PREPARING FOR A GOOD TEAM.

President O'Neill Has an Option and May Purchase the Team Outright,

THE SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

A gentleman connected with the local National League team, in a confidential talk with THE DISPATCH vesterday, divalged some interesting secrets concerning the affairs of the company. Under pledge not to use his name the privilege of publishing his statements was granted. The gentleman said: "It is thought by a great many people interested in baseball that our team is in very bad shape. The fact of the matter is the affairs are now better, from a financial point of view, than they were at the beginning of the season. Our expenses have been extremely low, much below anything that has ever been required to run the team the first few weeks of the season. We have allowed the club to change dates a couple of times, and it resulted in a gain to the company. Look at Cincinnati, for instance. We secured a great deal more than the guarantee for every game. We were given 50 per cent of the receipts there, while here we would not have taken in there, while here we wolld not have taken in the goarantee. All through the East we have been very successful, and our receipts more than paid the expenses all through. The re-sult is that to-day the team is not a cent loser on the season's work, but is really abead.

A STATE SECRET.

"It is not generally known that the company was in debt at the close of last season, but such was the case. We had pretty hard lines raising the full amount to pay off the last month's salaries. We did it, however, and the old players can't say they were not well treated. I need not state the exact amount of the indebtedness. Rochester vs. Athletics. but $1,500 would cover it. Some of that has been paid and that, too, out of this season's re-ceipts. There is plenty of money behind the club to pay the full amount if necessary, but we are in hopes that everything will be coming our way shortly and we will have no more teamble.

"Another thing that caused a considerable hes-not a great deal, but it all counts-was the fact that nearly every player released has been let go while in debt to the team. This policy of advance money is the cause of that trouble and I don't believe it will occur again. In my opinion the hall player must hereafter, save enough money in the summer to keep him over winter or handle a pick. It is too much of a risk to pay these men a big sum of ad-vance money and I believe it will be stopped. "Now I don't want you to think that the indebtedness hanging over the team puts us in distress. It does not. It is really a smali-matter to what it was at one time. Why we were just getting our affairs in shape and thought we were ready to put a first-class team in the field this season, when the Brotherhood "Another thing that caused a considerable

It is true he disclaims any such purpose, but his enemies do not place any reliance in his assurance, and they have accepted his election as a sort of a public announcement that he is still "on horse-back" and ready to marshal his claus for a last desperate battle to determine who shall rule the Republican party in Ohio-For-aker, or Sherman, McKinley, Grosvenor et al.

FORAKER'S POWER.

The latter do not relish a pitched battle with the Foraker crowd. Foraker controls the machine, he is a shrewd manipulator and never since his advent into politics in Ohio has he been outgeneraled. Notwith-standing the fact that his recent misfortunes standing the fact that his recent mislortunes have broken his power somewhat, he is still capable of making a fight, and bis enemies would much prefer to bushwhack him than meet him in the open field. The anti-Foraker leaders have, therefore, resolved to finish this bold fighter before

TOO MANY WILSONS. Some of Them Get Their Votes Recorded the Wrong Side.

WASHINGTON, June 8 .- There are four Wilsons members of the House of Representatives, and once in a while the presence of so many persons with a common family of so many persons with a common family name occasions some slight mistakes in the record of the proceedings of the House, the more especially as the Wilsons do not all owe fealty to the same political party. An instance of this happened yesterday in the vote on the silver bill. Mr. Wilson, of Missouri, a Democrat, was recorded in the account giv-ing the yea and nay vote as voting in favor of the nassage of the bill, whereas he voted of the passage of the bill, whereas he voted of the passage of the bill, whereas he voted against its passage, while Mr. Wilson, of Washington, a Republican, was put down among those opposed to the bill, although he voted in favor of it. The error occurred through the reading clerk in inadvertently calling the name of Mr. Wilson, of Washington, before that of Mr. Wilson, of Missouri, thus reversing the order in which their names are placed on the roll call.

It is now said that a number of small stockyards stockholders will make a legal fight against the proposed sale to the English syndicate. There is also a rumor that the purchasers of the Stickney tract of land are long-headed capitalists who foresee the ulti-mate removal of the stockyards further from the heart of the city, and it is predicted the movement of leading stockholders to unload the yards on British capitalists is but a forerunner of a movement to establish these yards. This is a great record considering the fact that last year's League team, composed mainly of the players of the present P. L. club, returned after their first trip with the laurels of but one scratch game resting on their noble brow, Manager Hanlon and Secretary Tener are both apparently very much pleased at the condition of P. L. affairs, financially and other-wise. Between them they gave out the follow-lag information has night. "Our team is in first-class shape. We went "For whether to be of solitons."

