FIELDS OF WEALTH

In Indiana County Valleys Which It is Proposed to Develop by

BUILDING A NEW RAILWAY.

A Line 25 Miles Long Soon to be Constructed That Will be

AFREDER TO THE PENNSYLVANIA

Bringing the Products of Important Coal and Lumber Regions

DIRECT TO THE PITTSBURG MARKET

IPROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. INDIANA, PA., June 2.-A territory as rich even as the Connellsville coke region, and vastly more picturesque, is about to be opened. A new field of wealth is now to be developed in Pennsylvania. This country is Indiana county. It will be opened by the Homer and Susquebanna Railroad. A charter for the road was secured May 24, but the work was done so quietly that nothing was known of it until yesterday.

The incorporators of the road are all Indiana county capitalists. The capital stock is $200,000. J. M. Guthrie, the great lumberman of that section, is at the head of the venture as President of the new road. He is backed by the Huges & Guthrie Lumber Company, of which he is a member. Among the other directors of the company are John W. Sutton, H. W. Wilson, Benjamin F. Pitts, of Cherrytree; Mr. Hoover, of Phillipsburg, and Hon. John P. Elkin. ROUTE OF THE NEW LINE.

The Homer and Susquehanna Railroad will be 25 miles long. It will start at Homer City, a town six miles south of In-diana, on the Indiana branch of the Penn-sylvania Railroad. It is right at the junetion of Twolick and Yellow creeks and has magnificent water power. From there the road runs up Twolick creek, and then north-east past the towns of Greenville, Diamondville, Cookport and Gettysburg to the west branch of the Susquehauna river at Cherrytree. Over the entire distance the grade will be easy. It is through creek bottoms. In no part of the line will the grade be over 40 feet to the mile. There is a good bottom all the way, and but little grading will be

The road will be standard gauge, and it is not decided whether it will be single or Engineers began work on the line on May 28, and the survey will be completed this week. The work will be begun at once, and will be completed within a year. It will be operated for the present as a feeder for the Pennsylvania Railroad, but may become a part of the Pittsburg and Western system when that road is connected with the Seech Creek line at Clarion.

A RICH MINERAL REGION. The primary object of the Homer and Susquehanna Railroad is to develop the wealth of Indiana county. It minerals - so rich that Westmoreland county can hardly com-pare with it. The whole line of the pare with it. The whole line of the rood is underlaid with coal of the finest quality. There are three veins of what is known as Freeport coal. The top vein is seven test in thickness, the middle one three and one-half to four feet and the lower vein four feet in thickness. Each of these veins crops out on the hillsides, and can be mined by drifting. All are above the water line. Already this coal has been tapped by Mr. John M. Guthrie and Colonel J. W. Moore, of Greensburg. They have a coke plant in operation at Homer, and the product of their ovens is propounced everywhere firstclass and finds ready sale against the Con-nelisville coke. This, however, is but a part of the mineral wealth. There are immense beds of iron ore along the greater part of the line. It has never been developed because the people there, who are quiet farmers, regarded the idea of building a railroad to it as a dream too great to be realized. Then there are great beds of limestone and fireclay of the best quality abounding everywhere. The wealth this road will place on the market cannot be

COAL LANDS BOUGHT UP. J. M. Guthrie, the ather of the enterprise, has for years dreamed of this railroad. For the past two years he has been preparing by buying up the best of the lands along the proposed route. He now holds about 8,000 acres of coal, iron and lime lands and the company itslef has options on nearly all the other land along

Besides the mineral wealth, the road passes through one of the richest farming regions in the State. The traffic in that line could alone sustain the building of the road. For beauty the line will not have an equal in the State. It passes through a fertile valley. Below it the mountain streams leap and toss in the sun. Then, where the trees, low bending, cast their shade, are found the finest trout and bass. On either side and above it rise the hills that climb to almost mountains in height. On their side are huge moss-covered rocks, scattered there by nature. Above them stand the good old pines and oaks that have withstood a century of storm. Here and there the hills are broken by pretty ravines that lead out to the broad plains beyond. It is as charming as if a part of Switzerland were set down in Western Pennsylvania,

FOR BUSINESS AND PLEASURE. There are a number of sites for summer resorts. The ground is 1,300 feet above sea level, and there are numerous iron and sul-phur springs. An old project of establishing a summer resort above Twolick is being revived, and may be carried into effect when the road is completed.

