SOME RED-HOT POLITICS.

The Northside Worker Finds Plenty to Talk About.

RUTAN SAYS HE'S STILL IN IT

The recent "patriotic" attack on Colonel Bayne and the consequent indorsement of George Shiras III. is to be a feature of the Twenty-third district Congressional contest by the action of the "American Defense Association," which met on Ohio street, Allegheny, last evening in a quiet way. There were representatives of 29 councils of the Jr. O. U. A. M. present when the meeting convened.

A State official of the Jr. O. U. M. was present, and made an address in which he pointed out the very serious mistake the promoters of the movement had committed in drawing into a political fight the name of the Junior Order of American Mechanics. Portions of the constitution of the order were quoted, and the explanation showed those present very plainly that the action of last Friday evening, one week ago, had been extremly prejudicial to the order, and utterly without warrant or authoriza-

ADOPTED A NEW NAME.

It was then resolved to call the movement the "American Defense Association," and the Secretary was instructed to invite representation from all bodies in sympathy with patriotic ideas, or imbued with nostile feelings toward Colonel Thos. M. Bayne. A general hustle among Jr. O. U. A. M. Connells for membership will be inaugurated, and lines will be thrown to other organizations. It is hoped to get the Junior and Senior Mechanics, the Patriotic Sons of America, the American Protestant Association, and several other similar bodies interested in the objects of the American Defense Association, which seem to be primarily to defeat Colonel Bayne, and secondarily, to secure legislation hostile to miscellaneous immigration.

Heated remarks were made about the proclivity of THE DISPATCH for retting news, and it was unanimously resolved that THE DISPATCH should refrain from further activity in the line of news-getting.

AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN. By resolution the "American Defense Association" reiterated its favorable attitude toward Mr. Shiras, and resolutions formally indorsing his candidacy were offered and passed. The letters of the two candidates were also discussed, and that of Mr. Shiras was praised for its clearly emphatic statements upon the objects of the association. An active campaign will be entered upon, and Mr. Shiras' friends are to be urged to keep the ball rolling.

Meanwhile, the political machinery in the district is not inactive, as far as Colone Bayne is concerned, and the hattle rova may be fairly stated as being on. Northside politicians think that Mr. Shiras is putting up a pretty lively political pace, if it will only last down the quarter stretch.

Allegheny County. Timothy O'Leary, Jr., is very well satisfied with the present condition of the Pattiseen and heard from Democrats from Westmoreland, Fayette and other counties, and I find a very strong Pattison sentiment in those districts. The fact seems to be that the people are for Pattison, while the poli-ticians, in some places, are for Wallace. This county, I believe, will elect a Pattison delegation. The County Committee will meet probably in two weeks, and fix the time for electing delegates. THE STAYTON-WYMAN CONTEST.

Delayed Action Explained by the Master and Plnintiff's Attorney.

Nothing having been heard from the contest for the Mayoralty of Allegheny City since the Court decided that the band should play, has made some people think the matter was slumbering, but it appears to be simply awaiting the necessary delay of an oversight. In ordinary cases a master gives ten days' notice to the defendant to give him time to put his defenses in order, remove women, children and all non-combatants out of the range of the enemy's batteries, and then the dance begins, but the master in the Stayton-Wyman contest explained vesterday that in proceedings of this kind it is pecessary to have the Court issue the order for proceedings to begin, and this fact was overlooked until he began to arrange for the Accordingly he notified W. FOXES FOR SCHENLEY ZOO.

Chief Bigelow Growing Weary of Life-James McKnight Wants no More Animais for Boarders-An Offer of Three

Three gaunt individuals, all of them being over six feet in height and one of them being so tall that the top of his head touched the top of the elevator car in City Hall, walked into Chief Bigelow's office yesterday afternoon and asked to see "the man what runs that park." The chief happened to be in his private office, and, not knowing any better, he stepped out and asked the men if they wanted to see him. As soon as he saw his callers and asked the question. he wished that he were dead, and almost swooned at the sight.

Each one of the men had in his arms two large red foxes. They said they came from Westmoreland county, and hearing that Mr. Bigelow wanted all kinds of animals for his park, they thought they might sell the foxes. The Chief referred the men to dent" McKnight, of the "Zoo," who has charge of the animals for the park.

The men repaired to the contractor's house on Oakland avenue, and the first thing they saw was the pet bear, which made a wicked jump at one of the foxes. They found Mr. McKnight and asked him if he did not want to buy the foxes. The contractor thought somebody was putting up a job on him and refused to take the oxes as a gift. He said the pet bear, whose custodian he was, was eating him out of house and home, and he could not afford to board any more animals until the "Zoo" is ready for business.

After the three men had disappeared Charles J. Clarke came along and offered Chief Bigelow three fine black 'coons. Had the 'coons accompanied the offer the chief would probably have taken a fit. When he was sure that Mr. Clarke did not have the animals concealed about his person, the Chief breathed more freely.

An Attempt to Break the Journeymen Plumbers' Organization.

APPRENTICES MEET TO ORGANIZE

The Window Glass Workers' Association Now Has a President.

The plumbers' strike now gives promis of being a prolonged fight. The journeymen held a meeting at 10 o'clock yesterda morning, and appointed a committee of twenty, with Frank Stewart as chairman, to mands have not been granted. The intention is to fine all such members $5 for every day they work. This means that the men are determined to fight the maste plumbers to the bitter end, and they claim the assertions made by the masters, relative to the dullness of trade, are not correct. Consequently they feel confident of winning. In the afternoon the Executive Committee met, but no information could be gotten from any of those present. Mr. Stewart, Chairman of the committee appointed at the morning meeting, was seen, but he declined to say anything about the movements of the men. His manner indicated, however, that the plumbers are firm in their demands that an apprentice shall serve five years, three o

AS AN ILLUSTRATION. One of the journeymen said: "There are two or three master plumbers who call them-selves 'sanitary engineers.' They have a lot of boys that are put on a journeyman's work at $5, $6 or $8 per week. The customer is charged at the rate of $3 50 per day. Do you see! An attempt is being made by some of the master plumbers to force the journeymen to give in, by organizing the apprentices. A meeting of apprentices was held in the office of James Hay, in Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. About 30 or 40 apprentices were present and the purpose of the meeting was to organize an apprentices' association to work in opposition to the journeymen. The plan is for the boys to go into the shops where the most pressing jobs are and get out the work. The meeting had not adjourned until their movements had been reported to the journeymen. The latter immediately decided that all properly qualified workmen shall be furnished with cards and the workmen of other trades will be notified that persons found working on buildings who cannot show cards are not to be recognized and if the master plumbers attempt to work the boys, all other trades will be pulled off. The plumbers have the support of the trades and all have agreed to work in conjunction. MEETING OF THE MASTERS.

The master plumbers held a meeting last night at 78 Fourth avenue. There were over 100 of them present, including a large number who are not members of the association. It was called as an open meeting purposely was carried as an open meeting purposery, so as to get as large a representation of the employers as possible. It was decided to stand firm against granting the demands of the men. Jas. J. Kennedy, of Halpin, Kennedy & Co., presided, and George Saud-acted as Secretary. The situation was dis cussed and those who are not members of the association expressed themselves as being in sympathy with the stand the association had taken and quite a number signified their intention of becoming members. A committee of eight was appointed to visit all master plumbers in the two cities and endeavor to induce all not to give in to the men and to persuade those who have given in to rescind their action. The committee is divided. Two will visit the Southside, two the East End, two Allegheny and two the Old City. Samuel Arthurs, of West Diamond street,

Glass Men Charged With Attempting to Affect the Tariff Bill.

A report has gained ground among glass workers that the action of the manufacturers in reporting a shut-down on June 1 is a bloff to effect the tariff bill before Congress, by thus showing that the business cannot be carried on successfully with present duties on raw material. It is whispered about that the shut-down will not take place until July 1, as uspal.

Mr. William Loeffler, who was Secretary of the Chicago Convention, was seen yester-day. He said that no reference whatever made to the tariff, and that the clo was being made for the reason stated and no other. John J. O'Leary, of O'Leary Bros., also denied that the closing on June 1 had anything to do with the tariff.

A COLLECTION FOR THE POPE.

