Cave-Air Sanstorium

in Edmondson county, Kv., the inmates of which shall be supplied with perfectly dry, cool air from the Grand Avenue Cave, four miles from the Mammoth Cave, on the Mammoth Cave Bailway. A series of experiments intended to demon- and dumb pupil of Dr. Howe, is to substrate the feasibility of the plan has given excellent results. By means of a small perts have advanced about the functions of excellent results. By means of a small Sturtevant blower, the air from the cave was brought into a room, and the temperature was reduced from 72° to 59° in less than an hour, thereby showing clearly that with an nour, thereby showing clearly that with a larger plant any quantity of this air can be distributed through a large building, and placing it within the power of the owners to absolutely control the climatic condition of the house both as to temperature and moisture. Taking into consideration the united model of the state of th the unlimited supply of pure, cool, and it is believed, aseptic air found at the site proposed for the health resort, and its situation in the midst of a virgin forest of oak and hickory, with a sandy soil and splendid drainage, the project seems a most promising one.

A Geyser on Fire.

An odd story comes from Indiana, In boring for natural gas the drillers, at a depth of 250 feet, are said to have struck an immense vein of water, which was cased off. At a depth of 900 feet a tremendous flow of gas was developed, the pressure of which lifted the casing and let in the water above, producing a veritable geveer. After some days when the well had been nearly controlled, a workman at the mouth of the well struck a match to light his pipe. An explosion followed, and the workman narrowly escaped being roasted alive. All efforts to restrain the well or even put out the fire have since proved Jutile, and the strange spectacle is witnessed of a resistless volume of fire and water issuing from the same pipe. The col-umn is described as shooting, with an appall-ing roar, to a height of 100 feet.

Making Buildings Fireproof.

"A builder of 30 years' experience" makes some excellent suggestions in the matter of fireproof buildings. He suggests that the lining floors in each story shall er. tenants of Crady, and the cause of the suit tend to the outside boardings, and that one was violent language and conduct on his nast in a dispute here. tend to the outside boardings, and that one course of brick in mortar be laid on the foor between the studding, refuse or broken brick answering very well for this. The in-side of the partitions should be filled in the same way, it necessary, and the most min-ute openings around steam and other pipes hand he stonmed. The next will be comshould be stopped. The cost will be com-paratively small. If the house is plastered paratively shall. If the house is plastered before the finish is put on it is a good plan to plaster down to the lining floor on the cutside walls, and, in fact, all of the walls, instead of plastering to grounds six or seven inches from the floor.

Fuse Danger Signals.

Quite an important innovation is to be made in signalling on the New York Centrai Railroad. An order has been issued requiring that each train shall carry a tin box with different colored fuses; also torpedoes and flags for day use. In case of a breakdown or sudden stoppage of a train the fuse can be placed in the rear of the train so as to warn the engineer of the train following that there is danger shead. Should a train be losing time a fuse can be lighted and dropped on the track from the rear platform. Even in a heavy storm the fuse will light up the track brilliantly. The fuses are made to burn 8, 10 and 12 minutes. Instructions for the use of these danger sig-nals are printed on the new time cards.

Hypnotiam. There is no longer any reasonable doubt that some persons possess the power of inducing various degrees of somuolency in certain subjects. Regarding the rationale of this phenomenon we are still very much in the dark. It belongs to that difficult in the dark. It belongs to that official region where physiology and psychology come into contact, and enarce the obscurity which hangs over the whole subject of the true nature of the mind. No satisfactory norwer has been given to the objection of Hame that we know nothing of mind busits prices at Pitcairn's, 434 Wood street.
