He Explains How the Local League Club Can be Made Attractive.

THE VIEWS OF MANAGER LOFTUS.

Boston and New York N. L. Clubs Have a Lively Time at Boston.

RAIN PREVENTS SEVERAL GAMES

The movement in favor of establishing 25 cent ball in this city is becoming exceedingly interesting. The opinions of the officials of the local National League club are very conflicting on the matter but the majority favor a reduction of price. Director J. P. O'Neil is about the only local official who is definitely opposed to a change and in support of his views he has some very interesting suggestions and opinions to offer. During a conversation with the writer yesterday be said: I pay the greatest deference to the opinions of President Nimick and others on this matter, but I am inclined to think that we can do better than reducing our price.

THE MAJORITY WILL RULE. "Of course I will at all times take off my bat to the majority and if I am outvoted why I will turn in and do all I can to help the policy of the majority. But here is what I would do. If we can not put up a 50 cent game we must make it worth that amount. That's all there is in it. My policy is to commence at once and improve the grounds and se-cure better means of transportation to and from the grounds. We should put an entrance gate at the center field corner, and that would be convenient for the railroad and cable cars. We should cushion the 'bleachers' and put a cover above them, and also put 1,009 opera chairs into the grand stand, making a ladies section. Along with all this I would have musical concerts connected with the games and also athletic entertainments. We could the best riders in the country a short time before the game. These features would certainly be attractive, and most assuredly would make the game worth more than 50 cents. MUST HAVE GOOD MEN.

"Again, if we haven't a 50-cent team we must get one. We cannot estimate our team yet, but I am confident that our players will win more games this year than our last year's club did. They cannot do any worse than did our expensive stars. The fact is, however, that when a young team loses a game the general opinion seems to be that it is because they cannot do any better. There is no allowance made for them; but when an aggregation of expensive men, such as we had last year, loses about 15 straight games all kinds of ex-cuses are made for them. Why, the team that left us has been continually battling for sixth or seventh place. If that was worth 50 cents, most certainly our present team shouldn't be estimated at any lower figure. Our club has made more money at 50 cents than it did at 25 cents, but unfortunately we paid all that we made away to players, who, in some instances, turned out to be worthless, and in other in-stances treated us dishonestly after getting our money."

President Nimick, along with Secretary
Scandrett and Director Brown, is a staunch supporter of the 25-cent policy. The President supporter of the 25-cent policy. The President said yesterday: "I would like to have the price reduced. We have already mentioned the matter to the National League, and I think we will mebtion it again. We cannot change our price except by the unanimous consent of the National League. I cannot say how the League will deal with it, but I believe that it would be a hearding to our clink to have the price. a benefit to our club to have the price re

WHAT MANAGER LOFTUS SAYS. Manager Loftus, of the Cincinnati team, expressed his opinion on the matter to the effect that to reduce the price would not be a wise policy. He did not know what the National League would do in the matter. There is, undoubtedly, a strong public feeling in Pittsburg in favor a 25-cent ball. Some of the best patrons of the game are convinced that a reduction of price would not be a wise policy, but that it ought to be done in fairness to the working public of the city. President Numick was also asked his opinion

President Nimick was also asked his opinion regarding any chance of having the schedules changed to avoid as many conflicting dates as possible. He said: "The Players' League officials are entirely responsible for the confliction of dates. We made up our schedule to suit ourselves, and they changed theirs to our dates. Why, we had an open date to-day, and what did the local Players' League club do? Why, without any justifiable reason or cause, they coaxed the Chicagos to stay here and play, so as to conflict with us. Is that helping the dignity or prestige of the game? WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

"They have said that their object wasn't to ruin or drive anybody out of the business who had money in it, but their actions show that they will do anything to ruin those who have spent thusands of dollars in building up the game. They are responsible for the conflicting dates and not us. One thing I already observe, viz: that this conflict is injuring the prestige of the game in Pittsburg. The two audiences at the two games do not make an average crowd by far, and that means that many people are becoming disgusted with the way matters are being conducted."

