Allegheny Iron Men Are Divided in Their Opinions

AS TO A CONGRESSMAN.

A. M. Byers' Belief That the Mc-Kinley Bill Will Fail.

MORE TALK ABOUT A DARK HORSE

The political situation in the Twentythird Congressional district is assuming a warlike aspect, judging from the character of opinions set forth yesterday by leading Republicans. There is an evident lack of harmony among the prominent iron men of Allegheny, and in interviews with wellknown people last night, the important fact was divulged that the successful Republican might be a dark horse, one whose name is a yet unknown, but who will serve as a potent factor in uniting the dissenting

"Of the two candidates who are now before the people," said Mr. A. M. Byers to a DISPATCH reporter, "I think there are no just grounds whatever of comparison between Colonel Stone and Mr. Shiras. The Colonel is by far the better man. He is self-made, was United States District Attorney, made a reputation at the bar, and was in the army, whereas Shiras distinguished himself by a very unfortunate dash when he tried to impeach Judge White. This is one of the most important districts in Pennsylvania. Shiras is too young, and lacks experience to properly represent it. It requires a man who possesses an adequate knowledge of the manufacturing business. I doubt whether Mr. Shiras knows the difference between a foundry and a rolling mill.

LOOKING FOR A FIGHT.

"Now, since they say the Senate will alter, amend, cut and tear the McKinley bill so the lower House won't know it, they may have to fight it all over again, and we must have a representative in Washington who will guard our interests. The tariff requires constant watching, hence the im-portance of having a man there who is equal to the occasion. I am for a man who has had experience in the iron manufacturing business, and, since there is none in the field just now who is thoroughly posted, I shall vote for Stone in preference to Shiras, beabout the iron industry than Shiras.

Mr. James H. Lindsay was asked for his views on the matter. He is hinted at as one of the Congressional possibilities, and may loom up at the coming primaries as a dark "I am not in a position to state decidedly whom I will support in the race. be said in a non-committal manner, "but it seems to me common sense would dictate the selection of Colonel Stone. He is older than Shirns and more experienced. He is better enpable of coping with the questions affecttrict. You know there isn't a ton of tin plate turned out in this county and that industry should be fostered, in order to give more employment to our people. WOULD RENEFIT IRON MEN.

"The manufacture of tin plate will also greatly benefit the iron trade, as iron enters largely into its composition. I will vote for because I think he will take care of that industry."

Mr. Charles C. Scalfe, another prominent iron man, said: "There is considerable wind rustling to the effect that Mr. Shiras is not capable of filling the position of Representative from this district, but the breeze will soon simmer down. Shiras is my man, I expect he will have strong opposition, but, with the support of new friends added to that which he had when he ran against Bayne, I think he will win."

Several other iron men were seen who forover to Shiras when the Colonel dropped out. They express displeasure at the prospect of a disagreement in the Republican ranks, and are evidently in favor of nominating some candidate who will satisfy all, and thus avoid a factional fight in the party,

KNOWS NO DARK HORSE.

"The Twenty-third district of Pennsylvania calls for a Representative who is thoroughly and accurately posted on the manufacturing industries of this section of the State," said Mr. W. D. Porter, "and of the candidates who have been menioned for the place, I think Colonel Stone is best fitted to be henored with the nomination. I have no knowledge of any other man being spoken of as a probable dark horse."

"I fail to see the point in Mr. Byers' op-position to me," said Mr. Shiras, last night. "He lays great stress on the question of age, but I think that is far-letched. I have stated my views on the tariff question, and think I stand on the right platform. My list of triends includes well known manufacturers, and I have the indorsement of large number of the people at large."

Walting to Hear From Porter. Chairman W. D. It is still undecided whether Attorney Porter or Judge Gripp will be the Chairman of the new committee. The Third ward Magistrate is waiting anxiously for Mr. Porter's decision whether he will stand for the Congressional nomination or run again for the Chairmanship.

The census of 1880 gave Temperanceville 2,768 inhabitants. The increase in ten years is a very little more than 30 per cent. The figures here are something of a disappointment, but that ward has not grown anything like as rapidly as most of the wards of Pittsburg. The enumerators report that they found many vacant houses in the Thirty-sixth ward.

Seventeen enumerators finished their work and turned in their books yesterday. Many of them declare that, were the work to be one again, they would not accept the position of enumerator for less than $10 a day. One of the inspectors of the Fifth ward, a young man named McKelvey, who lives at No. 62 Wylie avenue, had almost completed his precinct last Saturday evening when a fire broke out in his house and his papers were all burned. The work must be done over, but McKelvey is probably discouraged, as he has not yet appeared at the Supervisor's for a new set of blanks. He will think there is something in unlucky numbers, as his number on the list of enumerators was 12. He has the second precinct of the Fifth ward, which is the thirteenth precinct in the city, beginning with the first precinct of the Fifth ward. The precinct is a hard one to work, containing many Italians hard one to work, containing many Italians and other unlearned people, and there is no extra pay for such a contingency.

Judge Ewing Decided Mrs. Schooley Has

Fee Simple in Her Property. According to a decision delivered by Judge Ewing in 1880, which afterward was confi by the Supreme Court, Mrs. Schenley has a fee simple title to her property in Pittsburg; that is she owns it absolutely and can sell it at her pleasure. Judge Ewing decided that the neglect of the trustees to turn over the propmother of Mrs. Schenley, did not in any way prejudice Mrs. Schenley's title. The Judge also ordered Trustee O'Hara, who now raises the point, to sign a deed turning over to Mrs. Schenley any right he might have in the prop-

The Water Supply of the Southside Hilltop

Residents Again Cut Off. About 7 o'clock last night the hilltop residents on the Southside found that no water would run from their hydrants. No one could find what was the matter, and another famine was thought to be at hand. At the hilltop pumping station it was found that the pumps pumping station it was found that the pumps were not working, and the engineer said that he did not know what was the matter.

At the river pumping station it was found that the large pump had played out. The engineer was working with might and main to keep the pressure up with one of the small pumps, but could not, and soon the water in the hill reservoir was pumped out and the hill-top engines had to stop for lack of water. Late last night a large force of men were working on the large pump, and hope to get it in shape by this morning.

SMOTHERED IN RECORDS.

Transcribers in the County Recorder's Office

Six Weeks Behind. The condition of backwardness of work in the County Recorder's office at present is a strong argument in favor of the curtailment crusade begun by the Bar Association. The 30 transcribers are six weeks behind with their work, and the accumulation of deeds and mortgages awaiting transcribing is becoming mountainous. Allowing five a day to a transcriber, there must be near 6,000 awaiting the writers.

It is also a testimony to the enormous amount of business transacted of late in real estate. The like was never known in this county before, and it shows no diminution as yet. The man who takes the census record of mortgages, and what they represent, has a task before him large enough to appal a dezen men.

AN INTERESTING PAPER.

Dr. Wagoner, of Johnstown, followed with a paper of absorbing interest in reference to the memorable flood. Dr. Edward Jackson, of Philadelphia, gave a short account of the recent meeting at Nashville, Tenn., of the American Medical Association, which he said American Medical Association, which he said had been even more successful than usual. Dr. W. B. Atkinson reported the adding of the Somerset County, Pa., Society to the member-ship list of the State Society. The President appointed Dra. C. N. Early, G. W. Allen and G. Lange as a committee on unfinished husiness.

A letter of regret from Dr. J. L. Stewart as received stating his inability to attend on account of having left for Europe.

The following resolutions were adopted, on the original motion of Dr. Edward Jackson, of Philadelphia:

That the Committee on Publication be released from the necessity of publishing.

Dr. Murdoch opened by stating that last year at the meeting of the society, details of the Johnstown disaster were coming in, of the Johnstown disaster were coming in, resolutions were being adopted that emptied the treasury and the society adjourned its meeting. The history of medical societies, he said, has no brighter page than the extension of help and sympathy to suffering brethren. Continuing he said that every year advances of the medical profession were made and a yearly pilgrimage was made. Remarks as to the general character and origin of medicine with its dark past and ancient history were made and the necessity of adding of medicine with its dark past and ancient history were made and the necessity of adding study and training to its natural powers were added to. The danger of utilizing quacks and the value of the services of real and regular physicians was explained, followed by an explanation of the valuable services to medical science of Harvey, Parry, Hunter, McDowell, Portland, James and others.

The speaker mentioned the effect of legislation regarding the profession, asserting that it was a failure, and recommending the abrogation of restrictive laws, holding that the sooner the medical profession is rid of the legislative ideas governing it the better. The profession, however, should keep its skirts clear of any irregular practice of any description. The hearers of the speaker were given advice hidden beneath the cloak of mirth in numerous aneodotes related by Dr. Murdoch.

His address was the only one of the evening, and was preceded and followed by selections by Weiss' orches vn.

LONGEST GIRDER EVER MADE One 105 Feet Long Turned Out by the Key-

Carry It. The Keystone Bridge Company has just completed a girder for the new City Hall of OTHER MILLS ARE CONTEMPLATED. San Francisco, which is the largest ever made in the United States, so far as the members of the firm know. It is 105 feet long and weighs 70 tons. In diameter it is 5 feet by 3. A contract for two girders was given to the company last November, and they have been working on it ever since. The materials for the second one are now being prepared. The girders are intended for the ground floor of the building.

The great problem now is to transport it to the Partific coast. The Chicago and Northwestern and Union Pacific roads have undertaken the job. The long monster yesterday was lying on three of the largest freight cars obtainable on the Allegheny tracks. Mr. E. H. Utley, the freight agent for Carnegie, Phipps & Co., stated that it was necessary to put in additional trusses to distribute the weight evenly on the three cars. As the cars are constructed the weight of the girder fell on the centers, and the cars would hardly stand the strain. Mr. Utley thinks that the way it is placed in the cars will allow it to go around the curves all right. The usual plan for shipping girders is to carry them in pieces and have the plates rivited together at the place of destination. The company was afraid they didn't have the facilities on the Pacific coast to de the riveting. The second one will not be built until they can see whether or not it can be transported.

The average car in the west will carry about 15 tons, and Mr. Utley says should anything happen to either of the three cars the road would have some trouble to replace them. STONECUTTERS MAY STRIKE AGAIN. it ever since. The materials for the second

Many of the 'profesh' are preparing to leave for Atlantic City and other places, where thousands of mortals cursed with beards will require their services, and consequently there are vacancies at home."

Mr. W. J. Schmidt, of Allegheny, spoke as follows on the subject, while chasing a razor through a rich crop of stubbles: "This is the busiest time of the year for the barber trade, and at present there is considerable demand for good men who can handle the tools, but they are not all to be had, because our experts are now making a bee line for the ocean resorts, where custom is big and business booming. However, we won't all go; some of us will stay in the city, pent with that sweet contentedness of spirit which is born of love for home. Next!"

"Charles Nunge, of Federal street, Allegheny, said: "Yes, it's the seaside resorts that catch the journeymen barbers in the summer. They go there as much for the fun of it as for the money that's in it. They most always come home broke at the end of the season."

HE HAD A NEW HAT. Why a Young Man for Awhile Was the

Observed of All Observers. An instance of the irony of fate in the mino matter of life was noted on Smithfield street yesterday afternoon. The time was 5:30, and the busy thoroughfare was at its busiest. A young man, well dressed and good-looking, was passing briskly along, opposite City Hall, That he was satisfied with his appearance was evident from the approving side-long glances he ever and anon cast at his own reflection in the big plate glass windows of the stores. In his hand he carried a hat wrapped in paper. On his head was an obviously new hat, light in hue and jaunty in shape. The that suited the young man and he knew it. A bery of riggling schoolgirls looked at the young man and his hat and giggled louder, and remarked, "He has a newthat." A newsboy said the same thing. He overheard a sedate old lady remark to her companion, "That young man has just bought a hat." Dozens of passers-by rung the changes on the speech to the mystification of the young man. When he reached home he no doubt discovered the reason. A white ticket about two inches square, with the price, "$2.50," was sticking in the hathand at the back. he ever and anon cast at his own reflection is > Amalgamated Association Worrying Over the Bar Mill Scale.

