JABBERWOCKY

(For Further Information see "Alice in the Looking-Glass.")

JABBERWOCKY is the title of one of the most nonsensical rhymes ever written. We have here used the whimsical word to catch your eye and direct your attention to some practical good sense.

WHERE TO BUY SHOES.

Never has Pittsburg been better supplied with Shoe houses. Ever since we started in our enterprising way to benefit the public, they have sprung up like mushrooms. It is one thing to lead and another to imitate. If the imitation is palpable the bright sense of the public will see through it very quickly.

Take a look into our Retail Stores and tell us what is your impression of our style of doing business. Do you see anything lacking, either in stock or means for doing a big trade? Or do you find any prices more satisfactory?

As we bring the most Shoes into Pittaburg and dispose of them, too, it stands to reason that we have ascertained the public wants. As we sell closer than others, we have gauged the public purse. As we cater to them in good style, we hold the public pulse.

Such a summer stock as we carry never entered the realms of leather, and we have the confidence to know that the prices are popular-judging from the patronage increasing at all points.

Before making all your preparations for the summer jaunt come and be shod in a proper manner and at proper prices. It won't cost you anything to make a tour of observation at our stores.
