ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BRADDOCK, May 28 .- A wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Moss Side, just before daylight this morning. It plunged into them, and the result was dis-astrous. Cars were piled on the top of one another and some of them were telescoped a distance of 50 teet from the tracks.

Delighted People.

During the past few weeks, the music warerooms of Mellor & Hoene, 77 Fifth ave., have been crowded all day long with visitors to see the wonderful coline. Unbounded admiration and praise is freely expressed all round, many well-known Pittsburgers securing molians for their homes. This instrument has already been introduced in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other principal cities, and will, beyond all doubt, soon become popular here.

Few people have any idea what this instrument is, many resting under erroneous impressions and imaginary suppositions. The molian is an instrument which every musically cultivated family should have, as any member of the household can produce upon it, with little practice, the highest class of music accurately, and at the same time with the most beautiful changes of tempo and tone coloring.

Indorsements of this musical wonder have been received from the best musical experts, Including Mr. Anton Seidl, of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, who is very enthusiastic in its praise.

Visitors to see this instrument on exhibi-

AROUSES THE COLONEL'S WRATH. Another Conflict Between the North and South Inevitable.

WHY HE WILL NOT VISIT RICHMOND

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, May 28 .- Colonel Elliott F. Shepard received this letter to-day from Mr. D. C. Richardson, a lawyer and former Police Justice of Richmond, Va.:

SIR-We have heretofore been of the opinion that the Constitution our fathers made guar-anteed citizens of the several States the enjoyment of life and liberty, but your recent edi-torial breathes of threatenings and slaughter, and we quake and tremble. We have thought that in pursuit of happiness we would receive the protection of this great Government, but in seeking to promote our happiness the all-potent Mail and Express interposes its stern command to prevent us. We hoped the favor would have been granted to do honor to the memory of our loved ones, honor to the memory of our loved ones, but the editorial dictator prohibits us from doing so. We therefore ask that you will relent in your wrath, fold the ensanguined garment, realize that the war is over, allow the holiest emotions of unity to find a place in your bosom and permit us, the citizens of a common country, to obey the promptings of loving hearts, and do honor to the memory of a great and good man-Rober: E. Lee. If this favor should be granted us we cordially invite you to be present, and to show our gratitude, we promise you all the notoriety you seek by publicly exhibiting you before 500,000 of our people as the only man in this country who ever conceived the thought that our sincere desire to honor our dead meant disloyalty to the Union.

A CALL ON THE COLONEL. The letter was prompted, or course, by some of the articles that have appeared recently in the Mail and Express on the subect of carrying Confederate flags at the unveiling of the statue to General Robert E. Lee. Colonel Shepard was seated in his sanctum in Park Row, this afternoon, when a reporter of THE DISPATCH called. His silk hat was tilted back on his head and he was gazing longingly into a tureen of cor somme that a clerk had just placed on his desk. He offered some bread and crackers to the reporter, but regretted that he had no knife to butter them, nor any spoon to get at the soup with.

"I am almost famished," he said, as he seized at a piece of bread, "and I guess fingers were made before knives, so here goes." The reappearance of the clerk with a knife and spoon saved the Colonel the necessity of demonstrating his democratic

"I don't think anybody wants to go down to Richmond in its present condition," he said between spoonfuls, "but I've said all that I care to in answer to this letter in the Mail and Express of to-night."

The reporter thereupon went out and bought a copy of the Colonel's paper. This is what the Colonel says: A PARTICULAR VISITOR. The conditions on which the gentleman to whom the foregoing letter is addressed, by a former police justice of Richmond, would visit the capital of Virginia, would be the burial of the statue of General Robert E. Lee in the same grave as his perishing form, and the final entombment of all the Confederate insignia, flags, colors, badges, tunes, buttons, epaulettes, swords, caunon, songs, muskets, commissions, histories, records and paraphernalia of every kind. He warns the celebrants of secessionist

