RESULTS IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA

Notwithstanding Major Montooth's positive announcement that he would not accept the nomination for Lieutenant Governor, there is a general feeling among the Philadelphia delegates in his favor should the first place go elsewhere. Delamater's friends claim that the adhesion of many of the independents has rendered his success certain. The Democratic situation is still decidedly him complicated.

PRINCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1

PHILADELPHIA, June 14 .- "Senator Delamater will be nominated for Governor beyond any question of doubt," said a close friend of Senator Quay's to-day. "Whatever feeling may have existed regarding his availability has been swept aside by the availability has been swept aside by the there would be sharp contests, chiefly for strong indorsement presented in his behalf from this city, where it was thought General Hastings had the call in business circles."

"The formation of the Business Men's Committee of One Hundred in tavor of General Hustings' nomination," continued the speaker, "was a boom for Center county's candidate and somewhat of a setback to the county for: Pattison, while a great many Delamater forces, but for some cause or conservative Democrats in the county fee other the committee did but little work in Hastings' interest, and now, before the convention has yet been held, we find that the Hastings headquarters have been closed

SENATOR QUAY'S POSITION.

"Senator Quay," continued the speaker, "is a Republican who is for his party first, and if he had but the slightest doubt of Delamater's election, in spite of the warm friendship existing between them, he would turn in and help to defeat him for the nomination. Garrett and Mc-Kee, the independent leaders have done good work for the Republican cause by making it known that Senator Delamater's nomination is asked for by the independent Republicans of this city, who are more numerous here than elsewhere. They have yirtually settled all doubt as to the outcome of the State Convention."

E. K. Martin, of Lancaster, Senator Watres, of Lackawanna, and J. A. M. Passmore, of this city, are the three declared candidates for second place on the State ticket, but as no formal action in Passmore's behalt has been taken by the local delegation, he is not considered as seriously in the race, although some of the outside counties have instructed their delegates in his tavor. Martin and Watres are both his favor. Martin and Watres are both friends of Quay and Delamater, and the nomination of either would be acceptable to Medina, and 99 delegates will nominate. mriy.

A FORMIDABLE CANDIDATE.

Martin has a first-class war record, which makes his candidacy formidable, while State from which he hails. What both Congress. have to fear most in the talk which has developed within the past few days in favor of the nomination for Lieutenant Governor of Major Montooth, of Allegheny county.

It is announced here that Montooth is willing to take second place and as 15 of the 16 delegates from his county are Quay men it can be readily seen that the Montooth movement is a very strong one. Besides, it is argued that with an Allegheny man on the State ticket there would be but little to fear from any opposing forces in the way of a Republican majority from that county.

There will be a bitter contest at the Demo-cratic State Convention for supremacy. Already has there been some sharp and bitter feeling expressed by the leaders of the opposing forces. Claims and counter claims are being made with such rapidity that the average Democrat becomes more confused regarding the final outcome as the day for the holding of the State Convention draws the Pattison movement, has been keeping very quiet lately, but under his instruction his lieutenants throughout the State are gathering in the delegates wherever possi-ble. The story has been started that ex-Senator Wallace is opposed to Cleveland for renomination in 1892, and the anti-Wallace forces are using it for all it is worth in spite of the denials of Wallace's friends. The Wallace forces are apparently very confident, and laugh at the published figures of The Wallace people admit that if the Philadelphia delegation were a unit in favor of Mr. Pattison that it would be a somewhat difficult matter to de eat his nomination, although Congressman Mutchler, who is a staunch Wallace man, declares that the sentiment of the stalwart Democracy of the State alone would suffice to defeat the nomination of the ex-Governor.

The leaders of the Pattison forces in this city insist that Wallace will get but 14 del-egates from Philadelphia county, while on the other hand Patterson, McGowan, Josephs and Faunce, three of whom are delegates and who are battling for Wallace's nomination, declare that the chances favor Wallace having a majority of the delegates from this city. From the conflicting claims made it is evident that somebody is going to

ONE COUNTY FOR WALLACE.

