SEPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. CINCINNATI, May 13,-"Calliope" Miller was the bright particular star to-day, and he aided Herr Schmitt in his most efficient whitewash act. It drizzled all morning until within an hour or two of calling play. The sun then coaxed 900 people out in hopes of seeing a game, and one was played in the mud. It was just the day for errors. McPhee made a brave run for Hemp's fly, but slipped and missed it. La Roque put a fly into the seats and took third, scoring a moment later on Duryen's error of Kelty's fly. The Pittsburgers were NOISY AND CHEERFUL Foghorn Miller and La Roque indulged in a few callione duets on the lines, which sounded like moste of old Association times. The Colts were full of the cliving of life, Grandpa Dunian, who has been pictured as having outlived his usefulness, gots move on himself in the third, when chances for runs seemed good. He stopped Holliday's grounder and then doubled up McPhee, whose fly had been numfed by Sunday. Duryea was on sec-ond at the time, having been hit by the pitcher. I'we more Reds reached first base in the next inn ing, Knight on balls and Mullane on his hit, but they were left. In their half the Colts with both feet. Roat hit safely into right and Berger followed with one to the left. Schmitt sacrificed. Then Sunday pounded the sphere to center. Like an arrow from a bow the "Bug" returned the ball, and as Berger came sliding to returned the ball, and as Berger came sliding in on Rost's beels, he hit the ball in Keenan's hands for an out. Maybe they didn't open up savagely on Duryca in the fifth. Hemp and Miller made great solid drives, but nothing followed and they were left. Kelly knocked out the Reds' hopes in the sixth by a running pull-down of Retily's line fly in deep left. Mullane was responsible for Betrer's run in the sixth. Tony spared Rost, Berger forced him out went to second on Schmitt's scientific sacrince, stole third and scored on Sun-day's hit. The score:

TO-DAY'S HOME GAME. Excellent Arrangements Made for a Parade

and Promenade Concert. Director J. Palmer O'Netl is a hustler of the Director J. Palmer O'Neil is a hustler of the first degree, and if there is not a good attendance at the ball game at Recreation Park to-day it will not be his fault. He has engaged an excellent band, and it will parade the principal streets of the two cities and then proceed to the park, where a promenade concert will be given. Mr. U'Neil also proposes to have the band play briefly at the end of every inning, and the few bars on each occasion, will be appropriate to the end of every inning, and the few bars on each occasion will be appropriate to the work done by the side taking the field. The new entrance gate will be ready for use to-day.

The Colts and the Cincinnall fields will arrive in the city this morning, and the fine victory scored yesterday by the home players ought to attract a large crowd. It will be the last home game until June 2. The batteries will be Raker and Wilson and Foreman and Baldwin. The game will start at 4 o'clock.

There is still some talk of giving Dunlap a rest until he gets into better form. Director O'Nell stated last evening that Youngman will play second in response to the desires of many patrons of the club.

FRANK TALKS AGAIN.

The P. L. Secretary Explains the Cause of Such Henvy Hitting.

CHICAGO, May IL.—Secretary Brunell, of the Playors' National League, said to-night: "The reason for the larger scores in our championship games is not that our playing ball is liveller, but on account of the hard hitting being done by bats-men of our teams. No baseball organization ever had so many crack batsmen in its clubs. In edition to the batting stars of the old League, we have gained from the American Association su men as Orr, Bierbauer, Stovey, Griffin, Shindle, Milligan, Larkin, Browning, Visner, Comiskey, O'Neil, Latham and Boyle, And incidentally O'Neil, Latham and Boyle. And incidentally comes base-running strength through Bierbauer, Stovey, Griffin. Shindle. Comiskey and Latham. What wonder is it that base running and batting has increased? But there are other reasons. The weather has been against the perfect condition of our pitchers; the extra 18 inches in the pitching distance has made it necessary for them to aimost learn over again the effect of their curve balls, and our larger grounds have increased the value of long hits as a factor in runs. The pitchers with great speed have lad the best of it so far. With better weather, and after they have mastered the increased distance from position to plate, the Players' League pitchers will be all right, and there will be plenty of small score games, but not, I hope, so many as formerly.

