A RESUMPTION OF THE DISCUSSION

Recessary and Lord Salisbury's Specialist Will Return on Monday.

Emperor William is able to walk about his room with the aid of his crutch. He is displeased at the delays in the negotiations with England, and demands that certain limits of the Congo State shall be neutral ground.

COPTRIGHT, 1800, BY THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED

BERLIN, May 31 .- Emperor William for the first time since the accident of Sunday last was able to-day to draw a boot on the injured foot, and to attempt to walk about his room with the aid of a crutch. The injury is not a mere sprain; several of the smaller bones of the ankle are broken. and the whole leg is contused.

Throughout the Emperor was displeased at the delays in the negotiations with England regarding East Africa, and took entire control of the communications on the subject. He sent for Sir E. B. Malet, the British Ambassador, on Monday, and has had several interviews with him since. Dr. ment assisted the Emperor toward the con ception of proposals which are expected to prove acceptable to Lord Salisbury.

THE AFRICAN DIFFICULTY.

Broadly outlined these proposals are that not the German sphere of influence shall that the German sphere of extend to the limits of the Congo State from the northern extremity of Tanganyika to the Albert Nyanza, that Uganda and British Unyoro shall be neutral ground and that the navigation of the lakes shall be free. The British Ambassador appears to think these bases good enough to justify a resumption of the discussion of details, and has, therefore, recalled Lord Salisbury's specialist, Sir Percy Anderson, who returns here on Monday for further conferences with Dr. Krauel on the subject of delimita-

Sir William Mackinnon, Chief of the English East Africa Company, and Herr Volumen, representing the German Company, will also take part in the negotiations and there is a sure prospect of a prolonged row over the conflicting demands of the two companies. Major Wissman comes about June 23, and Dr. Peters early in July, each londed with facts and reasons in support of

SOCIALISTS AND ANABCHISTS.

Dr. Lucanus, Chief of the Civil Cabinet, to-day, presented a report based on Police Director Kruger's information regarding the relations of the Socialists with the Anarchists in Switzerland, France and others countries. The report must have been ordered by the Emperor long before there was any suspicion of a Nihilist plot in Paris, and in view of the expiration of the anti-Socialist law. The minor state of siege ends in Leipsic on June 28, and 1f the Government does not renew it the fact will signalize the determination of the authorito cease special Socialist enactments throughout Germany.

According to the Socialist Volksblatt, the Saxon Government has asked the Bundesrath to prolong the law. This demand of Saxony is tantamount to a protest against a cessation of the law, and has aroused the Emperor, who desires to place before the Bundesrath data in support of a non-renewal of the measure. The official tendency here now is in accordance with the peror's desire to give the Socialists

STRIKES NOT INCITED FROM ABROAD. Thus the police reports entirely free every section from connection with foreign Anarchists and dispel the suspicion that the recent strikes were incited from abroad. Russians or other foreigners resident in the populous centers of Germany, who are known to be in sympathy with the Socialists, are not known as affiliated with any revolutionary society.

Mendelsohn, Nakatehiz, Demski and Remstein, who were arrested in Paris, have each the same police record here, dating years back. Mendelsohn figured in a Socialist trial at Posen in 1884, and serving a term in prison, he was delivered to the Rossian dice on a charge of being concerned in a plot to wreck the Czar's train. He escaped and took retuge in Switzerland. Nakatehiz has been a student in Berlin and has been under special surveillance. He was closely watched by the Russian police during the last visit of the Czar. Remstein had relations with the Leipsic Socialists and assisted Demski while at Zurich in the circulation or Socialist pamphlets. AN INEVITABLE INSURRECTION.

No disclosures arising from the arrests in Paris can injure the chances of the Socialists of obtaining a release from exceptional disabilities, the police inquiries freeling every known leader from the remote association with Anarchists. Whatever relations once existed have now long ceased. The Bundesrath's assent to permit the Socialist law to expire is doubtful. The Hamburger chrichten indicates the reluctance of the Federal Government to assent to the exevitable insurrection when the restraints on the proletariat are removed. It adds:

"When the guns have spoken God knows what will happen. Perchance the bloodshed following the report will have a salutary influence upon the social organism, but it is certain that the renewal of repressive measures will be pitiless. Otherwise troubles will again arise, and the gangrene o' socialism may rot even the army. The Nachrichten doubtless reflects Bis-marck's opinion, which continues to influence the members of the Bundesrath.