The Machine in Dauphin Secures Him Solid Delegation,

PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. HARRISBURG, June 14 .- The Wallace people had everything their own way this afternoon and evening in the election of delegates to the State Convention, the supporters of Pattison not being in a position to make a successful fight for their favorite. The leaders of the Democratic party, including Chairman Hamilton, Mayor Fritch-ey and B. F. Meyers, are all Wallace men, and no material opposition was encountered in the scheme to send a solid delegation to the State Convention in his interest. Postmaster Meyers and Mayor Fritchey have heretolore lought each other in primary contests, but in the present one they stood

The delegates to the State convention, who are elected by direct vote, are: Dr. Charles B. Fager, Irwin J. Crane and James W. Roberts, of this city, and G. W. D. Enders, J. F. Klugh and H. Wells Buser, the latter late postmaster at Hummels-town. Nine candidates for County Commissioner were also voted for according to the Crawford county system. Recently established Democratic rules provide that only one candidate shall be placed in the ticket, owing to the bud blood the running of two candidates engendered. As the several candidates are scattered all over the upper end of the county it is not known to-night who was successful. The same is true of the three candidates for Auditor. Samuel F. Keller was chosen as the Democratic candidate for Sheriff.

FOR HENSEL AT FIRST. AND AFTERWARD PROBABLY A DIVIDED DELEGATION.

Lanenster County's Democratic Represent They Get to Scranton-Not Much of a Contest at the Primaries.

REPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 LANCASTER, June 14 .- The Democrats of this Republican county have been mod-estly waiting for the drift of sentiment in other parts of the State, and the result of the Republican convention to indicate more clearly what gubernatorial nomination is fittest here. Some weeks ago it looked as if there would be a sharp contest over their names and a break up of the old factional lines here, as Chairman Malone, H. M. North and others were known to be for Wallace, while Haves, Grier, General Patton and others were friendly to Pattison.

When the three Democratic newspapers of the county commended Hensel as a gub-eranatorial candidate nearly every element in the party fell heartily in with the suggestion. Those who had been distinctly known as Wallace men and suspected of antagonism to Hensel proffered him their support, and suggested that if possible a compromise be effected by which nine delegates might be chosen who would all been friendly to Hensel and who were about evenly divided in their indi-vidual preferences between Wallace, Patti-son and the field. This was gen-erally acquiesced in, and until to-day it was not expected there would be any contest over State delegates in any part

The delegation from the county, as whole, will likely vote for Hensel as long as he is before the convention and otherwise will divide, as there is a fair division of sentiment among their constituents, the drift of feeling in the that the selection of a new name would be to the interest of the party. Hensel to-night declined to ex-press any opinion as the outcome of the State Convention, saying he under-stood an uncommitted and uninstructed delegation of representative Democrats from the county would be agreed upon, who could best determine when they reached Scranton as to what the interests of their constituents

TEPECIAL THEEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CANTON, O., June 14 .- In election of delegates to the Democratic Congressional Convention Representative John E. Monnot carried 19, Prosecutor John E. Welty & and ex-Representative Johnson Sherrick 8 delegates in this city to-day. Welty, who was supposed to be a leading candidate, concedes about 44 delegates in the county to Monnott and expects about 20 himself, estimating that ex-Liextenant Governor Warwick, of Massillon, will have 25 and Senator Lewis, of Alliance, about 10. The Sixteenth district is the one prepared to defeat McKinley by recent Democratic gerrymander. Of 196 delegates in the district Stark has 91, Holmes 34, Medina 22, and Wavne 49.

A QUINTET FOR HASTINGS.

Montgomery's Delegation is Solidly for the Big Adintant General. PRECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCE.

NORRISTOWN, June 14.-Elections were held in this county this evening to elect delegates to Tuesday's Republican convention to elect five delegates to the coming State Convention. There was not a single contest in any of the ten wards of this borough, and but a few in any district in the county. Very little interest was manifested in the elections. The five State delegates to be elected on Tuesday, it is conceded, will be for General Hastings. Not that Delamater has no friends here or Quay no lieutenants, but that these are keeping quiet, knowing that the popular feeling of the party is for General Hastings, and desiring not to disrupt the party here. The utmost Delamaterites are doing is to elect avowed Hastings men, but who, in a pinch, would vote for the Crawford county r. For Lieutenant Governor sentiment favors J. A. M. Passmore, and for Secretary of Internal Affairs, of course, Thomas J. Stewart, of this borough. Tues-day's convention promises to be a peaceful affair, unless the Quay people should spring a surprise on the confident and trustful Hastings hustlers.

RIFE RATHER ANNOYED By the Fact That He Has an Opponent for

Second Term. ISPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATOR 1 HARRISBURG, June 14 .- The announce ment that ex-County Solicitor Fred Ott would contest for the nomination for Congress in this district has given Congressman Rife, who wants a renomination, considerable annoyance. He says he hardly thinks that Mr. Ott will be disposed to continue in the field, and thereby countenance one term rule in the district. It has been customary, he says, to concede two terms to a Republican and as many more as he can secure He claims to have been in consultation recently with Senator Cameron and other party leaders in this district, and that the talk is said to have inspired him with confi-dence that he will be his own successor. Congressman Rife proposes to make a pre-liminary canvass of Harrisburg and other political centers in his district next week,

The Fierce Democratic Congressional Battle in Westmoreland County.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. GREENSBURG, June 14.-The Demo cratic primary was attended with great excitement to-day. The returns at a late hour to-night indicate that the nomination for to-night indicate that the nomination for Congressman is very close, with the chances in favor of Guffy. Ex-Sheriff Byers is polling a big vote. The balance of the ticket is about as follows: Assembly, J. K. Ellwood, J. B. Cowan, F. S. Rock, J. H. Lafferty; for Treasurer, Robert Graham; Register and Recorder, W. B. Conway; Commissioners, J. S. McKean and S. F. Maxwell; Auditor, L. P. Hays and W. H. Morrow: Coroner, Dr. J. B. Wakefield. Senator Delamater Apparently Has Not

Carried a Solitary Precinct. PEPECIAL TREEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. Uniontown, June 14 .- Owing to the great length of the ticket, there being 78 candidates, the returns from to-day's primaries are late coming in. About one-third of the county is heard from, and of the 25 delegates in these precincts to the county convention they are all Montooth and Hastings men, were about evenly divided in their indi-widual preferences between Wallace, Parti-son and the field. This was gen-erally acquiesced in, and until to-Stewart, the Bailey men not getting any of their slate elected.

The indications at midnight point to a sweeping Ewing victory, and they will con-trol Monday's convention and elect Montrol Monday's convention and elect Mon-tooth delegates to the State Convention, and the Congressional delegates will be in-structed for Colonel Stewart. The Register and Recorder fight is won by L. E. Angell, his opponent, John B. Miller, only carry-ing 3 of the 13 districts heard from. There was no contest on the balance of the ticket.

PRESS. ? BERLIN, June 14.-The semi-official an nouncement in the North German Gazette that Chancellor Von Caprivi will accompany Emperor William on his visit to the Czar converts the meeting of the sovereigns from an exchange of imperial courtesies into a diplomatic event. Herr Von Schweinitz, the German Ambassador to Russia, arrives here from St. Petersburg to-morrow in connection with the interview, which has been fixed for the 2d of August.

Emperor William, escorted by a squadron. sails from Kiel to Cronstadt, and will remain with the Czar three days. Prior to the visit Signor Crispi, the Italian Premier, is expected here for a conference with Gen. Von Caprivi. He will see Count Kainoky, the Austro-Hungarian Premier, en route to Berlin. These movements have a distinct relation to a renewal of the negotiations for a settlement of the Bulgarian question. This time the negotiations were initiated at St. Petersburg.

NOT RECOGNIZED. The Russian Government persists in refusing to recognize Prince Ferdinand, but offers to recognize M. Stambouloff, the Bulgarian Premier. The Government, after the departure of Prince Ferdinand, will send a Russian commissioner to Sofia to offer the people as alternative candidates for the throne the Duke of Leuchtenberg or Prince Karl, son of the King of Sweden. The Duke of Leuchtenberg, having married a Mon-tenegrin Princess, has less chance of acceptance by the European Powers. Prince Karl is sure of the English Government's trict of Potsdam, which is now unrepresented in the Reichstag on account of the death of Herr Wedell Malchow, went to Friedrichsruhe yesterday to ask Prince Bismarck to accept the candidature.

He promised to give the proposal his favorable consideration, and this is taken to mean that he will stand. The members of the Reichstag alrendy foresee that the Prince's presence will produce the grouping of a new party under his lead, composed of Conservatives, old National Liberals and a small section of the moderate Freisinning party. This group will prominently repreparty. This group will prominently repre-sent the smaller land owners, manufacturers Socialist policy, and is certain to secure the support of a number of Centrists, thus forming a strong combination.

REPORTS LAUGHED AT. Herr Krupp has been the guest of Prince Bismarck since Wednesday. The hostile reports to the effect that the Emperor is becoming more and more enraged over the revelations made by Prince Bismarck in interviews, and that he intends to muzzle the ex-Chancellor are laughed over in the Prince's circle. Another idea is dawning upon the unfriendly critics that is, whether the statements made to special correspond-ents were not arranged with the previous knowledge and concurrence of Chancellor Prince Bismarck's studiously instudied onfidences have already assisted the foreign office to a clearer view of the tendencie foreign opinion, and has also helped to harmonize Caprivi's relations with several foreign ministers. It is now perceived that his seeming frankness reveals little, and cannot embarrass the Government. Impending changes in the minor States include the retirement of Baron Von Miltnacht, Premier of Wurtemberg; Count Von Fabrice, Premier of Saxony, and Dr. Tur-ban, Premier of Baden. When Bismarck retired these were bound to follow. ENTERTAINING AMERICANS The American riflemen assembled at 10 o'clock this morning at the Park House, in Bremen, and went in a body to the Indus-trial Technical Exhibition. The maritime. art and commercial sections of the exhibition especially attracted the attention of the visitors. On their return the riflemen unched at the Park House and in the evening they attended a concert in the exhibition grounds, which were brilliantly ilclivities succeeded in enlivening Shadyside and East Liberty during the "wee sma' hours" of yesterday. For some time past these youths had been yearning to practice the old English game of "paper chase," and the old English game of "paper chase," and, fearful of being laughed at if they raced through the streets, by daylight, they finally concluded to try the sport when pale Luna shed her beams. Paper-chasing, as many are aware, is a very simple and withal athletic sport. Two boys, called "hares," set forth from the trysting place, running at a good pace, and carrying large bags filled with scraps of paper. These they scatter in their wake, as "scent" to the other players, who are the "hounds," or pursuers. After a few minutes' law, the "hounds" start in pursuit, and a real good time is had before the hares are run down, or escape to the "home" in are run down, or escape to the "home" in Paper chasing is glorious fun over a stiff country with lots of hedges and ditches, but these were too dangerous for a first attempt, so the Shadyside college boys were content to do their chasing through the public therengh force. thoroughfares.

Accordingly, at 12:30 A. M. yesterday they assembled at the corner of Forbes and Wightman streets, a party of chasers lightly attired in flannels, and sprinting lightly attired in fiancels and sprinting shoes. The word was given and the "hares" started off, scattering their paper right and left after the manner of gay young gamblers making their first incursion into the treacherous land of money lending. After ten minutes the "hounds" pursued, sollowing the scent along Wightman into Wilkins avenue, and thence to Fifth avenue. The next turn was into Amberson avenue, when the charge. was into Amberson avenue, when the charging "hounds" were unexpectedly stopped by a policeman. When this representative of the finest learned that no evil had been perpetrated by the boys, and that there had been no obstruction of traffic, he allowed them to pursue their course, they flitted by, like a long train of ghosts in their white flannels, the leader wind-ing his horn whenever the "scent" turned in a new direction.

