SEPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. SCOTTDALE, May 5 .- Affairs in the coke region are daily assuming more of the strike color, and, drawing conclusions from the conversation of labor leaders, a strike seems the valley differences from all over the region. It seems that nothing short of a strike will satisfy the cokers if the valley plant is not put in resumption. A convention of the cokers will be held shortly to take action

A labor leader stated to-night that it was only by conservative action on the part of the leaders that the order for a general shut-down was prevented at the last convention, and should a convention now be called the probable outcome would be the declaration of a strike at all the works. This would involve 14,000 men.

A STRIKE PROBABLE. Labor officials were in consultation all day, and committees were sent to General Manager Lynch, but little of importance was gleaned from them save that no settlement was reached, and that a strike would probably be necessary. The origin of the trouble that now threatens to culminate in a strike, is caused by the H. C. Frick Coke Company giving notice to Kerfoot and Parker, of the Knights of Labor, a couple of weeks since, that the wagons of coal at the valley mines were not filled according to the agreement, and unless in the meantime they were filled better the plant would be closed down indefinitely on May 3. The plant was closed down, and the labor officials intimate that it is a direct violation of the agreement, and that the miners em-ployed at the valley are willing to make affidavit that the wagons were properly

The Master Workman said to-night "The men have placed this matter in my hands and are willing to abide by my decision. All I want is for the men to obtain justice at the hands of the company. It will be definitely determined to-morrow evening as to a strike.'

DIFFERENCES MAY NOT BE SETTLED. Notices were sent out by the valley officials to-day to all locals asking for action in the case to-night, and their answers will be received to-morrow morning. The six days' notice will then be served on the company to adjust the matter or their works will be closed down. An immense mass meeting of all the works from Broadtord to valley will be held below Morgan's to-night and the matter will be carefully considered. Kerfoot, Kane and others will speak.

Secretary Parker has just returned from the Minersdale district, Somerset county. He addressed a mass meeting at East Salisbury and at Boynton. A strike of 70 men has been inaugurated at one of the miner there for an advance in wages. Despite the threatening talk of the lenders the operators fear no strike, as they look for an adjust-ment of all differences.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH A MOOREFIELD, W. VA., May 5 .- Streit Tross the colored man who has been in inil for assault for some time past, under sentence of death from the 23d inst., has been giving his jailer some serious trouble lately, and tears are expressed that he will yet escape before the day of his taking off arrives. He has been in a sulky mood for some time, relusing food, and seems to be meditating some scheme for his escape.

A few days ago it was discovered that the chain with which the prisoner was hobbled nation showed that Tross had been sawing at it with a case knife. A blacksmith was instructed to rivet the chain on and attach the end to a ring in the floor. The next day the lock connecting the ring to the floor was

HIS COUNSEL TO WORKINGMEN.

At Present Ask Only for Nine Hours and a Half Holiday Saturday.

APPLAUDED IN HIS OWN CHURCH

COLUMBUS, O., May 5.-The sermon delivered by Dr. Washington Gladden, of the First Congregational Church, yesterday on 'May Day Labor Demonstration and Its Lessons," is exciting unusual comment. Dr. Gladden's reputation as a writer on social problems renders his words on the subject which he had chosen, of notable interest, and many strangers were present to hear him speak. During his sermon, the preacher was frequently interrupted by applause.

Columbus, Dr. Gladden observed, took no part in the Labor Day demonstration; not because Columbus workingmen do not entertain views similar to those urged by the workingmen of other cities, where strikes are frequent and imminent, but because, he believes, Columbus citizens are more prosperous, more fortunate and the relations with their employers are more pleasant. He could recall in his seven and a half years' residence here but two small strikes, both of which were pleasantly adjusted, the street railway employes and the boxmakers. This condition is not the result, he thinks, of a lack of intelligence, but the Columbus workingmen are better off and their employers more conservative. The air is full of noises of labor troubles, and the city that hears only through the newspapers is fortunate. There is no diffi-culty that cannot be settled within reason, and no trouble was ever settled right with out reason. Neither side can afford to settle by force. Labor and capital are partners, and no arrangement can be perma-nently maintained without the support of

THE DEMANDS REASONABLE.

Dr. Gladden congratulated labor, that the demands of the workingmen on Labor Day were moderate and reasonable. In the Old tionalism was declared to be the aim and object, and this, he held, the laboring men have a right to work for by peaceable meth-ods; it must be considered and discussed, and many philanthropic people and others not laboring men are seriously thinking about it. A great deal can be said in its favor. The horrible misgovernment of the cities, the encroachneats of capital and other ills are preparing many minds for a radical change. Men of intelligence and wealth haven't time, and politics falls into the hands of those who make a business of politics. What wonder that thoughtful men are casting about for relief. Speaking for himself, Dr. Gladden did not think nationalism the remedy, but there should be thorough and free discussion, and the workingmen have as much right to have this inscribed upon their banners as we to have inscribed protection, high license or tariff reform. Nationalistic sentiment was, however, rather the exception last Thursday, and the demands of the workingmen didn't reach this. What they desire most is the reduction of the hours of labor to eight, and this was urged with so much reason that it s evident the workingmen are learning to be moderate.

LESS HOURS DON'T REDUCE PRODUCT. Dr. Gladden does not believe in the argument that if the hours of labor are reduced production is reduced and wages cons mently decrease, for the obvious reason that hours when production would stop alto-gether. He would produce less in 24 hours than in ten because of the inevitable ex-

There has been of late years a steady re the average working day is nine and a half hours. The population has increased 30 per cent, and production has increased 300 per cent-ten times faster than the productive power. The average increase of wages is $2 15 a week, though the hours are reduced from 72 to 57. England is much more advanced, however, than France or Ger-

It was insisted by some that prices must rise if the hours of labor were reduced and wages increased, but the statistics show that the prices in all manufactured goods have fallen an average of 24 per cent. This means that the workingman works fewer hours and gets more money, but he gets 24 per cent more for his money than when he worked more hours and got less pay. The number of persons who can read and write has increased 33 per cent faster than the increase in population. In 1850 1 in 57 of the population of England was unable to read and write; in 1885 there was only 1 in 9; in in 1850 1 in 18 was a pauper; in 1885 there was but 1 in 46. The decrease in the use of ntoxicants has been only 14 cents a head for the upper classes, who drink wine and high priced beverages, but the beer drinkers have consumed on an average $1 12 less per head. There is no country in the world where the hours of labor are so short, and no country where the morals and intelli-

IMPROVEMENT IN ENGLAND.

This is not saying that it is better than our country, but it is history that the im-provement has been wonderful. Short hours have not done all this, but they have ione much. The reduction of hours and increase in wages were fought by many, among them John Bright. Another argu-ment was that it must affect disastrously the commercial interests of Great Britain, but low nobody believes this, for the reverse has been proven. In this country production has increased with marvelous rapidity. Wages have not increased so rapidly as in England, for the reason that here they started at a much higher point. A legisla-tive act reduced the hours of labor in the actories of Massachusetts in 1869 to 10 ours and the result was soon felt in all the adjoining States.

It would not be right to argue for a reduction, Dr. Gladden held, if it crippled production and enhanced prices. We are bound to maintain unimpaired the condi-tious of material welfare. There is no room to doubt that a reduction from ten to five hours would be injurious, crippling production, but how do we know that it would not be unwise to reduce from ten to eight hours? One argument against the reluction is that as a class the workingman might abuse the two hours more of leisure. Dr. Gladden did not speak from personal knowledge, but from report, that as a class miners did not know how to use their leisure, and there are other classes of whom this is true. It cannot be argued that the reduction would be advantageous to all.

LIBERTY A CURSE TO MANY.

Liberty is a curse to many. The reduc-tion would result in injury and self-degra-dation to the few, but not to the majority. Those who oppose the proposition forget that in many industries the workers are idle bree months in the year. Statistics show that in Massachusetts one-third of the wage workers are out of employment one-third of the time. The cause of this is the great improvement in machinery; the markets are glutted. The leisure is concentrated into one or two waiting spells, and it is far more langerous than that to which the eight-hour opposers object. Long idleness leads to financial embarrassment, and besides, Satan always finds some mischief for idle hands to o. It would be a moral gain to distribut this leisure over the year.

Dr. Gladden believes that the eight-hour

Allegheny Committees Grant Uncle Sam What He Doesn't Ask.

