PORTER AS PAUL PRY.

Universal Indignation at Some of the Census Interrogations.

SOME CONSIDERED IMPERTINENT

By Local Lawyers, Who Are Quite Willing to Make a Test Case.

TO SEE IF SUCH QUESTIONS MUST GO

Just a week from to-morrow 375 census takers will be turned loose upon the citizens of Pittsburg, and judging from the appearance of things there will be the fiercest kind of a fierce war waged when the "dear public" is brought face to face with the knights of the portfolio. The still air will creep away in despair and King Clamor reign supreme, fair weather or foul. On that eventful day the curtain will be rung up on the great drama, showing the census enumerator capering on the liberty of the American people. Morn will be ushered in by a ring at the doorbell, followed by a list of questions from the human interrogation point that will tempt one to use wholesale quantities of philological sin, and when the shades of evening have stilled the gay world's busy hum there will be many and many an enraged, exasperated and irritated private citizen, beside some very tired and ournful census takers. The bombshell which will touch off all this explosion of wrath is contained in two or three extremely disagreeable queries that Superintendent Robert P. Porter has tacked on the tail end of his list. The two which are causing the most trouble are as follows: A COUPLE OF SAMPLES.

Whether suffering from acute or chronic disease, with the name of the disease and the length of time afflicted with it. Whether defective in mind, sight, hearing or speech, or whether crippled, maimed or de-formed, with the name of the defect.

In addition to these two questions, there are some affecting private debts, whose nat-ure will involve considerable difficulty. A strong feeling exists in well-informed circles that these questions are wholly unwarranted, and from the general tone and character of the remarks and opinions given by leading Pittsburgers, there is a first-class prospect for some highly interesting and important complications to crystallize on Monday week.

"I cannot exactly understand the preindice which some people have against a few of the census questions," said Mr. G. T. Oliver, who has charge of the United States census in this city, when asked in regard to the troubles expected to arise from the queries mentioned above. "The people should look at the matter in the light of a plain, practical business transaction, which does not endanger their reputa-tions in the least, nor expose them to a breath of suspicion. The public should know that it is all conducted on strictly private principles, and nothing whatever will be divulged. The enumerator is sworn to mnintain absolute secrecy in connection with any and all information that is given him, and none need fear that anything will be disclosed which would operate to their personal detriment. "In regard to the objections which it is thought will be raised to answering certain questions there is nothing to be said, except that it should be borne in mind by those who refuse to reply to all the queries that they are liable to imprisonment and a fine of $100.

Porter the power of asking all these ques-tions, and consequently the enumerators will be expected to do their duty and seek all the information embraced within the list of queries. It is true that we cannot get strictly correct reports, because there will be some who will evade the truth, but enough will be given for the authorities at-Washington to strike tolerably fair averages and

ABOUT CLOTHING.

Keech's well-known facilities for furnishing the houses of rich and poor are only equaled by his ability to clothe the human form. The Clothing Department of this establishment is now filled to overflowing with new and elegant styles of Men's Spring and Summer Suits. And, although the materials are the most dependable, the prices are very low. Thus for $10, $12, $15 and $18, for instance, you will find here as nice and handsome a selection of Men's Suits as it was ever your good fortune to gaze upon. Cassimeres, Cheviots, Worsteds, Corkscrews, Diagonals, Wide Wales, Serges, Flannels, etc.--all are here at their best and at such prices as the poorest can easily afford to pay.

CASH OR CREDIT.

ABOUT FOLDING BEDS.

While we keep nearly all the best makes and styles of Folding Beds manufactured, we make a specialty of the "WELSH," for which we have the sole agency. In points of neatness, substantiability, late improvements and low price this Folding Bed cannot be beaten. Just look at it and compare it with some of the Folding Beds offered elsewhere. It doesn't require an expert to see the difference. The fact is, the closer you examine and scrutinize the Welsh Folding Bed the firmer you will be convinced of its matchless advantages over any other Folding Bed in -: the market. -:-

CASH OR CREDIT.

Furniture is Keech's great stronghold. It is simply absurd -nothing short of the rankest balderdash-for any installment house to pretend to name as low, or any cash house to claim to sell at lower prices than Keech's. Why, you can come to Keech's at any time and find more patrons on the various furniture floors than you will see in most any other house in an entire day. No words of pen or tongue can argue as strongly in favor of Keech's treatment of his patrons as this very fact. The people generally know where to get the best value for their money, and any endeavor on the part of other dealers to stem the tide of trade that flows in the direction of Keech's will meet with about the same success as would an attempt to turn the mighty Mississippi from its --- channel. ---

On motion of Assistant District Atfor-

DISPATCH representative approached Major ontouth in order to hear what the local Gubernatorial candidate thought of the census questions, as seen from a lawyer' nt, and to learn some facts in regard to the legality of some of the queries nsked. "The six new questions that have been added by Mr. Porter are enough to make a man's blood boil," said the Major. "They are decidedly interesting. Rome had her Casar, her Scipio, her Brutus; but Rome in her proudest day never had a ceosus coumerator going around to ask her citizens whether they were suffering from acute or chronic disease. Greece had ber Pericles her Demosthenes and her Socrates, but Greece in her paimiest day never had census takers to find out whether her people were delective in mind and body. "Most assuredly," answered the Major. "I'll carry the matter into the courts, and there prove the utter absurdity and illegal character of the lust six questions." Many other prominent Pittsburg legal lights were interviewed, and one and all unhesitatingly pronounce the questions touch-ing on private affairs as impudent, totally uncalled for, unnecessary and an impertinent prying into the family secrets of the ens. In fact, everyone of the dozens spoken to on the subject expressed the opinion that Congress is permitting a clear intraction of the constitutional rights of private citizens. They all state that a test exse can be made of it, to see whether Con-gress has the power to compel citizeas to give information respecting their private affairs, and to make refusal to do that a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment.

THE REASON WHY. Sunday Excursions Called a Blessing to the Working Classes. A difference of opinion exists among rail-25c road managers as to the propriety of running Sunday excursions. The Pennsylvania Company has instructed its agents to notify patrons that it is against the rules

WILL STAIN OLD & NEW FURNITURE WILL STAIN GLASS AND CHINAWARE WILL STAIN TINWARE WILL STAIN YOUR OLD BASKETS WILL STAIN YOUR OLD BASKETS WILL STAIN BASY'S COACH AND In a city like Pittsburg where the men work hard all week in hot mills they deserve a little fresh air on one day. The only day they have is Sunday, and the Baltimore and Ohio officials hold that they are doing a creat deat in offering facilities to all such who may desire to go into the mountains or the country. For this reason we propose to run Sunday excursions. At least we can't see that by benefitting people we are doing any harm. A REDUCTION LOOKED FOR.

Window Glass Men Want Lower Rates to the Pacific Coast.

The chances are that the rates on window glass will be reduced sometime in June to the Pacific Coast. The Transcontinental Association has recommended the reduction subject to the approval of the Trunk lines. The latter roads have not yet signified their acceptance, but Western agents leel confident that the cut to 95 cents from $1 15 will be made. A window glass man said yesterday that a reduction in rates to the Pacific Coast w s badly needed. He thought is better rates were offered by the roads and the tariff was advanced that more American window glass would be sold in the far Western States. Just like the coke business, the home glass has been driven out or the Californ a markets by English importations. The rates of freight by water are so low that the English manufacturer is able to knockout the American glass man even on his own soil. This is a big country, and its very immensity sometimes militates against its citizeus.
