Cured by Cuticura

I contracted a terrible blood-poisoning a year ago. I doctored with two good physicians, neither of whom did me any good. I suffered all a man can suffer and live. Hearing of your CUTICURA REMEDIES, I concluded to try them, knowing if they did me no good they could make me no worse. I have been using them about ten weeks, and am most happy to say that I am almost rid of the awful sores that covered my face and body. My face was as bad, if not worse than that of Miss Boynton, spoken of in your book, and I would say to any one in the same condition to use CUTICUEA, and they will surely be cured. You may use this letter in the laterests of suffering humanity.

Knee to Foot Running Sores

I have been afflicted with a sore limb, which the doctors called eczema. My limb from the knee to the foot was one mass of running sores. The doctors bandaged it every day for a week, and every time the bandage was removed a large scab would come off, and the blood pour down. I got one bottle of CUTICURA RASOLFENT, one box CUTICURA and one cake CUTICURA SORP, and they eured me. I told a lady who was similarly afflicted to use it, and it cured her also. I gratefully acknowledge that it was CUTICURA that cured me. MKS, KATE BEARD, Orange Valley, N. J.

SOME OTHER FEATURES OF THE DAY

The country, so to speak, took Pittsburg by the nape of the neck yesterday. For once the charms of the bucolic breezes and the trees, the grass and the flowers were too much for the denizens of the city, and they turned themselves loose to gambol by the babbling brooks and to seek pleasure in the shady glades. The city, however, doesn't places. The city poured into the country, but whether this is a critical period on the farm or not, it is certain that the contribution of humanity from the rural districts was not equal to the city's generous

Early in the morning the thoroughfares were crowded with women, and their pretty white dresses were an attractive sight. The liege lord and the lover wandered behind loaded down with the family market basket containing good things to eat,

HURRIED OUT OF TOWN The throngs wended their way to the various depots, and got out of town, to enjoy one day, at least, of the purest air under the and honored Decoration Day. There were picnics and cheap rates to groves and mountains to attract them. Yesterday, in short, was the opening day of the excursion season, and a more beautiful one could not have been selected. It was one of those days that the dear girls pronounce perfect, a lovely, hazy atmosphere in the morning with a clear sun in the alternoon. Fishermen know whether the trout like to snap at the fiv on such days There were cheap excursions on most of the roads. The Baltimore and Ohio ran a special train to Ohio Pyle. About 300 people from Pittsburg took advantage of the low rates. The Lake Erie had a picnic at Allequippa, and the devotees of the Pennsylvania reveled at Idlewild.

All the lot holders at Valley Camp went up there yesterday over the Allegheny Valley and spent the day. A special train took a big picnic party to Rock Point, and both the groves at Castle Shannon were occupied. The excursion boats on the rivers also did a humming business.

A LABOR DEMONSTRATION.

One of the objective points was the labor demonstration and picnic at Connellsville. That town was jammed with visiting workmen from this city and the coke regions. The Baltimore and Ohio returns show that the road carried over 700 people into the town from points along its line. The Pennsylvania road also did its share of busi-

serted. The day reminded those who stayed at home as a rather lively Sunday. There were not many people to be seen on the streets in the afternoon, though it was most parades kept the young tolks at home. The city itself was beautifully decorated with flags, bunting and other patriotic emblems. Everywhere from window and house top along the streets the red, white and blue greeted the eye. There was no general parade of old veterans, but the members of the G. A. R. with their wives, in small squads, placed the vine and the flower over the green turf on the graves of their dead

All the relics which past generations have left behind them are of interest, but most so are places where the ashes of the dead repose. The old designers erected a noble gothic pile, when they built Westminster Abbey; but the abbey is most interesting because it contains the dust of so long a line of the leaders of the Angle-Saxon race.

Reverence for the dead is a characteristic of The deepest and hollest feelings of the soul are stirred when we have to deal with the dead of our own households. It is appropriate to such sentiments to provide for the sacred as of our dead a suitable resting place. This serves two purposes: It cultivates proper feel-ing in our own breasts, and it affords us-means for giving tangible expression to these means for giving tangible expression to these feelings.

