Apparently the local National League ball team is in a bad state of affairs. Yesterday Acting President O'Neill released three players, and others will follow soon. Those who walked the plank yesterday are Kelty, left field, Jones, pitcher, and Youngman second base. Mr. O'Neill says that Kelty has been drinking, and it is for this reason that he was released. By letting drinks alone Kelty would become one of the best players in the country, but he seems unable to stay away from it. Mr. O'Neill says the company is too fast for Youngman and Jones.

THE DISPATCH talked to the President yesterday upon the present state of affairs and was given the following statement:

MR. O'NEILL'S STATEMENT.

"We release Kelty because he has been drinking and fear that he might get some of the other men in the same habits. He is a first-class player when in condition and his lushing is all that would drive us to part with him. The other men are not fast enough for the League.

"We have signed two good men, Crane and Fitzgerald, and I can assure you that in 10 days we will have a good team in the field. I have a catcher and one other player on the string that I will know about soon. Both are first-class men and will add strength to the team. Fitzgerald, the second base man, is not in condition and Crane will play that position for about 10 days, after which he will take La Roque's place at short. La Hooque will probably play left field then and if he is a success will be retained there. Schmidt will be given another trial. Gray, Baker and Bowders are all right with a team behind them."

A NEW CATCHER.

Though Mr. O'Neill refused to say who the new catcher was, it can positively be stated that Decker, of Philadelphia, is the man. If he is a first-class man, Philadelphia certainly does not want to get rid of him, or if they do will ask a good price. Captain Anson, of the Chicagos, said last night that Philadelphia had been trying to unload this man to him. He further said that while it is not his affair, he thinks Pittsburg has plenty of catching talent, and that if the team was managed right they ought to play good ball. To an intimation that Hecker does not have full charge, Anson replied: "Well, a team must have only one manager, and then all will find it out sooner or later."

There is dissatisfaction among the members of the team on account of the release of Kelty and Jones. They claim the latter has not been given a fair show; that he was put in for one game, lost it and then retired to the bench for a week. Thus he would get out of condition, and when put in again would lose. They also say that Kelty was not doing much damage to himself, and that if let alone would have been all right.

CATCHER MILLER'S STORY.

Catcher George Miller, in conversation with a DISPATCH reporter last night, said: "The team has not been playing good ball since we returned from the West and went East. Hecker has not had full control, and has been handicapped in every conceivable way. Why, nearly every day while in the East Mr. O'Neill would have some change to make in the batting order, and we didn't know how to work together when on bases. He doesn't want to lead off with Sunday, when he is the best base runner on the team. If he gets on first he's the easiest man to send around.

"I don't like the looks of Baker, the new man Randall here. He's the man that was employed by the Philadelphia League team to see if any of the men drank on the sly. He was also hired to watch the Alleghenys one time down in Philadelphia when we were in the Association. He's the man that fired Kelty. For I know he was watching him while we were East. I believe that he's after the management of the club. If he does get it, it will be a sorry day for the team. Hecker is the right man in the right place, and if he had full control the boys would be made to play good ball."

PLAYERS TO ORDER.

Randall, the man mentioned by Miller, returned from Philadelphia with Mr. O'Neill, and it is said that he has a contract to furnish the team with some first-class ball players. He was in the directors' box yesterday and took great interest in the team, told just how the boys did on the trip and talked especially hard of Kelty, stating that he was a bad lusher and had lost several games by his poor work. He is probably Philadelphia's agent in getting Decker on the Pittsburg team. With full control there is little doubt but that Hecker could get a winning team out of present material, but for the past few days he has been handicapped by his plans being changed. It looks as though something would be done shortly, as it is not probable that Manager Hecker will continue at the head of the team unless he is given full power. That is really the only way to handle a ball team.

To-day Hecker will pitch and Wilson catch. Hines will play first, Crane second, Koat third and Berger will probably be in short field. The outfield will be the same as yesterday. Chicago's battery will be Coughlin and Kittridge.

VERY POOR BASEBALL.

Pittsburg's National League Team Badly Beaten by the Chicagos—Errors Innumerable Add to the Score of the Anson-ites—Other Games.

Nothing need be said in explanation of the defeat of the local National League team yesterday other than that they played a very bum game of ball, and it would not have been difficult for almost any minor league club to have beaten them. It was a poor exhibition of the sport from start to finish, and the local men were not in the game at any time. The fine hand of Captain Anson could be seen in the superb field work of his team, and the showing of the Pittsburgers in this respect was a bad contrast.

Curiously enough, the Chicagos were blanked in the first inning, but they did enough in the following to make up for it. Andrews flew out to Hemp. Burns lined out a two-bagger and scored on Hines' error, which also gave O'Brien first and second. Hutchinson got a hit and took second on a wild throw by Lawson. A wild throw by Berger let O'Brien in, and Hutchinson scored on Cooney's hit. Kittridge got a base on balls and died there, Rooney and Carroll being doubled out by Crane and Hines.

In the third three more runs were scored. Wilmot secured a base hit, went to third on a wild throw by Lawson and home on Andrews' sacrifice. A base on balls, Andrews' sacrifice and Burns' single sent Anson around the bases. Burns scored on a wild throw and O'Brien's hit.

Again in the fourth the fatal three loomed up, and the score was placed at 8. Kittridge was given a base on balls, went to third on Cooney's double, and scored on La Roque's error. Cooney also crossed the plate on the same error, and Carroll got first and second bases. The latter scored on sacrifices by Wilmot and Anson.

In the fifth, after Burns went out from Lawson to Hines, O'Brien got to first on a third on Hutchinson's single and Kittridge's sacrifice, and scored on a passed ball. Hutchinson took second on the sacrifice, third on the passed ball and scored on a wild pitch. Cooney got his base on balls and scored on an error by Lawson.

No more runs were made until the ninth, when Burns hit for two bases, took third on O'Brien's single and scored on Hemp's wild throw. The wild throw and Hutchinson's hit sent O'Brien home, and put the fourteenth and last nail in the coffin of the local team.

Pittsburg's lonely run was made in the fourth inning. La Roque got first on called balls, second on Hines' sacrifice, and scored on Rost's single.

BUFFALO, June 2.—The Buffalo-Pittsburg game to-day was won by luck as much as anything else. Lady Baldwin pitched a beautiful game for Buffalo and yielded only eight hits, but the Pittsburgs caught them at opportune moments. Buffalo failed to get on to Maul's delivery until the sixth inning when Beecher made a clean hit, without scoring however. In the third inning the Buffalo club had three men on bases when Wise failed to do the thing. It was an escape from whitewash when Rowe knocked out a two-base hit in the eighth, getting to third on Hoy's sacrifice and went over the plate on a muff of Beecher's fly.

The Pittsburg players were lucky in hitting at the right time. Hanlon scored two of the runs, both on base hits which yielded nothing to those who helped him home. In the eighth inning Rainey, who is supposed to be the Buffalo's mascot, dropped Corcoran's fly and Beecher lost a ball for Robinson. Hanlon went to first on balls and Visner sent a three-bagger over Hoy's head. This made three runs and satisfied the Smoky City nine. It was a disappointment to the audience not to have Gentle Jim Galvin pitch for the visitors. The score:
