THE EFFECT OF RAIN

When It Comes Down So Incessantly Upon Farmer and Florist

AS IT IS DOING THIS SPRING.

The Rainfall for May Far Exceeds It for That Month Last Year.

DELAY TO THE CROPS UNAVOIDABLE

"I think the solar system has slipped a eog; the seasons don't come with the regularity that characterized them in the good old days." This was the rather novel complaint made by one man to another yesterday afternoon, as they sought shelter from the storm in the Municipal Hall portico.

The weather has from time immemorial been a fruitful subject for conversation, but of late, like baseball, there has been so much of it of an inferior quality, that interest in it has died out, and the average citizen bears the affliction with what patience be can muster up.

The great amount of moisture this spring has eaused many nervous anticipations of a disaster similar to the Johnstown flood, many forgetting that that was caused primarily by the breaking of a dam. Many persons, like the man who spoke as quoted above, are convinced that the seasons have become mixed, while others attribute the heavy falls of rain to the multiplicity of this time it has not been very actively electric wires, the introduction of patural gas, and the natural cussedness of the Sig-

Signal Service Observer O. D. Stewart who views the heavens from the eighth floor of the Schmidt & Friday building, is supposed to know more about the weather than any other man in town. This is due both to his training and to the elevated position he occupies. Mr. Stewart thinks the sensons are following each other in proper succession, and points out that in 1873, before natural gas had come into use, and when electric wires were few and far be-tween, the rainfall exceeded last year's record of 41.37 inches. The average rainfall, however, is about 35 inches.

During the month of May, 1889, which culminated in the Johnstown tragedy, 6.45 inches of rain fell. The rainfall up to 2 P. M. yesterday exceeded that of the same num-ber of days of May, 1889, by 9.25 inches. The prospects for still more rain are very good, and it is probable that the regulation June rise will be here on time, if not a few days ahead of the schedule.

Considerable complaint having been made that farmers hereabouts are unable to make headway on account of the wet weather, which is said to be causing seed to rot in the ground, inquiry was made yesterday at seed stores and other places where grangers frequent, and replies elicited were mixed, some thinking the situation as bed as re-ported, while others thought there was con-

FAVORABLE FOR SOME PLACES. J. W. Brown, who runs a garden farm on

Neville Island, said the weather was very favorable for setting out plants in ground that could be worked, but in heavy soils it was next to impossible to do anything. Mr. Brown said also that it is impossible to keep a force of hands necessary. There are too many allurements in other directions. In answer to the question as to whether garden farming paid, he replied that it would do so were it not for the foreigners who compete. He says some of them grow fat on what an American farmer throws away and gives to his stock, and in consequence he is sooner or later run out, unless he can strike some specialty but little cultivated. Mr. Brown's specialty, or one of them, is the Chinese

HOW TO MAKE FARMING PAY.

A gentleman at the commission house of L. H. Voight & Co., stated that he didn't think the farmers were much more ruined than usual, and that with most of them such a state is chronic. He suggested that if they were to combine more intelligence and study with their business, they would thrive bet-ter. He said they didn't study the market, and that the average business man would soon go to the wall if he did not give his business close study, and keep in stock what people wanted. He suggested that mixed ming in general, with some specialty in particular that was in good demand, would hake money on almost any farm convenient to a railway. It is a fact beyond dispute, that native farming within 20 miles of Pitts-burg does not, as a rule, pay as it did once; but it is doubtful whether Mr. Brown's explanation will account for all failures. There are a vast number of drawbacks, and not the least among them is a deficiency of elbow grease in the farmer and his family, to make operations pay as of yore. The aforementioned lubricant is as important as fertilizer, and there are many other draw-

The farmer who is a worker frequently is a mere money grabber, and forgets that he once considered his progenitor a hard master. Accordingly, he routs his sons and daughters out of bed in the early gray of the roing, and works them like slaves until twilight. Their apparel and pocket money are scant, and owing to railways, they see a decided contrast between themselves and city lads and lasses, and soon begin to pine for city life, which in their fervid imaginations is, in comparison, a bed of roses, with theatricals, lectures, ice cream, etc., ad

THEY DESERT THE FARM.

Accordingly, says Mr. R. W. Jones, the boys, if not trained for a profession or busi-ness, desert the farm to become brakemen or street car drivers, or engage in some other occupation not a whit more profitable than farm work, but less laborious and tollowed by quicker returns, and the old man is left to the mercy of hired help, which, in this section, is very inferior on farms, as the mills pay more for muscular and intelligent Inboring men than farmers feel able, though it would seem that steady employment, at $18 a month, wet and dry, with board and washing, would be better than what the average laborer makes in the mills.

The average girl, too, had rather be a typewriter, clerk, dressmaker or milliner, than milk cows and marry farmers, raise little larmers, etc. Another thing that injures he average Allegheny county farmer is the extravagant expectation that he nurses of sometime being able to sell his land for town lots. In anticipation, he neglects his farm, and will probably die without realizing his hope. Another of late years is the hope that oil and gas developments will reach him, as coal did some years ago. Meantime, while awaiting the lightning stroke, he mortgages his farm—not to improve it, but to live on the proceeds. There are many farms in this county now mortgaged that were let to the nominal owners unincumbered, by their parents, and in high condition.

It is certainly true that the raising of staple crops, such as wheat and corn, will not pay here now. Competition with the West is too sharp, and this market is not nearly so good as it was 40 years ago, but it is none the less true that the county is dotted all over with knobs once fruitful which are now so poor that two intoxicates men could not raise a fight on them, and, meanwhile, hundreds of tons of fertilizer are daily floating down the rivers, while the shiftless farmers deliver their scanty grop and return home without a full load.

CAN'T LIVE SO CHEAPLY. It is true, the cost of living is much greater than it was 30 to 40 years ago, and it hits the laborer and farmer alike. A laborer at that time could save more money on $1 a day than he now can on $1 50, notwithstanding that many necessaries of life are cheaper now than then.

On the whole, it may be safely concluded that intelligent study of the markets, the application of manure, the study of soils and the use of agricultural machinery would make farming pay in any section of this make farming pay in any section of this county convenient to a railway station, but stuff cannot be delivered with profit on wagon roads where, during the time the markets are good, 500 pounds is a large load for a horse. The florists say the recent we weather has been very unpropitions for their business. While it has not affected the conservatory portion, the open air branch has suffered sadly. It has delayed planting, retarded growth, and is in every planting, retarded growth, and is in every way detrimental. PITTSBURG-GETTING THERE.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCE. CHICAGO, May 23 .- A very energetic attempt is now being made by Pittsburg distillers to introduce and popularize Monongahela rye whisky in Chicago, Heretofore corn whisky has been king, and Peoria and Indiana distilleries have supplied a great part of the demand. In point of absolute merit the Monongahela article is believed to be far superior to its competitors, but up to pushed; or rather the parties who undertook to handle it sold cheaper, inferior goods as Pennsylvania whisky, and thus brought it into disrepute. Harry Alden, who used to be a complicuous figure in Pittsburg, is the man who has now been selected to act a standard bearer for the Pittsburg distillers In great letters of gold the legend "Pitts-burg Whisky" has been inscribed on a big plate glass front on Clark street, and thither bibulously inclined former denizens of the Gas City resort to talk over old times. After an extended experience in New York City, and several months' trial of Chicago, Mr. Alden thinks that as a business place Putsburg is superior to either. Pittsburg whisky, he says, is slowly making its way. Not very long before the Brooks law went into effect a similar at-Brooks law went into effect a similar attempt was made by a couple of Chicago brewers to introduce their goods in Pittsburg, but that celebrated piece of legislation cut off their only means of reaching the public, insamuch as they could not get licenses for the saloons through which it was to be sold, and one retired from the field with a loss of $16,000, and another dropped double that amount. It is said that no Chicago brewer now sells goods in Pittsburg the field which med to goods in Pittsburg, the field which used to be one of the richest in the country being abandoned to Milwaukee and Cincinnati brewers and those located in Pittsburg.

KITTANNING'S NEW GAS PLANT.

Limn Oil to be Used for the Manufacture of Illuminating Gas.

KITTANNING, May 23 .- The new plant for the manufacture of gas from oil, which the Union Light and Heat Company, of Pittsburg, have been putting in here, is about completed and will be turned over to the company in a few days. By this system it is claimed gas can be manufactured at one-half the old way and is much better for illuminating purposes. The method is a very simple one, consisting of a feeder and a system of retorts. These retorts are kept at a certain heat and the oil forced through them into a receiving tank filled with water When the heated oil strikes the water it turns into gas and is conveyed from there to the supply tank ready for use.

It is said that 4,000 feet of gas can be manufactured from one barrel of Lima oil.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Woman With an Odd Idea of Earning an

Bonest Living. A young woman who gives the name of Mary Dickey has been victimizing a number of charitable people throughout the city by a pitiful tale, which was made doubly effective by her woe-begone appearance. How long she has been operating, or how many persons have been swindled, is not known, but a half dozen reports of her doings have been received at the office of the Society for the Improvement of the Poor from persons who have been asked for money, some of whom gave the woman what she Superfluous hair is an excesive growth of hair on the female face seen mostly on the upper lip, chin, cheeks, forehad, between the eyebrows, the nose, ears breast hands and arms; also grows superfluous on men's cheeks above the beard line. This obnoxious growth of hair is surprisingly prevalent. We see it wherever ladies congregate; at least $5 of every 100 of our ladies have more or less superfluous hair at some time during their life.

