BOOKS AS CURRENCY.

The Unique Admission Fee to be Demanded at an Entertainment.

MAKING GRAY-BEARDS PONDER

Decorating for the Reception of the Scotch-Irish Congress.

SOCIAL EVENTS IN THE TWO CITIES

A delightful entertainment will be given on the evening of June 3, in the Second Presbyterian Church, to which the admission fee is both novel and unique. A book of any sort, on any subject, in any binding, by any author, will be acceptable at the door, and on receipt of such the bearer will be joyfully welcomed in the Sunday school room where the entertainment, puerly literary and musical, will be held. The object of this entertainment is the refilting of the shelves of the Sunday school library that has by constant demand and patronage become in almost the deplorable state that Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard is famed

The book admission plan was tried once before by the officers of the Sunday school in a like emergency, and with such excellent results that the success of this event and the consequent supply of good, healthy literature is assured.

EXERCISE FOR THE BRAIN.

In this manner all thinking persons in the adult congregation rack their brain for the memories of youthful day reading, and, deciding upon the volume that made the most wholesome impression upon their minds, and forthwith purchase a copy to present with their compliments; while the younger and the juvenile members, each having at some previous time read a book that they were keeply interested in, do likewise, and thus a collection is obtained that in scope and variety is far superior to one consisting of the same number of volumes selected by a committee whose tastes are quite likely to run in certain channels. The individual books, however, are subject to the approval of competent judges, and anything that would not tend to the elevation and broadening of the mind of the reader will be forbidden space in the library, though the range is liberal, inviting good novels, historical and poetical works and books of travel, and is not confined to the Sunday school book where the hero or heroine die young on account of an over abundance of piety.

A GOOD PROGRAMME.

The entertainment will consist of reading, recitations and musical selections by the Sunday school, individually and collect-ively, and also recitations by Miss Harris, talented elocutionist. Interspersed through the programme will be selections by the Schmertz Orchestra and the grand finale will be an instrumental duet by two Chinamen, members of the Lee family, who will render upon the banjo and violin of their native country, such music as those who have not previously had their curosity grati-fied regarding Chinese music, will be inter-

SCHOOLMATES TO WED.

The Marriage Announced of Miss Annie L. Wattles and Dr. J. Richey Horner.

No invitations will be issued for the wedding of Miss Annie L. Wattles and Dr. J. Richey Horner, which is to take place at the Wattles residence, on Center avenue, Shadyside, in the early eve of June 3, as the ceremony will be witnessed by only the members of the immediate families of the bride and groom. It was at first intended to have a large church wedding, and nearly a thousand invitations had been ordered, but the continued ill-health of Mrs. Watthe mother of the bride-elect, made it doubtful whether or not she could be present at a church ceremony and the programme was changed. Miss Annie Wattles is the daughter of W W. Wattles, the Fifth avenue jeweler, and a most charming young lady possessed of such graces that endear her to all who Lave the pleasure of her acquaintance and friendship. With the young gentleman, who so shortly will claim her for his bride, she graduated from the High School in the class of 1880, and has since pursued an extended course of study which has eminently fitted her to shine in the higher circles of society in which she moves.

Dr. Horner is a prominent young physician of the homeopathic school, a son of Rev. Dr. Joseph Horner, who has charge of the book interests of the M. E. Church in this city. He is one of the medical staff of the Homeopathic Hospital, and bas attained · very enviable position in his profession.

After the simple ceremony, at which the sisters of the bride, Misses Julia and Lillie, will assist as bridesmaids, a wedding supper will be served, and then the young couple will depart for a Northwestern trip, will include Waukesha Springs, "the Saratoga Springs of the West," where the American Institute of Homeopathy will be held June 16, at which Dr. Ho. desires to be present and at which he will in all probability be a delegate from the associa-tion in this city. "At Home" cards will be issued to friends for Thursdays in July, and the residence, at 91 Arch street, which is to be the home of the newly-wedded pair, will by that time have received the finishing touches to its already partially furnished rooms that will bespeak the arrival and the exquisite taste of the charming little

AT THE COLUMBUS CLUB.

A Pleasant Evening of Music and Song at the Third Musicale.

It was both a representatine and appreciative audience that filled the spacious parlors of the Columbus Club last evening, the occasion being the third of the series of musicales to be given by the club. The fiorals decorations vied with the costumes of the ladies for being elaborate. After the first part of the entertainment had been concluded the assemblage adjourned to the dining halls, where they partook of refreshments, which had been furnished for the occasion by the club's caterer.

Some of the best musical talent in the city had been secured for the evening and contributed largely to enjoyment of the evening. The Mandolin Quartet rendered several popular and classical selections in a creditable manner. The quartet is com-posed of the Misses Dabbs and Maloney and Messrs. Kirk and Neeb. Mr. Ambrose B. Reed read a very interesting paper on Pennsylvania history. Messrs. Hine and Buffum played a duet on the zither, which received rounds of applause. Mr. A. V. D. Watterson's "Ili-Miserie" was encored in a liberal manner. A number of Catholic clergymen were pres-ent, among whom were Rev. Fathers Wall, Sheedy, Conway and others. Everyone present voted the affair a success.

FOR THE ORPHANS.

Dountlon Day Observed at the Home for Destitute Colored Children. Flags and flowers formed pretty decors tions for the Home for Colored Orphans and Destitute Children, on Greenwood avenue, Allegheny, at yesterday's celebration of donation day. In the different rooms was displayed the fancy work of the children. The exercises of the day commenced at 2 o'clock with a business meeting of the managers. The annual election of officers and magnates took place, and resulted with Bakewell, Mrs. William Codley, Miss Jennie Clark and Miss Ella Seaner.

Miss Ella Seane The managers' report and treasurer's report were submitted by Miss Miller and approved. Both proved the Home to be in a flourishing condition, The exercises which followed the business meeting were by the little ones themselves, and were very interesting. The ladies in charge were happy over the generous sup-ply of substantials donated and the sum of $240 which they received in cash.

PREPARING FOR THE CONGRESS.

The Scotch-Irish Delegates to be Embow ered in Roses and Received in Groves of Palms and Other Tropical Plants-Monongahela House Decorations.

The Monongahela House, which was so elaborately and gayly decorated for the Pan-American reception last winter, will assume a still more enchanting appearance for the benefit of the visiting delegates and ladies of the Scotch-Irish Congress.

The entire second floor of the house will be made inviting and picturesque by the lavish use of tropical plants, that in their delicious green coloring suggest rest and coolness besides delighting the eye. Many of them were ordered especially from New York for the occasion and arrived in this . city yesterday. Some of the exquisite pottery in which they are to be placed is also on the way from the East. Three elegant Wedgewood vases and pedestals, 31/2 feet high, one a beautiful golden yellow, the others a delicate blue and rich red respectively, will hold palms corresponding in beauty and height, and will form center pieces for three immense pyramids. The alcove opposite the office entrance will be graced with one and the others will tower in all their magnificence in the hall of the ladies' entrance and at the extreme Water street end of the main hall. The arches of the long hall will be gracefully festooned with the asparagus plun in portiere fashion, while in every nook and corner will be arranged rare exotic plants in rarer imported vases and jars.

The long vista of windows in the dining dainty and delicate botanical specimens in artistic profusion, and the center table on the opening night will be a marvel of beauty, A simulated pond, with uneven mossy banks and natural rustic appearance, will be graced by a family of ivory swans, each burdened with the most exquisite roses to be procured. The lake effect will extend about eight feet, and at either end of the table will be arranged handsome French baskets filled with fragrant flowers. The small tables will all receive a share of the flowers, and the dining room will be a scene of beauty.

Mr. A. M. Murdoch, of the firm of A. M. & J. B. Murdoch, who have charge of the decorations, has just returned from a New York trip, on which he purchased the beautiful palms and Wedgewood vases that will make their debut in the Monongahela House

Chief Brown Prepares a Schedule of the Cash Deposits to be Received.

Mayor Gourley, after several consultation with Chief Brown and Aldermen Gripp and McKenna, has decided that the order issued last Wednesday by Chief Brown was entirely too sweeping. The Mayor has decided to allow the acceptance of forfeits at police stations, and yesterday directed Chief Brown to prepare a schedule of amounts to be accepted in different cases.

To a reporter for THE DISPATCH the Mayor said yesterday: "Your money is better than my bond. The retusal of cash deposits would, II see, often work hardships. A man from Greensburg, whom I know to be a good citizen at home, came here three weeks ago and got drunk. He was arrested. but had his pockets full of money. Had he been required to produce a bond he might have been unable to do so, as I know that he has very few acquaintances in this city. The absolutely rigid enforcement of the law does sometimes work hardships. It seems to me to be proper that the Chief or the inspectors should have authority to release prisoners under certain circumstances. I have no objection to the exercise of that privilege. I did not mean that Chief Brown should issue an order as extensive in its meaning as he did, but he followed the strict construc-tion of my note to him. It was simply a case of misunderstanding." Chief Brown has sent out a rescinding order, fixing the following schedule of for-feits for various offenses: Drunkenness, $5; disorderly conduct, $30; keeping disorderly house, $105. These are the same figures observed formerly. There has, however, been no fixed figure for keeping a disorderly house. The maximum fine is $100 and the

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway

Centre, Mich.:—
"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at aii. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving rephysicians treated me without giving re-lief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsanarilla, which use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which s produced wonderful results. Soon er commencing to take the Sarsapaafter commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digestall the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

Will be Modernized. A report has somehow or other gained currency that the stockholders of the Sixth street suspension bridge had decided to re-model that structure to conform with the modern requirements of allowing horse-speeding and to accommodate rapid street railway transit, but it would seem that the rumor has not yet crystalized, though it is not denied that the consummation is proba-ble.

Mr. William Roseburg was said to be would be a meeting of the stockholders on the 30th, when it was likely the proposition would be considered, and it they wanted the change it would be made, but he disclaimed any ability to tell what the outcome would be or even to hazard a prediction.
