FOR HIS SON'S SAKE

Eddie Myers' Father Takes a a Trip to McKeesport.

ANOTHER ARREST IS MADE,

But the Douglass Mystery is Not Yet Cleared Up.

WHY MRS. BECK WAS PUT IN JAIL

John Myers, father of Eddie Myers, the young McKeesporter now in jail necused of the murder of his aunt, Miss Margaret Douglass, on the Douglass farm at McKeesport, on the 15th instant, arrived in Mc-Keesport yesterday for the purpose of looking after his son's property, and will make an effort to have the young man released on bail. Mr. Myers says he has only seen his son twice on his life, but has always had a fatherly interest in the boy. The latter, he says, has always been taken care of by his aunt, who raised him from an infant, Eddie's mother died when he was only 20 days old, and since that time his father has seen little of him. In conversation with a DISPATCH representative Mr. Myers said:

WILL TRY TO FREE HIM.

"I will make an effort to see that Eddie gets good treatment, and I think I can get him out of jail on bail. His aunt kept him away from me, and I have seen the boy but twice in my life. I do not know who has control of his property, but will see that it does not fall into bad hands. I have been living at Salem. Westmoreland county, and the first I heard of the murder was when I saw it in THE DISPATCH."

Another arrest was made in the mysterious case yesterday. Detective Charles Cook, employed by the Pinkerton agency in the borough, went to the house of Mrs. Emma Beck, near the Douglass farm, and placed the woman under arrest. She was taken to 'Squire McMarlin's office and given a preliminary hearing. The 'Squire considered the circumstances surrounding the arrest sufficient to hold Mrs. Beck, and ordered her to be taken to the county jail.

Mrs. Beck who is one of the neares neighbors to the Douglass farm, has told many conflicting stories since Thursday. The latter, she admits, has been a frequent visitor to her house, and she often went to see Miss Douglass. She claims this would be no bar to her telling all she knows about the case.

ON WHAT SHE IS HELD.

The point on which Mrs. Beck is being held is her statement about her boy being on the wagon when young Myers discovered the body of his aunt upon his arrival home from town with a load of feed. Mrs. Beck said the boy was at school, and the latter rays he was on the wagon and rode home with Myers. She also tried to discredit the testimony of Nellie Jones.

Mrs. Beck was interviewed yesterday as abe was on her way to just in charge of Constable Piper. She said: "On the Thursday of the murder I went to town with my husband's dinner about noon. I had been in the habit of sending my boy, but as I had a note to pay the interest on at the First National Bank, I went to town myself. I got the money—$14—from my husband and then went to the bank. After making the payment, I went to several stores and attended to some business. When I was through, I started home, arriving at the latter place about 3 o'clock. I did not know anything about the murder until I was lass' body was tound in the yard. I am sure this was about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and was several hours after the dead man was reported to have been found.

WHEN SHE WAS LAST THERE "I had not been near the Douglass house the day of the murder until after the discovery of the body. The last time I was was on Tuesday evening, and Eddie and his aunt were preparing to go to the taxpayers' meeting. She asked him to button her shoes, and he did so. At the same time she remarked that he had better hurry up and get a wife to take care of, as he was probably tired of caring for her. He re-plied that he would marry the girl he loved, and she told him if he did he would not get any of her money. He said ne dro dro and with this the conversation ceased."

While Mrs. Beck was telling her story down and wept bitterly. She any of her money. He said he did not care, said she was not an accomplice of Eddie Myers, and the only time he visited her house was when he was passing, and only dropped in in a neighborly way. Her husband works at the blast furnaces, and when he heard of his wife's arrest he to secure bail, but could not. The latter was first fixed at $5,000, and afterward the detective said he would refuse bail, although what he had to do with it was not clear to Mrs. Beck's friends. Constable Piper is still working on the case, and hopes to develop something about the missing revolver in a few days. John Cooley, father of the girl to whom young Myers was engaged, was yesterday placed in charge of the Douglass farm by the attorneys for the defense. Mrs. Beck was brought to the county jail about 6 o'clock. Shortly afterward Colonel Blakeley, her attorney, called to see her, but was refused admittance, it being after the regular visiting hours of the prison.