On this point Manager Loftus said: "This conflict is killing almost all local pride in the game at cities where there are two teams. Public sentiment is divided and in the controversy one side is trying to ruin the other. This tends to kill all pride in the local teams and sours the minds of the liberal supporters of the game. Where there is a contest things never go smooth and then hundreds of people wash their hands of the whole business. It is a great blow to the game and this conflicting of dates is the chief source of all trouble."

Umpire McDermott Fines Mickey Welch and Gives the Bostons the Game 9 to 0-Mutric's Men Will Protest-A Lively

TERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. BOSTON, April 24.—The new Giants, of the National League, lost to-day's game through rank injustice on the part of Umpire McDermott. He roasted them from the start to the seventh luning, and then when Captain Glasscock's patience could not longer stand the strain, be whipped out his watch, counted off 60 seconds and then called the game, which will go record as won by Boston 9 to 0. There has seldom been as much excitement as in the seventh inning to-day. In justice to the Boston players and patrons, it should be stated that they don't like to win games in this way. They do not uphoid Captain Glassrock in his persistent kicking after being told to "play ball," but there is lots of sympathy for him in Boston to-night.

This is what led to the dispute. Umpire McDer-most had been singularly unfortunate in his de-cisions on calling bails and strikes, and Weich was the greater sufferer. He kicked several times without affecting the umpire's judgment. Mickey himself was the only one disturbed and it was nolimself was the only one disturbed and it was noificed that his smile had been supplanted by frowns. That meant that Mickey was mad. The seventh inning began with the score 2 to 1 in favor of New York. It had been a very exciting contest and the nerves of the players as well as the spectators were highly strung.

When the seventh inning was opened the New York players could no! stand Umpire McDermott's decisions any longer. Welch pitched a good ball and the umpire called "strike." Welch was in a combative mood and sarcastically asked if he was sure it was a strike.

"Is that so," sneered Mickey, "I'd just as lief lose another 5s."

"Five more," retorted the umpire. Captain Glasscock then took part in the discussion. Mc-Dermott pulled out his watch, after ordering Glasscock to play ball; the latter thought he had five minutes' grace. But at the expiration of half a minute he beckened to Sharott to take Welch's place in the box. At the expiration of another half minute, closed his watch with a snap and gave the game to Boston. The New Yorks will contest the game. Attendance 2,300. Score: BOSTON. B B P A E NEW YORK B B P A E

Rain Spoiled the Fan. NEW YORK, April 24. - Rain prevented the New York-Philadelphia Players' League game at Brotherhood Park this afternoon. The Giants left for Boston at II o'clock to-night, and the Phillies open Eastern Park, Brooklyn, with Ward's team to-morrow. Rain spoiled the Na-tional League club's opening at Washington Park this afternoon. The weather was a disappoint-ment to the friends of the Bridegrooms, who were to have played Harry Wright's Philadelphians.

Too Much Rain.

Rain prevented both the local games yesterday. Manager Hanion expected a large crowd at Expo-sition Park if the weather had been fine, and the National League officials were just as confident of a large crowd to greet the Cincinnati Reds after their long absence from the city. If the weather is fine this morning, the grounds of each club will be in good condition.

COMISKEY SATISFIED.

The Chicago Manager Well Pleased With His Visit to Pittsburg.

Captain Comiskey, of the Chicago Players' League team, was in excellent spirits when found at the Anderson yesterday:
"Just got a telegram from Secretary Brunell," he remarked, "saving that the proposed game to-day was contrary to no rule. However, I'm not very sorry it rained. We have played to over not very sorry it rained. We have played to over 12,000 people here and I suppose that is enough. Williamson, the regular short stop of our team, will be able to resume his place in Buffalo. You will remember that he went around the world with Spalding's players. While they were playing in Paris, in making a run to second, he feli, his knee striking upon some loose stones which injured him quite seriously. His doctor says that he has sufficiently recovered to resume work. Fran, the regular right fielder, who was left sick in Chicago, will an be able to join us in Buffato. By the time the team reaches home again it will have its full playing strength. have its full playing strength."

Manager Comiskey, in speaking of the money received from the four games, said: "I don't know how President Nimick or Director O'Neil feel about their share, but the dollars have been coming fast enough for me."

ABOUT THAT BALK.

Galvin Says a Few Words About Umpire Gunning's Decision. Jimmy Galvin's mind was still more than ruffled yesterday about Umpire Gunning calling a balk on him Wednesday. Said Jimmy last

"Gunning told me that he had orders from headquarters to call a balk on me. My movement has never been called a balk by any umpire except such broken-down ball players as Jim Clinton, such broken-down ball players as Jim Clinton, Phil Powers and Tom Gunning. The leading umpires don't consider it a balk. Every pitcher is trying to imitate me and cannot, and therefore they all want it called a balk. Why I told young Dwyer this evening to sit on the bench and watch me and he would learn something to help him in his business. They must all be spotting me, but you can bet that taivin will continue his trick and they can call it a balk every time. These young ducks know it all, of course, but they'll learn where they are wrong."

Doesn't Lack Discipline. Jo Murphy, of the Chleago Tribune, who accompanied Comiskey's aggregation to this city, has nlimited confidence in the Players' League: "It ras predicted," he said, "that the Players' was predicted," he said, "that the Players" League would lack discipline. Well, so far as Chicago's team is concerned nothing could be Chicago's team is concerned nothing could be more perfect than the discipline and harmony that prevails." Mr. Murphy was very much amused at the situation in St. Louis, where he says Al Spink and George Munson have formed a combination, leased a ball park and are paralyzing Von der Ahe's Sunday patronage with exhibition games and athletic shows. Mr. Murphy thinks it probable that St. Louis will have a l'layers' League team next year if not this season.

If the weather permits the Cincinnati-Reds will play against the local National League team today at Recreation Park. Foreman and Reenan will be the Cincinnati battery. Manager Hecke will be the Choinnail battery. Manager Hecker hadn't made up his mind last evening as to what battery he will try.

At Exposition Park the Cleveland P. L. team will tackle the home aggregation. At Johnson's lot have had a discouraging time of it at Buffalo and they may do better here. Staley and Carroll will be the home battery, and either Gruber or Bakely will pitch for Cleveland.

Manager Hanlon is well pleased with the four games played at Exposition Park since the opening of the championship season. He thinks his club will come out all right financially at the end of the season and questions very much whether or not the local National League club will hold out to the end of the season.

ASSOCIATION GAMES.

Will Change Their Schedule. Will Change Their schedule.

ERIE, PA.. April 24.—The Pennsylvania and New York flaseball Association, at its meeting in Dunkirk yesterday, came to the conclusion that its schedule was going to give the small towns too many games, and they decided to revise it. President Tew resigned, and James Lindsey, of Bradford, was elected to fill the vacancy. Perry McCully, manager of the Eric club; Dr. Sage, of Olean, and Mr. Hulbert, of Dunkirk, were elected a board of auditors.

Baseball Notes.

THE Cleveland P. L. team is certainly making a MANAGER LOPTUS says that Anson has a rea-good team this year. MANAGER LOFTUS says that Cincinnati is going to be a good 50-cent ball town. RAIN prevented the Association games at Louis ville and Philadelphia yesterday. GENIAL JACK CHAPMAN is so far doing well with the Louisville team. Jack has many well wishers. MANAGER HANLON remarked last evening that Glasscock and Denny are invariably in a tail-end team.

PRESIDENT NIMICE intimated yesterday that several of the "colts" will be dispensed with shortly. THE officials of the Cincinnati club give rain checks if five innings are not played. This is a fair arrangement. MANAGER EWING, of the New York P. L. Club, will likely sign James Galligan, who played left field for the Louisville club last year. THE Chicago team left for Buffalo last evening on the 8:30 train. Deacon White's sluggers will not slug so much against Comiskey's pirates.

THE Tri-State League championship season opens next Wednesday. Frank Torreyson says McKeesport has a good team for its first season in the League. In releasing the extra colt from the local N. L. team there will be some difficulty in determining who to keep between Routeliffe and Kelty. They are both good players.