A VICTORY FOR THE ULTRAMONTANES The resignation of Baron von Lutz, the Bayarian Prime Minister, is a victory for the Ultramontanes. Under the advice of on von Lutz, the regent requested the Archbishop of Munich to prevent the Catholie Congress being held in Munich, on the ground that it would evoke demonstrations noxious to the Government. The Archbishop, although resenting his request, prevailed upon the Catholic leaders to change the place of meeting of the Congress. Baron won Lutz, attacked by the Moderate Catho-lies of Bavaria and assailed by general public opinion of Germany, was forced to

The Regent, in accepting his resignation, sent him a bust of himself and an autograph letter praising his services to the State and announcing his appointment to the list o special State Councilors. Baron Crailsheim becomes Premier with the foreign portfolio, and Dr. Von Mueller, now President of Police, becomes Minister of Public Worship. Otherwise the Cabinet is unchanged.

BISMARCK MISQUOTED. Subscriptions for the Bismarck memorial continue to pour in, coming chiefly from the wealthy middle class. The fund has now reached the sum of 195,000 marks. Prince Bismarck's speech to the delegates of the polytechnic academies, who presented him with an address, had no trace of the bitterness of teeling regarding his position which has been attributed to him in doubtful interviews. He reminded them of the value of unity permeating Germany.

The people who ascribed to him the phrase that unity could only be established blood and iron misun What he meant was that the King at that time ought to have as much power as possi-bie, in order that in case of need he might throw all the blood and iron into the scale.

Fortunately Germany had got past that now, and the greatest fortune for the country was peace.

THE PRINCE HONORED. He did not believe that a German Emperor would ever look upon the map with the Napoleonic lust in his heart. He proceeded to expatiate on the progress of technical occupations during periods of peace. Eight hundred and fifty-six teachers, represented senting every grammar school and scientific school in Berlin, sent to the Prince an effusive address, to which he made a cordial response.

The Socialists hope to celebrate on October 1 the expiration of the Socialist law and are preparing for demonstrations throughout the country. Herr Bebel will then assume the direction of the Folksblatt.

Count Holstein will probably succeed Count Von Berchem as Under Secretary of State to the Foreign office.

IN COMMEMORATION OF THE FLOOD, The Residents of Johnstown Hold Appr

were held in Grand View Cemetery to-day, in commemoration of the great flood. An immense crowd of people were present and the touching addresses of the speakers were listened to attentively. Services were also held in some of the churches during the day. But there was little observance in the business part of the city. A few merchants closed their doors and the business houses were draped in mourning, but this was the exception. Right in the business part of the town the street car company had a large force of men at work tearing up the streets. There was much comment at this seeming lack of a proper observance of the day and many denounced the work going on as a desecration of a day which should be filled with sacred memories. Others upheld the course pursued, saying that in the activity of business and industry was to be found the best solace for wounded hearts.

The members of the Mystic Chain held a solemn memorial service this evening all

PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. NEW BLOOMFIELD, May 31 .- In many of the districts throughout Perry county there were stubborn contests for delegates at the Republican primary elections to-day, while in others the formality of an election was dispensed with. From the returns thus far received the indications are that Monday's convention will show that a decided victory has been won by the Hastings sup-

Ten days ago a Hastings headquarters was established in the law office of ex-Judge Junkin and the county flooded with circulars, while emissaries in the interest of the Adjutant General were dispatched in all directions. His boom, which sprang up so suddenly, is under the direction of the Stalwarts, who intend making an effort to have the convention instructed for him. Dr. S. H. Whitmer, of Newport, and John Wister, of Duncannon, are candidates for delegates to the Harrisburg convention. The friends of both claim they are for Hastings. Wister appears to be the stronger and in all probability will be elected. He is at the head of the Duncannon Iron Company and both socially and politically is close to Senator Cameron. Delamater, who was supposed to be strong here, appears to have dropped entirely out of the fight, his friends having transferred their support to Stone. Everywhere Hast-ings men are jubilant. One of then said today: "We are in possession of facts that would make mighty interesting political literature if the ban of secrecy was removed, and would speedily solve the question of the Republican gubernatorial candidacy."