MAY BE A CLEW. The Chief of Police of Altoona wired the Chief at McKeesport that the man Charles Freeman, who tried to commit suicide at Altoona Friday night, is continually mur-muring about the "McKeesport murder" while in a delirium. The man, he says, is a notion peddler, who hailed from Pittsburg, and he talks so much of the murder that he is of the belief that he knows something of the recent murders, or at least one of them. The McKeesport authorities telegraphed to hold the man, and there will trouble, as his head is nearly severed from his body on account of his attempt at Investigation shows that a man answering the description of Freeman called at the McKeesport City Clerk's office, just prior to the Douglass murder, and took out a license to peddle watches. A detective will go to Altoons to look into the case. The would-be

NEW NATURAL GAS PIPES.

The Allegheny Heating Company Will New Supply More Gas.

Parmission to lay new natural gas pipes was granted by the Allegheny Gas Committee last night to the heating company of that city. The meeting opened with the reading of a communication from the Allegheny Heating Company in relation to laying certain gas pipes, and asking for instructions as to carrying out the work. They stated that to supply natural gas they would have to lay an additional line from Willow Grove to Anderson street; also lateral lines of a pipe of larger caliber. Mr. Frasher asked if the larger sized pipe meant a larger supply of gas for the city.

Experienced to Young, of the heating company, replied that the supply of gas at the wells was diminishing, and to seep up the pressure in the pipes they had to increase the volume. Where some time ago the pressure at Willow Grove was 50 pounds, it is new 10 pounds. The company, he said, is spending $70,000 in efforts to secure more pressure and give a proper supply of gas, which, he thought, was an evidence of good faith.

Young said they would keep East Ohio street open for travel, and would repaye the streets, placing them in as good condition as they now are. Upon these conditions the committee, on motion, granted permission for the company to

BOOMING THE MAJOR.

Meeting in Mayor Gourley's Office to Consider the Best Methods of Purthering Monteeth's Candidacy-The Young Men's Tariff Club Fall of Enthusiasm.

A number of gentlemen gathered Mayor Gourley's private office, yesterday afternoon, to consider the methods to be adopted to further Major E. A. Montooth's P. Ford, H. F. Davis, J. P. Andrews, C. F. Jahn, W. H. McCleary, H. L. Mason, George Holliday, George Campbell and Mayor Gourley.

Mr. Campbell expected the meeting to be sort of general meeting of the whole general committee, and in a speech of considerable length, dwelt upon the lack of interest shown, but he was soon convinced of his mis-take and of the deep sincerity of the Montooth movement shown by speeches of Mayor Gour-ley, Mr. .H. P. Ford, C. F. Jahn and J. P. Au-

As explained by Mr. H. F. Davis, the object of the meeting was to organize permanently and add to the membership of the committee to go to Harrisburg in Major Montooth's behalf. Mr. Jahn stated that the Tariff Club had already a roll of 200 persons who would go to Harrisburg. His understanding was that this Committee on Organization was to add to the list of persons who were to go to Harrisburg from outside the political clubs. He thought the business men of the city should go and show that it was not so much a political as a general movement in Major Montooth's behalf by the citizens of Allegheny county.

As there did not appear to be a perfect understanding of the meeting, Mr. W. R. Ford moved that a meeting be called for Saturday night in Common Council chamber, at which the presence of the full membership of the Organization Committee would be specially requested, as well as all friends of Major Montooth.

The motion was unanimously carried, and it to go to Harrisburg in Major Montooth's be as well as all friends of Major Montooth.

The motion was unanimously carried, and it was decided that at the meeting committees will be appointed as follows: A committee on headquarters, who will go to Harrisburg and open a headquarters and secure hotel accommodations for the Montooth delegates; a transportation committee, who will secure rates and railroad accommodations for the delegates and such business men and friends of the Major's as may go to the convention in his behalf; a finance committee to raise money for the expenses of the affair, and a printing committee to attend to whatever printing may be necessary.

Speeches were made, showing Major Mon-tooth's claims to the nomination of the Repub-lican party for Governor, and the meeting adjourned with a very enthusiastic feeling per-vading for the meeting at City Hall to-morrow The Young Men's Republican Tariff Club

SEMI-CENTENNIAL MUSIC.

Some of the Features in the Programme the Allegheny Celebration.

More suggestions and opinions for the ar rangement of a programme of exercises to cele brate the semi-centennial of Allegbeny were brought before the committee composed of Councilmen and citizens that met last night. At the request of Mr. D. B. Oliver, Mr. Bellstein was placed at the head of the Committee on Parade instead of Mr. Oliver, who was not sure he could give the attention necessary for the work. On motion the sub-committees were empowered to add to their number such per sons as they desired to assist them in the work. Upon the suggestion of Mr. Smith the Com-mittees on Parade and Relics and Remin-scence were consolidated for purposes of con-Upon motion of Cel. W. A. Stone Clerks Dil-

Upon motion of Col. W. A. Stone Clerks Dilworth and White were authorized to employ assistance to do the work of the Semi-Centennial Committee, the Council Clerks being fully occupied with the regular work of Council.

The arrangements for the mass meeting to be held in the park and the erection of a stand for the choir were referred to the Sub-Committee on Music.

A communication was received from the Alegheny Musical Association tendering its services and was referred to the Committee on Music.

It was decided to give notice through the newspapers to all the merchants, manufacturers, etc., of the city to notify the Clerk of Councils as to the horses, wagons, men, etc., they would turn out in the parade, so that a position and space in the line could be arranged for.

FINISHING UP ITS WORK

The Grand Ledge of the I. O. O. F. W. Probably Adjourn To-Day.

Yesterday's session of the Grand Lodge, L O. O. F., was taken up principally with the discussion of the new constitution and by-laws re-ported for the Grand Lodge. The new by-laws contain a clause which provides a salary of $500 a year for the Grand Treasurer and $100 for the employment of a clerk. The constitu tion and by-laws were adopted. The list of officers elected at Wednesday's

The list of officers elected at Wednesday's session was announced. The officers are as follows: Grand Master, Charles D. Freeman, Esq., No. 46, Philadelphia: Deputy Grand Master, W. Ed Marsh, No. 68, Corry, Pa.; Grand Warden, William A. Withrop, No. 96, Philadelphia; Grand Secretary, Past Grand Sire J. B. Nicholson, No. 100, Philadelphia; Grand Treasurer, M. Richard Muckle, No. 46, Philadelphia; Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Robert E. Wright, No. 83, Allentown, Pa.

The newly elected officers will be installed at this morning's session. The question of where the next meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held will also be settled at this morning's session, and as this is all the business there is to trausact, it is presumed that all the labor will be finished by noun.

During the present session of the Grand Lodge, 505 members received the Grand Lodge acquirements and were admitted to membership.

THE BLOODY HAND. The royal Ulster arms, which figure in the central shield, have given rise to many ridiculous legends. Their true history is very simple. It was customary for every frish and Scottish clan to bear some characteristic symbol on their banners. Thus the MacGregors bore the mountain pine, the MacGregors bore the suntered stag, and other clans the lion, the bear, and the uplifted sword. The O'Neills of Ulster, noted for their warlike tendency, adopted as their sign, the blondy hand. Subsequently when the last Lord of Ulster had field to Spain, King James made the "right hand gules" the coat of arms will be reproduced for the congress hall in an immense copy, measuring 10 feet in diameter, and placed immediately over the dias. PREPARING FOR THE VISITORS. The work of decorating Machinery Hall was mmenced yesterday. It will be carried out der the direction of Boyard, Rose & Co., and will, when finished, present a splendid appearance. The hall will seat over 8,000 people, and even this is regarded as barnly suf-ficient. The general programme has been out-lined. The business sessions of the congress will be held from $ to 10:00 each morning. They will be followed by popular meetings, to which the general public will be invited. Speeches the general public will be invited. Speeches and music will be the fastures of these meetings. During the afternoons the visitors will be shown the city; and public meetings will also be held in the evenings.

It has been proposed to held public service in the hall on Sunday, but this question is not yet decided, as the committees fear to offend the religious prejudices of any members of the association.

Pittsburg and Western Engineers at Work Surveying a Line-It Will Take in Brunot's and Noville Islands-Connections With the Fort Wayne and Lake

Engineer Patterson, with a corps of engineers, yesterday commenced the survey of a line from the lower end of Neville Island, that means an ultimate extension of the Pittsburg and Western Road to New Castle, paralleling the Fort Wayne road. The Pittsburg and Western now has a roundabout road to New Castle, but a shorter and more direct route to that city is preferred. The road is also anxious to catch the trade of the two islands, Brunot and Neville, and in addition, by building the road the trade of the two islands, Brunot and Neville, and in addition, by building the road according to the present plan mapped out, it will touch both the Ft. Wayne and Lake Erie tracks. Short sidings can easily be built from the latter lines to the one proposed, and the object is to secure a transfer of freight from all the roads interested without breaking bulk. Large quantities of coke and other materials are shipped to New Castle and the Maloning and Shenango Valleys now, but none of the roads are very direct.

