CHICAGO IS OUT OF IT.

Stock Brokers to Get Their Grain Quotations From New York.

CAMP AND COMPANY ARRESTED.

A McKeesport Speculator Who Dropped $2,500 Wants It Back.

THE MARKET CATCHES J. R. JOHNSTON

The stock brokers and "bucket shop" men of this city have made an agreement not to handle any more Chicago grain quotations after May 1. Beginning on Thursday the Pittsburg men will get all their grain quotations from New York. To circumvent the Chicago Board of Trade, and in order to supply the brokers and "bucket shops" with quotations, the Western Union Telegraph Company tried the experiment of sending out the quotations from the New York Stock Exchange. For the past week or more the quotations have been coming into this city regularly by ticker from the metropolis. Since shutting down on the brokers and others outside the Chicago Board of Trade floor, the directors of the latter say they have secured more business than they could otherwise do.

PITTSBURG MEN DENY IT.

They say that on account of the bucket shops not getting the quotations, the "curbstone" buyers have been unable to do business with the "shop" men and necessarily had to go to the members of the Board of Trade, doing business on the floor. The Pittsburg brokers say this is untrue. The "curbstone" buyers do not patronize the regular brokers, for the reason that they would be compelled to put up too much margin. In a "bucket shop," they would not have to put up more than 1 per cent, while with a regular broker they would be compelled to lay down 10 per cent on all orders. The people doing business with the "bucket shop" men, they claim, cannot put up this amount. It requires a large capital to trade on the Board of Trade, while $10 is sufficient capital to buck the game in a "shop." A serious loss to the Chicago men, their customers in this city and all parts in Ohio. The latter cannot get the quotations regularly and have been making arrangements to get them from New York.

A PICNIC IN PORK.

The local pork agents have been having a regular picnic since the Chicago quotations were cut off. They now have to rely on messages received from the houses they represent. By the time the messages are delivered, the market may jump several points either way, and thousands of dollars may be made or lost in a few minutes. A firm in the city might get a message from their broker to the effect that pork was selling at such a figure. If the firm wanted to buy, they might reply promptly to the broker, and when the latter would receive the answer, pig might have jumped up several points.

The only difference between trading in New York and Chicago is in the freight rates. It is said there is almost as much speculation in grain in New York as in Chicago.

CAMP THE PLUNGER SUED.

An information was made before Judge Gripp yesterday against Frank L. Camp, Charles T. Hewitt and Victor C. Place, representing the Pittsburg Commission Company, by one of the men caught by the failure of that firm on Saturday. The prosecutor is C. H. Black, a resident of McKeesport, who did business with the firm at their branch house in that town. He alleges they set up a blackboard, on which they published quotations of the rise and fall of grain and oil, and allowed an assemblage there for the purpose of betting and staking money on the issue. The charge alleged is gambling. Camp and Place were both arrested and gave bail for a hearing on Saturday, but Hewitt was not apprehended. The prosecutor, it is said, dropped $2,500.

Another failure in stock circles occurred yesterday. J. R. Johnston, one of the best known brokers in the city, and who is well known on account of being the Prohibition candidate for State Treasurer, announced to the Exchange that he was unable to meet his obligations and had to close out. The following statement was found posted on his door yesterday morning:

SEVENTY-FIVE ON THE DOLLAR.

"Owing to recent heavy losses I am compelled to temporarily suspend business. I will as soon as possible submit a statement and arrange a settlement with my creditors."

Mr. Johnston has been doing a regular stock business in this city for the past eight or nine years. The cause of his failure as told by himself is as follows. Mr. Johnston said:

"Owing to recent heavy losses, caused by trade running against me, and a joint loss of considerable amount involved in the failure of the Pittsburg Commission Company, I thought best, for the interest of my customers and myself, to suspend operations to-day, until I could have time to look about and arrive at a conclusion as to what was best to do. I am satisfied now that under a forced settlement I can pay 75 cents on the dollar on Saturday's liabilities, and hope to do even better. I have carried on a legitimate business, being prepared through my connections with all the markets, to deliver any goods sold through my office the moment they were demanded, and it is only through one of the unfavorable turns of trade that I am forced into my present position."

VISITING FREIGHT AGENTS.

The Traffic Men of the Pennsylvania Company on an Inspecting Tour.

The division freight agents of the Pennsylvania Company's lines have adopted a new plan to gather ideas, and post themselves about the facilities of their system. This year, for the first time, they have organized a party, and are visiting all the important points on the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg. Yesterday they were in Pittsburg, and to-morrow will go to Wheeling and Zanesville.

In the party registered at the Anderson Hotel last evening were D. F. McCabe, Columbus; E. F. Fuller, Cincinnati; G. W. Davis, Richmond; S. F. Gray, Indianapolis; F. W. Wilkinson, Zanesville; J. B. Hill, Chicago; R. W. Geiger, Louisville. Division Freight Agent Means, of the Panhandle, acted as guide, and showed them around over the terminal tracks of the road. Mr. Geiger said last evening that he had learned some things about railroads that he never knew before. They paid some attention to the condition of the tracks and the location of switches. Mr. Geiger stated that Pittsburg was one of the most important points on the system, and the tonnage of this city is enormous.

Making the Judge Get a Move On.

Judge White yesterday made an order directing Judge Gailey, assignee of Graff, Bennett & Co., to proceed at once with a distribution among the creditors of the funds in his hands.

