The Case of the Lancaster Murderer Held Under Advisement.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. HARRISBURG, May 29 .- The Board of Pardons was asked to-day to intercede in securing William H. Smith, the murderer, a further respite of four months in order that a commission might be appointed to make a thorough examination into the mental condition of this prisoner. William Reardon, for Attorney McElroy, submitted a number of papers in support of the application. Among these was a letter signed by Drs. C. C. Wylie and Samuel Ayres, in which they state that Smith's erratic be-dissembling, as he was too ignorant to feign insanity or its early symptoms. The letter continues: "He avows with undisguised sincerity that the spirit of his deceased wife comes at night and holds converse with him; that he knows her voice and talks to her, etc. This may be but the superstition of one ignorant person. At the same time it is closely altied to hallucinations of sound, indisputable evidence of mental de havior excited in their mind a suspicion that he might be in the incipient state of insanity. They were sure that he was not PRESUMPTIVE EVIDENCE. The physicians remind the Board of Par-The physicians remind the Board of Par-dons "that a homicide, of which this man was guilty, coupled with the attempt at suicide, is a greater presumptive evidence of insanity, than if such act had not been accompanied by an attempt at self-destruction. We have no desire to deleat the ends of justice nor to ob-struct a legal process. We merely suggest that it may be in the interest of humanity if this man be respited for a few months in order to observe whether or not the above symptoms will develop into pronounced insanity. An affiobserve whether or not the above symptoms will develop into pronounced insanity. An affidavit was read from Charles Howard, a colored friend of the prisoner, employed as a waiter in Wheeling, who states that Smith talked to himself, walked about in a dazed condition and displayed unusual jealousy on account of his wife, and spent all his earnings on her.

N. E. Dorente, of Pittsburg, in a letter, stated that when the last respite was read to Smith, it seemed to be incomprehensible to the prisoner. By direction of the Board of Pardous the following was written on the envelope containing the papers in the interest of Smith; "This application being only for a respite, is a matter exclusively for the Governor to whom these papers should be presented instead of the Board of Pardons."

In the case of William Longhrey, of Allegheny, sentenced to the workhouse for a year, a letter from Judge Slagle was submitted, in which he says the evidence heard at the trial justified the sentence that had been imposed, but different statements had been made since as to Longhrey's guilt, and that "if the defendant has presented facts which justify elemency, I have no reason to object."

Rudy, under sentence of death for the murder of his father. The jurors who convicted him also asked for the favorable consideration of the application. The District Attorney of the county, in a letter, protested against executive interference, as the prisoner had a fair trial. As to a large number of petitioners for executive elemency he said they were either against the infliction of capital punishment or wanted Rudy put on the same platform with J. H. Jacobs, whose death sentence was recently commuted. As to the jurors their sympathy had got the better of their indement.

jarors their sympathy had got the better of their judgment.
E. A. Montooth asked for the pardon of William Smink, of Allegheny, who was sen-tenced to the workhouse for ten months for biganny and perjury.

William Reardon had a hearing in the case of Charles Hannon, of Allegheny, convicted of murder in the second degree, postponed until the next meeting of the board. Dr. Birchfield, of Pitaburg, represented John Strod, of Allegheny, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods, and sentenced to two years and a half in the penitentiary.

A MINISTER'S PLEA.

In the case of Abram Buzzard, the notorion Lancaster county outlaw, a number of letters were submitted to show the innocence of the prisoner. A Methodist minister charged that the woman on whose testimony Buzzard was mainly convicted had sworn falsely to screen her lover, J. H. Jacobs, the murderer, whose death sentence was recently commuted. In the same letter it was alleged that Jacobs had admitted to the commission of the crime of which ligzzard was convicted. In other letters it was channed that the prisoner had thoroughly re-formed his life.

At a subsequent meeting the board recommended the pardon of John Shred, of Allegtieny, and Franklin D. Richter, of Franklin county. Pardon recommendations were refused in the following cases: Abram Buzzard, Lancaster; William Loughrey, Allegteny, and Edward C. Loveland, sentenced to two years and four months to the Western Penitentiary from Clinton county.

Cases were held under advisement as follows: William Smink, bigamy and perjury, Allegheny; Nicholas Parel, arson, Juhnata; John W. Rudy, murder, Lancaster.

A YOUNG MAN MURDERED.

A Well-Known River Tough Suspected of the Crime.

PRECIAL TRLEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BRILLIANT, O., May 20.-Last evening Phil Martin, a puddler in a mill, and Murit Murray. ourg, a river man, were seen in company with each other, intoxicated, enter one of the first boats near the mill landing after 7 o'clock. To-day young Martin was missing and search was made for him. Murray had been boasting in Wellsburg that he had thrown an Italian overboard, and when it was learned that young Martin had been missing, search that young Martin had been missing, search was made for his body, and this evening it was found about 350 feet south of where he had been in company with Murray.

