PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—The Pittsburgs and Phillies were advertised for two games at the Philadelphia Ball Park this afternoon. This fact drew 2,606 cranks. They saw the home team win both games. The first game was won by the close score of 12 to 10 in favor of the Phillies. The game was exciting and of the see-saw order from start to finish. The Pittsburgs outbatted their opponents by long odds, made but one more error and still they lost the game. This was due more to the fact that the Smoky City lads could not hit the ball at the right time than to misplaying. Dave Anderson pitched for the Phillies and was hit hard. La Roque, Berger, Hines and Roat led in the batting for their team. His support was far from being good, Clements and McCauley being away off in their playing. The Phillies were lucky enough to hat the ball at a time that meant runs. Up to the seventh inning everyone looked upon the Pittsburgs as sure winners, but when the Phillies went to bat in their half of the eighth they started in and did not stop until they had scored three runs. Neither side scored after this.

The batteries in the second game were Vickery and Schriver for Philadelphia, and Jones and Berger for Pittsburg. Jones proved pretty effective, but one earned run being secured from his superb delivery, but Vickery was still more effective, holding the visitors down to two little singles. There were four errors made behind each, but those made behind Jones, the Pittsburg twirler, were the more costly. Young Gray, the ex-Highland club catcher, played left field. He did good work with the stick. Burke in center caught two difficult flies, and Myers on second and Allen at short accepted all the chances given them. Sunday in right field and Berger behind the bat did the best work for Pittsburg. The scores:

NEW YORK, May 28.—Rusie was fearfully wild this afternoon, and was finally taken out of the box and Burkett substituted. Sommers also replaced Buckley in the fifth inning. Tiernan's home run was the feature. With two men on bases and no one out in the ninth inning Denny could not even sacrifice, and was doubled up with Hornung on a hit to the pitcher, and then Clark flew out to Andrews. Attendance, 858. The Same Old Story Told About the Local P. L. Club—Brooklyn Wins Again—Other New League Games.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

BROOKLYN, May 28.—The fourth and last game of the series between the Brooklyn (P. L.) team and the Pittsburg (P. L.) club, which was played to-day at Eastern Park, was by far the best contested and proved rather interesting. The score might have been different had the visitors played a little more carefully. The Smoky City lads outbatted Ward's men, and would have won if they had made a few less fumbles. Tener pitched a much better game than Weyhing. The Brooklyns had only one earned run to their credit, the others being given to them by loose playing. The only thing that saved the game for the home team was their sharp fielding. Kinslow caught Weyhing in superb style. Ward, Corcoran and Robinson made some very clever stops, but the two last named offset this brilliancy by errors. Beckley, the Pittsburg first baseman, made a wild throw that gave Ward's men two runs. Carroll and Bauer led in the batting for their respective clubs. The attendance was 359.

The McKeesports Win a Game at Wheeling by a Lucky Hit.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

WHEELING, May 28.—Wheeling was again defeated to-day in a game in which good and rank playing was pretty well mixed up. There was heavy slugging on both sides, but the fielding was rather weak. Up to the middle of the ninth inning it looked like ten innings, McKeesport winning on a lucky hit when she had a man on second. Score:

WALTERS KNOCKED OUT.

Ike Farrell Wins a Rattling Battle of Twenty-One Rounds.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

BUFFALO, May 28.—Peter Walters was knocked out by Ike Farrell last night, before the Travelers' Club. Twenty-one rounds were fought, first one man having the advantage and then the other. At times both men were very groggy, and a little punch would have sent either to the land of Morpheus. Farrell, however, proved the best general, and won after a desperate battle.

Walters' defeat is by no means a discredit to him, it being his first appearance in the magic ring. Both men were badly punished. Walters played for Farrell's wind, while the latter devoted his attention to his opponent's neck, face and jaw, evidently working for a knockout. Walters also sent home several sledge hammer blows on Farrell's nose, chin and ear, and several times had Farrell groggy, but failed to follow up his advantage, thus allowing his opponent to recover himself. When Farrell had the advantage, however, he nailed right in to do his man, but Walters could stand punishment and managed to hold out till the sound of the gong.

Jim Glyn, of Brooklyn, and Paddy Brennan seconded Farrell, while Jack Hanly and Dan Graham officiated in a like capacity for Walters. Jerry Donavan was chosen referee. Farrel fought in the old time way, playing to blind and wind his opponent. He gained first blood in the second and knocked Walters out in the twenty-first round. Walters was in bad shape when the fight ended. His nose was broken, both eyes closed and his mouth enlarged. Farrel had a black eye.

A TOUGH STRUGGLE.

Saunders and Pettitt Fighting Hard for the Tennis Championship.

[BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 28.—[Copyright.]—The second day's play between Pettitt and Saunders for the world's tennis championship commenced in Dublin to-day before a brilliant company, which included Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar. Both players were in admirable form, and were frequently applauded for their skill. The games were won alternately until the fifth, which Pettitt took, as well as the sixth. Then Saunders put on steam, and amid considerable excitement won the next four games in quick succession. In the second set Pettitt was evidently on his mettle, and playing coolly and with fine style, rapidly scored three games running.

Saunders won the fourth, Pettitt the fifth and Saunders the sixth and seventh, after which Pettitt had things all his own way, winning the remaining games and the set. In the third set Pettitt scored the first two and Saunders the third, and alternate games followed until the last four, which were won by Pettitt. In the fourth set Saunders scored first, but after a tough struggle Pettitt won the set, making the result of the day's play: Pettitt three and Saunder one set, and the score to time four each. Friday's play is awaited with great interest.

English Racing.

LONDON, May 28.—The Manchester Whitsuntide meeting opened to-day. The race for the Hartington plate of 450 sovereigns, 2-year-olds, winning penalties and maiden allowances, five furlongs, was won by S. T. Cass' filly, Jessamy, Lord Hartington's filly, Hear Hear, was second and R. Jardine's colt, Strawak, third. There were six starters. The principal race of the day was for the Salford Borough handicap of 1,000 sovereigns, and was won by J. O'Neill's 4-year-old horse, The Rejected. J. W. Smith's 4-year-old, Miss Dollar, was second, and J. Lowther's 4-year-old colt, Workington, third. There were ten starters.

Meadville Races.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

MEADVILLE, May 28.—Another small attendance witnessed some good races in this city to-day. Barring the back stretch being a little heavy the track was in fine condition, and the weather fine. The slim attendance is attributed to the absence of the fortune wheels and like racing auxiliaries, none of which are allowed on the grounds. To-day's results were as follows:
