HEARD THE BANSHEE.

A Young Irishman's Nerves Shattered by Unearthly Shrieks.

GLOOMY FOREBODINGS OF DEATH,

Despoil Him of His Rest and Vigor, and Plunge Him Into Despair.

HE REPUSES ALL BUT SPIRITUAL AID

James A. Devoy is a young Irishman who boards with Mrs. George Hill, on Watson street, near Old avenue. Mr. Devoy has been employed as a clerk in a grocery store since his arrival in this city in 1887. During the past five days he has refused to do any work, and is plunged in the deepest melancholy. He eats barely enough to support life, and never leaves his boarding house. Medical aid he declines to accept, nor have the entreaties and reasoning of his friends the least effect upon his mind. The cause of this strange disposition is thus explained by the Hill family, with whom Mr. Devoy boards:

About 3 A. M. on last Saturday morning Devoy rushed into young Fred Hill's room in a frantic state of terror and excitement. To the astonished Hill he exclaimed: "I've heard is; I've got to go like the rest of

A STRUGGLE IN THE ROOM. Hill thought his friend was insune and tried to calm him, but Devoy, who is a very strong man, caught him in his arms and threw him furiously back upon the bed. He then began to wring his hands and moan, crying out that he would be a dead man before the end of the week. The noise brought other members of the family to the room, and after much persuasion Devoy revesled the cause of his extraordinary behavior.

"Don't laugh at me," he said, "because I believe in spirts and such things, but not ten minutes ago I heard the shrick of the Banshee three times outside my window. You know what the Banshee is? It is a spirit that follows some I rish families and warns them of coming death. My father was warned like this; so were my mother and brother. Every one of them died within the week. Now it is my turn, and I must go Devoy denied angrily that he had dreamed the terrible Banshee cries so dread-ed by many of the Irish and Highland Scotch. He solemnly avered that the first cry had awakened him, and that he heard the two subsequent cries while standing wide-awake on the floor of his room. The Hills tried to ridicule Devoy's statement, but he persisted in it, and bewailed his approaching end.

HAS NOT SLEPT SINCE.

He slept none that night; and his present haggard appearance would seem to warrant the declaration that he has enjoyed no sleep since. He has caused his room to be almost entirely darkened, and he sits there awaiting the fate which he imagines is awaiting him. The scanty meals he eats are carried to him in this room. He admits very few visitors, and nothing can shake his firm belief that his death will occur within a week. To-day he proposes to seek spiritual consolation from one of the pastors at the Cathedral. "I want to make all straight with Heaven before I go," he said yesterday. "I have delayed too long as it is. My poor father was snatched away the very day after he heard the scream o the Banshee. I ought to be very thankful since I have been allowed five days. Isn't it awful that healthy and young as I am I should be called away like this?"

Mr. Devoy is 26 years of age. He is about six feet high and well built. His face is rather good looking, but there is never absent from it an intensely mournful expression. This sorrowful look has been intensified by his weird hallucination, until the pearance presented by the young m ghastly countenance, is scarcely that of a

The Hill family is plunged in grief over Devoy's temporary insanity as they style it. He has always been a favorite; his quiet, gentlemanly manners gaining him the respect of everyone in the neighborhood.

VERONA KNOCKED OUT.

The Supreme Court Refused to Take the Liquor Cases Up Out of Order. Attorney John M. Hunter returned yesterday morning from Philadelphia, where he presented to the Supreme Court an appeal from the Allegheny Court of Quarfer Sessions in the matter of Berg and Ritter, refused applicants for retail liquor licenses for the borough of Verona. Mr. Hunter appealed from the ruling of the court below that Verona is a prohibitory He moved the Supreme Court to advance the cases on the docket, so that they might be argued and decided within a fortnight ourt rejused to take the cases up out of order. Chief Justice Payson said that he did not consider the liquor cases of suffi-cient importance to be advanced. Mr. Hunter's return to town yesterday, with news of his reception, cast a gloom over

The O'Brien Gusher in Doing Big Work-Some Disappointment in Cornopolis at Present-Ground That Went Begging for

The visitors to the O'Brien well No. 2, at Chartiers, went in shoals yesterday, but the livery stable proprietors were not gainers thereby. The roads south of the river are so bad that it is necessary to insure safety when riding in a buggy to carry a balance pole. It has been proposed to rig wagons with oars and sails, as the roads between Chartiers and the Steubenville pike are so deeply cut up that when the mud becomes tough, there is danger of horses miring.

Thomas O'Brien seems to have been born to luck. He was pretty well fixed, and as for nearly a score of years he could not induce anyone to bore for oil on his six-acre tract back of McKee's Rocks, he has made many efforts of late years to sell it. The property was in the hands of ex-Squire Reilly for several years, but the price wanted could not be realized. It has been offered as low as $5,000, and at times $10,000 have been asked for it. The result of the inability to sell is that at present Mr. O'Brien's income from it is about $1,000 a

Fears were entertained yesterday that the well in 'Squire Ferree's orchard would be a duster. Fate has not been kind to the 'Squire in this instance, for it is to him that the late development in Coraopolis is owing. While others wanted bonuses, Mr. Ferree offered his territory on a royalty and induced his brothers to join, and the striking of the George Ferree well meant a considerable amount of lucre to others. The 'Squire has a large tract, however, and some of it is almost certain to be found in the belt, whatever that may be in this sec-

The Kendall well is putting out a large amount of salt water, and it is feared that its chances for grease are small.

MR. MAGEE NOT IN IT.

He Says He Has Not One Dollar in the Mount Oliver Incline.

It was stated in a morning paper yesterday that a syndicate had been formed which had secured a 15-day option on the Mount Oliver Incline Railway Company. The price to be paid was, it was stated, $135 per share, and the stock to be trans-terred was that of the Keeling and Schultz interests. It was stated that C. L. Magee was the head of the local syndicate which had se-cured an option on the property. Mr. Magee was seen yesterday by a reporter for THE DISPATCH. He said: "I am not in any such a syndicate. This is the first I have heard of it. I have no intention of buying a dollar's worth of stock in the Mount Oliver Incline.

WORK OF THE PRESERVE TRUST. The Annual Report Read and New Directors Elected. The meeting of the American Preserve Company was continued yesterday, and the members expect to finish the business to-day. This is the end of the year, and the annual report was read. A. Leo Weil, the attorney for the trust, had no figures to give out, but he said everything was in a satisfactory con-dition and the members were satisfied.

THE PERFECT PIANOS

Of the Present Day Are the Hardman, the Krakauer, the Kim-Are the Hardman, the Arakauer, the Alm-ball and the Vose. Proof of this is the fact of their being used more than any other makes in colleges, conservatories, academies, churches, schools and private dwellings selected for such general use for their new and modern patents and improvements, to

The finish, the style, the action, the depth and richness of tone, and their phenomenal durability; these combined is what makes the Hardman, the Krakauer, the Vose and the Kimball the leading pianos of the resent day, and the most preferred for publie and private use.

No exorbitant prices either are asked for these magnificent instruments. Prices are as low as is consistent with honest workman-ship and the finest material, and then you can get them on easy payments, which brings them within the reach of all. Possessing advantages of access to THREE LINES OF RAILROADS

A gratifying feature of the place. The opening of the Reynoldton and Dravosburg bridge has caused a regular boom in Dravosburg. Workingmen who desire to own their own home generally look to the advantages and disadvantages of a place before investing. The easiest manner in which a workingman can secure a home is to secure a lot in a desirable plan, and he can build a house thereon and pay for it as easy as paying rent.
