that this year, under City Attorney Moreland's decision, every resident on the line of the city water service is assessed, whether they use the water or not. A source of trouble in collecting this assessment is the fact that it is charged against the property-holder, who is assessed in a lump for all the houses he owns. This is done because it has been decided that a lien for less than $20 will not lie against property. If the tax was charged against the tenants individually, many of the bills would be below the $20 mark, and there might be some trouble in collecting it. The Water Assessors' returns are as follows:
