HIS TROUBLES ENDED

SHOT THROUGH THE TEMPLE

His Body Found in a Field on a Farm on Perrysville Avenue.

ILL HEALTH IS THE CAUSE ASSIGNED

Dr. Robert Sommers Marshall, of 188 Buena Vista street, Allegheny, was found dead near the St. Charles street tollgate shout 5 o'clock last evening. Mr. A. G. Duncan, with his friend, Mr. Parke, was cerned the question of the religion of a can-didate is not entering into the race at all. They are quite indignant that such a report passing the Elliott farm, on their way to an oil well in which they are interested out Perrysville avenue, when their attention was called to the prostrate body of Dr. Marshall. An empty revolver lav by his side, has been greatly exaggerated.

Messrs. Frank Martin and John W. Mc-Coy, candidates for delegates to the next and a wound in the right temple indicated the passage of the bullet. . The Chief of Police was immediately notified, and the body was taken by the patrol wagon to Herman & Ebbert's undertaking establishment, where it lay until 11 o'clock, when it was removed to the beautiful residence that Dr. Marshall had but recently taken at the top of the hill on Buena Vista street.

As to the cause of the suicide nothing can about the proposed amalgamation with the American Flint Glass Workers' Union. The agitation was still going on, but the matter could not be definitely settled until the annual conventions of both organiza-

be stated with absolute certainty. Dr. Marshall's friends state that he had been in ill health for three or four years, and that he must have taken his life in a fit of temporary derangement.

The police officials say that among the effects handed over to them was a package of powder, resembling morphine or cocaine. This, with a few letters, $6 25 in money, a bunch of keys and a box of cartridges, was all that was found on the person of the de-avenue, Allegheny; he graduated at West-ern University, Allegheny, and subse-quently in medical colleges in Vienna and Paris. Twelve years ago he was married to Jones, of the Fifth Avenue Methodist Church, of this city, will probably officiate

A BIG LEGAL FIGHT

Begun Against the Duquesne Traction Company.

A TEST OF ITS RIGHTS

Made by Highland Avenue Property Owners in Court.

In the Court of Common Pleas No. 2, Johns McCleave and George Shiras, attorneys for Charles Lockhart, D. P. Reighard, Henry B. Rea, C. A. Warmcastle, George W. Elkins, Thomas S. Dennison, G. C. Moll, J. N. Pew, James Phelan, Isabella Wallace, D. H. Wallace, Battary, Luthers Church and Thomas S. Bethany Lutheran Church and Thomas S. Bigelow have filed a bill in equity against the Duquesne Traction Company, asking the Court to declare that the defendants have no lawful power or authority to lay down or operate a street railway on North Highland avenue, in the Ninetcenth ward, between Kirkwood and Bryant streets. PLEA OF THE PLAINTIFFS. The petitioners set forth that they are fee simple of eight-tenths of all the lands abutting on the avenue between the points named, and own to the center of from entering upon, laying down, constructing, maintaining or operating a street rail-way between the points named; or, that before defendants may enter, etc., they be required to pay to plaintiffs just compensation for the injury likely to result by reason of such occupation, or to give plaintiffs ade quate security therefor; and ask for such other relief as the exigencies of the case may Prior to the filing of the petition there was a gathering of the petitioners, at which Mr. D. P. Reighard set forth the case for the plaintiffs thus, and his version is similar to that contained in the bill. The avenue has been paved with a smooth asphalt pavement, wholly paid for by the plaintiffs, which diminishes largely the noise and annovance caused by travel, and the improvement has largely increased the value of lands abutting, for residence purposes, etc. Mr. Reighard says the ground on which relief is sought presents two serious questions for the defendants' consideration and digestion. He RIGHTS GRANTED BY LAW. "It appears by the street railway law that defendants have no right to enter on any street to construct a road without consent of the Councils of the city, but that consent is easily obtained. "All the annoyances which would result from the construction of such electric railway are set forth in the bill, and it is recited that the Highland Street Railway under the act of May 14, 1889, is invested with the power to take private p public use, and the Duquesne Traction Company, incorporated under the act of March 22, 1889, has made or is about to make some lease or other agreement with the Highland Street Railway Company, and City Councils have pretended to give the Duquesne the right to do so, and thereby destroy the comfort of the residents who do not need or want such road, at least 80 per cent of the interest does not.' Getting back to his mutton, Mr. Reighard says a general ordinance would not accomplish the purpose of the defendants, as it would allow any other company to enter on the street and compete. The Duquesne Traction Company proposes to have exclusive authority, and to "rule the roost," and could only obtain it by securing the passage of the special ordinance, and now the question arises as to whether the Pennsylvania Legislature or Pittsburg is the superior body, and whether by virtue of an ordinance of Pittsburg Councils the Duquesne True-tion Company can override an act of Assem-AS TO CONSTITUTIONALITY. Having gotten this far, the plaintiffs assail the constitutionality of the act itself under which the Highland Street Railway Company claims to be incorporated. They propose to show, they say, that the act of May 14, 1889, is in violation of Article XVI. Section 8, of the Constitution, which provides that corporations taking private property must make restitution to the owners. Mr. Reighard states that the street railway act plainly gives to corporations the privi lege to take private property, but provides no compensation for damages.

By this time Mr. Reighard got warmed up, and discoursed substantially, as follows: "The proceedings are in direct violation of the constitutional requirement, and give no authority to companies incorporated under that act to construct construct roads without compensating for injuries done private property. If this point be well taken—and it seems to be—the result will be that none of the Duquesne Traction Company's charters railroaded through the Legislature and Pittsburg Councils are of any validity, and in this view it seems to raise a question as to the very existence of these companies. Investors had better put on their thinking caps. To a layman it would seem plain that when the Constitution of the State is all right. stitution requires compensation for property taken, and the question arise as to whether the Legislature has power to incorporate a company on such a basis as this, and it the Legislature has no power, where will it be found? Judge Penny packer, in the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia, in the case of the People's Passen ger Railway Company versus the Marshall Street Railway Company, intimated strongly that the general street railway act was unconstitutional, and would be so decided by him were the question involved in the issue on Highland avenue invoke the aid of the law for the protection of their property, and to test the question as to whether they have any rights that corporations are bound to Counsel were directed to file the bill forth-

THEIR ANNUAL OUTING.

Louisville Passenger Men Plauning for a Good Time.

Mr. Herman Holmes, the genial Travel-ing Passenger Agent of the Louisville and Nashville road, was in the city yesterday for the first time in many months. He has been laid up all winter with rheumatism and his friends were glad to see him.

He was kept busy scattering invitations to the annual outing of the Louisville Passenger and Ticket Agents' Association. A special train has been tendered by the Louis-vilte and Nashville road, and the agents will go to Middlesborough, Kv., where a banquet will be served. One day will be spent in visiting the historic Cumberland Gap and the Gap tunnel. A number of local railroad men have accepted invitations and will go. TWO SUFFERING WOMEN.

The Wife of an Allegheny Contractor Wanders From Home While Crazed by Illness-The Sad Plight of a Penn Avenue

Mrs. Edward J. McIlvaine, wife of the Allegheny contractor, of No. 60 Grant avenue, was found by the Pittsburg police pacing up and down the Union bridge in a frenzied manner about 9 o'clock last evening. She was taken to the Central station in a patrol wagon. As she was being earried inside her screams so affected a Miss Martin, of Braddock, who was passing, that the latter fainted, and also had to be carried in and resuscitated by the police matron. Inspector McAleese sent for Mr. McIlvaine, AN INJUNCTION IS PRAYED FOR who had been making a vigorous but vain search for his wife. Mr. McIlvaine said his wife had but recently suffered from a very severe illness, which had apparently resulted in affecting her mind. Mrs. Dinab Bridges, a middle-aged widow who lives on Willow street near Fortieth street, will probably be taken care of to-day by the Department of Charities. Some of her neighbors notified the department yes-terday that she has been confined to bed for about a year, and is still in a helpless con-dition. In addition to a diseased body the unfortunate woman's mind is affected, ac-cording to the certificate of a Lawrenceville physician, who formerly was her attendant. During the time Mrs. Bridges has been sick she has received attention from humane neighbors, but, as her infirmities are of a permanent character, they desire to be re-lieved. She is supported by two sons.