A few early wagoners and late pedestri-ans were no doubt startled by the line of seeming apparitions, and one or two in-toxicated revelers may have imagined that the delirium had returned again, but beyoud these no real harm was done. After chasing up Ellsworth avenue, and then through a network of streets, the "hares" were finally captured on the Penn avenue railroad bridge after a gallant

J., June 14 .- The Nockamixon swamps, lying about six miles west of this place, in Bucks county, Pa., have heretofore been considered worthless except for grazing purposes, and have at various times been offered for sale at $3 to $5 per acre and failed to find purchasers. For many years it was thought that oil existed there. Not long since John H. Stern, who owns a large tract of land in that vicinity, secured the services of E. C. He found unmistakable indications of oil, and especially at the southeast base of Caufman's Hill and at various other places near that point, where it cozes out and flows away with the

Mr. Rosenzi spent four days among the scenes of the proposed new oil field, and met with good success in the matter of obtaining lesses on a number of farms and other properties. Upwards of 1,000 acres were secured. He said there was sufficient surface indication to warrant the erection of a derrick and the setting in motion of a drill to tap the subterranean reservoir of oil, which it is confidently believed ex-ists at no great depth. Besides the geological formation of the earth in that locality it is naturally adapted for oil. There is a strong likelihood that besides oil either coal or natural gas will be found on the way. The latter seems very probable, as it is well known that natural gas is always found where coal

Under the shade of this pleasant grove this afternoon the thirty-eighth Longwood yearly meeting of Progressive Friends was brought to a close. The lovely weather and the excellent condition of the roads brought a great many visitors. All around the grounds there were teams of every descrip-

During the morning session addresses were delivered by Miss Elizabeth V. Yates, of Maine; H. B. Blackwell, editor of the Women's Journal, of Boston, and the Rev. Hugh O. Penteeost. The afternoon meeting was called to order by Frederic A. Hinckley, of Northampton, Mass., the Chief Clerk of the meeting. A resolution memorializing Congress to grant a pension to Annie E. Carroll for her services during the late war was adopted, and three memorials were adopted in memory of Oliver Johnson, Re-becca Way Taylor and Dinah Mendenhall. THE ORATOR OF THE DAY.

In a short speech Mr. Hinckley then in troduced the speaker of the day, General Master Workman T. V. Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, who, among other things,

During my brief career I have spoken before many gatherings, but this is certainly one of the highest in character of those to whom I have spoken, and right now let me say something about the order which I represent. The Knights of Labor as an order has striven to do that which no other organization ever thought of doing prior to our formation, and that is the bringing of the toilers together. Our highest object is to make all men equal. Our order seeks to benefit humanity. We know no creed, no color and no nationality. We stand on the high plane of desiring to assist one and all, as you can see by the following preamble:

Mr. Powderly then read the preamble to Mr. Powderly then read the preamble to the constitution of the Knights of Labor and continued:

We admit both sexes to our order and we aim at securing for both sexes equal pay for equal work. The statement that the woman is not the equal of the man will hold good no longer. A few years ago, when along the country roads the shoemakers and the tallors had their shops and did the work for the community the woman indeed was handicapped. But all has changed, Capitalists organized and massed their fortunes together. They erected in the cities large buildings eight and nine stories high, and each foor has been stocked with machinery and these roadside tailors and shoemakers were called to the towns.

AN IMPORTANT FACT.

