ONLY TWO DAYS MORE

Of the License Court Grind Ahead of the Judges for This Year.

THE JAGS THAT COME IN JUGS

One of the Main Features of the Sixty

Hearings of Yesterday. A BREWER HAS QUITE A LIVELY TIME

Only 60 wholesale applications were heard yesterday in License Court. Eight who were on the list withdrew. On Monday the court will go through Stowe township, and on Tuesday morning will finish the list. Tuesday afternoon, Judge Ewing. said yesterday, it is hoped to hear arguments by attorneys on the law point whether a person or firm holding a brewing or wholesale license can be granted also a license to

One brewer received a lively reprimand yesterday afternoon. A petition for a rehearing in an Allegheny retail case was positively refused. The first thing in the morning the court heard the wholesale application of Peter Schmitt, of the Second ward of Homestead, who was passed on Thursday. He is now licensed, and has done a business of $40,000, chiefly in beer. He confessed that he had sold in half-gallon jugs.

Of the Mansfield borough applicants, John Cunningham and Patrick Newell are ex-saloon keepers. Charles Hallman is a carpenter who was naturalized only three months ago.

JUST HALF A DOZEN.

Millvale has six wholesale applicants, John Bennett and Patrick Herron having withdrawn, Michael Enz and C. Bauerlein are brewers and will be relicensed. A. Schneiderlochner kept a wholesale store in 1884, but sold in pints. L. Einstein, a clothing dealer, of Allegheny, is a brother to Joseph Einstein, the bottler. Henry Hoehl, Sr., has been running a small ale brewery, but finds that it does not pay him and desires a general wholesale license. Nicholas Pail is a mill man, who said that he had $3,500 in his house.

McKeesport was then taken up. Sixteen applicants presented themselves, among m being the Keystone Brewing Company the Iron City Brewing Company and Pier & Dannals. William Hetterich, Frank G. Bergman and Mrs. Sarah Savage had kept ns under the old law, and confessed they had violated the law as all others did. Mrs. Savage is the sister of Luke Lynch, the saloon keeper who will have to close up next Wednesday night. William W. Bowers is a young bartender, who was formerly employed at Tony Newell's, in this city. Frank X. Boyle is a one-armed man who has been employed as a caller in the rolling mill. William H. Buckley is the McKeesport collector for Spencer & Liddell, and desires to handle only malt liquors. Bernard Marx, John H. Maloy and William A. McElhinnay are bartenders at present.

WHAT HE HAS MADE. Abraham J. Sunstein has a wholesale license and has done a business of about $3,000 a month. H. Schwartz is an orthodox Hebrew, who took the oath with his hat on.

L. C. Willard expects to embark in the distiller's trade. L. Wigand has been a bottler during the past year, but, finding the profits therein to be rather small, he asks for a wholesale license. In the Second ward three men applied, Frank H. Busch, H. D. Erenburgh and Thomas Moore. The last named is the distiller. Judge Ewing said to him: "Can you get 'Possum Hollow whisky in "Not quite," answered the applicant.

"What has become of the 'Possum Hollow "This is it. I have moved it down."

"You didn't move 'Possum Hollow "No, sir; but I make good whisky. If you think you would like to try a little of it, just give me an order.

There were eight applicants from Mcport's Third ward, only two of whom seem to have a chance for license. Jacob P. Nill has had a wholesale license right along, and sells beer on commission for Eberhardt & Ober. David Hardy, Jr., is in the ice business, and has ample capital for the wholesale liquor business. Prior to 1888 he

ALL EX-SALOON KEEPERS. James Crosby, George P. Beech, John Connolly, Andrew Fischer and Konrad Housman are all ex-saloon keepers with records regarded more or less shady Against Cornelius Toomey, a grocer, who used to sell liquor, there is a strong re Only three applicants appeared from Sharpsburg, Jacob J. Lutz and Patrick Mc-Bride withdrawing. The latter said that he knew he could not make money if he should do an honest wholesale business. Frank Huckestein is now licensed. The objection to Louis Lacag was that he desired to open in a purely residence neighborhood. Nich-olaus Schmidtehen kept a saloon before the Brooks law swept down upon him, and his record was not entirely clear.