DELAMATER NOT IN IT.

The Contest in Huntingdon County Was Between Hastings and Stone. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. HUNTINGDON, May 31 .- The initial introduction of the ballot system at a primary election in this county was made by the Republicans this evening, which renders it practically impossible to obtain definite news of the result. During the past fortnight this county has been flooded with Hastings circulars and tickets, and it is asserted that this was supplemented by a considerable amount of money by one of his Center county friends.

The result of the Hastings energetic campaign is seen in this town, which, on a very full vote, elects Hastings delegates from all of the four wards. The contest throughout the county centered only between the Hastings and Stone forces, with no appreciable Delamater following. In the country districts the sentiment is almost a unit for Stone for Governor, and while it is impossible to give the result of the rural vote it is confidently believed here that an almost united country delegation will be sent to the nominating convention next Tuesday in

The vociferous Delamater sun two weeks ago have all forsaken their first love, and to-night arrayed themselves on the side of Stone. This has aroused the suspicion of the Hastings faction and will probably precipitate a factional fight at the county convention. Out of 15 districts heard from Hastings carries ten and Stone five. This is exclusive of the country districts, where Stone's strength lies. It is exceedingly probable that this county will send one Hastings and one Stone delegate to the State Convention, uninstructed.

DIVIDED IN DAUPHIN.

Hastings and Delamater Will Each Secure Two of the Delegates.

INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. HARRISBURG, May 31 .- The Dauphin county Republican primaries to-night were unattended by any exciting incidents, owing to a compromise, by which two delegates will be elected at the convention next week favorable to the nomination of Delamater and two with a leaning toward Hastings. There is a strong feeling in this city for the Adjutant General, but the sup-porters of Delamater displayed much sagacity in selecting as their candidate for delegate Lyman D. Gilbert, ex-Deputy Attorney General, against whom it was feared by the Hastings people no successful fight could be made, especially since the failure of the effort to get up a mass meeting to boom Hustings.

All the delegates elected in this city tonight will vote for Mr. Gilbert for delegate, and Mr. Gilbert, who has aspirations for the position of Attorney General, will vote for Delamater for Governor. Mr. F. M. Ott, ex-County Solicitor, who is a pronounced Hastings man, and T. M. Williams, Super-intendent of the Licken Valley Coal Company, who is also for Hastings, will be two of the three delegates to be elected in the gate, John Hage, a resident of Steelton, will onbly support Delamater in the Republican State Covention.

There were 15 or 20 of the newspaper men, and General Hastings was accompanied by Major Barton Evans and Colonel William J. Elliott, or his staff. After the dinner he made what he declared was his first speech about Johnstown, in which he said that the floods of money and relief which poured into Johnstown were largely the result of the work done there by the newspaper men. "You stole my blankets," he said, "you lived on my ham and you drank my whisky, but I feel, all the same, the deepest sense of personal obligation to all the newspaper pen for the way in which you stood by me county to-day. In Upper Tyrone township the contest was very lively, and money was used quite liberally in the interest of certain candidates. A desperate effort was made near Morgan's to turn the German coke workers against James Keegan, a labor caudidate, but without success. Reports received from various polling places indicate that the ticket dictated by Colonel Searight and other leaders has been carried alpost to the letter.

The contest for Legislature is between M. P. Kane, J. A. McKee, C. S. Beatty, Dr. Smith Buttermore and James Keegan, with three to be nominated. It looks as though Kane would lead the ticket.

FIRST STATE CONVENTION. ALABAMA DEMOCRATS NOMINATE A MAN FOR GOVERNOR.

The Platform Stands by Grover Cleveland and Tariff Reform-Denunciation of the Proposed Federal Election Law - An Appenl to the White Race.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., May 31. - The Democratic convention met this morning at 10 o'clock. It was evident that the hour had come for a nomination, and everybody was on the tip toe of expectation. The balloting commenced with all the candidates, but there had been an agreement that all the anti-Kolb forces would support Colonel Thomas G. Jones for Governor at the proper moment. The roll counties commenced, and every vote not for not announced, as Kolb's friends withdrew his name and moved Jones' nomination by acclamation. Great enthusiasm prevailed, and speeches were made by all the candidates, Kolb especially stirring the hearts of the convention and pledging his followers to the support of the ticket and officers, and to canvass the State for the nominee. The utmost harmony now prevails, and the Democracy present a united front. The town is periectly wild with enthusiasm, as this is the home of Colonel Jones. Brass bands are out and the people are cheering. Such a scene as was enacted in the Capito and on the streets has never been witnessed and on the streets has never been witnessed here before. Among other things, the platform contained the following:

We reaffirm our unswerving and unalterable fealty and allegiance to the time-honored principles of the Democratic party as promulgated by Jefferson, defended by Jackson and maintained by Grover Cleveland. We hold that all power is lodged in the people of the several States to direct and control the administration of their governments.

GRANDER THAN EVER.

Fort Worth Citizens Will Rebuild Their Palace-Echoes of the Fire.

FORT WORTH, TEX., May 31 .- The citizens have decided to rebuild the Grand Spring Palace, which was burned yesterday, next year, making it of iron, at a cost of $350,000. No lives were lost beyond that of Hayne. Among the exhibits in the front of the main entrance was a granite monument, tall and massive. It was slightly damaged by heat and smoke, and a movement has been started to purchase it for the head of Hayne's grave.

While the burned palace cost only $23. 000 for the structure proper the beautiful decorations brought its cost up to over $100. 000, on which there was only $15,000 insurance. Everything in the building, which covered an area of 60,000 feet, was left in ashes. The fire was so hot that it melter glass aquariums and the limestone foundations of the structure.

Of the 30 injured nearly all suffer from slight bruises or burns. The flaming mass of cotton and other material that fell from the burning ceiling upon the women in full dress ignited their garments, and many when rescued were badly burned,

John C. File, of Philadelphia, was yes terday arrested on a charge of embezzling $70,000 from his partners. This is in addition to the shortage in the accounts of the Orphan's Home. It is insisted that a portion of the misappropriated funds was used in charitable works. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. PHILADELPHIA, May 31 .- The announcement that John C. File had emberzled the funds of the Lutheran Orphans' Home, of which he was treasurer, was supplemented to-day by the charge that he had robbed the firm of File, Derr, Haney & Co., Kolb was cast for Jones. The result was of which he was until recently the head, of moneys to what is believed will be a total of at least $70,000. Phaon B. Derr visited the office of Magistrate Smith at noon to-day and swore out a warrant charging John C. File, his former partner, with embezzling fauds belonging to the firm.

The prosecution is brought under the act of June 5, 1885, "to punish co-partners for fraudulently appropriating the property or using the name of the co-partnership, corporation or association." "In justice to myself and Mr. Haney," said Mr. Derr to-day, "I was compelled to take this proceeding against Mr. File. He has robbed us both of large sums of money every year for many years back, and it is about time that something was done with him. He is a scoundrel of the first water." "In what way did he obtain this money?"

BY MEANS OF FORGED CHECKS. "Why, by means of forged checks. Ever since he and I have been connected with this house as partners, under different firm names, for a period of 25 years, Mr. File has had entire charge of the books. He had the reputation of being one of the best book-keepers in the city, and he used his gift to shut up our eyes to his wrongdoings. As far as we have learned, all of his stealings were made by means of forged checks. He would make out a check for a certain amount, and would then make out another, duplicate the number on the first, making the check payable to his own order for an amount double and sometimes triple that of the original."

"Can you form any idea as far as your examination has gone what Mr. File's pil-ferings will amount to," was asked.
"That would be impossible to say at this stage." was the reply. "There is no doubt but what he has been robbing the firm for a long time and if the discrepancies continue to turn up at the same rate as they have during the past few weeks his pilferings will not fall short of $70,000."

"Have you any idea what he did with the funds of the firm and Lutheran Home."

A MAN WITHOUT VICES. "The Lord knows what he did with the money, I don't. Perhaps he gave it away to charity. He was not a man who dissi-pated or had any vices that I am aware of. He lived in a quiet sort of way and was not extravagant in anything. What became of all the money is a mystery to me."