Bishop Phelan Asks That One be Taken Up on the 18th-

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Phelan has issued a circular to the Catholics of the diocese of Pittsburg, requesting that a collection be taken up at all the masses on Sunday, May 18. The proceeds are to be sent to the Pope, The Bishop, in his circular, says: "It is well known to you that our Holy Father, the Pope, has been despoiled of his temporal possessions so necessary in the or-der of divine providence for the independent exercise of his important and official functions as head of the Catholic Church. Recognizing this, we Americans, loving our country, proud of our American citizenship, and imbued with the spirit of our free instiutions any interference from or even say blance of obeisance to kings or rulers in our intercourse with the head of our Church, nust be well nigh intolerable. The present rulers, like bandits, have robbed the Pope not only of his temporal sovereignty over the states of the Church, but also of his temporal possessions. The Pope is thus left de-pendent on the liberality of his spiritual children. His manner of living is most fru-gal. His personal wants are few and easily met. On my approaching official visit to our Holy Father I wish to present him with a generous offering from the Catholics of this liocese as an evidence of our devotedness to

TRIALS OF A POLISH LOVER.

He Admired a Widow and Now Sues a Rival for Assaulting Him. An interesting story of rival lovers who sought the affections of a lovely young widow and then went for each other, was developed at the hearing of an aggravated assault and battery case before Alderman Succep, of the Southside, yesterday afternoon. The rivals were Theodore Federoviski and John Kimbasky, two young Poles. Federoviski had been paying attentions to a Mrs. Koskobach, living at the head of South Fifteenth street. One night in April he repaired to the house of his lady-love, and was dumfounded to find Kimbasky and the widow laughing, chatang and having a gaving a gay time.

Federoviski went away shocked, but soon his passions got the better of him, and he decided to go back and remonstrate He did so, and says Kimbasky hit him with a beer glass, cutting his terribly, and he went away more shocked than ever. Work on the Duqueane Traction Road Suspended for Awhile.

The Duquesne Traction Company is hope ful of getting its line on Penn avenue out to Wilkinsburg this summer. The contract calls for its completion by the first of July. Unless the ties come soon it will be difficult to finish on schedule time. Penn avenue has been torn up for over a year for repaying, and now it looks as if it might remain in the same chaotic condition for another twelve months.

The summer campaign of grading and paving has commenced in Wilkinsburg in earnest. Peun avenue, South street, Wallace street and half a dozen other thoron fares are in the hands of workmen. It is a big job to get rid of the winter mud holes, but Wilkinsburg does it regularly every spring.

A Debt of $115,000 Now Hanging Over the

Convent Building. MOTHER ALPHONSE TO SAIL ON THE 17TH

A mortgage of $50,000 was filed in the Recorder's office yesterday, by Charles F. McKenna, Esq., and it will be the means of ending the troubles of Mother Alphonse. The mortgage is in favor of Rev. Stephen Wall, D. D., rector of St. Paul's Cathedral, and is the second mortgage on the property. The $50,000 has been subscribed and turned over to Father Wall by 25 Catholic laymen of this city. Mother Alphonse will be paid off, and with Sister Emanuel, the other discontented nun who is still here, will sail for France on the 17th instant. They will open a new school there and connect it inder the diocese of Paris. The trouble between the Sisters has been practically settled for some time past, and the filing of the mortgage was the last detail to be arranged. The money was raised at several meetings of laymen connected with different congregations in Pittsburg and Allegheny.

BISHOP PHELAN SATISFIED.

One of the hardest workers in the scheme and who is glad it is settled, is Rt. Rev. Bishop Phelan. He was placed in a peculiar position by the attitude of the discontented nuns, and made a special request of the Holy See that somebody else be appointed to settle the trouble. This is how Archbishop Ryan got mixed up in the case, but it is not at all likely there will be any further need of his services.

The school property and grounds in Oakland are valued at $300,000. While the building was in course of erection it was found that the Sisters did not have enough noney to complete it. They applied to William Thaw, who loaned them $50,000 to finish the building. This was afterward found to be insufficient, and the dead philanthropist loaned them $15,000 more, and the mortgage was changed to $65,000. With the addition of the new mortgage there will be a debt of $115,000 altogether on the building and grounds.

