gave a drill on the Lake Front this afternoon, on the prospective sight for the World's Fair. The McKeesport delegation came in to-night 400 strong, making in all at least 1,500 from Pittsburg and vicinity. Chicago has given the members an enthusiastic wel-come, which in return is appreciated in a characteristic way by Pittsburg people. MAYOR CREGIER'S WELCOME.

The twenty-second annual session of the National Council of the Jr. O. U. A. M. will be called to order to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock by William R. Strob, of Pennsylvania. An adjournment is likely to be had immediately to give the delegates an opportunity to participate in the parade at 10:30. At noon a liberty pole will be raised on the Lake Front, when Mayor Cregier will welcome the National Council and extend the treedom of the city to the visiting delegates. Mayor Gourley, of Pittaburg, is exmass-meeting will be held in the Auditorium, where 10,000 people are expected to isten to an address on "Our Public Schools" by Mayor Gourley.

The reports of the national officers to be submitted to the national session show the order to be in an exceedingly flourishing and prosperous condition. During the year no less than 198 subordinate councils have been instituted, making a total of over 600 now in existence. The membership has increased to 80,000, as against about 60,000 last year. The receipts from subordinate councils amount to $101,438 62. The order paid out in benefits $275,697 86. The total wealth of the order is $500,000. Of the total increase in councils Pennsylvania has received 140, with an increased membership of 10,145. National Secretary Deemer, of Pennsylwania, will say in his report regarding immi-gration: "The daily landing upon our shores of the hordes of the refuse of the Old World has awakened the American people to the dangers which surround them. We, as an organization, do not oppose immigration, but bid welcome to our shores the immigran vito comes here, and, taking up his abode in the Far West, tills the soil, sends his children to our public schools and identifies himself with our customs and institutions. LAW AND ORDER PREVAILED. Spenking of anarchy, Mr. Deemer will may: "Scarcely more than a year ago this city was the object of attention from all parts of the world, and in fact all lovers of aw and order waited with anxious hearts for the news which was to answer whether the law was to be maintained or the red flag was to float in triumph. All honor to Gov-ernor Oglesby and the authorities of this city, law and order triumphed, and Americans feel that anarchy can no longer flourish here. We are not pro scriptive. We simply stand by our country and say to the for-eigner: "If you hon-estly desire to become one of us you are welfer you our broad fields, and if you will become one of us we shall have no quarrel, but if you endeavor to fasten upon 2 us any such yoke as the one from which you fled in your own country, we have no place for you and Geo. H. Bartlett, the Next look upon you as our National Councilor. undesirable visitor. With such views we favor the Blair educational bill, and the Bennett law.

TO DISCUSS AMALGAMATION. National Councilor Stroh's report will show that he has either visited or corre-sponded with every State and Territory in connection with the order. Charters have been granted on the organization of councils in 16 States. The greatest fight in the National Council The greatest fight in the National Council will be over the election of a National Vice Councilor. Representatives Zimmer and Roberts, of Ohic; John R. Roblits, of Maryland, and Fred J. Shaler, an old Pittsburger, but now of Chicago, are the candidates. Shaler will likely win, as the disposition is to give the West all the prominence possible, for its own benefit. Shaler was tormerly a member of Iron City Council, of Pittsburg, but came to Chicago in 1880 and started the order in Chicago. Massachusetts gets the next National Councilor in the person of George H. Bartlett, an ex-member of the Massachusetts State Legislature. Mr. Bartlett has filled every effice in his own council, has served in the effice in his own council, has served in the capacity of National Representative for nine years, and is a bard working, though conservative, member of the order. DR. SHAFER. would often change from a light to a very dark color. The desire to void it was frequent. He had a weak, tired feeling. Had dark circles about his eyes, and lips were dry and parched. His appetite finally falled him, and what little food he did eat he would often vomit up. He had a constant pain in his head, was dirry, had a pain in his right side, and in fact there was hardly any portion of his body free from pain. He had paipitation of the heart, yellow skin, and he continued getting worse until he lost much flesh. He says: "I had been sick for several mouths, the most of the time being confined to my bed. During all this time I employed my family doctor, but received no benefit whatever, I became discouraged and gave up all hope of ever being cured.

Drs. Copeland and Blair Place Another Remarkable Cure Before the Public

THE CASE OF MISS MAGGIE DEVINE

A short time since the attention of the public was called to the remarkable success Drs. Copeland and Blair were having in their treatment of catarrh and all its various complications. Although imitators of their method of treatment and mode of advertising have sprung up in various sections of the city, their feeble efforts have met with no success. Drs. Copeland and Blair still remain at the head, and their success is unabated. Dr. W. H. Copeland is personilly in charge of his extensive practice. To his skillful treatment and close attention to the various changes in the cases under his care are due the wonderful results reached.

Case of Miss Maggie Devine.

Miss Maggie Devine, who lives with her parents at No. 4566 Friendship avenue, East End, gives the following statement:

"My trouble came on over two years ago," she said, "from continued colds, I think. I would catch cold so easily, one after another.

"My nostrils would clog up. I had headaches almost constantly—a dull, heavy pain over the eyes and through the temples. There were buzzing and roaring noises in my ears nearly all the time. After a short time I found myself growing worse very rapidly.

"There was a constant dropping of matter back into my throat, which kept me continually hawking and raising to clear it. My throat became sore and inflamed. Sharp shooting pains would pass through my chest into my back. There was a tightness in my chest as if a weight were pressing down. Night sweats came on and weakened me terribly.

"My appetite falled me. What little I did eat seemed to lay like a heavy load on my stomach, and would be followed by a miserable feeling of distress and nausea. My nights became restless. I would get up in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed. I always had a bad taste in my mouth upon arising. As my trouble grew worse I became nervous and irritable.

"It was while in this condition that I read of East End. gives the following statement:

"It was while in this condition that I read of the wonderful success Drs. Copeland and Blair were having with cases similar to mine. I called on them, and, finding their charges so called on them, and, unoing their charges so very reasonable, began treatment with them. I improved from the start. My head and throat no longer fill up, night sweats ceased, the pains in my head and chest passed away; in fact, I am a different person entirely, and owe my recovery to Dr. Copeland.