"The pitching distance was increased to reduce the number of small score games in answer to a public demand as strong as that for the couble umpire system, and more comfortable stands and seats in baseball parks. The public pays well for its baseball, and has a right to ask for any change in reason. One of our principal objects will be to satisfy such requests. All baseball managers will find such tacties more profitable than spending time in illerary and verbal howls about the death of the noblest game on earth."

Baseball Notes. THE A. Recfers defeated a picked nine yester-lay by 35 to 29. SCHMITT pitched a good game at Cincinnati resterday and no mistake. THERE should be a large attendance at the game at Recreation Park to-day.

RAIN stopped the McKeesport-Mansfield and Youngstown-Springfield games yesterday. SURELY nobody will deny that the Pittsburg P. L. club is having a stroke of very hard luck. E. F. J., MOBGANTOWN-The Players' League had a rule to that effect, but it was changed. THE attendance at the Chicago-Cleveland games pesterday would make things look very chily to Anson and Spalding. THE Eclipse Stars want to play the Galvins or the Turkey Reds. Address Timothy Framer, Point Bridge Toil-house.

THE postponed game of May 8 between the New York and Brooklyn National League clubs will be played at Washington Park to-day. Now That Director U'Nell has charge of the N. L. club he says he won't say a word against his rivals. He doesn't believe in "backcauping"

THE great same of the National League at New York, 1 to 0, in 13 lunings, seems to have inspired the Pittsburg National League club to shut Cincinnation out yesterday. All the players, except Duniap, got one or morehits off Duryen. CAPTAIN ANSON says if the National League would only nod its head he would challenge the Players' Club in Chicago to pay a series of? or il games, the entire receipts of the same to be given to charitable institutions. He would also make a side bet that the representatives of the old Chicago Club would win.

cago Club would win.

This batting average of the Pittsburg National League club averages well. There are no great stars, but all are doing good regular hitting.
Keity's average is .20; Miller about .30; Sunday,
.20; La Boque, .20; Berger has only played in a few games and his average is about .300 per cent.
The catchers are doing well.

Stovey was very much worried after he made his long throw in Cincinnati. His arm pained him for over a week, and he advised everybody to stay out of such contests in future, "It was long-distance throwing that used up Sam Thompson's arm in 1885,—Detroit Free Press.

properly, and with regard to the importance of the inception of the library. Naturally, what can be bought with $10,000 will be but the germ of a library. It is hoped to receive private gifts of books, and we have agreed that the time has now come to formally invite gifts or contributions of books, now that there is somebody to receive them.

A GOOD TIME TO BEGIN. "Anyone who desires to offer books to the library should come forward promptly, for the excellent reason that books in hand will not have to be purchased. The books can be sent to the library, where they will be stored and listed, and kept in good order until the work of cataloguing begins. Chairman Dahlinger is making up the sub-committee which will go to Eastern cities. The party will probably start next Monday, and make a brief stay in each of the three cities agreed upon. I have "Anyone who desires to offer books to the each of the three cities agreed upon. I have in hand a large number of catalogues of American and foreign libraries, and lists of publications of the leuding firms in this country and abroad, and I have addressed ommunications to librarians elsewhere from which I expect valuable answers. As to the time in which we may reasonably hope to open the doors to the public, it is hard to say. The Pratt Library, of Balti-more, was not opened until the librarian had worked nine months.

"Mr. Benney, of the Allegheny Library, who is well posted on such matters, told me to-day that the purchasing, shelving and catalogning of $10,000 worth of books could not possibly be done by the most practiced librarian inside of three months. No time will be lost, however, compatible with good work and careful treatment of the interests involved.

"As to what, in my opinion, should constitute a library adapted to the needs of the people of Allegheny, I have devoted some thought. The solid and ordinary works coming into most general demand must be the first consideration. To arrive at an idea of what those works should be, the public should help us. What I propose is as follows: We will have several thousand blanks printed, upon which will be spaces for names and addresses, and blank lines upon which can be indicated favorite books and authors of the same. These blanks will be distributed in the library, high school, etc., and can be filled out and left at the Library. These names would be a great help to the committee and librarian, as we could then tell what the people want—and right there is the secret of the successful library. In this line would be a piebiscite on popular books, conducted by the newspapers, the submission of lists of twenty books by our local literary amateurs or prefessionals, or any method by which the public could have a voice in the choice of books. Whatever books we have should be more of the interesting than the obstruse. I have always maintained that book-reading is one part educational and nine parts relaxation.

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE.

"Popular literature has another advantageit is cheap. Books of science or reference are very costly, and should be considered further on. They should be recommended by spe-cialists, such as Prof. Brashear, Dr. Riddle, Dr. others, who make special researches in special

Holland, Frol. Langley, W. L. Scalle and others, who make special researches in special innes. I am certain that the public will take a lively interest in the library if it has a hand in the formation of the institution.

"There is one other matter that I wish to emphasize. That is, the chance that we shall have in this library to bring into prominence American writers and authors. I have seen American works deeply appreciated abroad, while sinking into oblivion at home. American history, narrative, flotion, science, and even philosophy, compares more than favorably with the standard publications of Englishmen, and in many respects the superiority is with our authors. There must be left out of this calculation, of course, Dickens, Thackeray, Matthew Arnold, Scott and other works which no library would be complete without. But the principle exists, nevertheless, and should obtain recognition in this library.

"There is abundant opportunity for good reading matter in our own State and local history, and I know of several collections of such library intact. But the subject grows upon one until it is hard to be confronted with financial limitations, with so much room for books and such a limitless field of literature to choose from."

AMERICAN AUTHORS TO BE PREFERRED

Librarian Stevenson, of the Allegheny Free Library, pitched right in yesterday and made a good start upon the duties of the position to which he was elected the night before. He made the rounds of the Pittsburg and Allegheny Libraries, and chatted with the heads thereof, and spent the afternoon at the homes of several Northside gentlemen who rejoice in the appellation of "bookworm." He was seen last evening at the Library and asked to indicate the general plan which his ideas will tend toward in the Equipment of the library. He said:

"Chairman Dahlinger is an enthusiast upon the library subject, and the result of an interchange of our mutual ideas is that the equipment of the library subject, and the result of an interchange of our mutual ideas is that the equipment of the library mut he importance of the inception of the library. Switch Turned While a Train is in Motion, a Smushup, and a Death. Novelists are often accused of drawing drafts upon their imagination which no sensible reader can honor, but a fatality at East Pales line, O., last night, must be placed to the credit of those real-life incidents which abash the powers of the most fertile mind. A Fort Wayne freight train was nearing East Pales tine last evening, when a brakeman whose name could not be learned, ran ahead of the train to throw a switch. He met with some train to throw a switch. He met with some difficulty is handling the switch bar and it swidenly gave way just as the forward trucks of the first car passed and the change in the switch threw the rear trucks of the same car upon another line of track.

The car lurched and tore apart and two others crushed in upon it, making a frightful wreck and killing the brakeman instantly. His remains were brought to Allegheny and taken to Undertaker Lowry's establishment on Ohio street. Traffic was not delayed very long. Old railroaders say that such an accident is quite without precedent in the history of railroads or railroading. The unfortunate victim was crushed out of all semblance of humanity.

Amid Cheers Mrs. Andrew Carnegie Lays the Corner-Stone for a

MAGNIFICENT TEMPLE OF MUSIC

Secured to the Metropolis by the Generosity of Her Husband.

HE ISMODEST AS WELL AS MUNIFICENT.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, May 13 .- The corner-stone of the new Music Hall at Fifty-seventh street and Seventh avenue was laid this afternoon in the presence of 500 representatives of all the large musical organizations in the city. The exercises opened at 4:30 o'clock with a blare of trumpets. Morris Reno, President of the Music Hall Company, made the introductory address. Every New York musician, he said, ought to rejoice that New York musical societies were about to have a common home. No kind of music would be excluded.

This common home of all New York musicians would be due to the generosity and public spirit of Andrew Carnegie, whom Mr. Reno then introduced to the audience. Mr. Carnegie simply said that he was glad to call on Mr. E. Henry Hyde, President of the Philharmonic Society. to tell the friends of music what they might expect from the new hall.

TURNED EARLY TO MUSIC.