Frederick Franz, who applies for Spring Garden borough, drives a beer wagon for the Keystone Brewing Company. Charles E. Schriner, from this borough, did not an-Charles awer.

There were three Verona applicants. The same objection is made to them as is made to the retailers for that borough, that the district inherits prohibition from Penn township. The question will be argued pext Tuesday or Wednesday. Charles Lehner, Alexander Maeder and Charles Silverman all kept saloons prior to 1888. This finished the wholesale applicants for the boroughs.

RECORDS OF VARIOUS KINDS. In Baldwin township Peter Bernarding Paul Scandroli and William Wolff are exsaloon keepers with the usual records, sufficient, under the statutes, to justify refusal. Adam J. Englert has ample means and a clear record, but his brother used to keep a saloon which Judge Ewing thought decidedly off color. There was nothing special in the case of Gustav John, except that he has been naturalized in 1888. Valentine Rindfusz was told by the court that the neighbors thought that his house might be a speak-easy. Valentine filed a denial.

Chartiers township presented only three applicants, as Michael Crowley did not answer the roll call. Jacob Geisler wishes to keep near the city line at a place called Dogtown, and Chris Kohl ran against a strong remonstrance. Their chances are Henry Schmelz, the old brewer, was refused by Judge White, and said that his being compelled to close up over two months badly demoralized his trade. He had to begin all over again. To him Judge Ewing said: "I will give Mr. Schmelz a license, if Judge Magee does not object, but I have no doubt that he was properly re-fused in 1889. I am well satisfied that you take orders wherever you can. I do not intend to interfere with the past, but you have not conducted your business properly. You sell habitually to people who cannot pay their grocery bills, who beat their wives and children, and to men who are habitual drunkards. You must do better. I am told you make good beer, which is very much in your favor. A VETERAN'S APPEAL. In Collier township there are two applicants who are brothers, Patrick and James McGrogan. James served in Colonel Sam Black's regiment, the Sixty-seventh Penn-sylvania, and left a leg at Malvern Hill, Va. John Storch is the son of a distiller in Germany, and works for the Iron City Brewing Company. John O'Riley, for a surprise, said that he was a total abstainer. Baptiste Teyssier, Louis Weinman and Edward Webster, all at Tom's Run, are exreconsideration of the retail application of Louis Keiflen, of Taggart street, Second ward, Allegheny. Judge Ewing said that the petition would not be entertained. Mr the petition would not be entertained. Mr. Schoyer reminded Judge Ewing that the Court had found no fault with Mr. Keiflen, but objected only to his location, it being close to the power house of the Pleasant Valley line. He said that a wholesale license had been granted for a house next door to the power house, and that saloons had been planted near traction headquar ters in other parts of the two cities. Mr. Schoyer said: "I thought that, in this case, you did not intend to refuse." "Oh, you are very kind," said Judge Ewing, "but we did intend to refuse. We will make no ourselves that we had made a wrong dis

BROKE THEIR BOATS LOOSE, A Suit for $5,400 Damages on Trial Before

Judge Acheson. An argument in an admiralty case was heard before Judge Acheson in the United States District Court yesterday. The suit was that of Neel & Barr against Blythe & Co. In July, 1887, some coalboats belonging to Blythe & Co. were torn loose from their moorings by high water, and coming down the river struck against boats belonging to Neel & Barr, breaking them loose also. Neel & Barr claim that the boats of Blythe & Co. were not properly secured, and sue for $5,400 damages. The plaintiffs are represented by Knox & Reed and D. T. Watson, and the defendants by D. F. ## ALSATIANS HONOR FRANCE.

Carnot Feted by Them on His Arrival a Nice.

NICE, April 25 .- The reception tendered President Carnot on his arrival here vesterday, assumed the character of an ovation. The review of the Alpine troops in the afternoon was attended by an immense concourse of people, among the distinguished observers of the pageant being the Grand Duke Nicholas, of Russia; the Crown Prince of Saxony and the Prince and Princess of

A significant incident of the day was the presentation of a wreath to M. Carnot by the Society of Natives of Alsace-Lorraine. The Italian Mazzini and Garibaldi Clubs also united in doing honor to the French President. After the conclusion of the grand banquet in the evening the Presidental party visited the opera. A Venetian fete, fireworks and illuminations concluded the festivities of the day.

