TWO OF THEM GUILTY

A Verdict Reached in the Nicholson Postoffice Robbery Case.

LAKE ERIE LIBEL CASE BEGUN.

An Attempt to Escheat the Hazlett Estate to the Commonwealth.

NUMEROUS ITEMS FROM THE COURTS

The Nicholson Postoffice robbery case was concluded in the United States District Court, yesterday. Cornelius Smith, Esq., attorney for the defense, finished his argument, and then Assistant District Attorney Alcorn closed for the Government, in a comprehensive speech.

Judge Acheson, in his charge to the jury, stated that the plea of guilty, entered by Thomas, should not be accepted as evidence of the guilt of Titman and Casterline; that Thomas being a confessed thief, his testimony should be scrutinized closely, and it should be corroborated before weight could be attached to it. In the charge some of the testimony was quoted, showing that Casterline was in Nicholson the night of the robbery.

The jury was then sent out, and returned at 2 o'clock. The verdict found Casterline and Titman guilty.

Attorney Smith immediately drew up a motion for a new trial, on the grounds that the defendants are informed and believe that Charles Nichols and Aaron Bond, two material witnesses for the defense, were present in ourt during part of the trial, but were forced to return to their homes in Scranton by reason of threats made by the Government officers, of arresting them if they did not go. Several other reasons with reference to the nature of the testimony, and that the court erred, were embodied in the motion.

Judge Acheson granted the rule for the argument on the motion. The date has not yet been fixed.

LAKE ERIE CASE ON TRIAL

The First Day Put in in Wrangling, and Very Little Done.

The libel suit for $25,000 damages of John C. Henry against the Pittsburg and Lake Eric Railroad and Superintendent Holbrook of that road was begun before Judge White yesterday morning. The plaintiff was formerly in the employ of the road as traveling passenger employ of the road as traveling passenger agent, but was discharged in February, 1888, it is claimed, by Superintendent Holbrook.

Mr. Henry was represented by Sol. Schoyer, Sr., Sol. Schoyer, Jr. and W. B. Rodgers. Knox & Reed and Colonel W. A. Stone represented the defendants. A. D. Smith testified that both he and Mr. Henry were relieved from duty by a letter from President John Newell. Mr. Henry, the plaintiff, testified to his duties until relieved on December 19, 1887, and finally dismissed in February, 1888.

H. C. Green, a New York newspaper man, formerly of The Disparch testified to getting matter for publication from Mr. Holbrook. George I. Reed, another New York reporter, was asked if he remembered the exact words was asked if he remembered the exact words of an interview written 256 years ago. Judge White made the startling statement that if Reed could not do this his memory was very poor.

Mr. Henry testified to being put to many indignities by reason of his discharge, and that he was pointed out on the street as one of the men discharged "for that Lake Eric affair."

AN IMPORTANT TEST CASE.

The Right of Using a Car Coupler to be Settled, if Possible,

The case of Ezra W. Miller as executor Ezra Miller, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, operating the Erie and Pittsburg road, was taken up yesterday in the United States Circuit Court. The suit is an action to recover damages for an alleged infringement of an invention of car couplings, of which the deceased Erra Miller was the inventor. The bill was filed in 1888, and alleges that the defendants bays here using the inventor. be a rest one. About $50 is claimed for the use of the invention on each of nine cars on the little and and the state of the invention on each of nine cars on the state of the invention on each of nine cars on the state of the invention on each of nine cars on the state of the invention on each of nine cars on the state of the invention on each of nine cars on the state of the invention on each of nine cars on the state of the invention of the state o of the invention on each of vine cars on the Eric road, and if the plaintiff wins, suit will be brought against all lines using the invention. The railroad company claims the couplings they use are those invented by Eli H.Janney, and that the same coupling was in use at the time the plaintiff filed his declaration, W. D. Potthe plaintiff filed his declaration. W. D. Pot-ter and D. F. Patterson represent the plaintiff, and Wetmore and Jenner, of New York, the defendants. In opening the case it was stated that the Janney patent was invented in 1967, and that of the plaintiff at a later date, Stephen Whipple and Michael Carstone were placed on the stand to explain to the jury the action of the coupling and the use of the Mil-ler coupler. Court then adjourned until this morning.

TRIALS OF TRANSGRESSORS.

Considerable Work Done Yesterday in the Criminal Court. In the Criminal Court yesterday Alex. John Smith, tried for an offense against morality, on eath of Mary Gall, a deaf and dumb girl, was found not guilty and the costs divide orge Holmes was convicted of the larceny of some window glass. John Guntner pleaded guilty to the larceny of a lot of brasses from Paul Zimmerman. John Goldstein, to whom the brasses were sold, was convicted of receiving stolen property. Peter Diebold was found ing stolen property. Peter Diebold was found guilty of assault and battery on Mary McCable. George Bruckner was acquitted of the larceny of some horseradishes from Michael Schrau. John McCann and John Devine were acquitted of larceny. Nolle prosses were allowed in the cases of George Jeremy and John Welsh, charged with assault and battery. Edward Melion was acquitted of assault and battery. The jury is out in the case of E. A. Woods, C. J. Grab and P. McTighe, charged with entering the building of A. Appel and stealing 12 cases of eggs. James Ross is on trial on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

TO ESCHEAT HAZLETT'S ESTATE An Issue Awarded in the Alleged Lunati

Will Case. The suit of J. S. Robb, Jr., executor of Mar-Mc. D. Hazlett and James E., John K. and G. W. Harlett, and Joseph and Burt Bush. against the Commonwealth is on trial before Judge Slagle. The case is an issue contesting Judge Siagle. The case is an issue contesting the will of Mrs. Hazlett, the object being to escheat the estate to the Commonwealth. Mrs. Hazlett was a lunatic and died without children or collateral heirs. She had made two wills, the last of which left her property to the commissioners who had charge of her. Register Conner refused to admit this will to prohate. His rulling was sustained by the Orphans' Court and the Supreme Court. The first will made was then filed. It left the estate to the relatives of Mrs. Hazlett's deceased husband. The Register admitted it to probate on the grounds that it had been made during a lucid interval.

on the grounds and incident the decision of the Register. An issue to the Common Pleas Court for jury trial was awarded and was commenced yesterday.

BELL WANTS HIS MONEY.

An Insune Soldier Objects to His Sister

Taking Everything. A. B. Hay, Esq., yesterday filed a petition on behalf of Robert W. Bell, an old soldier, asking behalf of Robert W. Bell, an old soldier, asking that the proceedings in lunacy against Bell be quashed and the committee discharged, and that a rule be issued on his sister. Mrs. Susan M. Rowe, to compel her to file an account. Bell was committed to Dixmont in 1883, and he remained there six years 11 months. Mrs. Rowe was appointed his guardian, but, it is said, never filed a bond.

It is alleged that the hay received over $1,200. It is alleged that she has received over $1,200 pension money and his monthy pension of $30 per month for seven years. Of this, Mr. Bell says, all he received was $17 per month for his keeping in Divarious.

Notes From the Courts. JOHN ACKELS yesterday received a verdict for $30 67 in his suit against the executors of W. S. Jackson, an action on an account. In the suit of A. Stehle against M. L. Malone, an action on a contract for masonry work, a verdict was given yesterday for $175 for the plaintiff.

A NON-SUIT was taken by the plaintiff yes terday in the case of Thomas Stack against the Edith Furnace Company, a suit for damages for injuries received in the mill.

THE suit of the Allegheny National Bank against the Keystone Coal Company, an action on notes given in payment for bonds issued by the defendants, is still on trial before Judge

A Household Remedy. There is no medicine so often needed in every home, and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is required, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need for it for some injury or ailment for which it is unequaled. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved, and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts be-come swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A frost bite or chilblain cured and their unpleasantness avoided. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. Quinsey and glandular swellings may be suppressed before matter has begun to form in them. Boils are often the result of an injury and may be prevented by timely treatment. A lame back may be cured and several days of val-nable time saved. A pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill.
When so much pain and suffering may be saved by the trivial outlay of 50 cents, it is certainly surprising that any family would do without such a remedy. The fact is, few of those who have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm are willing to be without it.

SUMMER STYLES IN MILLINERY. . Horse & Co.'s First Summer Opening of Hats, Bonnets, Etc.

of Hats, Bennets, Etc.

Messrs. Jos. Horne & Co.'s first opening of summer millinery is, as usual, a triumph in the way of unique and beautiful displays. A mere glance at the lovely creations scattered about the little bower is sufficient to foresbadow the entire scope of coloring and design for summer headwear. You see that flower hats are by no means shelved; that birds and butterflies will once more flutter on the crowns, and that new and flutter on the crowns, and that new and strange materials as well as designs are out. The snake bonnet, for instance, the latest Eastern craze. It consists of a black beaded serpent wound twice about the head, its crest, garnet-eyed, rearing over the brow, and the jet tail tossed up from the center of a black beaded net crown. A black velvet butterfly is set in front. A twisted leghorn briterity is set in front. A twisted legiorn brim is covered with Chantilly lace, form-ing a shade in front, the crown opening overlaid by a branch of blush roses. An entirely new idea is a Spanish bat of Tuscan straw trimmed with humming birds and cowslips, and with a lace mantilla attached at the back, to be worn draped over face and at the back, to be worn draped over face and shoulders. A pretty round-rimmed Gainsborough trimmed with white plumes and tight bows of corn-colored gros grain ribbon, and a bunch of daisies nestling under the brim in front, has a lovely adjunct in a boa, composed of a couple of yards of daisy wreath, the neckpiece formed of white ostrich plumes and white velvet ribbou.

Dotted net and creme de change is the ma-

Dotted net and crepe de chene is the ma-terial of many. A pretty traveling hat of the latter, white with big black velvet dots, is crowned with black asters and upright bows. Aubergne, the new violet tint, is the shade of the roses that cover a big sun hat of Irish point lace over a pink tulle frame; and a toque with capote front, and lace butterflies at the back. Among quaint ideas, one leghorn has a crown of ten ostrich plumes and an immense Alsatian bow of white striped gauze ribbon; a black lace hat has a crown of 14 tips and a tall ostrich pompon at back; a black Point d'Esprit net toque has a torsade of jet studded with turquoises; one toque is entirely of white horse hair net, with two small crush yellow roses in front, another almost entirely of roots and twigs. Madame Tosses is represented by a long toque with pointed back, top of mechlin lace, sides of filigree, and Aubergne roses for a brim; Madame Ettie, by a lovely creation in French gray, with crepe de chene crown covered by Per sian passementerie and a flat bow pointing

A hat that certainly deserves mention is of Gobelin blue Tuscan, made in whorls, and crowned with black Chantilly lace, and with a wreath of Gobelin blue birds.

This is only a few of the beauties of the opening, but lack of space omits many deserving enthusiastic mention.