Every lady with hair on her face knows, to her sorrow, that the use of depilatories, hot wax, the tweezers, selssors and razors all make these hairs grow harsher, coarser, stiffer, darker and more numerous. There is positively only one method in the world by which superfluous hair can be permanently destroyed, and that is by the ELECTRIC NEEDLE OPERATION, some of whom gave the woman what she asked for.

She made a point of asking people well-known in charitable work, to whom she re-lated, with many tears, how her mother, and in some places her mother and child, had died the night before, and begged the loan of money, from $3 to $15, to bury the bodies.

the only method by which the hair follicic can be destroyed so the hair can never grow again. In performing this operation a delicate instrument is used, almost as fine as the hair itself. This is painlessly inserted into the follicic alongside of the hair until it reaches the little sack or papilla (from which the hair grows), then the electric current is turned on and the hair germ is destroyed, after which it is absolutely an impossibility for another hair to grow again. Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg. and having been cured by the CU-ICUMA REMEDIES when all other methods and remedies failed. I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several dectors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of anyone in the State. The CUTICUMA REMEDIES are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggist John P. Dr. Van Dyck, the celebrated surgeon of Philadelphia, is pleased to state that he devotes several hours daily to the permanent removal of superfluous hair by the ELECTRIC NEEDLE OPERATION.

Dr. Van Dyck was the second physician in the world to perform this operation, and was the first to make a success of it. He has operated for 14 years, has treated hundreds of cases and has acquired a national reputation as an expert in electro-surgery. The success of this operation is a positive certainty. The destruction of the hair fellicle is no guess work, no accident, but a positive result of scientific skill achieved by years of experience. Dr. Van Dyck will give $5.000 for any case of suporfluous hair in which he will fail to destroy every coarse hair forever, even if the patient has a regularly developed beard. He has cured cases in his Philadelphia office where he has permanently destroyed as many as 20,000 hairs from ladies' faces. The above offer is renuine. Any physician, medical college, society or private parties can bring Dr. Van Dyck any case, no matter how bad, he will treat the case, charging a moderate fee for his services, and will guarantee to forfeit the sum of $5,000 in gold if he fails to destroy forever every coarse hair. Any physicians or committee of physicians can examine the case before treatment, during treatment, one or five years after treatment.

Dr. Van Dyck is pleased to state that during his location in Pittsburg since last September he has been honored by the patrouage of our most prominent families. Many of our most emment physicians have sent members of their families to him for treatment.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR THE OLD, OLD STORY.

Almost daily our readers have seen chron-icled in the columns of this paper a detailed account of the death of some one they knew —perhaps some lady who, in the prime of life. young, vivacious and happy, was surrounded by friends and every luxury this life can by friends and every luxury this life can afford. She may have once been a regular attendant at church, a leading light in society, a friend to the poor; but in an uncautious moment she has taken cold, and how quickly this has fanned the flame of a catarrhal poison that has lain dormant in her system for years. The result only too plainly shows. Her case progressed rapidly, and terminated as all cases of catarrh do, unless properly treated, in consumption or some other incurable disease. According to the mortuary reports, hundreds of just such neglected cases of catarrh have resulted in death in Pittsburg during the last year.

have resulted in death in Pittaburg during the last year.

Mr. Fred Hahn, a resident of Sharpsburg, and well known throughout Allegheny county and Western Pennsylvania, has for years been a victim of catarth and dyspepsia. His stomach gave him an endless amount of trouble. He had belehing of gas from his stomach after eating, sour taste, and often felt like vomiting his food. His appetite was poor, and as his liver was much enlarged it gave him great pain. In fact, he would often be taken with such sharp cramps and pain across his stomach and bowels it seemed as if he could not live. He had palpitation of the heart, dizziness, weakness and pain across he small of his back, and a numb, lifeless feeling in his limbs. He could get but little sleep, and as every change of weather gave him a cold, he took on a lingering cough. His breath became short and he felt pain and soreness in his lungs and under his shoulder blades. Night sweats weakened him very fast, and he gradually grew worse until he lost 30 nounds of flesh,

Having a wife and two small children whom he dearly loved, depending on him for a living, and having spent all his money in doctoring to no avail, not being able to work, he became discouraged and disheartened, and often became so melancholy that he would feel tempted to jump into the river and thus end his suffering. One day he noticed in the paper an account of a patient who had been cured by the catarrh specialists at $23 Penn avenue of conditions that seemed similar to his own. He resolved to call on these specialists. He did so, and was told he could yet be cured. Although he had but little faith, he resolved to try once more, and after taking a course of treatment became cured. He says: "The above history of my disease and cure is true in every respect. I had received treatment from 25 physicians, yet gradually grew worse, and for one year before beginning treatment with these physicians I was scarcely able to do any work. I have now worked hard for the past two months, feel well and strong, and words do not express the joy! feel that my life has been spared and health restored. I hereby sign my name, FRED HAHN."