The form the beg But if they refuse the opportunity and fan them still higher they need not be surprised to find a million patriots marching to put out the fire. The glorious Union will be preserved at all costs and every hazard. And the only flag that can wave within it is the glorious Stars and Stripes. And there is going to be unity of loyalty throughout the whole length and breadth of the Union. The PATRIOTISM OF THE COUNTRY is no longer to be deceived by such specious and deceptive arguments as are advanced by Mr. Richardson. The country sees the old rebel element organized, solidified and defiant in the rush of so many rebels to glorify the defeated traitor Lee, and the dishonored, polluting Confederate rag. It is one of the many ways used by the statesmen of the Southeast to "fire the Southern heart," to prevent the spread of patriotic Republican sentiments, to hold their nosts together till they will, if they can, elect a Democratic Fresident and then make him perform the same treasonable role as did President Buchanan, and sell the country to the Southeastern white ruling class; when, goodby to the Constitution of the United States, to equality of political rights, to freedom and everything for which the war for the Union was fought.

To foresee these evils is to be warned against them. To destroy them in the germ is to prevent the bloody catastrophes that will follow their living. The way to destroy them in the germ is to do those things indicated above which will make Richmond a place which can be vesited with self-respect and delight by a patriot. feated traitor Lee, and the dishonored, pollut-

NEW YORK, May 28 .- The jury in the case of President Clausen filed into the court room this evening after a trial of several days with a verdict of guilty on five counts of the indictment, which formed the principal charges against him as the President of the Sixth National Bank. The jury was then discharged and the prisoner remanded into the custody of the United

THE WOMEN SHUT OUT.

The World's Pair Cannot Recognize the

Women's Organizations. CHICAGO, May 28 .- The World's Fair Executive Committee took action to-day on the question of the Woman's Department of the Exposition to the extent of declaring that the committee could not officially recognize either the Woman's Auxiliary Association or the Isabella Association.

The reason of this declaration, the committee gave out, was that the law creating the World's Fair at Chicago made it the specific duty of the National Commissioners to select a Board of Managers and defines their number and duties. Therefore, the Executive Committee cannot, they say, recognize either of the present women's organizations as part of the World's Fair organization.

The Butchers Take Measures to Strengthen Their National Association.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH CINCINNATI, May 28 .- The second day's session of the convention of the Butchers' National Protective Association was a short one, ending at 2 o'clock with a barbecue by the local union. A communication was received from the Butchers' Association of England, Scotland and Ireland, advising co-operation between the two organizations.

It was placed on file. The matter of appointing an organizer, whose duty it should be to travel all over the country organizing branches of the association, was the most important one discussed. The the most important one discussed. The resolution provided for a sum sufficient to pay trayeling expenses and salary of an organizer, the amount to be raised by assessing the local branches. There was some opposition to this, and the matter was finally left to a committee, who will arrange the amount to be raised and decide upon the means of raising it.

If the original motion finally does prevail, Chris Brokate, Secretary of the National Association, will undoubtedly be the man chosen. He has been six years on the St. Louis meat inspecting department, and is a man well posted and greatly interested in the association. To-night a huge barbecue is in progress at the Highland House. There is no regular programme, but everybody is having a good time. Pittsburgers had their inning yesterday.

Sick Headache

IS a complaint from which many suffer and few are entirely free. Its cause is indigestion and a sluggish liver, the cure for which is readily found in the use of Ayer's Pills.

Another carload has been received by our Furniture Department.

We are confident this three-piece Chamber Suite gives greater value at the price than any suite yet offered. Neither the maker nor ourselves can make much out of it. But our aim is to distribute a large quantity of goods on the closest possible margin of profit. We buy in large quantities the greatest possible value for cash, and then turn it over quickly to our customers, bringing the maker and consumer together with a bare living profit between.

Low prices, elegant designs and reliable workmanship characterize our large and general assortment of Household Furniture.

ALLECHENY.

Attending the great sale of the Pennsylvania Cloak Co.'s entire stock was greater than we imagined. We still have a few choice plums left, and aithough the sale, as a "special sale," has closed, we will offer the balance during this week at "one-third the price of the original cost to manufacture." Just stop to think for one moment of an intant's cloak that costs say $3 00 to manufacture, and sold by the retail stores for $4 50 (for the manufacturer must have his profit as well as the retailer), will cost you only 75 cents. It is their loss, not ours, and you