AN IMPORTANT FACT-These men working side by side in the factories knew practically nothing of their own condition until they realized that their enemy was the machine, and their salaries were being reduced. Then they organized, but in doing this they overlooked one important fact—the admission of women to membership. Finally the machine has gradually had its effect. Work that formerly required the strength of a man can now be accomplished by the most delicate of women in as short a time, and while delicate of women in as short a time, and wante she is producing as much as the man she is underpaid. When you purchase a pair of shoes you of course never know that of two pairs which you pay the same price for one is made by a woman at a smaller rate of compen-

Because of our stand on this matter the Knights of Labor have been condemned by some, but we believe that we are right. A woman does as much work as a man, and she does it as well. Why should she not be paid equally for it. We have taken this stand since 1889, when a committee reported favorably to our convention a rosolution providing for a constitution for the government of women. I ruled the report out of order, and since that time they have been in our organization on as ruled the report out of order, and since that time they have been in our organization on an equal standing with the men. In regard to the eight-bour question, I would say that the Knights of Labor have always advocated the shortening of hours, but while the men are howling for a short hour, their poor wives are working at home from sunrise until late at night.

It is this inequality that causes all of the trouble. The time will come when a woman will be able to direct machinery which will perform labor which now requires a strong, mus-cular man. When this time arrives the men will be even more glad to combine with the women for their own protection in the matter of wages. Now then, friends, we believe it to be true also that if a woman is to have the same rate of compensation as the men, it is right that she should be able to deposit her vote side by side with the "lord of creation" to decide the questions of national importance to both of them, which will come up for their consideration. Now there is no doubt but what the hours of labor should be reduced. Franklin said that during his time four hour's work a day would amply supply the world's demand. If that was so then, it is even more applicable to-day, in this age of machinery. But we are not in favor of strikes. We think they are suicidial. I will say that I have never known of a strike which has been won by the men where the eril consequences have not overbalanced the benefits. They always cause a disagreement between the employer and employed, and if the employer does surrender he will certainly have a chance of revenge upon the men. will be even more glad to combine with the Committee Reports Come Next In the Amalgamated Association. The Amalgamated scale was adopted as a whole yesterday and ordered to be printed for presentation to the manufacturers. The roughers and catchers lost their fight for an advance, although they made a healthy struggle for it and showed considerable strength in the discussion of the question.

THE SCALE IS ADOPTED.

Monday the reports of committees will be taken up. The Ways and Means Com-mittee will be the first heard from. The convention will not adjourn for a week or more yet. The election of officers will be left until the last day.

H. W. Storey, Esq., has been the choice of the politicians, and his application has been indorsed by nearly all of the leaders. Mr. J. Earl Ogle, who has been the head clerk in the office who has been the head clerk in the office for the past ten years, during both the Democratic and Republican administrations, has lately announced himself as an applicant for the place, and his friends are doing some effective work for him. He has been indorsed by nearly every business man in the place, and many who had formerly declared for Storey now declare for Ogle, and the situation is becoming interesting.

Storey is supported by the political bosses on account of his manipulation of the Delamater business. It is supposed that Quay will stand by him; but as Storey is a Hot Weather Luxury. The greatest possible luxury a human being can enjoy is a Turkish or Russian bath on a hot day. One enters feeling weary, despondent and enervated by the long continued heat, and at the end of an hour or two of solid enjoyment in the different processes of the bath, emerges refreshed and invigorated in body and mind, and with the feeling that the mercury must have suddenly and rapidly fallen. Among the suddenly and rapidly fallen. Among the many advantages which the bath at the Natatorium on Duquesne way possess and that contribute to this result, is the abundant supply of pure, cold water that supplies the sprays, showers, douches, needle and plunge baths. The cleansing, cooling, refreshing and beneficial effects of these baths are a superior to those of sea-bathing. Sea water baths do not cleanse even the surface of the body, to say nothing of the millions of pores of the skin that require purification more than the surface of the skin itself, but leaves it feeling sticky and dirty and the pores more choked than before. The most eminent physicians, both in this country and Europe, are unanimous in the opinion that the Turkish bath is one of the greatest of tonics and invigorators for hot weather, and as a luxury it is unsurpassed. The many hundreds of Turkish bath patrons who have already patronized the establishment, on Duquesne way, have expressed their delight at the model way it is con-ducted and of the courtesy shown by the attendants. The baths open daily from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. Sundays, from 7 A. M. to