"Our team is in first-class shape. We went East without a bit of preliminary practice, and as a result we did not play winning ball. Yet we gave the public the tull worth of their money at every exhibition. Look at the Chi-cago team, one of the best in the country. They lost more games East than we did. Had the Eastern clubs been West, the result might have been much different. The home clubs get plenty of practice, while all the visiting club secures is 15 minutes just before the games. Just wait until the Eastern men come West, and we'll wipe up the earth with them."

Jobu L. Sullivan.

Charles H. Steiger, editor of the Oil City Derrick, flew out beyond his fondest hopes and teams and did not return till late in the ambitions yesterday morning, and for a brief period occupied a large corner in the hearts of the great American public. Strange to relate he siept through it all, perhaps only dreaming of being carried on the shoulders of the multi-tude or cheered by a howling mob as the greatest man on earth. Yesterday morning Mr. Steiger was a pass ger en route from Pittsburg to Oil City. A jok-ing operator telegraphed the alarming intelli-

ing operator telegraphed the alarming intelli-gence over the line that John L. Sullivan was on the train. Large crowds were at every stopping place ready to greet the champion and invite him to a speak-easy. However, the great fighter was not to be found. At East Brady the engine broke down, and during the stop the brakeman told the crowd that the hard-hitting Bostonian occupied the entire rear coach and was sleeping, peacefully dreaming of how he turned Peter Jackson all the colors of the rainbow. The crowd rushed to the coach and there saw a man with his tile tipped on one side of his head comfortably tipped on one side of his head comfortably sleeping the sleep of the just. Men walked or tip-toe, fearful of disturbing the slumbering tip-toe, fearful of disturbing the slumbering giant, and not a word was spoken, the entire crowd feasting their eyes on the massive form of the fighter. As the train pulled out a yell went up that would do credit to a band of Comanche Indians. This awoke the sleeper, but alas, he was bereft of his glory. He was no longer the great John L, but the peaceful Mr. Stager, editor of the Derrick. At his home a large crowd was ready to greet him, but when they found that he was not a fighter they refused to yell, and Mr. Steiger turned away with tear drops in his eyes and sadly murmured: "Alas! Why was I not born in classic Boston!"

who acts as watchman at one of the en-trances, was awakened about 1 o'clock this PARIS. June 8.-At the Auteuil summer meeting to-day the principal attraction was the grand sceeple chase of Paris, worth nearly $25,morning by the noise of dogs, and securing an old navy revolver fired it in the direc-000. The distance was about four miles and one furlong. Mr. J. Daly's 6-year-old, Royal Meath, won by three lengths. M. Ephrussi's tion of the noise, which immediately Dolan went to bed again and slept until Fetiche was second, four lengths ahead of M. awakened by a passerby, who called his at-tention to the dead body outside his window.

Fetiche was second, four lengths ahead of M. Farine's 4-year-old Papillon IV., third. The last betting was 2 to 1 against Royal Meath. 12 to 1 against Fetiche and 20 to 1 against Papillon IV. The other starters and the odds against them were: M. Ettenne Fould's 6-year-old, Band-master, 3 to 1; M. Tirard's 4-year-old, Boule Dog, 7 to 1; Mr. J. G. Arthur's 5-year-old, Boule Dog, 7 to 1; Mr. J. G. Arthur's 5-year-old, Innis-fail, 12 to 1: Lord Annaly's 4-year-old, Bay Sarah, 14 to 1; Mr. Corbally's 4-year-old, Bay Leaf, 16 to 1; M. Edouard's aged Leo, 20 to 1; the Duke of Hamilton's 5-year-old, Weatherwitch, 25 to 1, and Mr. Atkinson's aged Strong Tea, 20 to 1. The bullet had entered the throat, and death must have been instantaneous. Powell's wife was a domestic in the lodge where Dolan slept, and he had come there to see her when the noise of one of his dogs awakened the old watchman. A Coroner's jury to-day acquitted Dolan.