For several months it had been rumored that the Western Theological Seminary was after the building, but this, it is said, was untrue. It was stated yesterday that the seminary rumor had nothing to do with the matter of hurrying up the second mortgage Who the subscribers are to the fund of $50, 000 could not be learned yesterday, but it was stated that 25 gentlemen put up $2,000 apiece. They did this voluntarily to end the scandal and restore peace and harmony in

THEY CANNOT COME BACK.

As stated before, Mother Alphonse and ister Emanuel will sail for France on the 17th. They will join the other three Sisters, who have not been idle since leaving here, and will establish a new school. The three and will establish a new school. The three nuns who left Pittsburg last fall have been actively engaged, and have an option on a tract of land in the suburbs of Paris. With the $50,000 they will purchase the ground and erect their school. Notwithstanding the excitement they created, and their dischedings to Richard Paris and the Church obedience to Bishop Phelan and the Church, they will be allowed to establish a new com-unity, but, it is said, cannot come back to this diocese.

Mother Alphonse did not object to Bishop Phelan, but the latter did object to having anything to do with the case. He did all he could to bring about peace and harmony, and it was mainly through his efforts that the matter was settled. The school will now probably regain the reputation it once had of being one of the best educational in-stitutions in the State. Since the trouble has been settled the enrollment of pupils has increased.

Last Saturday, when Mrs. Onsoit again visited the store, she was

Two clerks in the store testified concern ing the woman's visits to the store and her arrest. Detectives Robinson and Coulson described the searching of Mrs. Onsoit by Matron Brennan at the police station. They said that the pocket from which the goods were taken was made nearly all around the interior of Mrs. Onsoit's skirt.

The daughter had asserted that the detectives who searched the Onsoit residence at Mansfield had stolen $500. Detective

Coulson asked to have Onsoit sworn and queried concerning that charge. Onsoit was questioned by Magistrate Gripp, and said that it was not true that the detectives had robbed him of $500. At the close of the hearing the Magistrate said that Onsoit could be held technically, but as he had tried to induce his wife to stop stealing, he would be discharged. Mrs. Onsoit was held for court in the sum of $300, and was taken to jail. The charges against Philip and Margaret Spealer and their daughter Julia, of Humboldt street, Allegheny, accused of stealing goods from the wholesale millinery store of Porter & Donaldson, were heard by Alder-man McNulty. Constable Billings testified that he found in the house of the defendants a lot of goods, which were identified by J. J. Porter and two of his clerks. These gentlemen testified that Mrs. Spealer confessed some of the goods had been stolen from their store. No evidence was presented in behalf of the defendants, and they were held for court, Mrs. Spealer in $1,000, and Philip and Julia Spealer in $500 each. They furnished bail.

They furnished bail.

The neighbors who had been charged with receiving stolen goods were all discharged. They were Mrs. Knoblouch, Mrs. J. Miller, Mrs. E. Maul, Miss Augusta Wolf and Mrs. Reder. All swore they bought goods of Mrs. Spealer, but did not know they were stolen. John Wise had not bought nor received any, and was discharged, and Mrs. Easter did not appear, it being learned that she neither bought any goods nor had

CHAT WITH A SOLDIER'S SURGEON.

Dr. Patton Speaks of the Great Work Don at the Dayton National Home.

Dr. F. H. Patton, the surgeon in charge of the National Home for Soldiers at Dayton, registered at the Seventh Avenue Hotel yesterday. The doctor was on his way back from Washington where he rea father, mother and daughter, and in each | cently took 20 insane veterans. He is a man of massive proportions, being 6 feet 21/2 nches high, and his frame is built accordingly. Like all large men his fund of good humor is almost as enormous, and a better, nore congenial man than he could not be found in 14 States to circulate among the old veterans who are liable at times to become moody and melancholy. It won't be the doctor's fault if they fall into such conditions, for his cheerful presence is bound to lift them above the clouds where the sun is lways shining.

"I am opposed to State homes," said the doctor. "The soldier worked for the Gov-erament, and the Government should care for him. With the see-sawing in politics so often seen in States, the State homes become nothing more than political pest houses.

They should be above party politics, and only men of the highest integrity should be placed on the board of managers. "There are now seven National homes.
You people here haven't any idea of the work ;that we do at Dayton. At present there are 5,000 soldiers at the Home. We have there from this time to the fall one of the prettiest parks in the world. A theater has been built that will hold 1,500 people, and we keep troupes to play for the veterans
