"Whatever officials of baseball clubs may publicly state to the contrary, the fact is all of them are very weary of the business so far this season. Dozens of them would be giad to get out of it if they could do it gracefully."

The above was the statement of an official of a local club yesterday, and there was considerable truth in his statement. Director J. I'.

now, and be said: A STRONG STATEMENT. "I don't care if matters get so low down that not a citizen goes near a game. The game is being rained, and at a very rapid rate at that. Those who have injured the game, I mean the new League backers, may how as they like about the bad weather, but there has been bad weather in every season, and there never was such ridicu-lously low attendances as there has been this season. Now, all this could be avoided if club officials generally were not afraid of the news-they were not afraid of being called weakeners, etc., by the press they would get together and talk about a consolidation. That would be sensible business. For instance the officials of the two Pittsburg clubs could meet and reason thus. The old League people could say to the other glub: 'The lease of our grounds wil soon expire and you have excellent grounds and are in a hole financially. Why can't we take the best players of the two clubs and make one good club? You can take some of our stock and we can have one first-class club. Now this would be the way good business men would act and their action iid be a pienaure to the people.

AFRAID TO ACT. "But we won't do that. I might say we dare not do that because of the criticisms of the news-papers. I don't think either side would have the nerve to even privately auggest such a thing, be tion. I know that I would not take $20,000 and offer

Femarkable at this juncture, more because there intruth in every word more than anything cise. In truth in every word more than anything size. The statement shows closely that the quarren now going on he not in the interiest of the public, but for one party or the other to gain a inscisuli menopoly; in other words, to have the only trust last can secure the positive scale as for as hase ball playing is conserved. That the public is rapidly becoming convinced of this fact is being proven every day

Yesterday Pittaburgers interested in the game imply talked about the clubs in a spirit of ridi-The quarrel is had enough, but when the wretched propring of somony is accret to it the burden is more than even good-natured people can hear. Mr. O'Nell's remarks, if they mean anything at all, mean that the public ought not to be hundraged any longer. Why should the busi-ness men connected with the two Leagues not have mere enough to call a helt to the preparater have more connected with the two Longues not have more enough to call a balt to the preposter-ous proceedings how going on? Is there any em-sure or cowardice attached to the making of a wise and fromest suggression? Both parties are in the ring, and as iong as they remain there the public will be humburged and to a great extent hooderined. I matters cannot be forced to a peaceable conclusion any other way the public night take a hand in it, and jet the players per-form only to directors and ampires. That would soom settle it.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—Gleason pitched great ball for the Philadelphia National League Club this afternoon, holding Chicago down to three hits. Outside of Earle, who was away off in his second base play, the visitors played a faultiess fielding game. Attendance 800. Score:

Committees Appointed to Make the Arrangements - Old Pire Engines and Relies to be Features of the Parade-$5,000 Wanted to Cover Expenses. Initial steps were taken last night by the general committee of Councilmen and citisens of Allegheny, to further the proposed semi-centennial celebration of that city. The meeting was held in Common Council Chamber, and very few of those appointed by Chairman Neeb were absent, all of them seeming to be considerably interested in the matter. Mr. Neeb presided when order was called, and read a communication from City So-licitor Elphinatone, in which the latter stated the committee had power to expend public money to the extent of the appropria-tion given them by Councils. He suggested that it would be best to have an ordinance presented asking for what money would be needed.

Mr. Speer then moved that an ordinance be sent to Councils asking for $5,000 for the purpose. That amount was agreed on and the motion was carried.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. Mr. D. B. Oliver moved that an executive committee be appointed to arrange a pro-gramme for the ceremony, and that they have power to appoint sub-committees to carry out the programme when it is arranged. The motion prevailed and Messrs, Scalfe, Speer, Oliver, Hax, Smith, Stockman, A. Hunter, Hon. Henry Gerwig, Beilstein, Cruikshank and Trimble were appointed. The committee then adjourned and the executive body went into session.

The latter met in the City Clerk's office sand at once got down to business. Mr. Seaife, as chairman of the body, called the meeting to order. It was definitely fixed that the exercises would last all day. Beginning in the morning, they decided to hold a parade of all the school children of the city, all the military audcivic organizations of the city, the Grand Army posts and muof the city, the Grand Army posts and mu-sical societies. The afternoon will be enliv-ceed by a mass meeting in the parks, when the musical societies and school children will sing and speeches will be delivered by the ora-tors of the occasion. Speculation as to the Course on Which the Race Will be Rowed.

THE HOME MISSIONS

Are Discussed at Length by the Presbyterian Assembly.

THE RECEIPTS DURING THE YEAR. The Board of Aid for Colleges Makes a Strong Appeal for Help. THE DISCUSSION ON PUBLICATION

SABATOGA, May 20 .- In the Presbyterian

General Assembly this morning the Board of Home Missions presented its eightyeighth annual report. The income has been on a 4676 steady increase, although, owing to peculiar cir-出 cumstances, this year closes with a balance of $80,391 on the wrong side.

This was, at the beginning of the year, a debt of $33.337. The total receipts have been

Rev. Dr. W. E. Moore, Moderator. $831,170. The available collaterals about $75,000 for general work and $7,000 for women's work. From April to November for several years the outgo has exceeded the income from $1,000 to $1,500 a day, hence the need of loans and the collateral to get them. Oregon, Wash-ington, the two Dakotas, Montana, Cali-fornia and Nevada all call for help. The Presbyterian Theological Seminary in San Francisco has offered to it a fine site and $250,000 of additional endowment if $50,000 can be raised outside.

TRAINED MINISTERS NEEDED. This would soon give us a supply of This would soon give us a supply of trained ministers for churches that now cannot get them, and would lift many weak churches to self support, liberating money for sorely needed new work. In the Southern and middle Western States there is growing and great need. A general summary in connection with home mission work is as follows: Number of missionaries, 1,701; of missionary teachers, 361; additions on confession in home missionary churches, 9,795; on certificate, 7,091; total membership, 100 778; membership in Sunday school 160, 117; 100,778; membership in Sunday school160,117; churches become independent, 30; churches built during the year, 151; cost of the same, $387,681; churches organized this year, 200; parsonages built, 264; value of same, $446,-684. There has been great growth in the work in New England, New Mexico and the Territory of Oklahoms.

Rev. Edwin S. Wallice, of South Dakota, said that in his region they mean to push sys-tematic benevolence. He wished they could put some of their oxone into all the friends of home missions. He thought that $80,000 should be no burden to one of the richest denominations in the land, if not in the world. REASONS ASSIGNED FOR THE DEFICIT. Robert W. Hill, D. heroism and the qual-ifications of the labor-Rev. Dr. W. H. Roberts, ers in this new field. Stated Clerk. The venerable Secretary, Henry Kendall, D. D., was warmly greeted by the Assembly. He said that the great increase of outlay for city evangelization in recent years accounted for much of the deficit. These churches are soon to be self-supporting and helpers of the treasury. Scarcely any work is so much needed or so fruitful as this comparatively new city work. The recommendations of the board were passed, also a recommendation in favor of a special contribution for the debt in both churches and

SEMI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION. The Committee on Bills and Overtures reported an overture from the Presbytery of Philadelphia, concerning the celebra-tion of the fifth semi-centennial of the adoption of the Westminster Confession. The committee recommends the Assembly t refer the matter to the Pan-Presbyterian Council when it meets in 1892. Adopted. An overture from the Presbytery of Olympia, asking the division of the Synod of Columbia, and the organization of the Synod of Washington, comprising the Presbyteries of Idaho, Washington, Olympia and Alaska, was approved by the committee.

With regard to the overture from the Presbytery of Bismarck, on lotteries, the committee reported that the Presbyterian Church denounces the vicious influence of otteries and all other forms of gambling,

AID FOR COLLEGES. A memorial of ministers and elders in Oklahoma, asking to be placed in the Presbytery of Chickasaw, was approved by the committee.

The seventh annual report of the Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies was read by Dr. Hemphill, its secretary. He said the number of contributing churches has grown from 480 in its first year to 2,030 in its seventh, when it was able to aid 35 institutions. 27 of them aubstantially new ones. This year its receipts were $84,996 16; $15,550 from legacies. It means to help only really meritorious and needed schools. Rev. Thomas M. Boyd, of Oregon, emphasized the need of these academies and colleges in the far West. Dr. Herrick Johnson, of Chicago, said that three-fourths of the million deliars that have been put into these schools in seven years would not have been put there but for this board. He gave figures to show that religious schools gave figures to show that religious schools are far more apt than secular to send out candidates to the ministry. The report of the committee, including its recommendations, was adopted.

DISCUSSION ON PUBLICATION. The hour having come for the discussion of the report of the special committee on publication, Elder G. S. Graham, of Philadelphia, in speaking for the Business Committee of the Board of Publication, said it had not been properly and scasonably notified of the charges made against it in the report of the Business Committee, and therefore he offered a resolution that both reports be reterred to a commission to report to the next annual Assembly, and that i this com-mission finds that the charges are true as made by the special committee, this commission have power to require the Business Committee to adopt any or all of the recom-mendations of the special committee in the conduct of its business. You are the principal and primary agent of he Assembly. The Business Committee is only the agent of the board. We have endeavored to honestly carry out the instructions of the Assembly, and only when that had been done could we consult with the Business Committee. We tried to get meetings with the Business Committee on several eccasions, but, failing to do so, were obliged to go home. Three members of the Business Committee said in writing that they expected the conference between the committees to take place only after the special committee had made up its report. Several members of the Business Committee during the three days and nights of the conference profused their inability to answer in detail important crucial questions.