TRAMPS MOVING WEST. The Gangs Robbing Towns Along the Pennsylvania Rond. The vernal tramp is beginning to appear at a number of places along the Pennsylvania road. His objective point for the next six months will be the wild West. Special Agent Hampton Houghton is kept busy with his force of detectives keeping the Highland Street Railway Company and the loafers away from the railroad. The inhabitants in the smaller towns suffer the most. Mr. Hampton says that Jeannette and Johnstown have been regular harvests for them. The Burgess of Jeannette has given them notice that every tramp caught in the town will be employed in improving the streets. Johnstown's Mayor has also adopted a similar policy.

In the towns along the railroad the gangs rob spring houses, and sometimes even break into residences. They are very fond the said highway. They ask that the defendants now, by preliminary injunction, hereafter to be made final, be restrained can't carry off real estate, they do not draw the line on personal property. The tramps between here and Johnstown are the ones who have spent the winter in the coke regions. They sleep in the warm ovens and near the fires. All of them caught on the Pennsylvania road will be promptly jugged.

The Natives Hadn't the Money to Gather the Crop. The price of rubber has been advanced 5 cents, but local dealers say that this is only a drop in the bucket. There will be a heavy advance in all rubber goods in the next 30 days. It is not because a syndicate has bought up a large quantity of rubber, but because the crop has not been gathered.

A local dealer explained the situation yesterday. Said he: 'The men who put up the money to have the crop of rubber gathered failed to do it this year. So far as I know the gum trees of South America produced as much as ever, but the people not having the dust to gather it, a good portion of the crop was wasted. The result is a scarcity, and a heavy advance in price. I don't care to say how much it will go up, but it will be more than 5 cents."

NEW HOUSE PHYSICIANS.

The Men Who Passed the Examination at Mercy Hospital. The competitive examination held yesterday at Mercy Hospital for the selection of house physicians resulted in the success of Dr. F. F. Myers, of Lewistown, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. C. A. Leisher, of McAllisterville, also a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. T. F. McManus, of Bradford, a grad-uate of the West Penn Medical College. The examination was conducted by Drs. Davis and Henghst. Formerly there were but two house physicians, but the very large increase in the number of cases under treatment during the past year made the se-lection of three a necessity.

DOWNEY GOES HOME

Railroad Switchmen Cannot Make a New Move Until Monday.

THE SUPREME COUNCIL TO COME. Officials Say They Do Not Care Whether

a Strike Occurs. A FEW MINOR LABOR HAPPENINGS

Nothing can no w be done in the impend ing railroad strike until Monday. Whether there will be a strike or not is still an open question. The officials of the different unions engaged in the trouble explain the slowness with which something definite is being done by saying that they are a conservative body of men, and will not precipitate a strike until there is not the slightest probability of coming to satisfactory terms with the officials of the different roads. The latter say they have done all they propose to do, and will wait until something turns up. If a strike is declared, they say they will be able to meet it, and in their opinion they will not come out second best. Grand Master Downey, who has been in the city for the past ten days trying to effect a settlement, left last night for Chicago to arrange some matters in connection with the demands. He stated that nothing would be done by the men until his return on Monday, and he would bring other people with him who would settle the agony one way or the other. He would not say that he would bring back the members of the Supreme Council of the Federated Order of Railway Employes, but lett it to be inferred

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS. Before leaving, Mr. Downey said: "There was no development in the matter to-day, and there can be none now until Monday. I am going home to Chicago, to confer with some people, and will bring them to Pitts-burg when I return, Monday morning. They will have the authority to order a strike if the railroad companies do not give us a more satisfactory answer. We do not think their proposition is a fair one. In fact it proposes a reduction in many cases, and we would be foolish to accept it. What the outcome of the matter will be I do not know. We must move slowly, and there is plenty of time. If the public do not understand the details of the working of our or-ganization, it is not our fault. We will not strike unless it is absolutely necessary."

A meeting of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Society was held last night in Labor

Hall, but only lodge business was discussed.