MANAGER MUTRIE has signed Tommy Ester-brook, better known as the "Dude." to play first base. He will play his first game in Boston. Scanlon was not strong enough at the bat. The local National League club and the Cincinnati team may play two games to-morrow afternoon for one price of admission. Director O'Nell wants to have yesterday's postponed game played. wants to have yesteruay's postponed game portion TOM TUCKER, of the Bostons, and Mickey Welch, of the New Yorks, are the competitors for a $500 diamond pin to be awarded to the ball player receiving the most votes at the fair of the Church of the Rosary, in Holvoke, now going on.

Young umpires ought to be guided by the judg-ment of such authorities as Lynch, Gaffney and John Kelly as to whether or not Galvin's method of throwing to first is a balk. Surely the three authorities named know a little more about it than umpires in their experimenting period. HERE is the way false statements get circulated. Some local enthusiastic newspaper correspondent informed a certain Philadelphia paper that 2.600 people attended the P. L. game at Exposition Park Wednesday. The turnstile count was 474. Truth will do the club more good than lies. THERE is no one so loud in praise of the Phila-delphia N. L. Club's team as Manager Mutrie. He said, after the game Wednesday: "If any-body thinks Harry Wright hasu't a clever team, let him present a set of men that can beat them." Jim firmly believes, however, that he will beat the Philadelphias out in the end.

THE Players' League has selected the following hotels in the different cities as headquarters during their trips: Boston, United States Hotel; Philadelphia, Continental Hotel; Chicago, Tremont House; Cleveland, Hollenden House; Buffalo, Tift or Genessee House; Pittsburg, Anderson Hotel: Brooklyn, Pierrepont House. IT behoves Mr. Byrnes, of the Brooklyns, to stop such disgraceful scenes as that enacted at Boston. As president of the club one word from him will have more influence with the men than all the fines inflicted. Captain O'Brien would do well to read Mr. Young's recent circular and follow its advice. It is plain and wise, and if carried out, will go far to nrevent disputes on the diamond. —Philadelphia Press.

Williams won in 9% seconds. Local sports were dupes to a large amount, the game being worked as follows: Hough showed the victims 10 seconds in an exhibition race against time, and as Williams' record is not better than it seconds, they backed the stranger. But they probably don't yet know that the distance run in the race was little more than 80 yards, the me being manipulated by the smart ones who man

The Belle Mende Sale.

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 24.—The twenty-third annual sale at Belle Meade began this morning, 61 yearlings, the get of Luke Blackburn, Iroquots, Bramble, Great Tom and Enquirer, passing un-Bramble, Great Tom and Enquirer, passing under the hammer for a total of $64,365, an average of $1,055 16. Twenty brood marcs were also sold for a total of $15,690, an average of $855 71. The weather was showery, and less than 500 persons strended the sale, but they were mostly buyers. Among the distinguished people present were Sanders Bruce, of the Twif, Field and Farm: Judge Brown, of the Federal Court; Judge Howell £, Jackson, William Easton, of New York: B, G, Bruce, of the Live Stock Record, Lexington, Ky, and turfmen from all parts of the country. Captain Phil Kidd officiated as auctioneer. The balance of the brood marcs, about $01 in number, and the stallions Luke Blackburn, Iroquois, Great Tom, Bramble and Enquirer will be sold to-morrow.

For Two Dollars a Side. E. C. McClelland and a young man named Dyer, of the East End, ran a match race of 250 yards at the East End gymnasium Wednesday for the substantial stake of two silver dollars a side. Mecicliand won the money, his opponent retiring from the race when 170 yards had been run. Mc-Cicliand is training Ed Nikirk, and has the latter in excellent condition for his race with Smith at Recreation Park to-morrow evening.

Phf Wina $15,000. According to a letter received by the sporting editor of this paper yesterday from John Quinn, "Pittsburg Phil" is making a very lucky start in the racing season. On Monday Phil won $15,000 at Linden on Territer. Hamlet and Jack Rose, What is termed luck has been surrounding Phil for two or three weeks. John Quinn is doing fairly well himself, and he says that tremendous crowds attend the races and the betting is very heavy.

BALFOUR'S BAD BILL It is Dissected by Mr. Gladstone in a Very Neat Manner.

THE PURCHASE POLICY OPPOSED. He Regards the Bill as Being Utterly Devoid

of Principle.

Mr. Gladstone, in the House of Commons last night, attacked Balfour's land purchase bill. With all his old-time vigor he denounced Balfour's bill as criminal and Parnell's as impracticable. Mr. Goschen thought the opposition was not on account of the poverty of the tenant, but the nationality of the creditor, and defended the meas-

LONDON, April 24.-Mr. Gladstone resumed the debate on the land purchase bill in the House of Commons this evening. He said he was opposed to the bill under an overwhelming conviction that it was complicated, without undertaking to solve the difficulty. He had been encouraged to hope for a solution by Lord Salisbury's declaring that the measure would not impose a burden upon the British taxpayer. He was disappointed, however, when Mr. Balfour informed the House that the measure pledged the country to the extent of £33,000,000 without preventing the possibility of further amounts being asked. Regarding Mr. Parnell's plan, it was new in principle. Its general purpose was clear, but he was not certain that he comprehended the details. [Conservative laughter.]

BALFOUR'S BILL DISSECTED. It was honorable, even chivalrous, in Mr. Parnell opposing the Government as he did, to deem it proper to propose an alternative. He strongly sympathized with one object of Mr. Parnell's plan, whereby the landlords would not be expatriated, but would be retained. It would be a sorrowful conclusion of tained. It would be a sorrowful conclusion of the life of the landlord class if when local government was established in Ireland, they did not take part in adjusting affairs.

Mr. Ballour's bill presented a number of dubious points which made it difficult to discern fully the character of the measure. Some of the proposals were so obviously objectionable as to justify their rejection. A hill of this kind ought to be confined to landlords aiready in possession, it should not encourage landlords to become buyers of land in order to take advantage of the enormous boons offered. ["Hear, hear."] The provision respecting two years' arrars also required a justification which it would be difficult to find. [Cheers].

STILL MORE OBJECTION. Another objection cutting near the root of the bill was the method proposed for ascer-taining the rent of the land. It was so bad that it would enable the landlord to obtain compensation upon a large mass of income that he had never received. [Hear, hear.] There was to be no change of management, the rent expenses of eviction nor for bad debts, with other charges, necessarily falling upon the landlords. The effect of this was that they might be giving instead of 17 years purchase, 20 or 25 years. He also took the strongest objection to placing an embargo upon the local funds of the counties. [Hear, hear.] That proposal vitiated a principle which the House ought to hold sacred. Then there was nothing in the bill to prevent the occupier who becomes the owner from sub-letting.

Mr. Madden, the Irish Attorney General, explained that a tenant could not sub-let without permission from the Isand Commission.

A BILL WITHOUT PRINCIPLE. that it would enable the landlord to obtain

A RILL WITHOUT PRINCIPLE. Mr. Giadstone, continuing, asked on what principle the Land Court would act in giving mission. There must be a clear understand ing on this point. There was no principle indicated in the bill. The only really available and valuable guarantees provided in the measure were grants from the Imperial Exchequer on account of probable duties and other public charges. The Government has already given England and Scotland grants, placing them wholly at the disposal of the local authorities. Was it possible the Government would tell the was it possible the Government would tell the counties of Ireland that the grant to that coun-try must be used for the benefit of persons con-tracting under the bill? [Cheers.] It was a violation of equality in governing the three kingdoms, than which he never knew a more claused instance. [Cheers.] glaring instance. [Cheers.]

THE CONSTITUTIONAL OBJECTIONS. Coming to what he called constitutional obections, one of which formed absolute reason against the second reading of the measure, he urged it was obvious that Ireland opposed the measure, in view of the fact that five-sixths of measure, in view of the fact that five-sixths of the Irish members deliberately and determined y opposed it. [Cheers.] As the Government was going to make Ireland its debtor, it was important to consider what was the attitude of the persons about to be subjected to debt. If they declined to recognize the obligation it was a new wrong inflicted. If Ireland's representatives declined to recognize the binding character of the obligation, protesting that the country did not get value for its money, was it prudent to force the measure upon the people? Was it possible to imagine the Government imposing a similar measure upon Scotland in defiance of the protest of 60 out of the 70 Scotch members? [Cheers.]