Mr. File was too ill to be removed from his home and bail was entered for his ap-pearance June 16 by his brother-in-law. A report is current that Mr. File made an un-successful attempt within a day or two to shoot himself, but the young man who was seen at the door of the File residence delared that he knew nothing about it.

An old attache of the German society said this morning that Mr. File had never spent the missing money on himself, but had given it away either to some private or pubie charitable object. Lawyer Moulds, who is File's counsel, made a statement to the representative of THE DISPATCH this afternoon in which he denied that File had wronged his firm. He said that on the contrary some of the money taken from the Lutheran orphanage had gone into the firm, and that the rest had been given away to

Plea for Electro-Execution to be Made in the Legislature, PHILADELPHIA, May 31 .- It may not be generally remembered that in 1887 an effort was made to secure an electrical execution law in Pennsylvania. It is understood that such a bill will be brought befor the next Legislature. In speaking on the subject a prominent representative of the medicine profession in this city has already put himself on record in opposition to it. Dr. J. William White in the Medical News of April 26 last wrote a strong paper in favor of electrical execution. He was seenyesterday at his residence on Locust street. Remarking that but for the deterrent influence upon the crime class, which is one object of judicial execution, all people would be satisfied with as speedy and painless death of the criminal as can be devised. Dr. White said that this influence was more imaginary than real. Punishment was deterrent in proportion to its certainty-not to its severity. C. Stuart Patterson, for the legal profession, said: I am emphatically and un-reservedly in favor of electrical execution. Its practicability cannot be for a moment doubted by any sensible person. is undoubtedly more certain and les brutal than the rope. I believe pub-lic opinion would support such a law. JUMPED FROM A BRIDGE. A Dare-Devil Feat by Stauley, the Westers

ley, the most noted bridge jumper in the Western country, made a successful leap from the Newburg bridge yesterday afternoon in the presence of a small company of friends. Careful preparations had been made for the event. A couple of skilled boatmen went out in a skiff to the main span of the bridge from which he was to drop. Before leaving his which he was to drop. Before leaving his home Stanley attired himself in a pair of blue tights and a light undershirt, so that there could be no delay after he had once reached the point from which he was to make the drop. Once on the bridge little time was lost in preparing for the event. The boatmen who were in waiting gave the signal that they were very early and Stanley. signal that they were ready, and Stanley quickly threw off his outer garments and clambered over the guard rail to the footpath of the bridge. Seizing the iron railing firmly he let his body down at full length, and steadying himself for a moment released his hold. The instant he relaxed his hold on the railing he held his arms at his side and shot down like an arrow to the river. His body did not turn in the descent, and he struck the water feet first.

There was a great splash and he disappeared from sight, but it was only for a few seconds, when he appeared upon the surface and struck out boidly for the boat. He swam a distance of 20 feet in the swit current and was drawn into the boat. Stanley said he went down 15 or 18 feet in the water Aside from numbness in the feet he did not feel the effects of the drop in the least.

DRAINING ROMAN MARSHES.

The Health of the People Improved and Land Made Valuable. For the past six years there has been in progress a work of great sanitary utility and scientific value in the neighborhood of Rome, and we now learn from the British Consul in that city that the draining of the "Argo Romano" has reached an advanced stage of completion. The principal object of the undertaking was to drain the marshes of Ostin, Isola, Sacra and Mascarese bordering the coast about fifteen miles from Rome, and the system adopted consists of defense banks, canals collecting high waters with a direct outlet into the sea, embankment of the area to be drained, and canals within the area or polder. The water of the polder is raised by means of machin-ery on the turbine system, and is discharged into the sea. The chief difficulty experienced in carrying out the work has been the unhealthine of the place, which for some months renders it necessary to suspend operations. Indeed, with ordinary laborers it would have been impossible, but as in Romagna, near Ravenna, there exists an extensive association of laborers for this particular kind of work, who, having become inpred to marsh gas, do not seem to be susceptible of marsh fever, the Government have availed themselves of the services of these men. The influence of the work is already apparent on the improved health of the dis-trict, and as the drainage becomes more complete this improvement will no doubt be still greater. A considerable area of land, too, which has to a large extent been value-less, will at the same time be reclaimed, and by this reclamation the Italian Government hope to recoup themselves in some measure for the vast sums expended on this huge hygienic undertaking.

MERCHANTS PRO TEMPORE.

How the Chinese Who Go on a Visit to China Get Back to America. A California fruit raiser tells of a shrewd trick by which Chinese laborers get around the exclusion act. His Chinese foreman said he would buy his ticket through a certain Chinese firm, and a small portion of his money he would allow to remain with the firmthe firm-purchasing an interest in the business until he came back from the country. Then by Chinese and white evidence he would be able to prove that he was merchant. He further intimated that as

He Declares the Game Was Won From the Beginning-Mr. Shiras Says He Was Sunstruck-A Rumor of Fraud to be Investigated.

"It was a hot fight and a tight race, but we got there just the same," and Colonel Bayne's face was wreathed with smiles when he said this. "We've met the enemy, and they are ours. The crisis has been hanging fire for more than a week, but we've passed through it all unscathed and victory is perched on our bunners."

The crowd at the Colonel's headquarters, the Allegheny Central Hotel, was immense, and from 8 o'clock in the evening until late at night a constant stream of friends and visitors surged in and out of the building. The sharp rivalry of the Congressional conmidnight the streets and sidewalks were throughd with busy men, rushing hither and thither in their eagerness to learn the exact phase of the political situation.

"The first returns were favorable to me, and the cloud of doubt raised by a few uncertain districts vanished in a twinkling before the tremendous maorities in my favor that began to pour "Three cheers for Bayne!" a voice broke n at this stage, and the exultant shouts that followed made the windows rattle.

"I have much to thank my numerous friends for, who actively and carnestly worked for my re-election, and I assure them that their kindness shall not be forgotten. WIRED TO HIS WIFE.

When the returns from Shiras' own district, Fifth ward, Second precinct, showed that Bayne had beaten his opponent 2 to 1, the enthusiasm of the Colonel and his friends spent itself in hearty congratulations all around, while Bayne himself turned to a side table and hastily wrote out a dispatch to his wife in Washington, in-forming her that he "bad a walk over; carried 4 to 1, and was going to do what he had grades, 25 mehes wide, to go at 59c a yd. told her.'

HOLDING HIS BANNER HIGH. The Friends of Major Montooth Working Hard in His Interests. Captain C. W. Batchelor, who is at the head of the delegation of Major Montooth's friends, returned yesterday, after a ten days' trip. The Captain will appoint his assistants to-morrow, and proposes to take off his coat in Montooth's interests. A well-known manufacturer yesterday expressed the situcounty, in this fight, are one and the same and they will stand or fall together. This county has declared for Montooth, and demands his nomination as her right. When for ourselves. Let this county show a strong front, and if she is ignored again, the responsibility will not rest here." The rolls sent out on Friday are being rapidly filled with names, and a strong delegation is already insured. It is proposed to make the Montooth Pullman train the handsomest, in point of decoration, that ever left the Union depot. Expense will not be spared to make the trip a success, and the friends of the Major propose to hold his banner high, and if the ship goes down it will be with colors flying and every man at his post, "Montooth and Allegheny county good for 30,000 majority" is the argument with which the friends of the Curlous Muddle That Has Made Mr. Neeb's Friends Indignant.

Among the contests to be brought before the Forty-second Senatorial Convention, Tuesday forenoon, is one from the Third district of the Sixth ward, About 8 o'clock the election board gave credentials of election to Charles Stumpf, the Neeb delegate. Some time later they issued credentials to Jesse M. Mc-Geary, the Rutan delegate, claiming that the clerk, John R. Brooks, had made a mistake. Stumpt was asked to return his credentials. The members of the board, J. H. Dierken, judge, John N. Miner, in-spector, and Clerk Brooks, went before Mayor Wyman and made affidavit that the vote stood 94 for McGeary and 52 for Stumpf, and that credentials were given to Stumpf by mistake. The friends of Neeb were very indignant, They assert that there is fraud, and declare that if McGeary presents his credentials at the convention the election board will be
