A WISE AGREEMENT. The settlement of the strike at the National Works in New York is an unanticipated blessing, not only to the parties concerned, but to all workmen, tradesmen and employers of labor in this region.

The settlement of the strike at the National Works in New York is an unanticipated blessing, not only to the parties concerned, but to all workmen, tradesmen and employers of labor in this region. It is a grievous pity that the strike took place at all, involving, as it has done, a loss of nearly $100,000 in wages, and, to the strikers, when there was so little difference at bottom between the employers and the employed.

Now that Allegheny county has declared outpourly for Major Montooth it would be productive of harmony and happiness all around if the counties of Washington, Fayette and Greene, which, with a slice of Allegheny, make up the Twenty-fourth Congressional district, would follow suit. It will be just as well for the Republican candidates for Congress in that district to remember that Allegheny county is out for Montooth, and that delegation favorable to him will be elected in the election.

How rapidly we are advancing! American rivaling Paris in the cut of their dress, and the grace with which they adjust the details of their evening attire. It must make Mr. Whiteley Reid's heart thrill to see his countrymen acquitting themselves so well. He must be congratulated upon his good fortune in presiding over a function at which Americans and their tailors so distinguished themselves. It can be hardly termed a diplomatic triumph, perhaps, but it reflects a golden gleam or two upon the tariff as a whole.

Philadelphia is a sleepy, and she glories in it. We do not see why she should not be allowed to order the conditions of her life as she pleases. If anybody in Philadelphia is dissatisfied with those conditions he can go elsewhere. There is no law forbidding the arrival of new immigrants into the city, and the Democrats can take care of their own. Mr. Cleveland will write him and his fellow declaimers as much as they please against what they call the McKinley "robberies," but if the business prosperity of Philadelphia is to be maintained, they must leave the matter alone.