ST. PAUL'S FEAST DAY OBSERVED.

The Passionists Have a Gala Day in Honor of Their Saint.

The feast of St. Paul of the Cross, founder of the order of Passionists was, celebrated yesterday in all the Passionist Monasteries of the world, including the one on Mt. Oliver this city. The celebration began at 5:30 A. M., with low mass. Solemn high mass commenced at 10 o'clock, Rev. S. J. Schrumm, of St. George's Church, assisted by Rev. Father McTighe, of St. Malachi's Church, and the Passionist fathers celebrating it.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Morgan M. Sheedy, of the church of Our Lady of Mercy. The text was: "He shall be like a tree which is planted near the running water, which shall bring forth its fruit in due season and his leaf shall not fall off, and all whatsoever he shall do shall prosper."

Among other things, Father Sheedy said: "The most beautiful illustration of a righteous man's life is a garden with its fruit. If we would really bring before us what is both the highest blessing in God's service and also in fact, the ordinary portion of good men, we shall find it to consist in what from its very nature cannot make much show in history; in a life barren of great events and rich in small ones, according to the judgment of the world; in a life of routine duties; of happy obscurity and inward fears; of an orderly dispensing of good to others who come within their influence; of a growth and blossoming and bringing forth fruit in the house of God; and of a blessed death in the presence of their brethren.

Father Sheedy then gave an outline of St. Paul, the patron saint of the order. St. Paul was born January 3, 1694, and at an early age indicated his strength of mind and purpose in life. Voltaire, the great French skeptic, was born in the same year, and his life was in marked contrast to the pious St. Paul's. Father Sheedy concluded his remarks by comparing St. Paul with a tree bearing good fruit. At the conclusion of the ceremony a sumptuous banquet was served at the retreat to as many of the visiting clergy as the accommodations would permit. In the afternoon a service for children was held.

AMERICAN OIL AWAY AHEAD.

European Capitalists Are Afraid of the Unskilled Workmen.

W. B. Bowring and L. B. Stoddard, two Liverpool oil dealers, arrived last evening, and registered at the Schlosser. Mr. Bowring is a personal friend of President Campbell, of the Bear Creek Refining Company, and they propose to go over the field in this locality. Mr. Bowring said that the price of oil still remained firm in England, and the demand was good. The Russian fluid is coming into competition, and it almost equals the American oil.

Concerning threatened labor troubles in Europe Mr. Bowring stated that England had nothing to fear from her skilled workmen. They are thoroughly organized and are men of good judgment, as anxious to preserve peace and good order as the masters. Common labor, however, in the British Isles and on the Continent is the disturbing element. It is the unskilled working classes that the English dread the most, and are afraid may produce trouble at almost any time. European capitalists are awaiting with apprehension for May 1, on which day the eight-hour movement will be inaugurated on the Continent.

ENGLISH CLOTHMAKERS ON A VISIT.

Manufacturers of Worsteds in Bradford Seeing American Sights.

William Hey and William Firth, of Bradford, Eagland, are stopping at the Duquesne. They are manufacturers of worsted goods, and were called to New York to testify in a tariff case. It seems an importer of that city was bringing into the country a lot of woolen goods and classifying them as worsteds. The difference in the duties is about 26 cents per pound. Suit was entered against the importer by the Collector of Customs, and these two manufacturers were called in to give some information.

Once in New York they concluded to see some of the country, and so came to Pittsburg. One of the members of J. P. Witherow & Co. showed them around the city yesterday.

FOUGHT FOR A FEW DOLLARS.

A Quarrel That Resulted in Three Men Being Held for Court.

Henry Gilsky charges Oscar Soffel with pounding him, and Jacob Zimmon and Abe Cohen with encouraging the war. Gilsky said he was lying on a lounge in his residence, at No. 24 High street, at the time, and that the trouble was over a matter of a few dollars. The accused were required by Alderman Reilly last evening to give $300 bail for trial at court.

Although the amount involved was not large, there was so much chin music, rejoinder and sur-rejoinder that the Alderman was nearly two hours wading through the case.

IN THE WATER THIRTY HOURS.

A Soho Expressman Hauled Up for Cruelty to His Horse.

An information was made yesterday by Assistant Agent Berryman, of the Humane Society, against Wm. Borland, a Soho expressman, for cruelty to a horse. Borland was driving along Glass run, above Hays station, last Monday, when his horse fell in the run.

The horse was not injured, but the water almost covered him. Borland, it is alleged, walked off and left the beast lying in the water, where he remained for 30 hours, when some residents got him out.

WINDRIM MAY COME HERE.

Col. Swords Says He Has Ordered the Equipment for the Postoffice.

It is expected that the four iron rafters over the arcade at the Government building will be put up this week. The work of the Pennsylvania Construction Company on the roof, however, continues as slow as ever. Supervising Architect Windrim is scheduled to appear here very soon, to see what can be done to hasten the job.

Colonel Swords says he has ordered the equipment for the new postoffice, and it will soon be delivered here.

Will Show What They Can Do.

The Allegheny Turn Verein, which has established an excellent school for calisthenics, under the management of Prof. Oscar Scheer, will give an exhibition of the qualifications of the scholars next Monday evening, May 5, in the Turn Hall, South Canal street. The exercises will commence at precisely 8 o'clock.
