Captain Cowden Explains His Scheme to Lower the Flood Level.

A large portion of the Mississippi Valley is still submerged. People are, however, beginning to regain confidence.

BATON ROUGE, April 25.—The steamer Daotach, Captain Mitchell in command, has reached here from the overflooded district, and put off 500 or 600 people and a large quantity of stock.

Several planters from the interior were here for the purpose of getting their plantations. The Daotach yesterday went up as far as New Texas landing, rescuing people and stock along the route.

1,000 FOOT BREAK. Captain Mitchell said the break in old Morganza at 3 o'clock, yesterday evening, was 600 feet wide, while the break in Grand Levee, just below the mouth of the river, was 100 feet wide.

The boat rescued every living thing from a pig to the dogs and chickens. A refugee was seen on our streets to-day with a dog on one end of a rope and a rooster at the other. This was his only property.

SACKS OF EARTH FOR REPAIRS. The Daotach remained here until 4 P. M., loading sacks above the levee to carry to the Martin's levee. At this hour she left, carrying down 15,000 sacks of earth.

The Daotach is expected down to-night to carry 15,000 sacks of earth. It is expected to return to New Orleans, as there is no longer any demand for a relief boat along the Pointe a la Poudre front.

At 6 o'clock this evening with a large force of men, the Daotach was ordered to leave the levee. The work is under the supervision of General Manager Harahan, of the Valley road, and Mr. J. D. Houston.

At 10 o'clock this evening the break in next Tuesday. Mr. W. L. Clark, of West Baton Rouge, was down here this morning to get help to close the LaBelle break. From what can be learned the work is well on.

CLEARING UP. A Greenville, Miss., special says: After four days of incessant rain the sun came up brightly this morning. The river fell three inches in the past 24 hours, which is the first permanent fall we have had since the beginning of the high water, three months ago.

A special from Maricopa, Ariz., says: The water in the Colorado river is low in this district, but most rapidly below Rosedale. At Arrow's Bridge, near the center of the district, the water is falling slightly.

A BROKEN BRIDGE.

The bridge of the Louisiana Central Railroad has given away and is now jammed into that of the Texas Pacific at Grossete Texas. If the draw of the latter is in a normal position the bridge will be opened.

TO PREVENT FLOODS.

The promoter of a scheme for opening a new Mississippi outlet before the Senate—aid for the sufferers. WASHINGTON, April 25.—Captain John Cowden, promoter of the scheme to open an outlet to the flood waters of the Mississippi river, through Lake Borgne, from a point ten miles below New Orleans, which he has been urging upon Congress for the past ten years, and others interested with him, were given a hearing to-day by the committee on the bill.

The bill, which would authorize Captain Cowden to proceed with the work pending before the committee, provides that they shall be paid the sum of $500,000 for every foot the flood level of the river shall be reduced by a commission appointed by the President, which shall report to the Secretary of War.

In case the outlet shall not be opened, no payment is made by the Government. Captain J. P. Seathers, an old steamboat captain and pilot, stated to the committee his objections to the levee system, which he said had resulted in raising up the bottom of the river. The committee, however, did not, in his opinion, improve the navigation of the river above New Orleans one bit.

General J. R. Chalmers told the committee that in his opinion the outlet would be a great benefit to the Mississippi valley. He addressed the committee at length in support of the bill. He exhibited a great number of maps and drawings to illustrate his arguments.

HOW IN THE FIELD.

A New Candidate for the Late Mr. Randall's Seat in Congress.

BECK GIVES UP THE STRUGGLE. After Sending a Parting Shot at Those Who Opposed Him. SENATOR ALBEE STILL HARD AT WORK. The Outcome of the Contest Remains Enveloped in Great Uncertainty.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—Interest in the contest for the Congressional nomination in the Third district was intensified to-day by James H. Beck's withdrawal from the field, and the entering in the race of Legislator John H. Fow. Of the Seventeenth ward. In announcing his withdrawal Mr. Beck said: "I have never stated that I would be a candidate, and I have not asked any one to support me. It is not true that I moved into the district within a few weeks before Mr. Randall's death, as has been stated. I have been living in the Fifth ward since early in January, and, with the exception of about six months, have lived in the neighborhood for two years. I must plead guilty to the objection that has been urged in some quarters against me, viz: That I am a Democrat, and believe in the principles of the party as declared in its platform and State conventions and by Mr. Cleveland."

In announcing his withdrawal Mr. Beck said: "I have never stated that I would be a candidate, and I have not asked any one to support me. It is not true that I moved into the district within a few weeks before Mr. Randall's death, as has been stated. I have been living in the Fifth ward since early in January, and, with the exception of about six months, have lived in the neighborhood for two years. I must plead guilty to the objection that has been urged in some quarters against me, viz: That I am a Democrat, and believe in the principles of the party as declared in its platform and State conventions and by Mr. Cleveland."

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—Interest in the contest for the Congressional nomination in the Third district was intensified to-day by James H. Beck's withdrawal from the field, and the entering in the race of Legislator John H. Fow. Of the Seventeenth ward.
