MENDELSSOHN CONCERT AND GOSSIP

Allegheny City Councils have approprinted the neat sum of $1,200 a year for paying an organist to take charge of the organ in Carnegie Hall and give free weekly recitals thereon. The Department of Publie Works of the city of Pittsburg goes far enough in the same direction to expend a considerable sum for band stands in the Highland and Herron Hill Parks to be used for free open air concerts.

used for free open air concerts.

Few indications of public sentiment are more trustworthy than the unquestioned expenditure of public moneys. The politicians know the people, and when appropriations of this kind are maile, one can feel confident that it is because the people want it done. It is worth while to emphasize these municipal expenditures simply as indices of the growing art-feeling in our community. They are, however, yet more important, when viewed in connection with other similar measures, as links in the chain of progress along the line of governmental patronage and encouragement of art.

Many cities have their free band concerts in Many cities have their free band concerts in the parks; though it is doubted whether the office of City Organist is known elsewhere. Apoffice of City Organist is known elsewhere. Appropriations for musical instruction in the public schools are almost universal. Beyond these lines but little has been accomplished in our country in the direction referred to. Steps just ahead are outlined by Mrs. Thurber's public-spirited efforts to get Governmental support for a truly national conservatory of music, and by the suggestion (that ought to be heartly urged) that Congress should set apart a part of whatever appropriation it makes for the World's Fair of 182, in the shape of premiums for American compositions in the larger forms and provision for their worthy performance during the fair.

It is a thing of slow growth; but, with persistent effort, we may some day see our loca and general governments emulating those of Europe in providing for the education and recreation of the people in those artistic lines which so intimately affect their happiness and

During the annual meeting of the Music Teachers' National Association to be held in Detroit June 30 to July 4, inclusive, there will Theorems and be four grand orchestral concerts by Theodors Thomas and his associates, five recitals and miscellaneous concerts, ten essays by musical literati, organ solos by eminent organists and three sessions devoted to discussions and practical illustrations.

The compositions by native and resident American composers which are to be performed at some one of the sessions, are as fol-formed at some one of the sessions, are as follows;

1890. Emory M. E. Church had no choir whatever, the singing being led by a precentor and cornetist, with the organ. At that date the church authrities made an effort to organize a volunteer chorus; but not enough singers responded to form a well-balanced choir, and the plan was abandoned. The percentor having resigned to make way for the proposed new regime, there has been a musical hiatus in Emory's choir gallery and the singing has been led by the pastor, Rev. C. V. Wilson. On Sunday a solo quartet was gathered together to see how the congregation would like that form of choir. The probability is that a quartet will be engaged in the fall, and in the meantime a precentor secured for the less active period of the dor days.

The only reason for printing this simple and omplete, narrative is to give the lie direct to certain imaginative rumors that have gained publicity, tending to distort and misrepresent the matter into a shape that would be amusingly mistaken did it not seem amazingly malicious.

The writer of this column has been organist of Emory Church for over a year, and is glad to be able from personal knowledge to give the strongest denial to these iddiculous stories, and especially to the attribute of Emory's honored paster and his family toward the music of the church.

A specially selected orchestra of ten players will take part in the Children's Day ser-vices at the Oakland M. E. Church this morning. HEINRICH ZOELLNER, the conductor of the Cologne Mannergesangverein, will succeed Reinhold L. Herrmann as conductor of the New York Liederkranz.

MR. ERNEST C. BEATTY, the well-remem bered organist, interrupts his Southern travels for an Eastern organ company long enough to take a brief vacation at his old home. MR. THOMAS F. KIRK, the energetic band leader, has the sympathy of a host of musical friends over the death last week of his father, Mr. Michael Kirk, as also in the serious illness of his wife. XAVER SCHARWENKA has been working for some time on a grand opera. It is to be called "Massawintha." and relates to the history of the Gothic Kink Vitiges. Two acts have already been completed. An open-air concert by Gernert's Orchestra and the Mandolin Minstrels will form a feature of the garden party to be given at the Snowden mansion, Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, on Thurs-day evening, the 26th inst., in aid of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

THE fifth free organ recital was given yesterday afternoon at Carnegie Hall, Allegheny, by City Organist Leonard Wales, assisted by Mrs. L. C. Yochum, soprano. The ultra-popular grogramme was heard with evident appreciation by the large audience present.

THREATENING skies caused the opening of the summer night concerts at Bellevue to be postponed from last Tuesday to the same evening of this week. The Gernert Orchestra will play, among other numbers, a Rossini overture, John Gernert's "Exposition March," and selections by Rubinstein, Lacomb and Andlei LILLI LEHMANN will not be included in the personnel of the Metropolitan Opera House next season. It is reported that she has made her peace at Berlin and will return to the scene of her earlier labors richer both in pocket and in reputation for her American sojourn. Whether Mr. Paul Kalisch will also be taken back is not stated.

MR. WILLIAM GUENTHER keeps on in his accessful efforts to rehabilitate Silver Lake Grove as a fashionable resort for summer evening dancing and musical recreation. His list of subscribers grows rapidly in numbers without losing a jot of its high quality from the standpoint of social elegibility. The first entertainment is set for June 26, and all subscriptions must be in by that date.

The resignation by Mr. Jean de Reszke, of Standard Strings appearance in concert at the Oakland M. E. Church a short time ago, its reception was quite flattering, and, as the number has been increased since, some good things are expected of the young gentlemen.

The resignation by Mr. Jean de Reszke, of Standard Strings are string and as principal tenor the post he has so long held as principal tenor at the Paris Grand Opera, will be an immense loss to that establishment. Already the Paris company is one of the weakest of the great opera houses of Europe, and the withdrawal of the famous tenor will necessarily give further point to criticism. Mr. J. de Reszke, it is understood, has accepted more incrative engagement for a starring tour through Europe. the cities where he will sing including Monte Carlo, St. Petersburg and Moscow.—Musical Courter.

