A Good Demand for Chicago Dressed Beef and Canned Meats.

SOME EFFECTS OF HIGH-PRICED ICE

ICE BROUGHT FROM NORTH CAROLINA

OFFICE OF PITTSBUEG DISPATCH SATURDAY, April 26, 1890.

The number of Chicago dressed beeves consumed by the Pittsburg trade is not far from 600. A representative of one of the four firms represented here reports volume of trade 25 per cent larger than at this time last year. Said he: "Butchers whose trade is not extensive can hard'y afford to kill this season because of the high-priced ice. Our company is bringing ice from Lake Sincoe, Canada, and it costs us $9 a ton in the box, against $2 75 last year. As we use 40 to 50 tons a week our expenses, you can see, will be very much increased, and it now looks as though we would be forced to raise prices of dressed beef. The principal raise prices of dressed beef. The principal loss from the high-priced ice will fail on the small retailer and not on the consumer." A representative of the canned meat indus-try, in an interview to-day, said: "Our trade for the mouth of March was intger than usual for that month, and has slacked up unexpect-edly in the past two or three weeks. The pic-nic season is near, and stocks are well worked off in the handls of wholesale grocers, with whom we chiefly deal. Volume of business so far this year has been 10 per cent larger than for the corresponding period of last year, and this percentage will, no doubt, be increased as the year advances, for the reason that high-priced ice will curtail the consumption of fresh means in hot weather. Alreasy canned meat shows stiffening tendencies at sources of sup-ply, because of the increasing demand." ply, because of the increasing demand.

Ice Machines Profitable.

An ice machine now in process of construct tion by James Rees & Sons, engine builders, on Duquesne way, is expected to be in operation by June. The patentee guaran teed that re could be manufactured for 90c to $1 per namies to take 50 tons daily through the season at $5 per ton was refused a day or two ago by the Rees firm. The latter firm proposed a three years' contract at little more than half the offer for one season.

An offer from one of our leading ice com

Choice grades of the Swiss cheese are grow-Choice grades of the Swiss cheese are grow-ing scarce and firm. The first of the new stock is not due until the middle of May, and the old tork of good quality will not more than hold out until the new appears. The growing scarc-ity of the domestic Swiss cheese, it is thought by our dealers, will advance prices of the for-eign Sweitzer. Advices from Switzerland show that the past scason was an unusually fa-corable one for the production of high grade theses. existed and prices averaged higher all around. May and June made some rather sharp fluctua ions, but July ruled steady within a narrow range. May and June opened 14@14c higher and advanced 134@14c and closed firm at al-most outside prices. July opened 34@24c higher, ruled firm and closed about 34c higher than yesterday.

The firmness was attributed to the nature of the crop news and favorable advices from abroad. Crop news from the Northwest re-ports favorable progress, though to-day a dis-patch from Minneapolis said that seeding in the Jun River valley had been stopped on ac-count of dre weather the Jim River valley had been support and count of dry weather. Another dull day was witnessed in corn, thongh the feeling was somewhat firmer. Op-thons were confined largely to local operators and fluctuations were kept within narrow lim-its. The market opened at a trifle above yes-terday's closing, was easy for a time, then sold up %c, one or two prominent traders buying freely of July and some May, which started the errowd to covering, eased off some then, closing Steady rains on Saturday morning proved a detriment to trade, and the week's windup did not prove satisfactory. Markets are flooded with an inferior quality of potatoes, drawn from the Northwest by high prices. The resuit of this overdose is felt in a general weak ening of prices. Choice stock may be quoted as fairly steady, but the upward movement of the past week or two has been arrested. There has freely of July and some May, which started the erowd to covering, eased off some then, closing 1/20% better than yesterday. Oats were fairly active, and a stronger feel-ing prevailed. Prices advanced 3/20% for the distant futures, but May held easy. The feat-ure of the trading was the free solling of May by a large holder. His operations prevented prices for that month from advancing, and they held at about the same to ½ above yesterday's close.