A majority of our committee were willing to submit to the Assembly only the recommendations they were prepared to make suppressing the facts they discovered and on which the recthe facts they discovered and on which the recommendations were based, if the Business Committee would concur. We did our best to get a full conference with the Business Committee and thought we had had a full one. Moreover, we can prove every statement we have made by authentic bids from responsible parties, paying union prices on all work and leaving good margins for profit. Four of our members have long been in the printing book business. Further, we have used no hard words about any persons, but only stated facts. We have 70 letters from prominent Presbyierians complaining of the management of the Publishing Beard. We honor the members of the Business Committee. They are good and true Christian men, and we have no attack to make upon them as persons. We simply want to give you the information on which you can decide whether the publishing work of the committee shall be put on a proper basis or remain a source of irritation and discredit.

Local Hibersians Not Alarmed Over Treasurer Hyges' Defaication. A number of local officers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians were called upon last night to ascertain to what extent the defalcations of Patrick Hynes, of Greenport, N. Y., who was National Treasurer of the order, who was National Treasurer of the order, would affect the local branches of the Hibernians and the order at large. All were of the opinion that it would not embarrass the soliety in the least, as Hynes did not have over $10,000 in his possession, and his bondsmen are good for that amount. Patrick Fallon, Secre good for that amount. Patrick Fallon, Secretary of Branch 52, in this city, said in reference to the matter: "The emberdisment of Treasurer Hynes will not materially affect the financial condition of the order, as he only had access to a fund that was independent of the general beneficiary fund. At the convention held in Hartford last week no decisive steps were taken to prosecute Hynes."

As the proceedings of this order are of a secret nature, the matter did not get out until yesterday, when a telegram was received from Philadelphia which told of the defaication of Hynes. The general belief in this city among prominent Hibermans is that Hynes has skipped off to Canada, and that no effort will be made to bring him back, as it is of no great consequence.

A PLATE GLASS POOL. The Jobbers Will Assempt to Form a Combination To-Day. The jobbers in plate glass will attempt again to-day to form a pool at the Duquesne to con-trol the trade of the country. The original plan was to form a combination to handle the tried the trade of the country. The original plan was to form a combination to handle the Eastern markets, but not enough New Yorkers could be interested. The prime movers in the scheme are: 8, J. Bach, J. E. Helbrook and the extent of $74,000, that being the bigness individual loan, with the exceptions of W. W. Heroy, of New York. These gentlemen arrived yesterday and registered at the Duquesne, as did also E. A. Hutchinson and George F. Weale, of St. Louis. Some jobbers are expected from Chicago this morning. The New York gentlemen spent the day in inspecting the plants of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company. The manufacturers will meet with the jobbers at the Duquesne to-day, James A. Chambers, President of the Butter Standard Plate Glass Company, called on the jobbers at the notel last evening. Mr. Chambers declined to furnish any information about the meeting to-day. He said it was a strictly W. Heroy, of New York. These gentlemen the meeting to day. He said it was a strictly private affair.

A Painter Polsoned With Lond. To the Danner Medicine Company. GENTLEMEN—I am a painter by trade and have been suffering for several years from the effects of lead poison, which gradually worked through my system and reduced my health to such an extent that I was often unable to work. I also suffered with liver complaint and have tried a great many medicines hoping to obtain relief from pain, and to be restored to health and strength again, but found none until I commenced using your great blood purifier known as "Danner's E-sence of Health." It has completely taken all disease out of my system, and I honestly say to-day I am now enjoying most excellent health and recommend your Essence of Health we'l worthy of a trial to be convinced that it will do all you claim for it.

Any further information will be given by addressing or ealting at my residence.

MILLION LOANED TO CLERKS. Who Merely Acted as Pigureheads to Secure

PAPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, May 20 .- The publication to-day of Examiner Tompkins' report of the condition of the defunct American Life Insurance Company and Assigned Smith's inventory of the Bank of America created a profound sensation even among those who had some knowledge of the crooked methods of these concerns, but the publication was more of a surprise to men who figured prominently as borrowers than to anybody else. Men who were credited with loans from the companies to immense amounts knew nothing of the transaction credited to them on the books, and admitted that they had been acting all along simply as cat's-paws of the Work-MacFarlane syndicate of wreckers.

Most of the nearly a million of money loaned by the American Life on worthless collaterals was loaned by John J. MacFarlane, directly and indirectly, to himself The names of J. S. Dungan, who was credited with a loan of $100,000, and of W. J. Coite, against whom the company's books charge $74,000 borrowed, were used by the Work-MacFarlane combination to secure the money.

MERELY PIGUREHEADS. Neither of the men are responsible in any way, and both of them acted simply as paid employes. The same is true of the three principal borrowers who appear in Assignee Smith's inventory of bills receive able of the Bank of America. According to that statement, Richard H. Ewbanks, H. E. Yerkes and George W. Bolleau bor-rowed from the bank $413,022 out of a total loaned of $595,045. In addition to this sum $9,400 is given as loaned to Charles L. Work, leaving about $172,623 borrowed in small amounts by various individuals and companies who are more or less responsible. Ewbanks was an employe of the bank and Boileau of the Philadelphia Finance Com-If you feel tired, feverish or overheated, do not rush off and take "spring modicines."

Cool yourself down and in this way help your system and purify your blood.

If you feel hot and thirsty, do not drink large quantities of water or other "long" drinks. It is much better to take a little pure whiskey and water, which will quench the thirst, tone the system and fortify against disease.

Remember that only pure whiskey should ever be taken into the system, and that the leading enemists and seleutists of the present day unite in declaring that Duffy's Fure Mait is absolutely the purest and best. pany, while Yerkes acted simply as a sort of note broker.

All are irresponsible, and the big mass of indebtedness charged against them cannot of course be recovered by the bank from them. They didn't receive the money. Their employers, who used them, did. The accounts show that the Work-McFarlane combination must have secured to them-selves from the two companies at least selves from the two companies at least $1,100,000 in money, borrowed principally under the disguise of employe's names. Most of the money taken from the Bank of America in this manner was "borrowed" during the months of March and April, when, according to their own admissions, the officers knew the bank to be insolvent. The plot of the wreckers was pretty affectively given away to-day by an employe until recently of Work and McFarlane.

This is W. J. Coite who on the first of the month resigned his position as eashier of the American Financial Association, of which George F. Work, the promoter of the various wildest concerns that figure in the assets of the American Life and Bank of American is the actual organizer and con-America, is the actual organizer and con-tooller, and his former clerk, L. E. Pfeiffer, the estensible president. Colte new has a clerical position with the McLaughlin Elec-the $478,000 to President MacFarlane and the $100,000 to Cashier J. S. Dungan, of the Bank of America. Cote said: "I never borrowed a cent from the American Life and nobody could have been more surprise than I was to see my name in the report. I company's books. The money was bor rowed by Mr. MacFarlane in my name." Last December Mr. McFarlane came to me in the office of the American Financial Association, in the American Life building, and asked for the use of my name to secure a number of loans on collateral. How many loans and for what amount I have forgot-tep. They were to be call or demand loans, to be paid off at once, and the collateral was to be placed by Mr. McFarlane in my name. ONLY AN EMPLOYE. "I was only an employe of Mr. Work and Mr. McFarlane, and I had nothing to do but to obey instructions. They paid me a good salary to do what they wanted me to do and they had a perfect right to use me as they pleased. I am not going to deny anything. I left those people on the first of the month, when I saw how things were going and what the end must be. I didn't think that Mr. McFarlane was going to borrow money out of his own company and put my name on his books as a borrower, but that seems to have been what he did. I am not worth a cent in property of any kind and have never been anything but an employe, and as I, individually, never borrowed anything, of course nothing can be recovered from me.

"It was customary to use other people's names in negotiating loans as a matter of form and the men mentioned as having borrowed money from the bank of America on collateral, Yerkes, Dungan, Bolicau and Ewbanks have borrowed in just the same manner I did, that is in name only. The managers, of course got the money. What they did with it I don't know. I did not suppose Yerkes, Dungan, Boileau and Ew-banks know. It wasn't our business to know. ALL OBEYED ORDERS.

"Mr. Dungan, who noted as cashlor of the Bank of America, was in reality only a clerk, and knew nothing about the manage-ment of the bank. He did what he was paid to do, the same as I and the rest of us did, and of course he is not morally guilty of any wrongdoing. His loan of $100,000 from the American Life was in his name, the same as mine was, but it is not to be supposed that he got any of the money. I saw Yerkes this morning, and he was as much surprised as I was. He said he didn't see how he name came to be used as one of the princip borrowers of the bank, as he never borrowed the money, and only did what he was

Solid Comfort for Walkers Is obtained by the production of perfect-
