N ORDINANCE - PROVIDING FOR

VERY POOR POLICIES

Were Those Issued by the American Life Insurance Company.

SO SAYS COMMISSIONER FORSTER.

The Managers Taken Severely to Task in His Keport Because of

THEIR RECKLESS BUSINESS METHODS

[SPECIAL TRINGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] HARRISBURG, June 8 .- In his annual rereport Insurance Commissioner Forster writes at length of the operation of the American Life Insurance Company. He says the company was originally incorporated by a special act on April 9, 1850, by which its capital and accumulated funds were required to be invested in first-class securities, but under a supplement passed April 8, 1857, the officers had unlimited powers in the investment of the funds of the incorporation, and the discretion of these officers was the only security the stockholders and policy holders had for the proper management of their financial interests. "This company," says Commissioner Forster, "has not for many years had a firstclass standing on account of the peculiar methods employed in its management, which created alarm and distrust, and designedly so, for the purpose of enabling the purchase of policies at less than their real value. More than ten years ago a contract was made with a New York company, the agents of which visited the policy holders of the American, and in order to induce them to surrender their policies for less than they were worth, represented that the company

IN A FAILING CONDITION. "At this time it was amply able to pay all of its policy obligations at their matur-ity. After this the American ceased to be an insurance company, except in name. The suspicion and distrust engendered by this proceeding prevented it from securing any large amount of new business, and, indeed, it did not seem to encourage acces-was to reduce and finally extinguish the policy obligations upon terms most favorable to the corporation, that is, the stockholders, with the ultimate view of enhancing the market value of the stock, or dividing the surplus, or, perhaps, of engaging exclusively in the trust business permitted by the charter. The insurance in force has liminished from $33,000,000 in 1873, the first report made to this department, to less than $4,000,000 at the close of 1889, when the last report was made. The reserve, calculated according to the legal standard, was in 1873 only 11 per cent of the amount of the insurance, while in 1889 it was 37 per cent of the insurance, showing that the re-maining policy holders are mostly of ad-vanced ages, and that a large proportion of the policies are paid up."

RECKLESS FINANCIERING. After referring to the fact that the mortality of the company had for a number of years been largely in excess of the tabular rate, or that provided by the premiums, the Insurance Commissioner says:

"But it was not excessive mortality that wrought the financial ruin of the company. When the late managers obtained a con-trolling interest of the stock, for which not less than par was paid, it was hoped that they would, by strict business methods, restore the company to public confidence. In-stead of doing so they used the funds en-trusted to their control for speculative ven-tures. The financial control of the corperation was committed to a coterie of the most reckless and visionary speculators, who loaned the money of the company to themselves upon the stocks and bonds of corporations with which they were affiliated. This they did with the expectation, no doubt that did with the expectation, no doubt, that these ventures would prove profitable to themselves and not harmful to the company; and it requires the utmost charity to attribute to them no greater fault than an error of judgment in thus imperiling their own stock as well as the interests of the policy holders, of which they were the law-

There is no evidence that they have profited personally by their system of financiering, although they undoubtedly meant to do so; and in view of the ruin they have accomplished one is at a loss to determine whether their conduct was dominated by insane recklessness or by deliberate intention

Interesting Commemorative Exercises by

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BLAIRSVILLE, June 8 .- The semi-centennial exercises commemorative of the pasterate of Rev. George Hill, D. D., were begun in the Presbyterian Church here this morning. The large structure was filled to overflowing, and noticeable among the attendants were old-time residents and people who attended the church years ago. The decorations of flowers and plants were simple but in elegant taste. The sermon of Rev. J. T. Smith, D. D., of Baltimore, on the Word was one of great eloquence. Not-withstanding his age his delivery was per-feut. Mr. Smith was a classmate of Rev. Dr. Hill. Miss Irma Haight, music teacher at the Biairsville Ladies' Seminary, rendered some very charming music.

This evening's exercises consisted of an able sermon by Rev. J. I. Brainson, D.D., of Washington, Pa., his subject being "The Pastorate." The choir also rendered some choice selections. The exercises of the auni-versary will be concluded on Tuesday, when Rev. Mr. Hill will give an historical All the members of Dr. Hill's family now living are home for the occasion. The anniversary has been a brilliant success so far and promises to end likewise.

A HEAVY FLOW OF GAS STRUCK

The Boiler Moved Back to Give the Roar ing Fluid a Chance.

DEFECTAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.: BELLEVERNON, June 8 .- Another good well has been struck by the Bellevernon Light and Heat Company, close to the Rider well No. 3. The tools struck the Big Indian sand and such a flow of gas followed that the boiler had to be moved back so that drilling could proceed.

The well is now furnishing as much gas as the Carson No. 1.

WHEELING, June 8 .- At Griffithsville, Lincoln county, Saturday, Alex Stowers and Tom Wheeler quarreled, because Wheeler persisted in crossing Stowers' Stowers knocked Wheeler down with a corn planter, and when Wheeler got up he seized a keen-bladed ax and cut off Stowers' right arm at the shoulder.

