The institution the bathrooms finished owing to the plumbers' strike was a great draw-back. These will soon be finished, however. During the morning, afternoon and evening Prof. McEwens and his assistant, James Taylor, Jr., gave some splendid swimming exhibitions and feats in natation. The professor did all kinds of tricks. His most prominent exhibition was that illustrating how to save a drowning person. In the evening the Taylor brothers, James, John and Charles, made a good contest. They are fine wimmers, and their efforts were well applauded. The water was excellent, and Pittsburg now has a first-class matatorium.

delphia, Lawyer Johnson said: I do not know that there is anything in this original package decision more than that a man could sell a package of liquor and deliver it where he was requested. In the case which called forth this recent accision of the Judges of the Supreme Court the liquor was ordered to be delivered in a prohibition State, and it was stopped by reason of the local law against the vending of liquors. I have great respect for the opinion of the lawyers who have been quoted, but I think they have overlooked the principle that is at the bottom of the decision. It is nonsense to say that anybody could open an original package establishment in Pennsyl-vania and defy the local law. No person can sell liquor in Pennsylvania without they are licensed, and I have read the law incorrectly if the United States Supreme Court's decision in the lowa case has not always been the recog-nized law of the State of Pennsyl ania. SOME of the teams may soon have to begin the double-game system to make up lost time. fill his pockets with half pint bottles of whisky and bring them over the ferry and sell them on our streets without being amenable to the laws of our State. Why, a man might bring his original packages of liquor over from Jersey in a hand basket and set up a little stand on the street corner and retail his little stock from day to day. I have not, however, heen able as yet to get the full text of Judge Fuller's decision, and am very loth to believe that he meant to decide that this is the law. But from whal I have read, it looks as if that was about the size of it. I, however, believe the decision is a good thing for the Third or Prohibition party, as it places the liquor issue squarely before the whole country. It has al-ways been contended that the temperance question was merely a local issue, but the decision explodes that pet theory of the anti-Prohibitonists. Judge Fuller's decision proves that it is a national issue, and not one merely to be disposed of by separate States. BOTH the New York teams are playing better ball now and they have no dangerous opponents WHEN such men as Keefe and Crane say that Russle is pitching the greatest ball in the country to-day, it must be so.

The evidence against the Wests is purely The evidence against the wests is purely circumstantial, and both when arrested de-nied all knowledge of the murder. When Chief Murphy read the account of the tragedy yesterday morning he remembered that a colored man had forged an order on another Allegheny negro for $4 50, and, at the time he got the money, had stated that he wanted a ticket to Bentleyville.

Investigating further he learned that this same man had passed through the city on Wednesday accompanied by a woman and a boy. Then came Officer McCreary, of Moongahela City, who informed the Chief nongahela City, who informed the Chief that he was in search of this same negro West, who had left that place suddenly. Inquiry at Sewickley, where West has friends, brought out the fact that the man had been there, but had gone on to Beaver Falls. The officers of the latter place were then setting and the arrest was made this then notified, and the arrest was made this morning. The story told by Officer Mc-Creary is as follows:
