CLEVELAND MAY BE THE NEXT.

Manager Hanlon and His Players Leave for Chicago Full of Hope.

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Another rumor which will interest local baseball patrons is now on the wing, and very extensively. It is to the effect that the Pittsburg National League club is to be transferred to Baltimore. The report was current in Baltimore to such an extent yesterday that editors of newspapers there wired to this city last evening asking for full particulars of the deal. It would be extremely difficult to trace the source of this and kindred rumors; much more difficult than to prove their falsity. One or two Eastern papers yesterday contained statements to the effect that the transfer was just as good as settled. The officials of the local club were questioned on the matter and emphatically denied the truth of such reports.

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL.

Director J. P. O'Neil said: "Well, I am to some extent amused at the anxiety some peo-ple have about the welfare of our club. They have had it located in Indianapolis, and when that fallacy was exposed they now have it in Baltimore. To-morrow they may have us in Hindostan. Let me once for all state that the Pittsburg National League Club will remain right in Pittsburg and play every scheduled game when weather permits. I will guarantee that, and it may be that our club will be playing when some other clubs have collapsed. It is only our enemies who are circulating these false reports. They think the reports will do us harm, but they won't. I know that our rivals would like to see us out of the way, but we are here to stay, and I tell you that before the season is ended we will have a team that everybody will take notice of." Thus another ill-founded report is knocked on the head. Doubtless if a transfer were to be made Baltimore would be a probable location; at least it would seem much better than Indianapolis. But as there is no probability at present of transferring the club it is fair to say that reports of a transfer are being circulated with malicious intent.

AFTER ANOTHER PLAYER.

It is understood that great efforts are being made to secure a good and experienced infielder for the local N. L club. The opinion seems to be that Youngman cannot do well at any other place than second base. Miller can-not be kept at third base every day. The desire of the club officials is to secure a good shortstop and try La Roque on third. It may he that a new infielder may be signed within a few mays. An official of the club stated yesterday that the games so far played have done much good in giving Manager Hecker an idea much good in giving Manager Hecker an idea of what is needed, and the greatest require-ment is a good infielder. The directors so far are satisfied with the pitchers.

are satisfied with the pitchers. There are also reports coming from the East to the effect that a reduction of admission prices may be looked for at Cleveiand, Buffalo and Brooklyn. It is claimed that the action of remain.—Ex. and Brooklyn. It is claimed that the action of the Pittsburg P. L. Club in adopting 25-cent ball is prompting other P. L. clubs to do like-wise. There does not, however, seem to be any substantial grounds for such statements, and just as ensembes of the National League spring reports about the transfer of the Pitts-burg club, so are the enemies of the P. L. circulating reports intended to injure that or-ganization. Judging from the way in which New York and Brooklyn P. L. officials are ob-fecting to the Pittsburg reduction of price it is jecting to the Pittsburg reduction of price it is hardly likely that the Brooklyn club will come down to 25 cents.

MORE FALSE RUMORS	left full of couldence. They expect to do well financially in that city and size certain of playing to a tremenduous crowd to-day. They offer yon high wages, steady work, cheap living and low rents. We hereby warn the carpenters of all countries not to be caught by these deceiful promises. The ob-ject of these unscrupulous advertisers is to overstock the labor market, and thereby roduce wages and place the working people in a position of adject dependence on their favor. Work here is always unsteady; at best, it will average but eight or nine months per year. Competition is keen and intense, and a big day's work is expected from each man. Machinery and new inven-tions constantly reduce the demand for labor, and, with the incoming flow of immigration, only add to the large glut of idle men in this country. A PASTOR INSULTED.

Rev. Mr. Cort Barred From Frenching in Chambersburg Church. CHAMBERSBURG, May 4.-The Mercers burg classis of the German Reformed Church have been in session here since Thursday, holding the annual meeting in St. John's Reformed Church. It is the custom when any church body meets here to assign the visiting ministers to occupy the pulpits of the various churches in town on Sunday. When the announcements for to-day were made last evening it was found that Rev. Cyrus Cort, of Green Castle, had been as-signed to preach this morning in the First Lutherau Church, which has the largest congregation in town. Rev. Mr. Cort is the preacher who took such a decided stand against the prohibition amendment in June last and wrote and published so many articles against it. His course then brought down upon him the condemnation of many ministers and the condemnation of many ministers and the newspaper controversies were very bitter. As soon as it was known last evening that he was going to preach in the First Luther-an Church thé members of the church be-gan sending to the official board protests against allowing Mr. Cort to preach and the chiestions the summer that late the objections became so numerous that late last night the church authorities sent a re-quest to the classis that they assign some other minister to their church

This morning only about half an audience was present at the services in the Lu-theran Church. Mr. Cort did not appear, nor was anyone sent in his stead. The ser-mon was preached by the pastor, Rev. E. H. Leisenring. The pulpit was to have been filled this evening by Rev. J. Hassler, of Fort London, who is also a member of the Reformed Classics, but this afternoon Rev. Hassler sent to the Lutheran pastor a note declining to preach this evening. The affair has caused much discussion in church circles, and it is likely to give rise to a long controversy. The classis will take some action on the matter at its session to-morrow, and it is said the body regards the refusal of the Lutheran congregation to receive Rev. Mr. Cort as an insuit to the Reformed Church. Mr, Cort is very erratic and pe-culiar, but is a very able preacher.

Quiet Little Meeting That Was Held in the East End.

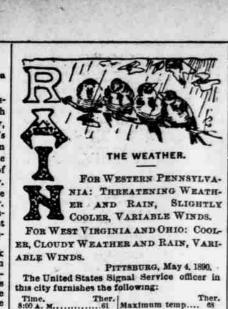

During a part of the past week the memers of the American Protestant Association had a pleasant little time all to themselves in the East End. They had music, feasting and oratory, and the President of the A. P. A., Thomas A. Seele, of Philadelphia, was on hand. The object of the gathering was to stimulate a desire among young men to join the order. The aim of the order is the unification of Protestantism, but though sectarian, it labors to get proselytes from all nationalities, not requiring, as does the Jr. O. U. A. #### ABOUT THE BROOKLYN CLUB.

If it did, New York would have to follow. But so far the attendance at the Brooklyn games has been quite large enough to banish all thought of reducing prices. The Pittsburg officials couldn't well act other than they did, and if either Cleveland or Buffalo have similar necessities, why of course, they will do well to necessaties, why of course, they will do well to follow Pittsburg's example. It is not unlikely that before long a reduction of price will take place at Cleveland. The past week has shown conclusively how much pleasanter it would be for everyhody concerned if there were no conflicting dates. With only one chib in the city during the week haseball enthu-iasm has revived considerably. With only one club in the city during the week haseball enthu-insm has revived considerably. This means that the better plan would be to have a new arrangement made whereby "one club at a time" would be all that we'll have. If it was purely a business transaction to transfer the Pittsburg-Chicago series to Chi-cago it would be a much better business stroke to transfer the Pittsburg-Boston series to Bos-ton during the Fourth of July holidays. This suggestion is made in the most disinterested spirit, and if the change were effected it would certainly be a great gain to the Pittsburg N. L. club. The fact is the local P. L. club is a holi-day club, if it is nothing else. That statement admits of no dispute.