The proposed strike, of course, came up in an informal way, but no action of any kind was taken on it. After the meeting one of the members, when asked if the Federated Order would do anything, replied: "I hope they will; it is pretty nearly time they did." WAITING FOR NEWS. A tour of the railroad offices developed nothing new. The officials said they were following Mr. Micawber's example, but did not care whether anything turned up or not. They stated that they had offered 25 and 24 cents for night and day conductors and 19 and 18 cents for night and day brakemen re-spectively. This, they declared, would be the last offer made, and they did not care whether it was accepted or not. Their reply was given to Messrs. Downey and Wilkinson. The latter will stay in the city while Mr. Downey is absent in Chicago. It was rumored vesterday that Pinkerton detectives are in the city and were shadow-ing the employes' officials. This was de-nied, and it was stated that the only detecives engaged on the case are those employed by the Perkins agency, of this city, and the regular railroad detectives. The petition of the baggagemen at the Union station for an increase of $10 per month was presented to Chief Baggage Master C. S. Jeukins. The latter referred it to Superintendent Pitcairn, who in turn forwarded the petition to Philadelphia for action. The men say they have no inten-tion of striking and if the petition is refused will do nothing. The work is hard

THREE THOUSAND OVENS IDLE. The Cokers Threaten Trouble if Any Discrimination is Made. The following telegram was received last night from Scottdale: "Nearly 600 coke ovens were blown out by the Frick and Mc-Clure Coke Companies this week. No one plant was entirely shut down, and by the equalization of work a large number of miners were saved from being entirely thrown out tended, a rupture might be the result. "He said the miners would not tolerate any discrimination. The McClure com-pany will close no plant unless it is neces-sary. If the Lemont plant is blown out it will be for no other reason than the lessened demand for product. About 3,000 ovens are now out of blast in this region."

A conference between Superintendent McFadden, of the Whitney Coke Works, and Secretary C. M. Parker was held, but no settlement was reached. Contrary to expectations only 500 men were out on strike in the Smithton district this morning. THICK COAL VEINS OPENED.

ANOTHER NEW TOWN. It Will be Located on the Conacquenessing River, Near Rock Point. A party of capitalists, with H. W. Hartman, of Beaver Falls, at the head, has purchased a large tract of land on the Connequenessing river, at Rock Point, and will build a new town. The name of the place will be Ellwood, and it will be a manufacturing city. Among other attractions will be a large summer hotel.

The Connequenessing will be dammed, and yachting will be an attractive feature of the place. The town will be named after Millionaire Ellwood, of Chicago. It will have several manufactories. Not to be Removed for Awhile. The Westinghouse airbrake shops in Allegheny are not to be removed for the present, at least, the company having received orders which will keep both the Wilmer-ding and the Allegheny shops busy for some time to come. The company has ob-tained the contract to furnish airbrakes for all the new freight cars to be placed on the

Why the Seventeenth Ward People Ask for renceville branch library in that ward, held meeting in the Lincoln Club rooms last evening. They were in session about three hours, and drew up a lengthy document setting forth their reasons.

It states that the Seventeenth ward is the center of population in Lawrenceville, and that closely connected with it are the boroughs of Millvale, Sharpsburg and Etna, on the north side of the Allegheny river. No particular site is suggested, but Mr. Carnegie is requested to select one of the eight squares between the Arsenal and the Allegheny Cemetery gate, on Butler street. The members say that a desirable location can be secured at almost any point along there. They sug-gest that the boroughs named will soon be gest that the boroughs named will soon be annexed to the city, and remind Mr. Carnegie that the Allegheny and St. Mary's cemeteries, the Arsenal Park, which the committee say will positively be, and the new Shoenberger Hospital will attract a large number of people to the Seventeenth ward, and that it remains with him to donate the crowning attraction of them all. The population, number of children attending the public and parochial schools, etc., are also given. The committee will have three copies of the letter printed in typewriter, and will of the letter printed in typewriter, and will appoint a sub-committee to visit Mr. Car-negie and present it to him when he arrives in this city. The committee will meet again at the same place at 8 o'clock on Monday the Lawrenceville Library. The committee of residents of the Seventeenth ward having in charge the collection of information to be presented to Andrew Carnegie to induce him to locate the Law-

Jail Warden Berlin thinks crime is in creasing in Allegheny county at a greater rate than the population. In 1887 the jail received 5,319 prisoners, in 1888, 5,840 and in 1889, 7007 prisoners. A partial explanation for the increase in 1889 is given in the County Controller's Office, Last year a crusade was made against train jumpers, on the railroads running out of the city, and the offenders were generally sentenced to jail for from three to five days. The constables received $1 from the county for each prisoner delivered at the jail, and some 30 or 40 such cases occurred each