The Coroner has been notified, but has not responded as yet, as he lives in the country. The Justice of the Peace is sick and cannot be on hand, so the Mayor will officiate. A warrant for the arrest of Murray has been issued and a party are in search of him, but he has evidently skipped. Martin is a preacher's son. He leaves a young bride of one year. Murray is a noted river tough.

A later dispatch says that the body of Martin was found in the river with one ear cut off and the throat terribly bruised.

AN EXECUTION ISSUED.

The Financial Trouble of a Rolling Mill About at an End.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. Youngstown, May 20.-The financial troubles surrounding the building of the new rolling mill in Lancaster, O., in which Youngstown and Pittsburg capitalists are largely in-terested, reached the courts here to-day. Henry M. Garlick on behalf of himself and other creditors, representing claims amounting to creditors, representing claims amounting to $17,566 66, commenced suit against the Lancaster fron Company. Lloyd Booth, President of the company, at once filed an answer, admitting the allegations of the petition as to the indeducedness, and a judgment for the amount claimed was entered by Judge Gillmer.

An execution was at once issued and placed in the hands of Ralph J. Wick, who left immediately for Lancaster to have the entire property levied upon. The stockholders here and in Pittsburg claim that the parties in Lancaster have not paid in the money they acreed to when it was decided to locate the mill in that city.

Receivers Appointed. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BUNTINGDON, May '20,-Thomas S. Johnston, of this place, and S. L. Woodford, of New York, were appointed to-day as receivers for the suspended Huntingdon Manufacturing Company. Work will be resumed under their supervision to-morrow, and the men will be paid their over-due wages. This step was taken pending the result of the litigation between the opposing factions of the assigned Iron Car Company.

Damage Done by Floods,

SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCE. Youngstown, May 20.—Several of the rolling mills have had to suspend operations on account of high water. A large flock of sheep was swept away by the sudden rise, and farmers near the river are removing their families and stock to the hills for safety.

MASKED ROBBERS, DEEDS

Oman Case at Finding. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. FINDLAY, May 20 .- At the second day of the great Oman robbery case the courtroom was crowded. The testimony as to the identity of Charles Morgan, the first defendant placed on the stand, appeared to be direct and positive. The narration of the particulars of the crime, of the systematic manner in which the robbers proceeded and of the way in which they changed their positions of the men to prevent, if possible, any identification, disclosed the care with which details had been planned for the robbery. The testimony of Wesley Oman was corroborated by his father's brothers, John and Henry, and young Tremain. All testified as to the manner the seven men wearing white muslin masks rushed in the house on the evening of February 7, 1851, and covered all present with revolvers, after which they bound each member of the family by cords made by tearing sheets into strips; how young Tremain was tortured by having his feet burned by the robbers, in order to make him disclose the whereabouts of $6,000 supposed to be in the house. Each testified as to Morgan's mask falling off as he was going through the bureau, thus giving every opportunity of identification.

The State rested at noon, the defense attempting through their witnesses to prove an alibi and good character. A number of witnesses testified having seen Morgan in a saloon in Arlington the hour the robbery occurred. There are seven participants under arrest, and each of them are to have separate trials. of the systematic manner in which the robbers

The party arrived on the 11:20 A. M. Chartiers train, and was met by a large crowd of people at the station. They were driven to the jail, where a crowd numwere driven to the jail, where a crowd numbering more than 1,000 persons was in waiting for a sight of the prisoners. The prisoners were confined in separate departments of the jail, and are allowed no communication whatever. West was seen this afternoon, but refused to converse on the subject of the Crouch murder, as did also Annie Brundage.

LEASING VALUABLE LAND.

Farmers Who Think There is More Conl Than Oil and Gas.

PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SCOTTDALE, PA., May 20,-The farmers in the vicinity of Waltz's Mills, this county, are greatly excited over the leasing of their lands by Pittsburg parties for oil and gas purposes Many of the farmers have been paid as high as $400 in gold as the result of a year's lease. Some of them believe that agraifroad will be run through, and that the land will be tested, and if coal is found to exist in paying quantities it will be developed. Others still cling firmly to the idea that the leases on the land were taken solely for gas purposes.

Guffy & Co. started a well a couple of years ago, immediately across Sewickley creek, opposite Waltz's mill, but after a few weeks' drilling it was abandoned. Coal has already been discovered in great quantities in that neighborhood.

HE IS A PITTSBURGER.

Spicide at Youngstown. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. Youngstown, May 20.—John Hays, who is evidently demented, wandered into the Mayor's office this afternoon. He was unable to give any account of himself, and upon searching him it was ascertained from papers in his possession that he is a rougher, a member of possession that he is a rougher, a member of Soho Lodge of the Amalgamated Association, and resides in Pittsburg.

Hays made a vigorous attempt to commit suicide while in the Mayor's office, cutting his throat badly with a kuife before he was disarmed. He was placed in charge of Sheriff Ewing until relatives in Pittsburg can be heard from.