The Pittaburg and Western Raiiroad already extends as far down the river as the penitentiary. The prospective Coraopolis and Neville's Island road will not be built, but Instead, the river branch of the Pittaburg and Western will be extended by means of a bridge across Brunot's Island to the Lake Erie road. It will then be run between the Lake Erie and the river to Neville's Island, and from that point will cross the Ft. Wayne at a grade. The line will be continued for some distance along the river, paralleling the Ft. Wayne, but will ultimately reach New Castle.

Two thousand building lots are to be piotted at once on Neville's Island, 50 of them baying already been sold. The island is to be beautified by the syndicate that lately obtained control of it and Pittsburg will thus have another during the eatire session the great Objector Holman might have gotten points from Mr. Bennett, who contented himself with offering objections from opening to close.

As soon as the case was opened, Joe Kraus reported that he had endeavored to subpona Prothonotary Bradley and have him produce the polibooks, but had been unable to find him, and that Chief Clerk Andrew Jackson McQuitty refused to obey any orders except those of Mr. Bradley or the Court. An embassy was sent to treat with Mr. McQuitty, and though he appeared at Mr. Shafer's bar, he was as infexible as his great namesake at the time he declared that "the Union must and shall be pickled," and Mr. Shafer anneunced that he would go into court to-day and get an order for the production of the books.

Mr. P. W. Slebert, Chief Clerk in the County Commissioners' office, was put on the stand. He produced the list of names of persons who woted in the first four wards of Allegheny at the Mayoralty election. Mr. Bennett objected to their reception as evidence unless the purpose was disclosed, and Mr. Brennen stated that it was the intent to show that a large number of unregistered people had voted illegally. As the lists from each ward were exhibited separately, and Mr. Bennett filed his objection each time and had it noted, it will suffice to drop that feature at this point. Mr. Slebert said the lists had been made by the Registry Assessors in June, 1889, and the work had been need by all political partiess data, and in the vote on the prohibition amendment, Mr. Bennett said the people objected to might have had a right to vote.

Mr. Bennett said he noticed that the lists were not those as originally made by the assessors, as he found names on them written with lead pencil. The Commissioner, however, ordence the band to resume plaving, and all the documents were produced and memorandum made of them, and Mr. Bradiey to produce the polibooks.

Mr. McQuitty was sent for the second time, and he came and smilled comprehensively, but Holman might have gotten points from Mr.

The journeymen plumbers, who have been out on a strike for three weeks, went to work yesterday, pending a settlement of the diffithe apprentice question, but it has been allowed to remain open until after the meeting of the National Master Flumbers' Convention, which meets in Denver, Col., in June.

Mr. Weidon, of Weidon & Kelly, said yesterday; "The reason the matter has been defarred until after this convention is because in all large cities there is a different apprentice system in vogue, and we hope to have all of the systems explained to our delegates, who will in turn report back to its. We hope to have the trouble amicably settled."

the meeting that present prices, terms and con-ditions were reaffirmed. It is fair to assume ditions were resilirmed. It is fair to assume that, with the present demoralized condition of the iron market, prices would not be advanced. The Captain also said that a circular for the private instruction of certain mills was drawn up and would be issued in a few days.

From another source it was learned that this circular is intended to limit the production. Just now the pipe market is overstocked, though the busy season is ahead of the makers.

FACTORIES TO CLOSE UP JUNE 14.

A Certain Percentage of Capacity to be Operated Up to That Date.

INTEREST TAKEN IN THE GATHERING.

The manufacturers of window glass held convention yesterday at the Hotel Anderson. Mr. Hart, of Muncle, Ind., acted as Chairman, and Mr. Lotfler, of Pittsburg, as Secretary. In addition to the large representation of manu acturers there were present James H. Rice and George F. Kimball, of Chicago; Adolph Drey, of St. Louis; William Reid, of Detroit, and William Glenny, of Cincinnati, representing the Window Glass Jobbers' Association of the West, the members of which sell probably 70 per cent of all the glass sold west of the Allegheny Mountains. Heretofore lack of harmony between the manufacturers and jobbers has often caused demoralization in prices, much to the loss of both, but at this meeting all parties agreed to a plan of cooperation which will benefit manufacturers and jobbers alike.

The action which will be the most interesting to the workers is the agreement signed by the manufacturers to go out of blast on or before June 14, the usual time being July 1.

Outside of these few facts all the glass men were very reticent Thomas D. Catlin returned to his home last evening. He said the present prices were satisfactory and the rates were not changed. He claimed that the trade had been interfered with by the various strikes, but that the demand for window glass was still fair. Mr. Catlin is a member of the United Glass Company, and he is not inclined to favor an organization of all the glass manufacturers.

INVITED TO JEANNETTE. Chambers & McKee have invited the makers to visit their plant at Jeannette to-day, and they have chartered a train to take them out. Many of the manufacturers remained over to take in the trip.

A telegram from Chicago, received las A telegram from Chicago, received last evening, stated that the meeting of window glass men here yesterday was regarded with great interest by dealers in that city, for it will probably determine whether or not there will be an immediate change of prices. The Manufacturers' Association is a new one, and this annual shutdown will be made on an entirely new principle, Heretofore when a shutdown occurred the factories closed absolutely, and made no glass whatever until the hot months had passed. Under the new arrangement if the factories do not all close on June I each will be permitted to run until June 18, or later, for a certain percentage of its capacity. For instance if the association decides that one-third of the production may safely be continued until June 16 each factory will operate only one-third of its pots, so that all shall share alike in the profit of running after June!

present association, although it includes abou all the window glass men west of the Alloghe-nies, consists practically of only two firms, Chambers & McKes, of Pittsburg, and the United Glass Company, of Syracuse, with headquarters in Chicago. The laster operates 18 factories in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, having a total capacity of The producing capacity of Chambers & Mc-Kee is nearly as great. The other manufacturers have a total capacity of about 150 pots, and, as the representation in the association is on a basis of producing capacity, it will be seen that whatever Chambers & McKre and the United Glass Company say goes. The window glass trade has never before had so compact an organization. ganization.

There is some question if, with the early shutdown, the manufacturers will not be compelled to pay higher wages to their men for the next season. Ex-President James Campbell, of the Window Glassworker's Association, saw a number of the manufacturers after the meeting. A number of manufacturers were seen last evening, but they declined to talk about the telegram received from Chicago.

ROBBED IN THE UNION DEPOT.

an Austrian Held Up by Five Men and Re-Heved of $115. Frank Schubert, an Austrian, was held up and robbed in the Union depot yesterday morning of $115. He halled from La Crosse, Wis., where he had made some money, and was going home to Europe for a visit. After he had eaten his breakfast and was cetting on the train five men met him, who were also passengers, and they got into a jam at the door. Schubert was carrying a grip and he held it above his head. One of the men placed his rm carelessly against Schubert's throat and eld him against the door, while the others extracted the wallet from his pocket carrying the money. Schubert soon discovered his loss, but the men remarked after the jam was over that they had lorgotten something and returned to the depot where they disappeared. Officer Harrison was notified and searched for the men, but no trace of them could be found.

OIL RATES ADVANCED.

But the Window Glass Tariff Will be Reduced to the Pacific Const. The mid-winter cut in oil rates to the Pacific oast was short lived. On June 4 the old rate of $1 25 will be restored. The present rate is 90 cents. All the transcontinental agents report large quantities of oil and coal carbon going West. About this time of the year the rates are generally advanced.

About the same time, however, a reduction About the same time, however, a reduction in rates on window ghas to the Pacific coast will go into effect. The cut will be from $1 15 to $5 cents in carloads and $1 30 in less than car lots. Under the present tariff imported window glass only is sold on the Pacific coast. It is brought over in the fruit vessels as ballast at such low rates that the American manufacturer, shipping by rail across the continent, can't compete. This reduction will help the window glass trade materially.

"I never express an opinion," said Mr. Wright, "My business is collecting facts, and I never put anything down unless I know it to be true, and then I don't care who jumps on me. The work on iron and steel is not yet completed, and even if I knew what is the completed, and even if I knew what is the comparative cost of production I wouldn't be allowed to give it out until my report is sent to Congress. All the elements that enter into the manufacture of iron and steel are considered. We analyze the reports of the cost of living. This kind of a comparison was never made before, and somebody may be surprised. We have examined the books of more than 500 iron and steel firms in America and Europe, and the figures will be correct. The general public, outside of the manufacturers, haven't any idea what it actually costs to make a ton of fron.

"No, I never have any trouble with manufacturers. If I find one man who is not willing to give me information I go to another who is, and the figures of representative firms are sufficient generally. I propose to work out the comparative cost of production in all industries where the articles can be reduced to a limit.