But we are not only interested in the city of the dead because we have laid our kindred there to rest, but because we expect soon to take our places by their side. No man of sound mind can fail to look with solemn interest on the spot of earth when his own body shall be laid at last to sleep the centuries away.

The place of the dead has its deepest interest, in the fact that in its soil flourish the brightest and most peculiar of Christian hopes. To the heathen the grave is the vanishing point of hope, the valley of impenetrable gloom. To the Christian the grave gives forth the sunlight of immortality. It was in the tomb that Jesus overcome the last enemy; and we are begotten again to a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus from the dead.

You have done well to set apart this tract of land, overlooking, far and wide, the beautiful valley of the Ohio, as a final resting place for the bodies of yurselves and your children.

DONAHOE AND WING AT JOLIET.

The Chicago Lawyers Advise the Crosin

Suspects to Behave Better. JOLIET, May 30 .- Judge Wing and Lawyer Donahoe, of Chicago, were in Joliet yesterday, and visited the penitentiary to interview the Cronin prisoners. Judge Wing was remarkably taciturn and had nothing to say as to the object of his visit. Lieutenant Governor L. B. Ray was with them, but said he was in Joliet only to see his daughter. It is said, however, that Mr. Ray came here by appointment to meet the lawyers. Mr. Donahoe was also guarded, but said: "We came down to see the boys and we saw them. We joked about the underground grub route."

Lawyer Donahoe expressed the belief that the Cronin prisoners, when their case came up before the Supreme Court, would get a new trial and a final acquittal. He said he advised the boys to behave themselves, which they told him they were trying to do, and said they would soon not be found trying to smuggle in sardines or anything else.

Week.

That the public have come to fully realize that the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute is the only institution in Pittsburg where Catarrh is permanently cured is proven by the rapidly increasing patronage which it is receiving. From early in the day until late at night the pariors are filled with patients. The hundreds of testimonials that have been published in the daily papers are from patients who have suffered from Catarrh in its most aggravated chronic form, and which, in some cases, had developed into consumption. A very satisfactory coincidence is, that a large proportion of patients who apply for treatment were recommended by their friends who had been permanently cured at this medical institution.

Mr. Fred Hahn, a resident of Sharpsburg, and well known throughout Allegheny county and Western Pennsylvania, has for years been a victim of catarrh and dyspepsia. His stomach gave him an endless amount of trouble. He had belching of gas from his stomach after eating, sour taste, and often felt like vomiting his food. His appetite was poor, and as his liver was much enlarged it gave him great pain. In fact, he would often be taken with such sharp cramps and pain across his stomach and bowels it seemed as if he could not live. He had palpitation of the heart, dizziness, weakness and pain across the small of his back, and a numb, lifeless feeling in his limbs. He could get but little sleep, and as every change of weather gave him a cold, he took on a lingering cough. His breath became short and he felt pain and soreness in his lungs and under his shoulder blades. Night sweats weakened him very fast, and he gradually grew worse until he lost 30 pounds of flesh.

Mr. Fred Hahn,

Having a wife and two small children whom he dearly loved, depending on him for a living, and having spent all his money in doctoring to no avail, not being able to work, he became discouraged and disbeartened, and often became so melancholy that he would feel tempted to jump into the river and thus end his suffering. One day he noticed in the paper an account of a patient who had been cured by the catarrh specialists at 323 Penn avenue of conditions that seemed similar to his own. He resolved to call on these specialists. He did so, and was told he could yet be cured. Although he had but little faith, he resolved to try once more, and after taking a course of treatment became cured. He says: "The above history of my disease and cure is true in every respect. I had received treatment from 20 physicians, yet gradually grew worse, and for one year before beginning treatment with these physicians I was scarcely able to do any work. I have now worked hard for the past two months, feel well and strong, and words do not express the joy I feel that my life has been spared and health restored. I hereby sign my name. FRED HAHN."