It will make Homer the principal town in the Pittsburg manager. Indiana county, as the trade which has heretofore gone to Indiana will be transferred there over the new line. More coke works will be established there at once. Last week Pittsburg parties bought 1,000 acres of coal land near there and a syndicate Eastern men have also purchased a large tract. Coke plants will soon be erected all

President Ford Issues an Ultimatum to the Committee on Charities. Presidents Ford and Holliday, of Select and Common Councils, yesterday appointed the special committee to consider the removal of City Poor Farm. The committee will consist of Messrs. Warmcastle (Chairman), Keating. Robertson, Carnahan, Bigham, MacGonigle and King. President Ford said this committee would consider the matter and then refer it with ecommendations to the Finance Committee, recommendations to the Finance Committee, which in turn would probably refer it to the Committee on Charities. The latter committee has not yet organized, although appointed in April. Mr. Ford says that if the committee does not organize by the time the Poor Farm matter is in shape for it to consider, he will break all previous records of Councils by discharging it for failure to perform its duties, and will appoint a new committee.

The Committee on Charities is as follows: Messrs. Perry. Reilly, Henderson, Fitzsimmons, Braun, McCurry, Benz, Murphy and McCord, of Select Council; Messrs. Delaney, King, Maguire, Kearns, Hagmaler, McEldowney, Crawford, O'Donnell, Wright, Pfeifer, Flinn and Fox.

NOW THE GIRL IS MISSING.

The Anxious' Father Writes to Pitts! About Mrs. Williams.

Nothing has been heard of Mrs. G. D. Williams since she left the Seventh Avenue Hotel a week ago to go into Ohio to look for her hus-band. This is the lady who married a Pittsburg man in Portland, and when she came here discovered his name was assumed. Her husband's certain city detective can doubtless tell where she is.

On Sunday the proprietor of the Seventh Avenue Hotel received a letter from J. W. Jones, the girl's father, who lives in Ft. Dodge, I.a., inquiring for her whereabouts. He said he hadn't heard from his daughter since she telegraphed him for money when she first came to Pittsburg. The money order is still at the Seventh Avenue Hotel. The father is much avenue about his daughter, and force when worried about his daughter, and fears that things are not right. If the local people know where the girl is they should notify Mr. Jones

PURSUED BY AN ANGRY PARENT.

Body of a Missing Man Found Floating in the Mahoning.

MEETING OF SCOTTDALE MINERS

BUTLER, June 2.-The monotone routine business of the Quarter Sessions Court was relieved this evening by a sensational elopement case which had previously had a place on the criminal docket. Mark Stillwagon, aged 20, and Maggie Ramsey, a prepossessing girl of 16, left their homes at Centerville Friday evening, to seek some place where a parent's consent and a marriage license are not essential prerequisites to matrimonial alliance. When the girl's father learned of their clandestine meetings, he informed the would-be groom that further at-