CHURCE LIVELY Will Do What It Can to Relieve the City's Lonesomeness. MANY MINISTERS RESIGNING,

But Have They All the True Spirit of Christian Resignation?

NOTES OF INTEREST IN CHURCH WORK

Speaking of what churches ought to do and what good they might accomplish Rev. Dr. E. E. Hale says: It is not clear to anybody who understands city life that a church of wide-awake people, though there were not more of them than there were apostles, can meet as no other body can the very worst difficulties of city life? Take the deadly loneliness of life there. If it were understood, as a matter of course, that the parlors of a church were always open every evening to anybody who wanted to have some companionship, in the hours between 6 o'clock and midnight, would not that understanding alone relieve very largely this loneliness? I should like to see a church which had "a light in the window," such as such an arrangement would offer. I do not mean that there should be a committee of people waiting to be "sociable" with anybody that happened along. But I mean that all the neighborhood should understand that there was warmth, light and a welcome. You might have a class in political economy going on; you might have a class in botany; you might have a class in the second chapter of the Second Episcle to the Thessalonians; you might have a sewing society provided for the Micronesian Islands; you might be occupying yourself in your lighted parlor as you please; but there the light and company should be. There should be outside a sign bidding welcome, and anybody who chose, though he were the veriest waif or stray just landed on the pier, might come in there. I should say that such a haven of rest as this would, in the first place, solve a good many, difficultiesfor city life much more simply than they are solved, even by the best arrangements of municipal police. But this is of comparatively little importance. What I should do it for, if I had force enough, would be to give the people who know anything shout that church the feelwindow," such as such an arrangement had force enough, would be to give the people who know anything about that church the feeling that the church is a home. Nobody can travel so far as to be outside of its arms. It represents welcome, companionship and sympathy. It represents "together." That is what it is for,

None of our business! On, then, the music! On with the feasting, though hearts break for iorn!
Somebody's hungry, somebody's freezing,
Somebody's soul will be lost ere the morn

Somebody's dving-On with the dancing!-One for earth's pottage is selling his soul; One for a bauble has bartered his birthright, Selling his all for a pitiful dole.

Ah, but One goeth abroad on the mountains, Over lone deserts, with burning deep sands, Seeking the lost ones—it is his business— Bruised though his feet are, and torn though his Thorn-crowned his head, and his soul sorro stricken.

Saving men's souls at such infinite cost;
Broken his heart for the grief of the nations;
It is his business, saving the lost!

At the evening meeting addresses will be made by Dr. C. A. Dickey, of Philadelphia, and Dr. M. B. Riddie, of Allegheny. Hon. James G. Blaine will be invited to preside as he evening meeting.

SPEAKING of "what shall we do with old ministers," Rev. Jay Benson Hamilton, of the New York M. E. Conference, said: "With little or no savings, burdened with the infirmity of years, which make him unacceptable as a minister, he is turned adrift to support him-self. His scanty earnings are augmented by a gift so beggarly as to insult his manhood. It is doled out to him as a charity with such offensive parade that none but those who are reduced to absolute poverty are willing to accept it. If the secrets of the committee which apportions the support of the conference claimants could be published it would be a humiliation as shameful as deserved."

THE American Sunday School Union has about 900 missionaries employed in Sunday school work. During the past year they organized 1,685 new schools and gathered in 60,000 neglected children. Aid was also given to 5,200 other schools containing 340,000 scholars. The following gentlemen that live in Pittsburg and vicinity are Vice Presidents of this society and vicinity are Vice Presidents of this society:
Hon. Felix R. Brunot, Charles J. Clarke, W.
N. Frew, Thomas Wightman, John G. Holmes,
Thomas H. Lane, Andrew Howard, John B.

were reported last year as the result of the work of the society among the destitute, Rev.
J. H. McCullough, Superintendent of that district, is now making his annual visit to Pittsburg in the interest of this important

AT a meeting of the friends of Rev. Dr. Cuyler on Thursday evening, which was attended by many noted men, a purse containing $30,000 was presented to the retiring paster, who said: "I have a great lump in my throat that makes articulation difficult, and the hour is late. I have had a long and supremely happy is late. I have had a long and supremely happy pastorate in this glorious church. This princely offering I accept, belowed, not merely as a testimony of your affection, but a gift that may relieve the last years of my life from the corrosions of care. I thank you for this sweet act of kindness. Who am I that I should be loaded down with vanity? Wheh I think how missionaries wear their lives out without an echo of carely appliance no payasion for old are when I think of film who had not where to lay His head, I am ready to sink into the dust, * * * I do not propose to cease preaching. This isn't a farewell, not a bit of it."