He objected also to the use of British credit, He did not entertain an extreme view about the use of British credit, but he thought that the He did not entertain an extreme view about the use of British credit, but he thought that the Government was precluded from large applications of that credit for the purchase of land. The last general election settled the question. If the Conservatives were then pledged against the use of the public credit, so was the Opposition. This Parliament certainly could not, in conformity with its honorable obligations, pass a bill instituting a local fund having an interminable operation. [Cheers.]

A MORE FORMIDABLE OBJECTION. Another objection was more formidable still. This related to State landlordism. Besides the large pecuniary risk, the bill involved evils threefold greater, threatening to produce con ditions which would shock humanity, imperi order and make worse the relations between the two countries. State landlordism implied the use of soldiers against the tenants; the use of every weapon of the State to enforce an unpop-ular law.

Lastly, it was a sad disappointment to find under the name of a voluntary arrangement between landlord and tenant a device for bringing an irresistible pressure upon the tenant with a view of extorting for the landlords' benefit nearly the whole of the immense boon that Parliament might conter. These objections covered only a part of the bill. He was not sure that he had as yet obtained a full comprehension of the measure. He had seen many complicated measures, but he had probably never seen one so complicated as the bill under discussion. It contained every form of ambiguity. This might have been successfully encountered and the ambiguities got rid of, but the objections, as stated, were fatal. objections, as stated, were fatal. A VIGOROUS PROTEST.

In conclusion he said: "I feel it to be my absolute duty to protest against principles of so flagrant a character and so tending to embar-rass the country in immense pecuniary risks, while making land purchase not an aim in the while making land purchase not an aim in the settlement of the general Irish problem, but a means to further plunge us into the deepest political embarrassment." [Cheers.]

Mr. Gosenen said that Mr. Gladstone's contention that the tenants would be deprived of the benefits intended for them destroyed Mr. Morley's argument that non-purchasing tenants would agitate to get their rents lowered to the same scale as the purchasers' rents. He agreed with both Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell in desiring to retain the landlords in Ireland, but the bill did not necessarily lead to expropriation. In regard to obtaining the consent of Irish members, it would be seen, if the bill passed, with whom the tenants were more satisfied—the Unionists, who supported the cill, 'or the Parnellites, who opposed it. [Cheers.] If Scotch tenants were offered a reduction of 20 per cent in rents, he believed they would not lose it because their members objected. Neither would the Irish tenants. No portion of the burden was ever likely to fall upon the British taxpayer. Therefore the Unionists would not violate their pledges. He admitted that it was not desirable for the State to become the creditors of the tenants, but he asked if the object could be attained otherwise. settlement of the general Irish problem, but a

A DIFFERENT METHOD. Mr. Gladstone-Yes. Mr. Goschen said it ought to be remembered that the main authority Mr. Gladstone proosed as creditor was the State authority. Mr. Gladstone—The Irish authority.

Mr. Goschen thought the same objection would apply. [Cries of "No, no."] Then the Irish Parliament might evict, but the English would not. It becomes a question not of the poverty of the tenant, but of the nationality of the creditor. The objection that the landlords would be able to exact their own terms came with bad grace from Mr. Gladstone, whose own measure was compulsory on the tenants. Mr. Parnell's alternative failed to abolish dual ownership, but it was not necessarily futile, and might, therefore, be considered in committee. He appealed to the House not to allow political opinion to warp their judgment on the bill.

OHIO LEGISLATION.

The School Book Bill Passes the Senat and is Now a Law-Both Branches Will Make an Effort to Adjourn Finally Next Monday. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

COLUMBUS, April 24.—This has been another bad day for ripper legislation, although the lobby was pressing and so interfered with business that they had to be put out of the house. The bills to reorganize Cleveland and Toledo were again brought up in the House and defeated after a great amonnt of discus-sion. Three Democrats, who claim there has been enough of this kind of work, refused to sion. Three, Democrats, who claim there has been enough of this kind of work, refused to vote for the measures.