be tolerated, and threatened dire vengeance in case his commands were violated. The admonitions were not resented, but the young man set about at once to arrange an ment. They walked four miles to the nearest railroad station, in the vicinity of which they spent the night in the house of a friend, and then boarded the first train in the morning for New York State, going via Butler, thence north by way of the narrow gauge road. They alleged that they went across the State line and were married by one 'Squire McLaner, but could not remember the name of the town. line and were married by one 'Squire McLaner, but could not remember the name of the town. They returned as far as Rimerisburg, Pa., where the irate father interviewed them, and attempted to take his daughter home, but was prevented from so doing by the young husband, who maintained possession of his wife by covering the father with a revolver and successfully denying his authority. The infuriated father came to this place to-day, procured a writ of habeas corpus and had his daughter arrested at this town, as the couple were about to change cars for home. All of the parties appeared in court, and Judge McMichael gave them a hearing at once. The father denied that the elopers had ever got out of the State, and having no certificate of marriage, he demanded that his daughter be given into his custody. The Judge decided that from the evidence they had been married, and gave the woman into the custody of her husband. There was no doubt that the efficiating magistrate violated the law in solemnizing the marriage, but it was held that that fact could not affect the agreement between the parties. The Court closed its remarks by suggesting that the father accept the situation, and that there be a reconciliation all around, but it is evident that his good advice was wasted. The father left the court room in a mood that would seem to preclude a reign of white father left the court room in a mood that would seem to preclude a reign of white-winged peace between himself and his sudden son-in-law.

WILL STRIKE WEDNESDAY.

The Employes of Rainey's Coul Works Preparing for a Lockout.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR, 1 SCOTTDALE, June 2.-A large and enthusias day, and was attended by the employes of the Fort Hill and Paull Works of W. J. Rainey. The men at these two works unanimously de cided to strike next Wednesday, unless in the meanwhile Rainey acceded to their demands, which is the signing of the K. of L. laber contract. Ratney's employes are now obtaining $1 per hundred bushels for mining which is considerably below scale prices. It has been thought often that on account of the comparatively small cost of production, Rainey has been shading prices on coke. Officials of the company deny this statement, though it comes from a trustworthy source. Labor officials are in a ferment as to the Moyer plant of Rainey's, Very few miners there are union men and they have discovered that it will take very shrewd work to bring them out. About 1,000 men are employed at the three plants.

The strike of 300 men continues at the Smithton coke works, although the men threatened to bolt the strike yesterday and return to work. The timely appearance of Secretary Parker saved it, and by his advice they will remain out. The operators have determined on an effective line of policy, and it is being carried out with but few deviations. The strike has lasted almost two months. which is the signing of the K. of L. laber con-

Number of Bills Rushed Through the First Day-Constables Pay Little Attention to Chief Brown's Speak-Easy List-Doings

The June term of the Criminal Court pened yesterday morning, with Judge Collier presiding. The first step was the swearing in of the grand jury, Fred Rinehart being appointed foreman. Judge. Collier gave them their instructions briefly, stating that as it was an unusually large term their prompt attention to business was a necessity. Their hours were to be from 9:30 A.

At 3 o'clock the grand jury returned the following true bills: R. J. The ignored bills were: John and Bridget Laffer, keeping a disorderly house: Bridget Laffer, furnishing liquor to minors.

When the grand jury had been disposed of Judge Collier devoted the rest of his time to receiving constables' returns. Several stated that (they had received letters from Chief Browh, saying that if they would call at his office they would be furnished with a list of speak-easies in their wards. Some received lists and some refused them. The feturns averaged as usual, but the order of court prohibited the publication of them.

The California Supreme Court recently de ided a street car case that will be interesting to Pittsburgers, and may surprise the traction managers who have made a rule not to change a bill higher than $2. In California a gentleman found himself on a street car one day with nothing less than a $5 note. When he flashed it up on the conductor, who was one of the smart kind that knew everything and have been there before many a time, he replied: "Oh, you can't work that game on me. I have seen too many fellows like you," and thereupon, without any further ceremony, he took him by the coat collar and yanked the passenger off

The latter said nothing, but at once went to law to soak the company, and he did. The Su-preme Court made a distinction between steam railroads and traction lines. The former estab-lish station and ticket offices and expect the passenger to buy tickets. Street cars generally effer no such privileges, and the Court decided that $5 was not too large a bill for a street car conductor to change, and they awarded dam-ages to the victim.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored bevorage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease.