The Committees on Streets and Sewers and Wharves and Landings, of Allegheny, met last night to take action on the resolution granting to the United States Government a strip of ground for an abutment for the Herr's Island dam. United States District Attorney Lyon was present. He said that the object in asking Councils to give or sell the ground to the Government was to avoid the delay consequent upon legal pro-ceedings, which would be considerable if there was an appeal from the decision of the Board of Viewers.

A short discussion ensued, the sentiment expressed being unfavorable to granting the ground to the Government, Mr. Lvon stated that in case the city gave the Government the privilege of putting an abutment there, they could still control that portion of the wharf for other purposes, railway fran-chises, etc.; but if the Government condemned it, then the city would have nothing to say and the Government would have

Mr. Muchibruenner moved that the resolution be amended to grant the land to the Government for $1, providing the Government would erect a movable dam. The ob-ject was to prevent any possible flooding of the city above the dam by having wickets to let the water through, as at the Davis Island Mr. Lyon said the Government could no accept the proposition. Notwithstanding this the committee passed the resolution as amended, and the meeting adjourned.

PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. PLYMOUTH, MASS., May 5 .- Two deeds o which considerable interest attaches, were this afternoon recorded at the Plymouth County Registry of Deeds. They convey two building lots on the Barstow Bluff, in this township, from William H. Brine, of Boston, to Grover Cleveland, and one lo from Hannah S. Brine to the same gentle The lots are numbered 157, 158 and 159.

The property is situated near the Barstow

House, a summer hotel about eight miles south of Plymouth village, and commands a magnificent ocean view. On a clear day seen from the spot. The Barstow Bluff was the scene of Howell's novel, "Dr. Breen's Practice," and has acquired some little fame from this fact. It lies not far from the route surveyed for the Plymouth and Bournedale Railroad, and this circumstance has lately given quite a boom to land in this vicinity.

Whether or not Mr. Cleveland ever vis-

THE COAL ALL OUT.

The Rise Finds an Empty Harbor-Excu

Reports from points up the Allegheny yester-day indicated a rise. At 8 A. M. the river at ay indicated a rise. At a the riser as Pittsburg showed 6 feet 7½ inches. At 4 P. M. it had risen 1½ inches, and boatmen predicted that there will be a good boating stage this morning. All the loaded barges and boats left last week, so there is little in the harbor to send out. The market for coal below is said to be well stocked just at present, and the boat-men are not anxious that the rise should be taken advantage of. Several firms may send out some coal the last of the week, if the boat-ing stage is good.

OUR JAVA COFFEE.

Blight Threatens to Compel Us to Drink Our Last Cup Soon. Chicago Herald.I

"Do you know," said Blackall, the coffee man, "that within a few years you will drink the last cup of Java coffee? The public does not generally know that the coffee plantations in Ceylon have been stricken with a blight the last three-fouryears, which has been progressing through East, extending through the islands of Java, Sumatra and others, to the extent that it threatens the total extinc-tion of coffee culture, especially in Java. The estimated crop in Java last year wa 190,000 piculs. A picul weighs 133 pounds Five years ago this crop yielded 1,200,000 piculs, so you can imagine that if no material change for the better sets in it will be but a short time when the world will find

'Java' coffee but a reminiscence,
"We get the other best coffees from the East India Islands and Arabia, and, of course, in them we shall find to a certain extent a substitute for the Java. There are also some very fine coffees grown throughout Mexico, Guatemala, San Salvador, Costa Rico, Bogota, Maracnibo, Porto Rico and Venezuela. The bulk of the entire coffee product, however, comes from Brazil, which has a peculiarity of its own. These coffees are harsh and rank, as compared with the BANKRUPTCY. Worse than bankruptcy is a constitution broken down by disease. If it is the result of fast living, the excessive use of whisky, the in-judicious use of mercury, exposure in mias-matic regions or sedentary habits, Dr. Tutt's Pills will restore you to health, more to be de-sired than gold.

Patriotic Desire. Dr. C. L. Mitchell, Fort Meade, Fla., writes: "I think you would confer a blessing on the people in this country by establishing an agency here for Tutt's Pills. Having tested them, I know their superiority, and want to see them used instead of the worthless compounds that are sold in this country."