House bill became a law requiring that boards of elections shall be appointed by the Mayors of cities instead of by the Governor, as at present. The registration bill also became a law, which requires registration only once in four years, except in the four largest cities of the State, which remain as at present. The Australian election bill was postponed to next winter. Senate bill to reorganize the present railroad commissioner, Mr. Capeller, out of office, and providing for a commission of three to take his place, was amended in the House so as to simply reorganize and continue with one commissioner, but the Senate refused to agree to the amendment, as they have candidates who want the other place. A committee of conference was appointed, and as the Senate will not agree to one commissioner it is thought no definite action can be taken. The bill, however, will come up again in the Senate to-morrow. A joint committee is to be appointed to investigate the listing of the property for taxation and report at the next session. The Gever exhocibook bill which the property for taxation and report at the next session. The Geyer schoolbook bill which has claimed a great deal of attention passed the Senate and will remain a law unless recon-

The Legislature is making an effort to get through by Monday.

AWARDING CITY CONFRACTS.

Safety, Public Works and Charities. The Department of Awards met yesterday afternoon and opened bids for supplying the De-partment of Charities with groceries, hardpartment of Charities with groceries, hardware, drugs, etc., for the year. The bidders were numerous and the list of items so long that it was necessary to refer the proposals to the clerk for tabulation. It will require several days for Clerk Bingaman to get the matter in shape to see who are the lowest bidders. James B. Hill bid 28 cents each for a contract of furnishing 2,500 locust posts to the Department of Public Safety and got the contract. The market price for locust posts of the dimensions specified in the contract is 50 cents each. W. G. Johnston & Co. were awarded the contract for printing 500 copies of the annual report of the Department of Public Safety and 500 copies of the annual report of the Bureau of Health at $1.75 per page. Best & Co. were awarded the contract for printing 500 copies of the Public Works Department's annual report at $2.80 per page.

Swift's Specific is the besom of destruction to Blood Poison, its destiny being to sweep from the face of the globe the deadliest scourage to which humanity has ever been subject.

SSS Antidotes and eleminates Blood Poison and makes a permanent cure, instead of substituting one disease for another, as is the case with the old potash and mercury mixtures. SSS Leaves no bad effects. It is a tonic, and assists digestion and builds up the health, instead of causing indigestion and depleting the system as with potash and mercury mixtures. S.S.S. Is more infallible than any remedy ever made. A case of Blood Poison which it fails to cure, is incurable. It is the tonic which

IF SO,

IN THE SPRING! -A MASS OF SORES.

In January, 1884, my leg broke out in one solid mass of sores, which baffled the skill of several physicians. It subsequently proved to be the result of poison. After doctoring it vainly for three months I purchased a bottle of your Burdock Blood Bitters, and commenced taking it according to directions. In less than four days after the sores began to disappear, and in two weeks there was not a sore to be seen. I therefore recommend Burdock Blood Bitters as one of the best medicines for the blood ever made. G. F. McCoy, Newark, N. J. CLEANSE THE BLOOD! GET PURE BLOOD!

I am now using the second bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and can safely say I have received more benefit from their use than any other medicine I have ever taken. When I commenced using B. B. I was suffering greatly from weakness, want of appetite and general debility. I am now enjoying good health, all the old weariness is gone, and I now feel better than I had for years.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The following cable was received at the Police Gazette office yesterday from London: "The prize fight between Jack Wannop, of London, and Josh Cosnett, of Birmingham, for £330 a side, which has created coningham, for £300 a side, which has created con-siderable excitement here, was decided on April 22. Wannop's seconds were Jem Smith and Jack Harper, while Bill Reeder and Jack Kirby sec-onded Conett. Angle, who referred the Sull-van-Mitchell fight, was referee. The battle was fought according to Queensberry rules. Twelve rounds were fought, when Wannop was declared

A Very Tame Battle. NEW YORK, April 24.—A party of about 50 New York sporting men left this city last night, and journeyed to Woodbridge, N. J., and then walked several miles across the country to witness an early morning fight on th turf, under London prize prize rules. The contestants were Frank White, the well-known pugilist of tols city, and Pete Daley, or St. Johns, N. B. The fight was scarcely worth the loss of a night's sleep. It lasted 12 rounds, and the New Brunswick boy was not in it at any stage of the game.

Catarrh

S a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla - the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over "I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physi-cians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and com-pletely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and re-ferred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen of catarra. After taking hair a dozen bettles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."