THE Christian Advocate, in its current issue says: "The sentiment in favor of the revision of the creed is stronger in the Presbyterian Church than had generally been supposed. Even some Pennsylvania Presbyteries have voted in its favor. The Independent has been giving special attention to the subject, and taking pains to keep its readers informed as to the progress of the vote. We gather the fol-lowing facts from its last issue: There are in lowing facts from its last issue: There are in that church, including its mission fields, 212 Presbyteries. Of these 122 have voted on the question, and four have either falled or refused to act. Of these 82 favor revision, The Presbyteries reported represent 3.742 ministers out of a total of 5.938, and 515.491 communicants out of a total of 753.749. They therefore represent a majority of the ministers and members of the church. From these figures it would seem certain that the demand for revision will carry by a majority of almost, if not quite, two to one. There will devolve upon the Ganeral Assembly the duty of making the revision asked for. That it will be made in a conservative manner no one donbts."

TRADE NEVERTHELESS IS VERY FAIR

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, April 24.-Special telegrams to Bradstreet's indicate, except in the lower Mississippi Valley, that there has been a widespread improvement in the distribution of general merchandise. This has been aided by nearly a fortnight of seasonable weather. Jobbing is fairly active in drygoods, groceries, hardware and boots and hoes throughout the East, the central West, Southwest, West and Northwest, and is backed by an increase in the retail and resortment demand. Interior roads are in better condition than they have been for a long time and mercantile collections at several western centers are reported to be easier for the first time in some months.

Special returns from Louisiana report that the Mississippi river levees are broken in 30 places in that State: that fully onefifth of the sugar and rice lands are, or will be, inundated; that the country trade is cut off and public sentiment is demanding a National instead of a State system of levees, On the Pacific coast the San Joaquin Valley wheat crop promises to equal the average output there, but in the Sacramento Valley it promises to be short. THE INDUSTRIAL SITUATION OMINOUS.

There is only one disengaged wheat ship on the Pacific coast. Lumber remains active and higher at Boston, Kansas City and St. Louis, although labor troubles else-where are having some effect. The New York stock market is active and excited on the increasing prospects of silver legisla-tion. The industrial situation grows more threatening as the first of May approaches. At Chicago 20,000 packing-house employes, in addition to harness makers, clothin workers, gasfitters, stairbuilders and other trades, threaten to strike, in addition to the 25,000 already on strike for an eight-hour day. There have been 126 strikes, involving 28,253 employes thus far in April, against 61 strikes, involving 12,193 em ployes in April last year. Since January 1 there have been 303 strikes, involving 66,142 employes, against only 221 strikes, involving 48,924 employes in the first four months of 1889.

EXPORTS INCREASING. Exports of merchandise in March aggre gated $72,607,481 and imports $67,154,495, showing gains over last year of respectively 5 and 11/4 per cent. For three months the exports aggregated $218,296,456 and imports $193,634,727, a gain in exports over last year of 7 per cent and a decline in imports of 11/2 per cent.
Wool, it is worth noting, has been in fairly active request for the first time in a year or more, manufacturers actually buying for future requirements, but prices are as yet no higher. Drygoods-Demand is fair. Staple cottons are firm and print cloths, bleached sheetings and denims are higher in price, while other makes tend higher. Cutting of prices by jobbers is noted. Men's wear woolen goods are quiet, while dress goods for fall wear are in better demand. Raw cotton is 1-16@1/sc higher on good demand and a light crop move-

Sugar has not varied much in price or demand, but coffee has continued its movement of last week, with another drop of 1/4@2-5c. Pork in speculative lines has been pushed up another 25c per barrel, but lard futures have reacted fully 1/3c. Trading in hog products has been only moderately active. Wheat, with free exports, fair speculative demand, and short crop and low stock re-ports, continues firm, and 13/@1%c higher. Indian corn, however, has been in less active demand, and with free shipments is off 2@3c, while oats have reversed the usual order and advanced 34@234c.

