess Pork—A fairly active trade was reported and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Early sales were made at $2.50, a 30c decline, and this was followed by a further reduction of 25c on May and 55c on July. Later the market was stronger ana prices rallied 30c 40c, but settled back again 20c 25c and closed comparatively steady.

Lard—Only a moderate trade was reported. The feeling was easy early in the day with fair offerings by local operators, and prices declined 25c and closed comparatively steady.

Meat Inspector McCutcheon is a humorist and frequently cracks jokes with the market house butchers. The other day while poking fun at one of his old friends who sells meat for a living he clinched a joke by saying: "The last roast I bought from you was so tough that the children couldn't even eat the gravy."
This knocked the butcher out so completely that he could say nothing in his defense. To another he said: "You think your steams are tender, do you? Well, the last one you sent me could have been worked up into kangaroo shoe strings and nobody would have known the

The activity in building keeps the local architects busy at least 15 hours in the 24, and still they complain of being behind in their work. Among the plans just completed or in progress are several for fine stone residences out Fifth avenue, the Dalzell building on Penn avenue, a $40,000 schoolhouse in Wilkinsburg and a large number of dwellings in the East End, among which that of George McWilliams, on St. Clair street, is conspicuous. The same activity pre-vails on the Northside. The Southside and down the valley where a large number of fine dwellings have been planned and some of them commenced. One of the finest in Allegheny will be that of L. A. Smith, on Allegheny avenue. Is will cost about $35,000. This reference by no means exhausts the list, but it is sufficient to show that those who have predicted that this year will be the best ever known in the history of the building trade in Pittsburg are not likely to be classed among the

Local Securities Bracing Up-Encourage-

The stock market was strong yesterday, but not particularly active. Values all through the list showed more or less appreciation; and buyers were more importunate than sellers. The latter, indeed, feeling they were masters of the situation, for the present, at least, showed a disposition to hold off and wait for prices to move up to their standard. Sales were 180

Even Westinghouse Electric and Luster responded to the quickening impulse and better feeling. The improvement in the latter was due to the receipt of a letter yesterday morning from the superintendent of the mine, stating that considerable machinery had arrived; that work would be pushed right along, and that the outlook was encouraging.

the Oil Market. The course of the oil market yesterday was downward from the start, and the close was 2 cents lower than the opening. The opening was about steady at 84% but almost immediately news was received of a decided improvement in the Ivory field, the Hoffman and Smith wells coming in big, and a slump occurred, on which the market sold down slowly, till at noon 83% was recorded, where it hung until the last half hour, when it broke to 82% which were the closing figures. The pykers were pretty active, but trading was small in volume. Another element of weakness was a total absence tive, but trading was small in volume. Among the deats reported yesterday were the following: A lot 125x200 at Shadyside brought $18,750, or $150 a foot front. The purchaser will erect an elegant stone residence thereon this season. W. A. Herron & Sons were the agents.

A lot 52 feet front by 220 in depth, corner of Howe street and College avenue, East End, was sold by O. M. Edwards to a prominent business man at a price approximating $100 a foot front. Howe street has just been opened, and is unimproved, but promises to be one of the most important thoroughfares in that part of the city; and this is about the first sale made there at the price in view of almost certain enhancement upon the completion of the electric road system.

A transaction of considerable importance to Wilkinsburg leaked out. J. B. Bailey, the architect, sold a lot 90x124, in the rear of the Snowden property for $4,050, or $450 a foot front—a good price for a back street; but the borough is growing so rapidly that all description of property within its bounds are

GENUINE STRENGTH.

Signs of a Real Bull Movement in Wall Street-Fighting Railroads Must Hoe Their Own Row - The Silver Question.

NEW YORK, April 21 .- The stock market today showed more genuine strength and acted more like a real bull market than it has at any time within the past six months. The dealings extended to a greater number of stocks that on any one day in the history of the Exchange There was undoubtedly a large increase in outside buying orders, and the dealings, although aggregating a comparatively small amount, were very large in numbers. The market seems to have cut completely loose from the stocks of the fighting roads, and the disposition s to let Rock Island, Missouri Pacific and the others remain dull and steady. There was less attention paid to the silver question, though the letter of the Secretary obtained favorable comment, and while the advices from the West were somewhat mixed the general opinion is that the situation in that section of the country is not so bad as indicated by the dispatches. The temper of the room this morning was most cheerful and in narked contrast to that of the last few weeks, and brokers did more legitimate business than in six months. Commission houses were large buyers all over the list, while there was considerable

FLOUR PROMISES TO GO UP HIGHER

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, MONDAY, April 21, 1890.

For Monday trade was good, in fact, consid erably above the late average. There is no material change in prices since our last report. Eggs are a shade firmer but unchanged. The utelde price for nearby stock, in job lots, is 123/c per dozen. Creamery and country butter, of all grades, are quiet, with the tendency downward. Potatoes are good stock at present prices, and are likely to reach a higher level before the week is out. Sweet potatoes are growing very scarce, their season being nearly to its goal. Cabbage of good quality are firm at quotations. Onion sets are in good demand. Apples are dull and slow, owing to high price, and generally poor quality of offerings.

Mrs. Schimitzke, in her own defense, testified Mrs. Schinitzke, in her own defense, testified that she married Christopher Schastian, of East Liberty, in 1871. He was drowned from a steamboat in January, 1873. In May, 1873, she married Albert Kirchgessper, of Lawrence-ville, He ran away with another woman in 1881, and she heard three years after that he was dead. Her next husband was Schinitzke. She denied having lived with a Russian Pole as his wife, but said he only boarded with her, and she turned him out because of his behavior. On cross-examination she said she had a child of whom a man named Ochn was the father. She denied ever having said she had another husband living than Schinitzke.