The only plant at which sheet tin is being manufactured in North or South America was put in operation this week at the United States Iron and Tin Plate Works at Demmler station, Third ward, McKeesport. The fact that this company has for the last 10 or 12 years been paying nearly $30,000,-000 annually to foreign countries, and that not a sheet of tin was being made on this continent, urged the firm, particularly Mr. Cronemeyer, one of the members, to make strenuous efforts toward securing a protective tariff sufficiently high to enable them to compete with the cheap labor of foreign manufacturing cities; their labors have been crowned with partial success, as the clause in the McKinley bill protecting tin plate has passed the House and bids fair to pass the Senate. If such action be taken many

They have put in a much improved process by Leyshon & Sons, of Tipton, England. The gentleman and one of his sons have been in McKeesport for the of his sons have been in McKessport for the past couple of weeks, personally superintending the introduction of the plant, which has been placed in successful operation. The process heretofore used consisted of five operations, two dippings in grease and three in tin, By the new process the same results are obtained in one operation, by inserting a sheet in a solution of tin and palm oil. The cost of manufacture is wonderfully cheapened, and the quality of the product is said to be excellent, either for sheet or turn work.

The greater part of the tin imported to this country comes from South Wales, where the largest mills in the world are located. There are mills in France, Italy, Germany and Rus-sia, but they make scarcely more than is used for home consumption. The import last year is estimated at 6,000,000 boxes, and it is worth about $5 a box. As stated a few days ago in THE DISPATON, the Eastern manufacturers will be presented with a scale this year providing for an advance in wages over what the men there are now paid. The scale proposes an increase of 50 cents per ton in all departments. It is not thought there will be any difficulty experienced with the Eastern manufacturers.

STONECUTTERS IN TROUBLE.

The Prospects Are for a Renewal of Their Recent Difficulty. The prospects are for a renewal of the stone atters' strike. Yesterday was the first payday for the men since the settlement of the diffi-culty, and it is said three of Alex Boggs & Son's men-William Rae, James Shea and John C. Davidson-did not receive the advance of 4 cents per hour. The men went to the fire and Rae and Shea got the advance, but David-son was told he would not receive the extra son was told he would not receive the extra pay.

The matter was reported to the Stone Cutters' Association of Allegheny county last night, and a vote was taken, ordering Beggs' men to strike to-day, in case the difficulty is not settled to the satisfaction of Mr. Davidson. There are 180 men employed by Alex Beggs & Son and the firm has a number of large buildings on hands, the Bindley block on Seventh avenue among others, so that it is not likely the men will be allowed to strike.

UNCLE JERBY AND THE FARMER. Mr. Ruck Says It is Improved Methods Tha

Will Help the Granger. Uncle Jerry Rusk, Secretary of Agric ilture, passed through the city last evening with his family. He was taking them to Wisconsin to spend the summer. Speaking of the Farmers' Alliance, he said: "There is some rest among the farmers, and they have some grievances. After the war, when crops and prices were good, they made money and were happy were good, they made money and were happy. At that time the industries were being organized and legislation for their benefit was passed. The farmer then was so satisfied with himself that he paid no attention to what was going. Of late the crops have not been so good, and it is a fact that the farmers haven't been making much money. They saw that the industries of the country had been helped by legislation, and they now demand relief and a similar remedy. These organizations of farmers will do no harm. When they come to inderstand the situation I think they will see that it is not legislation that will help them so much as the adoption of improved farming methods. Their success in the future will depend to a large extent on their own activity.

"The Farmers' Alliance is the strongest in the South, and no doubt it will have some effect on the Democratic party, stost of the political leaders in the South are agriculturists, and they will look out for a remedy. The South is developing rapidly with the amount of capital put fato the country. In the West not as many acres of the public lands have been taken up this year as in former years on account of the failure of crops and the general depression in farming. But this won't last forever, and now that the grauger is stirred up he will look out for his own interests."

The Mad Leap of a Maniac Who Es-

AWPUL STRUGGLE WITH THE LUNATIC

high cliff above the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and lodged halfway down in some shrubbery. In attempting to rescue him, Captain George W. King, of No. 3 Engine Company, had a desperate struggle. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon an insane inmate of Mercy Hospital, whose name is said to be Clarke, went out for a walk with a sister. His name could not be learned certainly, as the authorities at the hospital refused to give it. The Mother Superior said that the man's sister had requested the suppression of the name, and she was herself averse to revealing it, as he belonged to a good family and had numerous relatives in the city. She said, however, that he had a brother in the insane asylum, and that he was undoubtedly crazy. "He ought not to be here," she said. "He ought to be in Dixmont." She said that he was in a quiet mood yesterday afternoon, and his sister begged so hard to allow him to take a walk with her that the Mother Superior finally consented.

OVER THE PRECIPICE.

It supears from what the sister said after her return that she told her brother, during the walk, that the family intended to have him sent to Dixmont. This aroused his worst phase. He broke away, and, running a few feet along Bluff street, jumped over the fence and disappeared down the preci-the sence and disappeared down the precipice.

At that point, about half way between Stevenson and Magee streets, the cliff is a perpendicular line of rocks for 100 feet down. Then there is a sloping ledge, where soil has gathered and given root to grass and shrubbery. This ledge is not over 20 feet, and slopes at an angle of about 35° from the horizontal. Below it there is another sheer fall for 100 feet to the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, just east of the tunnel.

The screaming sister, when she ran to the edge of the cliff and looked over, and the people above and below, who either heard her or saw the leap, discovered the young man lodged on the grassy slope, clinging to some bushes, lying prostrate on the sward. He had jumped fully 100 feet. He might be dead. No one above or below could tell. There was no path leading to the place where he lay, and no one knew how to rescue him. Those above thought that a long ladder, such as firemen use to reach the top of a high building, might reach him. Word was telephoned to City Hall, and Chief Evans ordered truck A, located in Engine house No. 5, on Seventh avenue, to go at once to the north end of the Tenth street bridge.

ONLY ONE WAY TO REACH HIM. Captain King turned out the ladder truck and in a few minutes they were on Second avenue, below where the maniac lay stunned on the ledge. It was seen at once that the lad der, at its longest extension, would not reach the man. Chief Evans, Building Inspector the man. Chief Evans, Building Inspector Hoffman, Captain King and three truckmen ascended to the top of the Fort Pitt Incline, taking with them one of the truck ropes. They went to the point where the man had jumped over. Captain King volunteered to go down. The rope was fastened about his waist and he was lowered over the precipies. As he neared the place where the maniac lay the fellow aroused and cried out, "Keep away from me or I will kill you."

Captain King made a jump at the man and clotched him by the throat. The fellow was not strong, being a rather slender man, but he fought desperately. King loosened the noose around his waist and threw it over his prisoner, thus inclosing them both in the same tight embrace. Then he called to be drawn up. As they ascended up the face of the jagged rocky cliff a terrible struggle proceeded.

The crazy man tried to reach King's throat, but the Captain held him off with his strong arms. It seemed like an hour to the Captain until they were hauled to the top, and the maniac was seized by many strong hands. The crowds collected below and above cheered lustily when the rescue was complete.

The escaped inmate was taken back to the cell in the hospital. One of fils ankles had been severely wrenched by the fall and had swollen greatly, but of her wise he seemed to be uninjured. The marvel of all who saw the act is that he was not killed by his mad leap over the rocks.

A Traveling Man's Experience, F. S. Verbeck, who represents the type foundry of Messrs. Barnhardt Bros. & Spin dler, Chicago, says: "On my return home from a trip I found our little girl sick with summer complaint. I went to a drug store and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. We gave her a few doses according to directions. She recovered in a short time and we were well pleased with the medicine."

DISCUSSING PUBLIC SCHOOLS. The Priests' Mutual Aid Society Organized and Officers Elected.

The semi-annual conference of the western end of the Pitusburg diocese was held yesterday in the episcopal residence. The matter of granting absolution to parents sending their children to public schools came up for discussion. The subject took up the time of the priests most of the afternoon, and a free interchange of views was freely given. Papers were read on the subject, but nothing could be done. At the Council of Baitimore it was decided not to grant absolution in these cases, but a great many pastors have been governed by circumstances in this matter. The matter of having an examining board appointed for the purpose of examining all nuns who become teachers in parochial schools, came up, and was discussed in an informal way.

After the conference the permanent organization of the Priest's Mutual Aid Society was formed. The following named members of the clergy were elected officers of the association President, Exther Joseph Luhr, pastor of Sts. Peter and Paul's Church; Treasurers, Fathers Sheedy and Cosgrove; Secretary, Father James McTighe.

There will be two classes of membership. A special fund will be for sustaining members paying dues to the association. A general fund and Officers Elected. STRAIGHT DOWN A HUNDRED FEET.