IRON ORDERS FREER. There have been freer orders for iron this week, and cut prices at the South have been less frequent. Exports of wheat (and flour as wheat) from both coasts this week equal 2,259,530 bushels, against 1,504,975 bushels in the like week of 1889 and 2,146,646 bushels last week. The total exported from July 1 to date is 87,705,570 bushels, against 73,791,095 bushels in a like share of 1888-89. The decrease in available stocks of wheat east of the Rocky Mountains last week exceeds the record, amounting to nearly 3,200,000 bushels, against a weekly average for the calendar year of only 1,300,000 bushels. The decrease in stocks of Indian corn was also heavy.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 174 in the United States this week. against 166 last week and 181 this week last ear. Canada had 38 this week, against 29 last week. The total number of failures in the United States from January 1 to date is 4,005, against 4,245 in a like portion of 1889. DUN'S WEEKLY REPORT. R. G. Dun's weekly report says: The markets are all influenced by the prospect of an increase in currency based on silver. Silver has advanced about 2 cents per ounce, wheat 21/4 cents per bushel, oats 3 cents, coffee and oil 1/2 cent each, cotton 1-16 cent, pork 25 cents per barrel, and stocks have been stronger. The average of prices for all commodities rose over 1 per cent from the 16th to the 22d, but has since declined about half as much.

Trade reports this week are favorable, excepting from the region affected by the almost unprecedented floods in the Mississippi Valley. Three of the trunk lines are interrupted, and their losses will be considerable. At Galveston trade is dull through too much rain. Real estate is very active because of the prospect of harbor improvement. In Florida business is very dull and no encouraging signs are perceived. But at all Northern centers of trade the situation is very satisfactory; the volume of business is large, and collections are fairly prompt. While the money market is everywhere fairly supplied, the demand at most points is but moderate.

A FAIR OUTLOOK. At Boston fair weather has stimulated all trade; at Chicago the increase in business extends to nearly all branches; at St. Louis distribution is fairly active, and the northwestern cities are all rejoicing in excellent crop prospects. The iron and coal cities, Philadelphia and Pittsburg, make less encouraging reports, but there also other branches of trade are fairly active. The iron business is more hopeful in tone at Philadelphia, but at Pittsburg the decline in prices continues, and at New York Southern iron of the lower grades is still pressed for sale, with none offered, at $17. Steel rails are weaker, and $33 is quoted, but bar iron is more active, though irregu lar, and the demand for plates and struc-tural iron is better. Statistics showing that the accumulation of coal in first hands has been reduced since March I have a helpful offuence. No improvement is seen in the woolen manufacture and dearer cotton does not help

The exports of grain continue large, not-withstanding the advance in prices and furnish the only reasonable excuse for that advance. In any event a large surplus of wheat will remain on hand July 1. Cotton receipts and exports are both failing far bereceipts and exports are both failing far be-hind last year. No reason is perceived, be-yond speculative activity, for the advance in bork or in oats, but the belief that the currency will be greatly expanded tends just now to render all prices somewhat ficti-tions. The minor metals are steady, with more demand for lead at 3.95 cents, and tin

GRAIN EXPORTS LARGE.

The leather market has shown some specu-

a shade higher,

lative activity, and while boots and shoes are as low in price as they were a year ago, and profits are very narrow, dealings are large and the spring trade holds out re-markable.

MONEY COMING IN. The Treasury has taken in during the past week $1,900,000 more than it has paid out. The impression prevails that foreign capital is moving in this direction again, and that purchases of securities on foreign account exceed sales. The exports from New York for three weeks have been 21 per cent below those of the same weeks last year, though imports here show an increase of 23 per cent. These figures indicate a heavy excess of import over exports for the month, but there are no present symptoms of an outgo. Business failures throughout the country during the past seven days number 218, as compared with a total of 214 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 213.

PREACHERS IMPOSED UPON.

An Impecuations Couple Reach the End of Their String at Last-They Try to Go to Housekeeping Just Once Too Often. The jolly "sons of rest" have been having a right good time during the past winter. In fact the tramps have found life so easy that they have had time to lie down and think up new dodges for escaping that horrid nightmare, work. In consequence, many new schemes have been sprung on the gullible public. The latest one was brought to light the other day by William McMahony, of the Home Hotel, when a man named Albert Price was caught up on it. His sin was that he worked his game too long in one place. He has been in hard luck, and feared that he would have to be driven to the extremity of degrading himselt by work, when a bright plan struck him, and he took a woman into the combination. The man was clad as a laborer, while the woman was a rather good-looking brunette, of about 30 winters. They first visited min-isters, telling a story that they had a promise of work, and that they had just come to the city. They were going to housekeeping, but their goods had not arrived, or they did not have money enough to have them hauled to their new home. The man would say he was promised work, and just wanted enough

Many prominent ministers were visited, and nearly of them yielded to the man's appeals or the woman's tears. About the middle of March they visited the Rev. Dr. White, rector of St. Andrew's Church. They told their story, and wanted enough to keep them over Sunday. The good-hearted rector opened his pocketbook, but did not have enough money with him. He went to see Mr. McMahon, who said he would keep the man in the Bethel Home, and they made arrangements for the woman to go to the Home for Destitute Women, on Penn avenue.

When the pair were told about the arrangement, they became indignant at the idea of anyone wanting to separate them, and left. A little later, on March 27, they again appeared at the Home Hotel, with an order from Mr. James B. Scoot, asking that they be given meals for several days until they could get to housekeeping. On the second day they had raised some money, and when they came in they had quite a "jag" with them, and they were requested to leave with them, and they were requested to leave the hotel. Later they struck another piece of luck, and another "jag." They again called on Mr. McMahon with a letter from the Rev. David S. Kennedy, of the First Presbyterian Church, Allegheny. He asked that they be given boarding until Monday. The woman was so drunk that she could hardly talk, and the note was returned to Dr. Kennedy. The reverged gentleman then began to make The reverend gentleman then began to make inquiries about the man, who was "just go-ing to housekeeping," and learned that he had been getting ready to set up his household goods ever since New Years, and that nearly all of the ministers had paid to get

Aged People's Home. The regular meeting of the Woman's United Presbyterian Association was held yesterday in the Third U. P. Church, Allegheny. The committee on resolutions reported that an appropriate letter of thanks had been sent to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Henry, for their generous donation of a piece of property on Buena Vista street, Allegheny. The report of the Corresponding Secretary showed that ten children had been received at the Orphans' Home during the last month, and that five were out on trial. The Treasurer's report showed that the receipts for the last month were $203 52, making a balance in the treasury of $1,840 33. The report of the Memorial Hospital was an encouraging one. Four children have been received in the last month, and one extra nurse engaged. The financial showing was very good. The reports were all approved.

The committee on the site for the Aged People's Home reported that they would not advise the purchase of the property on Forty-second street, because the price had Forty-second street, because the price had been raised from $25,000 to $30,000. A special meeting will be called to decide the location of the Home, as the committee had been unable to meet often enough to do much. Upon motion, Mrs. W. N. Stevenson was appointed the delegate to represent the Home, the Hospital and Aged People's Home at the North American Missionary Conference, which is held in Iowa May 18. The following managers for the Aged People's Home were then elected: Mrs. M. F. Reed, Mrs. C. P. Hill, Miss A. McQuistan, Miss E. D. Brown, Mrs. M. F. Bryce, Mrs. F. S. Creer, Mrs. S. F. At 2 o'clock the funeral services were held at No. 77 River avenue, Allegheny. Rev. Mr. Mil-ler, of the Buena Vista Street Church, was the officiating clergyman. He paid a feel-ing tribute to the amiable disposition of the

Assaulted Her Stepfather.

Mary Cole had a hearing before Deputy Mayor McKelvey, of Allegheny, yesterday, on a charge of assault and battery preferred by her stepfather, Tobias Kennedy. The latter alleges that the defendant has repeatedly assaulted him with broomsticks, fryingpans, etc., as well as bitten his hand severely. Mary claimed that the provocation nad been very great, and that she had simply acted in self-defense. She was held under $300 bail for court.