The first things man made after getting shelter over his head, Mr. Hyde said, were a harp and an organ; that is, a stringed and wind instrument. This fact was significant of the inherent desire of every human being for a mode of expression sweeter than language. The musical art, developed from this little beginning, had reached to-day near to perfection. New York was one of the greatest musical cities in the world and excelled in every variety of music. The kings and queens of song and instrument made pilgrimages to it. All such travelers and all lovers of music here would soon find a homistable home in the new hall which a hospitable home in the new hall which had first been planned by Mr. Caraegie and would be helped to completion by his generosity. The new hall would have all the onveniences to sight and sound that tend to keep the musical performer and his hearers in harmony.

"All success, then, to the Music Hall Association, to Mr. Carnegie and to Mrs. Carnegie, who is about to lay the corner-

Mrs. Carnegie patted with a trowel the bed of mortar under the suspended stone, and when the stone had settled into place she gave it three taps with a mason's mallet.

The band played and everyone shouted "Carnegie." Mr. Carnegie responded to the call by explaining that he was not the only builder nor the future owner of the new hall, but that many others had contributed proportionately more of their wealth toward erecting it than he. Music, he thought, was kindred to all good things, and therefore the music hall, when completed, should be open to charitable enterprises. He hoped the hall would become as celebrated in the history of New York as Fancuil Hall had been in the history of Boston.

CHEERS FOR CARNEGIE. Mr. E. Henry Hyde proposed and led three cheers for Mr. Carnegie. The box under the corner-stone contained the his-tories of the Oratorio and Symphony Society, Music Hall Association, Philharmonic Society, programmes of numerous city musical organizations and lists of their officers, a copy of "Sulimeth," by Dr. Leopold Dam-rosch, specimens of circulating coins, copies of to-day's daily newspapers and pictures of Andrew Carnegie and Dr. Damrosch. The new Music Hall will have a frontage of 175 feet on Seventh avenue and of 150 feet on Fifty-seventh street. Its height will be below the curb. The building will contain three large concert rooms. The big hall, with a seating capacity of 3,000, will be on the first floor, and another hall in the bas ment will seat 1,200 persons. The room for chamber music will be in the lateral building, an annex on the east side of the main building, and will accommodate about 550 persons. The materials will be speckled brick, granite and terra cotta. The main entrance in Fifty-seventh street will be be-tween Aberdeen granite columns, and will lend to a vestibule 70 feet wide and 36 feet high. The cost of the whole structure will be about $1,200,000. WANT PRICES MAINTAINED.

The situation promises to become decided-ly interesting for the public as well as for the roads, further cuts being expected.

Being Secured to a Memorial to the Czar of Russin. NEW YORK, May 13 .- A movement has been inaugurated to secure 1,000,000 signatures to a memorial to be sent to the Czar of Russia asking that he look into and seek to ameliorate the condition of the exiles in Siberia. The movement was started recently by a suggestion made at the church of Rev. Mr. McVicar, of Philadelphia. Now the petition has been printed and copies sent all over the United States. Responses are coming in at the rate of 1,500 a day.

The petition is couched in very moderate of language, reciting the friendly relations of the two nations. It asks that the Czar take notice of the widespread interest of our peo-ple in the Siberia exile system. The expression of the petition is that in the pun-ishment of some of her subjects Russia is not in harmony with the humanizing senti ments of the age.

SPRING ADVICE. [Scientific Magazine.]

Be careful of your diet. You do not need heavy food such as you require during the Spring may be beautiful, but it is treacher ous. Do not let it deceive you into a cold, a fever, malaria or pneumonia.

Do not throw off your winter flannels too early. It is better to suffer a little incouve-nience than to take cold.

If you feel tired, feverish or overheated, do not rush off and take "spring medicines."

not rush off and take "spring medicines."

Cool yourself down and in this way help your system and purify your blood.

If you feel hot and thirsty, do not drink large quantities of water or other "long" drinks. It is much better to take a little pure whiskey and water, which will quench the thirst, tone the system and fortify against disease.

Remember that only pure whiskey should ever be taken into the system, and that the leading chemists and sclentists of the present day unite in declaring that Duffy's Pure Mait is absolutely the purest and best.