The steamer Mayflower will convey this hand of musical pilgrims (40 pieces) with their friends and patrons adown the romantic Ohio or athwart the current of the muddy Monongahela, as the depth of the water may decide. The state of the weather will cause no postponement of the trip, with its military concert and terpsichorean revels; it the clouds do their worst, the property man with a lantern will play moon a la "Pyramus and Thisbe."

THE public mind scarcely needs to be again jogged into recollection that Mr. P. S. Gilmore and his famous band are to give two concerts at Old City Hall on Thursday, June 28. Any intimation that Gilmore is coming, generally suffices to set the public on the qui vive until the fated day arrives. This year the vocal quartet engaged for the tour-Miss Ida Klein, Miss Helene von Doenhoff, Mr. William J. Lavin and Mr. Edward O'Mahony-come with high commendations, some of them with pleasant memories from prior appearances in Pittsburg. And we are to have restored to us for the time our own favorite contralto, Mrs. Rosa Linde (Schaarschmidt), who who was good enough for most of us when but a home product, was better yet when she came back from New York to give her appendix to the Levy concert last season, and must be at her best now after a period of hard study under Mme. LaGrange, in Paris.

MISS MAY BEESLEY, of Jacksonville, Ill., East End last mon'h will be remembered, has been finally engaged as the soprano of the Third Presbyterian Church Quartet, commencing with next September. Mrs. Weoster's very slow progress toward renewed health made it so problematical whether she would be able to return to her old post, as desired by all concerned, that the Music Committee felt they could not afford to lose the opportunity of securing a singer so highly recommended as Miss Beesley. The latter left the "Athens of the West" some three years ago for a course of vocal study in Dresden, most of which has been under the guidance of the famous Frau Alosieben. Her many mosical gifts, and especially her vocalization, form the theme of a number of really enthusiastic letters of introduction from such men as Rheinhold Becker, song composer; Georg Naumann, President of the famous Dresden Liedertatel, and others. A true coloratur soprano is what Pittsburg has not in years possessed, and in that line Miss Beesley will have a free chance to prove her prowess.

The boys of the Protestant Home for Boys, of Allegheny, were entertained by Mrs. J. L. Lewis, at her residence on Craig street, Bellefield, last evening. All enjoyed themselves by playing baseball, football and other sports, and partaking af an elegant lunch served on the lawn. The Educational Committee awarded prizes to the boys for deportment and improvement in their studies during the year. It was a pleasing affair, and an enjoyment to all.

James, who lives in Clay townshin, was given a surprise on Wednesday which he will never lorget. Abut noon 12 or 15 vehicles drew up in front of his house, with banners figing and music of a kind never before heard in Butler county. It has been the intention of his sons and daughters for some time to give their father a surprise, and Wednesday was the day set for it. The delegation from Pittsburg and Allegheny left the Pittsburg and Western depot in special car at 7:30 Wednesday morning, arriving at Euclid at 16:30. At this place arrangements had been made for livery to carry the party out to the farm, some three miles distant. On the road they were met by the Butler county delegation, and proceeded in a body—some 125 strong—to the Frazier homestead. After every person had shaken hands with the family, wagons were relieved of many baskets and boxes, and the ladies proceeded to make coffee and lay dinner such as a king might enjoy. After many persons had satisfied the inner man, boxes were brought forth, and Mr. L. K. White in a near-speech presented Mr. Frazier with the following articles: Imported china tea set, fine set of double harness, pair of kangaroo shoes, set of sliver knives and forks, set cut glass, pair gold spectacles. Irish linen tablecioths and napkins to match, pocketbooks by the score and well filled. Among those present were: John G. Frazier, wife and seven children, Thomas A. "THE FAMOUS"

A REMARKABLE SEASON.

Right here, and before saying a word about the many good things we have in store for our patrons this week, we desire to thank the thousands of customers, new and old, who have favored us with their patronage. This has really been a remarkable season with us. Our stores have been crowded right along, and the volume of business done, we are free to confess, has exceeded our most sanguine expectations. We have always endeavored to give the best values offered, and thanks to a discriminating public, our efforts have been appreciated. Honest, straightforward dealing will tell in the long run. Would-be competitors enter the field now and then with the intention of hoodwinking the public, but their existence is invariably of the mushroom order. Our advertisements are not confined to the newspapers. Every sale made is a card for us. People who buy at these counters not only come back, but send their friends. Our reliable and low-priced goods are doing excellent missionary work in these two cities. They talk louder than any words at our command. NOW ABOUT BARGAINS.

We wish to call the attention of Ladies to a New of the more season-ble ones—particularly in Hosiery. Here are some of them:

Wholesale House,

No. 515 WOOD STREET. We have a very large quantity of goods in stock in our Wholesale Warehouse; nice, clean, fresh, regular and seasonable Boots and Shoes. These embrace full lines of Fine Dongolas, Kangaroos, Light Calf in medium and heavy-weights. Also, a full line of Baseball and Tennis Shoes in canvas and colored leathers. Also, a quantity of broken lots and samples to close out before taking our July Inventory. All of which we will offer at very reduced prices to cash or 30-day wholesale buyers.

These bargains, in the face of the strong advance in Eastern markets, at this time, make it a choice opportunity for dealers to replenish their summer stock.

We are now prepared to take orders for fall delivery, as we show the largest and most complete line of samples ever offered in this market; and for early orders offer many improved lines at and even lower than last year's prices.

Owing to this strong advance in the Eastern markets, we shall