A CALAMITY BARELY AVERTED. The Steamer City of Rome Strikes Fast-

net Rock in a Dense Fog. LONDON, June 8.-The Anchor line steamer City of Rome, Captain Young, from New York, arrived at Queenstown at 10 o'cleek this morning. The vessel had a narrow escape from destruction at Fastnet. She made land in a dense fog at 4 A. M. this morning. She was going slowly and was taking soundings, when, notwithstand ing the care exercised, she struck Fastnet Bock, about three miles seaward of Crook Haven, bow-on. Her forefoot got on the rock, and but for the promptitude displayed in reversing the engines a great fatality would have been recorded. Passengers who were interviewed say that the steamer trembled all over when she struck the rock. For a time there was intense alarm on board, the density of the fog adding to the ominous character of the situ-ation. The passengers were finally quieted by the repeated assurances of the com-mander and other officers of the steamer that not the slightest danger existed. The full extent of the damage will not be ascertained until the vessel is docked at Liverpool. Her stem is broken at the peak, and she shipped a large volume of water forward. The steamer started for Liverpool at 11 o'clock, roceeding at halt speed.

AN ORGANIZATION EFFECTED.

the Rules Are Usjust. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW CASTLE, June 8 .- The sandstone uarrymen and drillers of the Beaver Valley have effected an organization which will embrace all the men engaged in quarrying sandstone in the valley and its tributaries. The rules will not permit a man to handle a pick who is not a member; only one ap-prentice will be allowed to every five com-petent workmen; nine hours will constitute a day's work, except on Saturday's, when it shall be eight hours, and wages shall be the same as at present, which is $2 50 per day.

After all the men are in the organization, however, a demand will be made for an advance from 10 to 15 per cent. The convance from 10 to 15 per cent. The con-tractors are opposed to the order and claim the rules are unjust and arbitrary.

Jacobsen, who, scarcely less stupid from drink, was resisting the whisky-enfeebled efforts of the proprietor, Michael Dalton, to clear the saloon.

Johnson, Jacobson and Dalton had been all night in the place dice-throwing and drinking prior to the fatal thrust. All three were too drunk to realize Johnson's danger. He bled to death on the saloon floor from lack of attendance.

If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy anything else instead. In some stores persistent effort is made to sell other articles when Hood's Sarsaparilla is called for, simply because a little more profit will be made on the substitute preparation. WHEREAS, Andrew Carnegie has generous ly offered to the city of Pittsburg a gift of free libraries, as set forth in the following communications:

PITTSBUEG, PA., February 6, 1890.

To the Mayor and Councils of Pittsburg:

GENTLEMEN-Some years ago I had the pleasure of offering to expend upon a free library for the city of Pittsburg the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The finances of the city were not then in condition to permit of its acceptance. Having expended more than that sum in our sister city of Allegheny, I subsequently intimated that I was propared to expend not less than half a militon for Pittsburg; such, however, has been the recent growth of the city, such are its prospects for the future, that careful consideration has led me to the conceinsion that, in order to provide such libraries as Pittsburg should have, will require even a larger sum.

I think that Pittsburg requires a central building containing a reference and circulating library; also suitable accommodations for works of art, which I believe its citizens would soon provide; that there should also be added rooms for the meeting of the various learned societies of the city. The experience of New York, Baltimore and other large cities has proved that a central library should be supplemented by branch inbraries. The Free Circulating Library, of New York, has now four of these; the city of Baltimore has five. They are not extensive structures, but each contains a small supply of the books most in demand and a reading room, and is operated in connection with the central library. Such branches, I think, should be established in the various districts of the city, probably one in Birmingham, another in Temperanceville, another in East Liberty, a fourth in Lawrenceville, perhaps a fifth in the older part of the city. All of these should be thoroughly fire proof, monumental in character and cond of trustees, composed exofficio of the Mayor, the President of Select and Common Councils, the President of the Central Board of Education,

The libraries to be formally handed over to

to provide for the re-election of its members at stated times, and also to fill vacancies in their number.

The libraries to be formally handed over to the city upon their completion, free from lien, in trust for the purposes specified. The city to agree to receive and support same at its own proper cost, under the management of the trustees, as above provided.

The city of Baltimore pays $50,000 per annum for the support of its public libraries, established by Mr. Encoch Pratt, who gave $1,000,000 for the purpose, but I believe that $40,000 per annum would be sufficient to maintain those of Pittsburg; and not less than this sum per annum I require the city of Pittsburg to agree to place at the disposal of the Library Trustees to be expended upon them.

I am clearly of the opinion that it is only by the city maintaining its public libraries, as in maintains its public schools, that every citizen can be made to feel that he is a joint proprietor of them, and that the public library is for the public as a whole and not for any portion thereof, and I am equally clear that unless a community is willing to maintain public libraries at the public cost, that very little good can be obtained from them. Not to save me further expenditure therefor, but for the best interests of the city, I make it a condition that they shall be properly maintained by the city.

Very respectfully.

Yery respectfully.

John S. Lamble, Esq., Chairman, Pittsburg, Pa.;
